New Profs Welcomed At Convocation

At the formal opening convocation of the fifth merged academic year on Monday, September 16, in College Hall, six, new, full-time instructors were formally inducted.

Mr. Richard Shantz, faculty convocation chairman, introduced the new faculty members to the attending students. They were then installed by Dr. F. P. Stocker, chairman of the college board of trustees.

The new members of the faculty are, Mr. John E. Godfrey, Miss Karen Johnson, Miss Katina Kapsalis, Dr. Stuart S. Kulp, Mr. Nicholas Stelmashuk, and Mr. Dewey A. Stokes.

Mr. Godfrey will assume the position of library administrator in the Harvey Memorial Library. He is a graduate of Moravian College, class of '48 and has taught in public schools at Frenchtown, New Jersey. Mr. Godfrey is also a candidate for an M.A. degree at Lehigh University.

Miss Karen Johnson, a member of last year's graduating class will assume the role of instructor of mathematics. Miss Johnson's appointment was made due to the year's leave of absence granted to Miss Ruth Roberts so that she might complete her doctorate at the University of Pennsylvania. Miss Johnson received her B.S. degree, Magna Cum Laude, from Moravian, and was president of the U.S.G. as well as being chosen "Miss Moravian of 1957." She is a native of Landsdale, Pennsylvania.

Miss Katina Kapsalis, a member of last year's graduating class, has also returned to the campus in a teaching capacity. She will assist in instructing the Pandemic Chemistry courses. Miss Kapsalis, while at Moravian, was a member of Phi Delta Epsilon Honorary Journalism fraternity. She is a native of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Filling the position vacated by Mrs. Grant Sherman, is Mr. Nicholas Stelmashuk as instructor of sociology and psychology. He received his B.A. and M.A. from Kent University and served his clinical internship at Cleveland Hospital. Mr. Stelmashuk was, at one time, associated with Western Reserve University in the capacity of associate vocational and adjustment counsellor.

Mr. Dewey Allen Stokes, Jr., will this year assume the instructorship left vacant by Dr. Daniel Gilbert in the political science and history departments. Dr. Gilbert is on a leave of absence at Amherst University for the year under the sponsorship of The American Studies program. Mr. Stokes is a graduate of Hendrix College in Conway, Arkansas. He received his M.A. at the University of North Carolina. Mr. Stokes has served on the faculty of Sulling College, Bristol, Virginia, and also was an associate professor in a division of William and Mary College.

Degrees To Be Awarded At Founder's Day Service

U.S.G. First Parley Talks Budgets; Mergers

The first meeting of the 1957-58 USG was held last Tuesday night on the Church Street campus. Main business included announcement on the outcome of amendment voting held earlier in the year, budgets, and letters from two organizations, requesting two free periods a week.

Dick Steiner announced that both constitutional amendments, one approving a class merger for the Freshmen, the other changing the USG officers' terms from April through April to March through March, were passed. Bill O'Connell, treasurer of the USG, brought forth a new budget form to be presented by organizations which have not already submitted budgets.

More periods

The Veterans' organization submitted a letter, seconded by the Omicron Gamma Omega fraternity, requesting two free periods a week for the purpose of holding meetings. The possibility of this was discussed by the USG, but dropped due to the fact that it would interfere with class scheduling.

Other items included the announcement that there was $19,000 in the USG treasury this year. Budgets are to be submitted by the next USG meeting.

Smoking

The USG received a letter from the Women's Council stating that there was smoking going on in South Campus, contrary to administrative rules. It was requested that enforcement of these rules by USG measures be looked into. The argument that there was smoking on North campus and not on South campus was brought up. Also introduced was the fact that there were certain smoking spots on South campus as indicated by the placement of ashtrays which, however, are no longer there.

Seven hundred sixty-four students have registered for the fall session at Moravian College. Ninety-three girls and one hundred eighty-two boys entered with the class of 1961. One hundred fifteen girls and three hundred seventy-six boys entered with advanced standing. As yet, it is not possible to tell how many of the upperclassmen are transfer students.

Eight foreign students are included in the Freshman Class. They are; Dana Chang and Margaret Ono, China; Vassilios Frangedakis and Gerasimus Fanos, Greece; Ivan Atencio, Venezuela; Elmer Harke, Canada; Shinsko Miyagi, Okinawa; and Henry Ivanoff, Alaska.

Fraternities Begin Rushing Monday Under New Rules

A new set of fraternity rushing rules, drawn up during the summer by the Interfraternity Council and approved by Dean Marilyn Rader, will go into effect on Monday, September 30. The rules had been under study throughout the summer.

The first step taken in the new rushing program will be the issuance of invitations to prospective members of the three fraternities — Omicron Gamma Omega, Sigma Phi Omega, and Tau Kappa Epsilon. The invitations will be placed in the North Campus receptionist's office on Monday morning, and the names of their intended recipients will be posted on bulletin boards on both North and South Campus. Rushing during the coming week will be for upperclassmen only.

The three fraternities will then conduct rushing parties; each fraternity will hold one party on one of the first three days of October. It has not yet been determined in what order the fraternities will hold their parties. The locations have not yet been announced.

All rushing will cease at 12 o'clock midnight, Monday, October 7, after which time "silence day" is in effect. Bids will be extended in the same manner as the invitations on Tuesday, October 8, and the rushees will be given until 5 p.m. Wednesday to decide on a bid. At that time the I-F Council will make note of which student has selected a bid for which fraternity. After this time the pledges will not be allowed to change their minds. Should they drop out of the fraternity which they selected, they will be ineligible for membership in any fraternity for the remainder of the semester.

