Plans Formulated For March Academic Event

Plans are being formulated by the History, Music, and Art Departments for a series of discussions and demonstrations of early American education, music, and art to be held on March 7 and 8. This will be the major academic event of the Sesquicentennial anniversary of the College. These programs will be conducted by authorities in those fields and will therefore be done on a graduate level.

On Friday, March 7, in the evening, the College Choir will present a public concert of 18th century Viennese classical music, especially that of Haydn and Mozart, and some early Moravian works. A string orchestra is being assembled to accompany the choir. The major works which will be presented are Mozart's "Te Deum" and "Missa Brevis in G."

Each of the participating departments will have separate programs on the following day. The History Department will sponsor a panel and discussion on "The Impact of Denominational Influences on Colonial Higher Education."

The scholars who will participate in the panel are: Dr. A. Pierce Middleton, former director of the Williamsburg Project and now of Brookfield, Connecticut, who will cover the Anglican contribution; Dr. Howard H. Brinton, director of the Pendle Hill Graduate School of Religion and Social Studies, who will present the Quaker viewpoint; Dr. Clifford

K. Shipton, librarian of the American Antiquarian Society of Worcester, Massachusetts, Archivist of Harvard University, and a member of the Advisory Council of the Institute of Early American Culture and History of Williamsburg, who will represent the Congregational aspect; and Dr. Mabel Haller, who wrote her doctoral thesis on early Moravian education from material in the Archives Building and who will present the Moravian contribution.

Dr. Daniel Gilbert, a member of the Moravian College faculty who is presently on a one year leave of absence at Amherst College under the sponsorship of the American Studies program, will be the moderator.

Invitations have been sent to scholars in American history on the faculties of a number of New England and Middle States colleges to attend and participate in the program.

Triangle Honor Society Taps Ten New Members At Convo

Ten members of the student body as well as the Moravian faculty were "tapped" to the Triangle Club of the college at the first convocation in fall term. The program was in charge of Mr. Richard Shantz. The convo took place last Thursday a week in College Hall.

Following a few announcements, Dr. Raymond Haupt, Moravian College's president, was introduced as speaker. Dr. Haupt spoke of a few experiences he had while on a tour of Europe last spring as an official of the Moravian Church of North America. His choice of experiences varied between a journey by train, the Orient Express, from Prague, Czechoslovakia, to Paris, France; a guided tour by bus of the "home" of the Moravians and Moravian Church in Czechoslovakia; and a climb by cable car up the side of Mont Blanc in the French Alps.

The convocation service was then turned over to the Triangle

$18,500 Allocated By U.S.G. For 1957 Organization Budgets

This week's United Student Government meeting, held last Tuesday on the Church Street campus, had as its main business the Budget Committee's annual report on organization allocations, and last week's motion to buy a mimeograph machine for the use of USG members.

Easton Concert Series Opens To Moravian College Students

The programs of the Easton Community Concert Series are now available to the members of the Bethlehem Community Concert Association—Moravian College series. All Moravian students are members of this organization.

Theodore Lettvin, pianist, is scheduled for Thursday, November 7. Lettvin is reported to be one of the foremost of the young pianists today. He made his debut as a soloist with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra under the direction of William Steinberg. He has appeared with many other leading American orchestras and has several recital successes.

The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra has been scheduled for Wednesday, December 11, under the direction of Massimo Freccia. The orchestra composed of eighty-five musicians will play over seventy concerts this season. Internationally acclaimed by music critics as one of America's top major orchestras, the Baltimore Symphony fame is recognized through the efforts of its director and conductor, Massimo Freccia, who conducts regularly on the continent and in England.

The Robert Jeffrey Theatre Ballet which will appear on Friday, January 3, has never appeared in this community. The group has been touring since 1956 at which time Jeffrey assembled six young stars to form his first company. They will offer "Le Bal" with music by Chabrier; "Within Four Walls," an original score based on early Stephen Foster songs; and "Kaleidoscope," which makes use of George Gershwin songs and piano compositions.

John McCollum, tenor, will perform at the final concert on Thursday, March 18. Mr. McCollum has been a feature soloist with orchestras of New York, Boston, Chicago, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Buffalo, Minneapolis, New Orleans, Baltimore, and St. Louis; and has appeared as soloist with the Bethlehem Bach Choir.