All applications for poliomyelitis and Asian flu shots must be handed into Mr. Gillespie's office by 12:30 p.m. Saturday, September 28. The college must know exactly how many students will receive the shots so they can send in the proper orders. The cost per shot will be $1.50 or under, depending on the number of shots given.

Five Buses Will Take Students To Nazareth Site

On Wednesday, October 2, at 2:00 p.m. Moravian College will celebrate the 150th anniversary of its founding in the year 1807. The observance will take place in Nazareth, Pa., on the green facing Nazareth Hall Academy, where the institution first held classes. The program will include the awarding of seven Bachelor of Arts degrees and four Bachelor of Science degrees by the college and the awarding of four Doctor of Divinity degrees by the Theological Seminary.

Transportation to Nazareth will be available for all students on two buses scheduled to leave from South Campus and three buses scheduled to leave from North Campus. All Wednesday afternoon classes have been cancelled.

Procession

The program will get underway with an academic procession of all members of the college and seminary faculty from the Nazareth Moravian Church to the green. Dr. Raymond S. Hauptert, Moravian College president, will preside at the service and the speaker will be Dr. Herbert K. Cooper, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, the founder and president of the Lancaster Cleft Palate Clinic. Highlight of the afternoon will be the awarding of eleven earned degrees by the college and four honorary degrees by the Seminary. Both the band and the college choir are scheduled to participate in the activities.

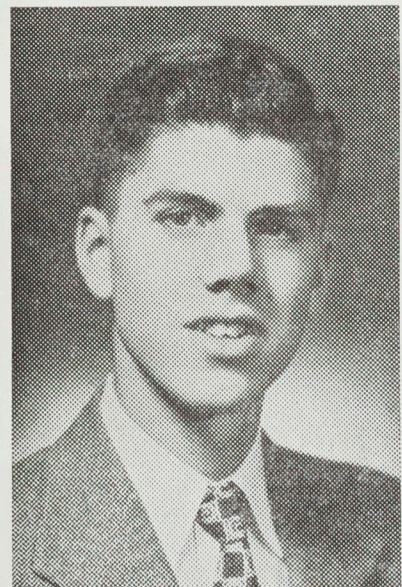

All students have been invited to a reception to be held at 4:00 p.m., following the Founder's Day service, in the George Washington room, South Campus. Honored will be new members of the college faculty and recipients of degrees.

Those receiving the Bachelor of Arts degree are: Morris Solomon Guggenheim, Phillipsburg, New Jersey; Robert P. Jones, Waterford, New Jersey; Luther Kemmerer, Center Valley, Pennsylvania; Edward T. Mickey, III, Winston-Salem, North Carolina; Richard John Pappas, Bethlehem; Kostas E. Vasiliadis, Bethlehem; and Gwyned Williams, Bethlehem.

Recipients of the Bachelor of Science degree are Robert M. Amey, Stewartville, New Jersey; Sally Levitow Harlow, Easton, Pennsylvania; Alfred L. Helfrich, Allentown, Pennsylvania; and Anthony Kochemash, Cemeton, Pennsylvania.

Recipients of the honorary degree, Doctor of Divinity, from the Seminary are three Moravian clergymen from the continent of Europe and one from England. The Right Reverend Karel Reich-

WILLIAM "BILL" HAUPERT

President's Son Killed In Mt. Accident

William "Bill" Hauptert, twenty year old senior of Moravian College was killed while mountain climbing in Washington State early this month during the latter days of his summer vacation.

"Bill," who was the president's second oldest son became fatally injured while in a twelve man official climbing group scaling Mt. Rainier. The party was the last official climbing group of the season.

Bridge gives away

The accident happened at the 13,000 foot level on Ingraham Glacier, when a 200 foot snow bridge gave away with out previous warning. Bill, and an official guide, Gary Rose, were the first in line. Both men fell in to the pit in a "swirling mist of snow."

A climbing companion, Robert E. West, said the crevasse that both men plunged into "opened up like a boom. You could see no indication of anything giving away." West was able to brace himself by digging in his ice ax into solid ice.

The accident happened at 9 a.m.

Serious condition

"Bill" was most the seriously injured, and was buried within the falling ice and snow when he fell into the hole. He apparently received a broken back.

"We were only five or ten minutes getting Hauptert out," West said. "Rose, and Dee Molenaar, another guide with the party did a wonderful job of working under a snow overhang that might have come down at any time."

Dr. J. H. Lehman, of Seattle, a physician climbing with the party administered first aid and sedatives to the victim. Bill, was then covered with parkas to keep him warm. Later he was placed in a sleeping bag. The party then erected a tent to provide more warmth.

Deep Shock

"Bill," said West, was in a deep state of shock all the while. He never fully regained consciousness, and seemed to suffer no pain under the sedatives."

In Deep Respect . . .

It is with heavy heart that we here at Moravian learned of the untimely passing of a fellow student and friend, William Hauptert, "Bill" as he was known to most of us.

As he was nearing the height of his career, "Bill's" life was snubbed short by a mountain climbing accident, while on a guided tour of Mt. Rainer in Washington state.

Bill's association on campus was a pleasant and happy one. He was of a quite and pensive nature, but underneath that reserve attitude was a real man. Bill liked sports and participated in the college music groups. He was a main stay in the Central Moravian Church Trombone Choir. Being of the Moravian faith he was also a leader in many church groups and organizations. He was to have majored in pre-theology next year at the seminary on campus.

Though we are keenly aware of his loss we are yet consoled by the conviction that our fellow student and friend, William "Bill" Hauptert, has entered into the joy of his Lord and has come to a place of refreshment, light, and final peace.

WELCOME . . .

Although it is more than a week late to say welcome to our new classmates, faculty, administration and office staff, The Comenian wishes to express its sincerest greetings.

We hope that your association with Moravian will be a long and happy one, and justly so for Moravian will only be as big and strong as you the future leaders will make it.

This year at Moravian will be the largest ever in the college's history. This school year we at Moravian have more students, more facilities, and more qualified instruction than ever before. We are at long last a well equipped school and no longer need to be thought of as second rate under any circumstances. Moravian is definitely on a double time pace of expansion.

You, the new comers will no doubt see many changes, improvements and additions in our school in the coming semesters. Grow with these changes and the college.

Again welcome; may your stay be fruitful.

Whose Dance . . . ?

As is custom at the beginning of every school year, a Freshman get acquainted dance is held on campus. The reason is obvious. Last Saturday night the dance was progressing when suddenly College Hall became doubled in male population. It was realized that our neighboring universities had moved in to take over.

Tensions mounted for a time and there were reports of a group of souvenir hunters trying to strip the Moravian banner flag from the gym wall. This action however was quelled.

The question though is, "Who was the dance being held for?" Did we mind the crashing neighbors or were they invited? I think not. This particular dance is listed as a Moravian College function in the catalog and not a town or inter-college rally.

We are sure no real harm was meant, no did we wish to infer that these fellow students are not welcome at Moravian, however we do feel that "Good fences make Good neighbors."

Campus Chatter

by Ginny Dancy

To quote one of my Comenian colleagues, "Hi, gang!" Glad to see y'all back on campus for another year.

It's easy to understand that new students get lost trying to find a certain classroom and occasionally find themselves in the wrong room, but recently I heard a new slant to the story. Last week one of Dr. Herr's English classes was waiting for Dr. Herr to appear, when Mr. Stokes, the new history prof, walked in and started calling the roll. The resulting laughter prompted the query, "Is this history 101—?" "No!", and out walked der professor.

And as usual, there are the students who try to save money by buying second-hand books. Dirty trick the professors pulled, isn't it?—they changed practically all the texts. I guess you can't buy a second-hand dissecting kit for bio lab—Bob Sottile plans to improvise by using a crochet hook!

Lost: one pair of girls' orange pants, size unknown. Obviously, in vicinity of Main Hall dorm, South Campus. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of same, please contact the occupant of Room 25.

Freshman hazing seems to have created some real odd-balls around campus. We even have a representative from the Knights of the Round Table, answering to the title of "Sir Charlie Fink." He comes equipped with helmet and shield, but no sword (Moravian allows no dueling). The sophomores have pulled another one out of the lowly ranks of the frosh, appointed him sergeant in charge of the evening drills on North Campus, and dubbed him the "D.I."

The women frosh this year look like something out of a nursery-rhyme book with their little aprons and flowers over their ears. It's kind of embarrassing to have to wear such a costume in the middle of town, but, not having any choice, frosh Jane Merchant plodded up Main Street with all her paraphernalia. Coming down the street, however, was a man, shall we say, slightly under the influence of alcohol. Taken aback at the odd appearance of said frosh, he took one look and ran the other way!!