All concerts will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the Easton High School auditorium with a reserved seat section arranged for Bethlehem ticket holders.

Flu Shots Wednesday

Asiatic Flu inoculations will be given between 8 and 11 a.m., Wednesday, November 6, in College Hall. Those who have not signed the papers which were distributed earlier may report to College Hall for their shots after 10:30. The remainder of the available shots will be given to those persons. Cost of the shot is $.65.

38% Of Men Name Mumie Council Prexy

Bruce Mumie was elected head of the Men's Council last Monday. Thirty-eight per cent of the men in the upper three classes voted in the election in which Bob Smerko was defeated by eleven votes, 80 to 69.

Mumie will assume the duties of the presidential office immediately. Vice-president Joe Prorok has been running the council since the annual election last April. The presidential portion of the ballot, however, was declared illegal because Smerko's name was omitted.

The second election was protested by Mumie when it was discovered that fourteen ballots were illegal. The protest was unanimously accepted by the council, and sanction was given for the third election which was held on Monday.

One hundred forty-nine men students voted out of the 385 eligible to vote. The voting was conducted by Pi Mu President Bob Smith, his associates, and Dr. Lloyd Burkhart.

Comenius Hall Heating System Is Converted

One of the major campus improvements made over the summer was the installation of a new Hev-E-Oil oil heating system in the basement of Comenius Hall to replace the old coal system.

The Clever-Brookes burner, a conversion from the old Cox Stoker, and a 10,000 gallon oil tank at the back of Comenius Hall were installed. E. E. Lukens, heating, plumbing, and air-conditioning contractor, effected the conversion from coal to oil at a cost of approximately $6500. The boiler and many other parts of the old heating system are still being used.

Paul E. Cunningham, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, stated that Moravian replaced the Cox Stoker because the manufacturer has become defunct, thus making it impossible for the school to procure either service or parts.

Presided over by Dick Steiner, USG vice-president, in place of Dave Jorgensen, who was doing publicity work at York, Pa., the meeting started with announcement of this year's allocations. Half-way through the discussion over budgets, a motion was made and passed to accept all budgets as read to speed the process, since they had to be voted upon at the next meeting in accordance with the constitution. All members who have special problems are to see Bill O'Connell, USG Treasurer.

Tentative Allocations

The allocations are temporarily as follows: Board of Publications, $10,400; Board of Fine Arts, $400; Social Activities committee, $5,277; Political Activities Club, $330; Modern Language Club, $20; Band, $2,200; Women's Council, $100; Spelunkers, $100; Concert-Film Committee, $827; Men's Council, $400; RAU Science Club, $10. The RAU Science Club, the Religious Activities committee, and the Campus Christian Club received little or no allocation because they had large balances from the previous year.

Mimeograph Machine

The motion for buying a mimeograph machine was brought up again, as it had been tabled for a week. The motion, made for buying a $350 machine, as well as an amendment for the purchase of a $200 one were voted down, on the grounds that the USG balance, after allocations, was insufficient. A motion to buy a machine at the end of the year, if funds are available, was passed.

During the discussion, Joe Rosenfeld, in defense of the machine, made mention of the fact that the PAC was holding a convention of political clubs at Moravian, and would need a machine to print up bills for the event. When asked if the school would allow the PAC to use its machine for such an occasion, one in which the school would actually play host to representatives from other institutions, Rosenfeld replied that the answer was definitely no.

Other items of business were the readmission and admission of organizations to the USG, and the setting of a sum for the William Haupt Memorial Scholarship fund. The organizations readmitted after being suspended from the USG for attendance delinquency were Men's Council, Kappa Phi Kappa, and Epsilon Beta Alpha. The organization newly admitted was Kappa Delta Epsilon, the new honorary teaching sorority.

Budget Committee

The budget committee decided that a sum of $50 would be given to the Haupt fund, and this suggestion was passed by the members.