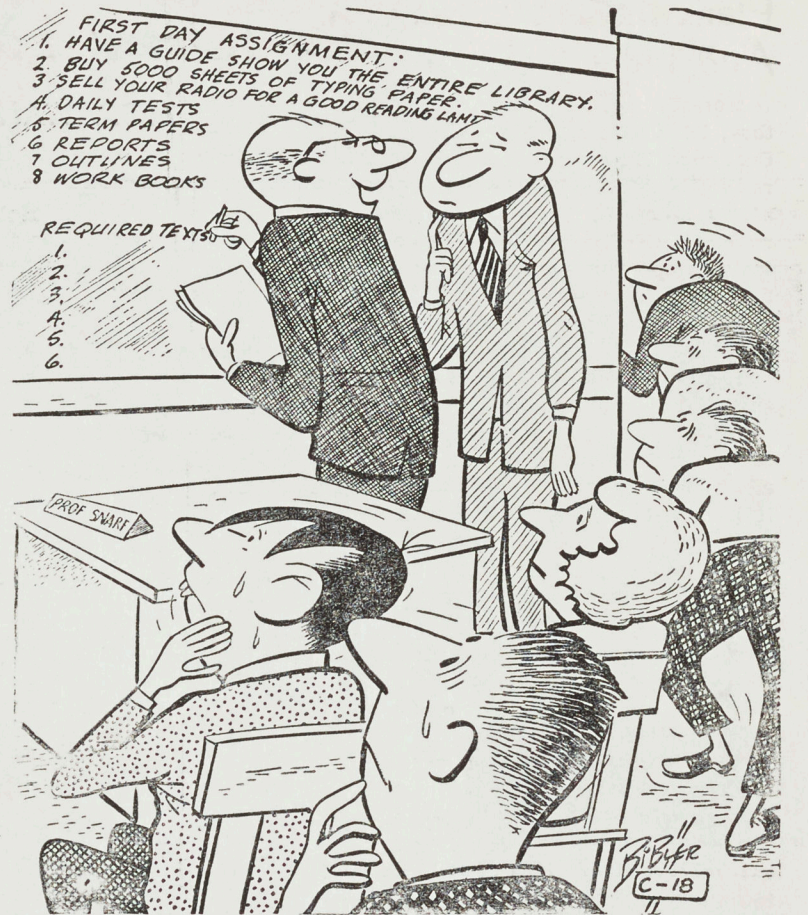

I don't profess to know everything, but at least I know that I have only one brother. Some people aren't sure how many members there are in their family. In my Monday philosophy class, Mr. McConnell, in calling the roll, came to Joe Bodish's name. Mistakenly associating it with the name of another Mo-Mo student, he asked Joe if he had a sister here. Joe replied, "Not that I know of." Maybe he should take count one of these days.

Definition of a cigarette hang-over: it feels like a Russian army with athlete's foot just piled through.

Little Man On Campus

by Bibler

"I always do this the first day. It helps get the class down to its proper size."

Foreign Frosh Lend MoMo An International Air

by Gene Salay

Homesick, dejected, left out, too much hazing, not enough hazing, lonely, bored, too many tests—these are just some of the remarks which I received from Freshmen during the first week of school, from home-towners and out-of-towners but who come from such distant lands as China, Egypt, and Alaska? Let's see how they are taking to college life in their first week, perhaps their very first week, away from their beloved homes.

I met Dana Chang just as she was entering her Spanish class one day last week. Not a freshman but a transfer student, she has a very unique and interesting educational background. Dana, who hails from Hong Kong, attended Chi Hai College before leaving her native China. Prior to coming to Moravian she attended Pitman College in England and George Pepperdine College in Los Angeles, California. Dana, an Economics major, heard about Moravian College through a friend. She has already made many friends and feels quite at home among us.

Egypt

Dimitri Diamondapoulos comes from the land of the Pharaohs—Egypt. While vacationing in the United States during the summers of 1950 and 1952, he was giving permission to stay and continue with his education here if he wished. He accepted. Before beginning his studies at Moravian Preparatory School, he attended schools in Cairo. A freshman engineering student, Dimitri thinks "The sophomores are too lax with their hazing." I'm sure you'll notice a change in the very near future, Dimitri.

Margaret Ono, a senior transfer student from Mary Hardin Baylor College in Texas, hails from Toyko. She heard about Moravian from the director of the Japan Society in New York. The Japan Society acts as adviser for Japanese students here in America. Upon graduation, Margaret, an English major, plans to do graduate work.

It's too bad we have no swimming team here at Mo-Mo, for in Gerry Fanos, a freshman, a great deal of talent is going to lay dormant for awhile. He was Breast Stroke Champion in Northern Greece in 1956. Gerry, a Mechanical Engineering major, graduated from the high school of Kavala in Greece and the Greek American Cultural Institute in Athens before coming here to Moravian. He enjoys hazing, which he claims "is not strict," but he can't wait until he is a sophomore.

Igloos

Contrary to the belief that a lot of people hold, "Alaskans don't really live in igloos," according to Henry Ivanoff. Not now anyway. Henry, a freshman, comes from Bethel, Alaska; he is pre-dentistry major. During our interview I was giving Henry a lift from the North to the South Campus. After my interview with him, I all but needed to administer first aid when he realized that I wasn't a senior at all, but a sophomore. I understand we aren't too popular with the freshman.

I'm sure Shinsho "Skip" Miyagi needs no introduction to us here at Moravian. Skip is Okinawa's representative to the United States and Moravian. Orphaned at the age of ten during the bitter struggle between the American and the enemy forces on Okinawa during World War II, Skip went from a civilian prison camp, to barracks boy, to mascot, and finally after much coaxing from his American friends, he resumed his interrupted studies at Nodake High School. "I'm not sorry I did," he claims, "but I didn't want to leave my American friends." When graduation time arrived at the high school, there was a surprise in store for him. His one-time foes set up a GI-sponsored scholarship for him at Moravian.

Skip, a Freshman Political Science major, plans to go back to Okinawa upon graduation to be of

Speech Laboratory Plans Include Class And Individual Use

Moravian's new Speech laboratory, located in the third floor of Comenius Hall, was finished and ready for class use on the first day of the semester. Many students have already used the excellent facilities of the Laboratory, and it is hoped that eventually all students will be able to benefit from them.

The Laboratory was designed to create acoustical conditions of all types so that a student may have the practice of speaking in a large auditorium or a small classroom. It is acoustically perfect, and the equipment can record and play back student speech under an unlimited number of conditions.

For instance students can learn how a sermon will sound in any size church, and student teachers will discover what their lectures sound like in a classroom.

In addition to being used by individuals, the lab is the scene of many group activities. This year, for the first time, a course in radio and television is being offered to teach students how to operate the Lab's control room which is small, but complete, radio studio with all the regular equipment needed to produce radio drama, disc jockey, and news programs. By flipping a switch, Moravian students can go on the air, anywhere in the Lehigh Valley. A direct phone line to the WGPA radio studios has already been installed and will be used in the near future. One of the Lab's special features is that programs originating from Moravian College can be taped at a convenient time for broadcasting later.

It is so acoustically perfect that either one or fifty voices can be accurately recorded. Organizations such as the Band and Choir can record rehearsals and play them back as they will be heard in a performance. Students in music appreciation classes will find the lab to be an ideal listening room.

Due to its strategic location, live Christmas and organ programs can be broadcast from the Chapel. With minor adjustments by the phone company, important events will be broadcast direct from College Hall.

Plans for the Lab grew out of a series of meetings between President Hauptert and the College and Seminary officials interested in speech problems. At first they were going to either put a recorder and public address system in the Chapel or invest in the best possible portable equipment. However, when the decision to renovate the third floor of Comenius was announced, they chose to spend the money on an ideal studio.

Preliminary specifications were prepared by Mr. Walter Beaupre, assistant professor of speech and drama. The flexible circuits were designed by Mr. Joseph Ray, chief engineer for the Twin City Broadcasting Company of Augusta, Maine.

The equipment in the Lab is the best possible. Any type of record, from L.P.'s to transcriptions, can be played by moving a switch on the custom built turntables. It contains the only all transistorized tape recorder on the market. The microphones and recorder were purchased from RCA, and the control panel was made by the Gates Manufacturing Company of Illinois. The Speech Laboratory is functionally perfect for Moravian's needs now and in the foreseeable future.

Sunday Deadline Set For Sesquicentennial Art Contest

All entries in the Moravian College Sesquicentennial Art Contest-Exhibition must be delivered to College Hall either Saturday, September 28, or Sunday, September 29, between 2:00 and 5:00 p.m. The paintings will be judged Monday night, September 30, and a public opening in the form of a tea will be held on Sunday, October 6.

The judging of the contest will be done by three local college professors: Dr. John Gaertner, of the history department at Lafayette College; Dr. J. Richard Jones, head of the history department at Moravian College; and Professor Francis Quirk, head of the fine arts department at Lehigh University.

The contest places no limit on the number of entries and is open to all artists, amateur or professional. The media and size of the painting are entirely up to the entrant. However, the subjects of the entries are limited to campus scenes or activities or a view from either men's or women's campus.

First and second prizes are $100 and $60, respectively. The entries which win these honors become the property of the college. Two honorable mentions will be purchased by the college at $40 each if the entrant desires to sell.

Each painting entered should be labeled on the back to include the following information: name, address, title of painting, and price. The paintings should be suitably framed and have screw eyes and wire affixed.

At the close of the exhibit, all paintings must be picked up between 7:00 and 9:00 p.m. on Monday, October 14, or Tuesday, October 15.

The contest was announced this past spring as part of the Sesquicentennial activities. Information regarding the contest-exhibition was sent to local artists and newspapers by Mr. Robert P. Snyder, Director of Development.

Choir Will Begin Year's Program At York Service

The executive committee of the Moravian College Choir recently announced that a program in York, Pa., will begin in the year's schedule.

The choir, under the direction of Richard Schantz, is scheduled to sing on Sunday evening, October 27, at York. They will accompany Dr. Raymond S. Hauptert, speaker at the Reformation Sunday service, to be held at that time. For its selections, the choir has chosen an early Moravian tune, a Bach chorale, and a number entitled "Sing We Merrily unto God."

Also scheduled is a weekend trip to Utica, New York, sometime during March at which time an entire concert will be presented.

The officers of the organization Jack Salmons, president; Janice Kennedy, vice-president; Robert Danoker, secretary - treasurer; Gordon Arnold, business manager; Charles Fishel and Jerome Livenood, librarians, are tentatively planning a southern tour to Winston-Salem. The sixty member glee club, would make the trip around Easter time.

Dave Diehl, now attending Moravian Theological Seminary, will be the choir's accompanist throughout this 1957-58 season.

Tekes Receive OK For Clewell Hall

It was announced last week to Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity that their organization will be allowed the use Clewell Hall as a fraternity house. This new arrangement will take affect in September of 1958. They will occupy the building on the same basis that the Omicron Gamma Omega fraternity now occupy their house, the former South Hall. The TEKES request was made earlier this year.

Friars First Production Is Greek Antigone

Antigone, adapted by Lewis Galantiere, has been selected to be the first Blackfriars production of the year. The play will be given in the Arts Building on the evenings of Friday the 22 and Saturday the 23 of November.

The basic plot of Antigone is concerned with the idea of "to whom does one owe his allegiance." Antigone has a brother who has died an honorable death, but Creon, her uncle, has decreed that his body be left as a carrion for the dogs and vultures. Now, Antigone must choose between living a life of material comfort or buying her brother which she feels she has to do. Her decision as to whether or not to obey her uncle's command is in essence the spirit of the play.

When Sophocles wrote his Antigone, he was concerned with Creon's atheistic qualities which were repulsive in the eyes of the Athenian people. However, Jean Anouilh, the author of the play from which Galantiere made his adaptation, was writing it to show the French the political injustice of the Germans. To him, the Germans were represented by Creon, and Antigone signified that it was the concern of society in general that would defeat the Germans. And so, Mr. Galantiere's adaptation keeps Mr. Anouilh's satire; but, also, adds significant parts to show the concept of immortality and the law or religion which makes the clergy follow men to battle and to death.

Tickets will be placed on sale near the production date, and will be available from all members of the Blackfriars.

Students are asked to pick their Moravian College identification card and their free Community Concert ticket at the Comptroller's Office on North Campus. The ID card admits the student to all social and sports events of the college; it is not replaceable or transferable.

Campus Chatter . . .

Now that the campus organizations are beginning to get back into business, things should start humming again. Just a reminder to the frosh to watch the bulletin boards for announcements of meetings which they might want to attend.

assistance to his people. He plans to work for the government. His opinion about hazing, which is altogether new to him—"Crazy." He may have something there.

There are many other interesting students here from foreign lands. I only wish I could have interviewed them all; it is an informative and interesting experience. But we do extend our welcome to them all and hope their stay among us will be a pleasant and prosperous one.

Placement Office Announces Dates For Job Interviews

Industries are coming to Moravian this fall, as before, to place qualified college students in profitable positions and training programs. To be included in this program, one must file a personal data sheet with Dean Myers by the end of the first week of October.

The first interview, with Armstrong Cork Company, will be held January 13. On February 6 it will be the State Civil Service representative and on March 20 and 21, the International Business Machine Personnel manager. Bethlehem Steel will be on campus March 24 to place men in their company as "loopers." The special form for this is expected before Christmas.

Additions to this list will be made and posted on the placement bulletin board. Students are requested to see Dean Myers for form blanks.

Greyhounds Impress Coaches In Scrimmage Against Mules

by Bob Sottile

Moravian's foot-balling Greyhounds faced their first opposition of the new campaign as they traveled to Kutztown for a scrimmage two-weeks ago. Although each team ran ten plays alternately, the Hound's timing was off. This, of course, being because it was their first outing.

It was a much brighter day last Wednesday as the Hound's played host to Muhlenberg in a scrimmage game. The game was played as a regular contest with the exception that there were no kickoffs.

Moravian had first possession of the pig-skin but lost the ball on the third down when Matz fumbled. Muhlenberg then ran three play before kicking on fourth down. Ron Rhen, Greyhound end, almost blocked the kick. With the Hounds juust regaining possession. Matz again fumbled on the first play. The Mules then capitalized on the fumble. A 10 yard pass and a 3 yard plunge gave the Berg its first tally. Muhlenberg led at this point by a 6-0 score. The Hounds came back with a Matz pass to Hollendersky. Miller then went for the first down. Slifka ran two straight plays for good yardage. Matz then passed to Rhen. After Hollendersky's unsuccessful try for a first down, the Mules took possession. After two long runs, the Mules again struck pay dirt. The extra point was missed giving Muhlenberg a 12-0 lead.

At this point, the Greyhounds fought back with the aid of Esposito, Berner and Finelli. On their first play, Joe Esposito went for 30 yards. Cutti then uncorked a pass to Dick Berner. After a 15 yard penalty which at the moment seemed to hurt the Hounds, Calvo's boys scored their first touchdown. Jack "Scooter" Finelli ran beautifully through half the Berg team to score. George Hollendersky kicked the extra point.

After the Mules tried unsuccessfully to fight back, the Hounds took over but the half ended just as Dave Kratzer made a sparkling catch of Matz's pass on the 15 yard line.

The second half saw the Hounds on top all the way. With Joe Esposito running wild, another Moravian touchdown was in sight—Esposito intercepted a Mule pass and returned it 10 yards to the 5 yard line. After Matz was thrown for a five yard loss, "Jumping Joe" again jaunted 15 yards for a tally. Hollendersky again converted the extra point. The T. D. put the Hounds in front for the first time by a 14-12 count.

The Hounds continued to run wild without reaching pay dirt. Both Esposito and Berner ran for good yardage but the Mules stopped touchdown bids twice. Berg was hurt by a penalty when they regained possession. After this, they were stopped cold by Moravian's line.

The fourth quarter saw the Hounds drive to the 3 inch line before being stopped on what looked like a sure touchdown. During this drive Hershey went for 15 yards and Cutti passed to Berner for another 15 yards. Bertic again passed, this time to end Charlie Roth. That ended the drive for the Hounds. The Mules took over and drove for a first down but were stopped short. The Hounds took over but lost possession on an interception play in which the ball bounced off Noonan's hand into a Berg-man's arms. Berg ran four plays but was again stopped cold. The Greyhounds once again took over but this time went all the way. Jeff Gannan and Joe Iampietro led the attack. Gannan ran for 17 yards. Then little Joe Iampietro ran two successive plays for 15 and 10 yard gains. Russ Conover then plunged over for the final Hound tally. Hollendersky kicked his third extra point and the score was Moravian 21, Muhlenberg 12. Berg took over. Russ Conover intercepted a pass as time ran out.

The Hounds showed a great assortment of running backs and a fairly big line. With this, and the fact that Coach Calvo can substitute freely with assurance, it looks like it will again be a good season for the Hounds.

There's been a great improvement in many of the boys this year. One of the biggest this year is sophomore Russ Conover who may soon see more action than he expected. He shows great ability as a quarterback.

FOOTBALL PROFILES

Paul Slifka

In starting our profile this year, we turn the spotlight on Senior Paul Slifka. A five foot eleven inch, 180 pounds, left halfback. Paul, last year here at Moravian was top scorer with fifty-five points. He ran for four hundred and eighty-five yards in eight games and was honorable mention on last years All-State squad.

At Bethlehem High, Paul was a four letter man. He played at left halfback and was a member of the track team. Attending Fork Union Academy in Virginia for a year, Paul received two letters.

PAUL SLIFKA
Halfback

His biggest thrill came after the Bethlehem-Allentown game in which player he received the most valuable player award.

In pursuing his interest in photography, Paul has taken on the job of photo-editor of The Benigna. He is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon fraternity, which is the national journalism fraternity. Paul is also a member of the Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

His course here at Moravian is General Studies.

On being asked how the team looks this year, Paul comments, "We have a lot of boys, plenty of power, and full steam all the way."

Runners Drill For Cross Country Contest With F&M

Mr. Paul Kuklantz, Cross-Country Coach mentioned that there are 17 boys who are in training at the present time, for the team. In deterring who will run for him, Coach Kuklantz plans to have three trial runs and the seven who "show him the most" will run.

As of yet, Moravian has no set course. The team has been running their own courses in practice sessions. When a course is made, it will be about 4.2 miles.

Because we have never had a cross country team here before we therefore have no lettermen returning. Coach Kuklantz said that he did not know what our chances would be in the meets, but he is hopeful.

There are seven meets planned with the opening contest on October 9, when we will face Franklin & Marshall at home.

Hound Coaches Attempt To Register Third Successful Gridiron Campaign

by Art Potasnak

Head Coach, Rocco Calvo enters his third year as mentor of the Greyhounds. In his first two seasons as coach he has compiled a impressive record of 11 wins 4 losses and 1 tie.

Coach Calvo is no stranger to area residents, as he starred as a quarterback for the Bethlehem High School Teams of Johnny Butler. In 1947, Calvo's senior year in high school, he earned a position on the second team of the Pennsylvania High School All-State team.

Gillespie Announces Inter-Mural Plans 10 Sports Included

Director of athletics, Harvey T. Gillespie has announced that the deadline for entering a team in the intramural football league will be Monday Sept. 30.

All groups interested in entering a team should turn in a list of their squad members, their team name, and the team captain to Mr. Gillespie's office. A schedule will be drawn up and posted giving the time of each game; all games being played on the lower athletic field.

The Championship team will have it's name inscribed on the permanent trophy, which is kept in the trophy case in College Hall. Similiar trophies are maintained for Basketball and Softball. In addition 15 members of the championship team are awarded the individual key awards.

Mr. Gillespie also has plans for intramural programs in Basketball, Handball, Tennis, Badminton, Volleyball, Table Tennis, and Softball. Students interested in these programs are urged to watch the Comenian and the bulletin board for announcements concerning these programs.

Those wishing to enter the tennis or golf tournaments must sign up with Mr. Gillespie before October 5th.

Schooling

After graduation, Calvo chose Cornell University to continue his education. Playing under the famous Lefty James, Calvo quarterbacked the big red teams for 3 years and earned a reputation as a strong passer in the Ivy league. After graduating from Cornell in 1952, he served as a lieutenant in the Army.

Recently, Calvo was named to succeed Gil Gillespie as head Basketball coach beginning this season and in addition Calvo serves as Professor of Health and Physical Education.

Doc

Coach Steve 'Doc' Sydorak is the veteran of the coaching staff. 'Doc' is starting his Sixth year as assistant coach at Moravian. He served under Calvo's predecessor Jim Shreve and previous to that under Larry Rosati for a year. Sydorak also began his football career at Bethlehem High School and enrolled at Moravian to star at a Halfback slot. Sydorak graduated in 1942 and proceeded to establish an envious record as football coach. He spent three years at Sayre (Pa.) High School where his teams were consistent winners as he compiled a 20-4 record.

Doc spent 4 years at Bethlehem High turning out some rigid forward walls for the Red Hurricanes.

Sydorak's education includes a Master's Degree from Columbia Univ. in 1953. 'Doc' is a teacher in a Bethlehem Junior School.

Brother Pau

Coach Paul Calvo, Rocco's brother, is also starting his third year as an assistant on the Greyhound staff. Paul is a Moravian Graduate of 1952 and played end for two years before being sidelined with an injury. Previously, he had played end at Bethlehem High School on the 1941-42-43 elevens.

Like Sydorak, Paul Calvo is a teacher in the Bethlehem School District.

The big three: Hound coaches pose for Comenian photog previous to Berg-Mo Mo scrimmage last week. They are from L. to R. Doc Sydorak, Paul Calvo (brother to head coach), and Rocco Calvo head coach.

Smiling with pride: is MoMo golf coach Harold Bilheimer after capturing the Lehigh Valley Golf Tournament. He defeated his fellow Brookside Country Club member Harvey Cope, 3 and 1 in the final match.

Bilheimer Top; LV Golf Champ

Moravian golf coach Harold Bilheimer captured this past week The Lehigh Valley Amateur Golf Tournament at Green Pond course. Bilheimer has been coaching the Moravian Team for seven years.

He finally captured the crown of the Lehigh Valley when he defeated Harvey Cope of Brookside Country Club in the finals. A string of pars on the 14th, 15th, 16th, and 17th earned for him his first championship. The title ended on the 17th hole with a 3 and 1 victory.

Cope broke through to take a 1-up edge with a birdie on No. 3 hole. Bilheimer then evened it up on the next hole with a par as Cope's drive carried way out of bounds. He took the lead for the first time on No. 5 with another par only to have Cope come back to even up matters on the short No. 6 hole. After splitting the long 510 yard No. 17, cope went 1-up with a par on the short No. 8. He finished the front nine with this advantage with a score of 37 to Bilheimer's 38.

Cope missed an opportunity of going farther out in front by three putting on No. 10 hole. Harold, then caught up on the long 570 yard No. 11 with another par. The two then split on No. 12 only to have Cope go out in front on a par three. MoMo coach Bilheimer then took over from here on, winning the next four holes with pars as Cope played bogie golf the rest of the way to the clubhouse.

Bilheimer had tough competition all the way. He had to go 20 holes to defeat Charley Lipari of Easton in his first match and then managed to nip Ted Beckowski on the 18th with a 1-up victory before his long session with Cope.

Pres. Son Killed . . .

Molenaar, the guide, descended the mountain to Camp Muir on the 10,000 foot level where he attempted to set up an emergency radio transmitter. He was able to report the accident back to the park and ranger headquarters at about 11 A.M.

An eight man rescue party of rangers left on horseback from Paradise Valley at the 5,500 foot level to take rescue equipment to Camp Muir. Three other climbing parties, notified of the accident made their way to the scene.

The U.S. Coast Guard rushed a helicopter and an Albatross plane from its Port Angeles air station on Puget Sound. The plane picked up Ome Daiber, a veteran mountain climber to assist in parachuting litters to the accident scene.

Rescue too late

When the first rescue team reached the scene near dark their toil was in vane. "Bill" had passed away. Dr. Lehman, and other members of the party were with, Bill constantly." He was in such bad condition that his situation would have been doubtful had we gotten off the mountain in time," said Dr. Lehman. He lasted nine hours.

It was not until the following day that "Bill's" body could be removed from the mountain.

The body was taken to a funeral home in Tacoma, about 90 miles away. Dr. Hauptert flew to Tacoma to accompany the body home.

Funeral services were held, Saturday September 6th at 11 A.M. in Central Moravian Church. Bill's body was given final rest in Niskey Hill Cemetery.

Dr. and Mrs. Hauptert requested that there be no flowers in lieu of the establishment of a William Hauptert Memorial Fund. This will be a college scholarship in Bill's name.

Called Home

The president said that he had talked with his on by telephone

Comenian Staff Positions Become Available

In case that you have missed the previously scheduled staff meeting of the college newspaper, The Comenian, and are still interested in becoming a staff member, it's not too late to join.

Although many of the editorial positions are full there is still an urgent need for news and sports reporters, as well as feature writers, make up editors, typists and general leg work people. One need not be an English major or had previous experience in news work, however the latter would help. You can learn on the job. Sometimes the work will be discouraging, sometimes enlightening, but news work is always interesting. Both men and women are needed.

If you should yet be interested, please contact the editor, Roy Goshorn either in The Comenian office located in the basement of the Arts building during the week, or see any staff member, for further information.

just a few days previous and was told of the plans for the climbing expedition. The climb, outlined by guides was made frequently by tourists and climbing enthusiasts. Dr. Hauptert had not seen his son since leaving for Europe in June.

Bill left Bethlehem in June to spend the summer working for the U.S. Forestry Service near Coeur d'Alene National Park in Idaho. He had also planned to meet his older brother Peter, now enrolled in the seminary, the following day at the Grand Canyon. Peter had spent the summer in Nicaragua working in the Moravian Mission Hospital there.

Grand Canyon

Peter and a friend were in route to the Grand Canyon at the time of the accident and could not be reached immediately. Park rangers were given orders to have the boys telephone home at once.

William "Bill" Hauptert was born in Bethlehem on December 30, 1936. He was graduated from Liberty High School in 1954. On the Moravian campus he was active in the band, glee club, and many other campus organizations. He was a member of Central Moravian Church, and played in the trombone Choir. Bill planned to study for the ministry at the theological seminary after completing his undergraduate studies this year.

Surviving

Besides his parents and brother Peter, Bill is survived by two younger brothers, Thomas, 14 and Stephen, 10, at home.

Greyhound Gossip

by Dick Steiner

Another summer has come and gone, so here we are once more passing on items of interest to you sports-minded students. With opening day only a week away for the Greyhound footballers, interest is running high concerning the prospects for the season.

For the benefit of the frosh as well as a reminder to the upperclassmen, Moravian has built a fine gridiron in the past few years. Led by Korean War vets such as Joe Gerencer and Champ Storch, the Greyhounds began several years ago to replace their title of pushover with powerhouse. The past three seasons we have recorded 17 wins, 6 losses, and 1 tie, certainly an admirable record. In a pre-season football preview, the Saturday Evening Post picked Moravian as one of the top small colleges in the East. It is a fine honor, and as well deserved one. Our reputation is firmly established, and our team deserves your sincere support.

All this, however, does not win games. A team with a reputation is the team everyone wants to beat. Though we lost only three seniors from last years squad, Hal Anderson an outstanding tackle, transferred to Michigan State, and Bill Krashinski, our other tackle, was injured in an automobile accident and is unable to play. Coach Calvo has his work cut out for him, but look for the Blue and Grey to enjoy another fine season. I'll stick my neck out once more and predict 7 wins and 1 loss, the latter to either Lycoming or Upsala.

Last Spring I made the mistake of forecasting the outcome of the Major League Baseball season. Along with about 150 million other Americans I picked the Yankees, but my crystal ball said Brooklyn instead of Milwaukee. A far more serious mistake, however, was my picking the Phillies for the cellar. Not only did I almost get lynched by a number of loyal Phillies fans, I now find they are fighting for a first division berth. Oh well, thats the way the ball bounces, or perhaps doesn't bounce. See you next week.