NEIL'S SPIELS

by Neil Boyer

About two years ago, on one of Steve Allen's old Tonight shows, Steverino and gang did a small bit on the per-sistant "channel switcher." This person, they explained, is one who is never content with the program which is on their TV set, and must constantly change stations. After gathering together a group of their performers (?), they ran through a dialogue of what it might sound like to the innocent bystander.

On one channel was a soap opera love scene, on another a cowboy show, and on two others were advertisements for pills and garbage disposal units. The viewers heard something like this:

"Darling, there are so many things I've longed to tell you, and tonight is my chance to say that you mean more to me than . . . garbage. Yes, the Slopmaster garbage disposal is the unit that fits right in your . . . hat. I'll say this is a hat.

"Why, I've had this ol' ten gallon since I was knee high to a . . . garbage disposal unit. Once again the name: Slopmaster, the name that has made garbage . . . a thing of beauty and joy forever.

"Oh, Charlie, honey, when you speak like that I get such a funny feeling. I get . . . heartburn and nausea. Pepso Pills will kill your ills! If pain persists, see your local . . . veterinarian. And take him to the blacksmith, too. Ol'Silver needs shoes bad.

"Tell him to save the old horseshoes. They'll make good . . . earrings and bracelets and whatever you want, my darling. You're so good to me, Charlie. But I feel it's only fair for me to tell you one thing. What's that, baby? I must tell you about my . . . storm window deal. With a every Slopmaster garbage disposal goes a 20% discount on Typhoon storm windows.

"Yes, on stormy nights you'll be thankful if you have . . . Headaches, neuralgia and that awful tired feeling. It's then that you should reach for . . . a kiss, my darling. One kiss and I'll know that you love me and . . . a hundred other dirty cowpokes.

"They came a-ridin' out of the arroyo on their . . . garbage disposal units . . . so I whipped out my . . . wedding ring . . . and filled 'em full of . . . garbage."

Well, too much is to much. We heard Jim Harkel enjoyed his job last Saturday very much. Playing trumpet in the pit orchestra of the Lyric can be quite an experience, so we're told.

Here's one for all you optimists. Cut it out and paste it on your wall. It can be terrific advice come exam time. "One day as I sat musing, sad and lonely, and without a friend, a voice came to me from out of the gloom saying, 'Cheer up, things could be worse.' So I cheered up, and sure enough things got worse."

And so I guess that's enough dribble for this week.

Family Day . . .

During the latter half of the spring semester, as well as the past summer vacation, plans were formulated by The Comenian and the administration to continue with the annual family day event of the fall semester.

Last year the occasion was quite well received and attracted over three hundred parents and friends of Moravian. Our guests were treated to a buffet luncheon, tours of the campus, and an afternoon football game.

This semester The Comenian planned to continue its efforts until the flu germ hit the campus four weeks ago. Even though the virus put a "crimp" in our present plans, it was hoped that another suitable date could have been set. However, due to the mass re-scheduling of various campus and academic events the suitable date was unable to be decided upon. There is no date feasible until early next semester, at which time the event can be held.

The Comenian feels that our college should pay honor to our parents and make them feel a part of our collegiate institution through a better knowledge of it. It is with this thought we will again strive to meet with the administration and plan a comparable date for the spring semester, so that we will have no break in the tradition.

Music Soothes the Soul . . .

Heretofore both the North and South Campus snack bars have been quite poorly equipped, entertainment-wise. Last week it was noted that a juke box had been installed on a trial basis in the Emcee, the North Campus snack bar. What better time than this between the exam periods, to improve the establishment by installing a music machine.

In order to make the relaxing escape between classes, most students flock into the overcrowded Emcee to enjoy a bit of nourishment and talk over the occasions of the day. Atmosphere had to depend entirely upon the seldom-used television set and the congeniality of the customers.

Since the installation of the juke box, students have voiced many favorable comments on its existence. It will certainly do the place no harm and will tend to make the campus snack bar a much more enjoyable place to spend the inbetween class periods.

It is also our understanding that if the response to this installation is satisfactory here on the North Campus, a similar device will be placed in the Femcee on South Campus.

The Comenian hopes the response will meet favorable approval.

Pi Delt Representatives Find Publication Editors Get Paid

by Al Bergstein and Brian Saderholm

The facts that the Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager both receive a flat salary of $85.00 per month at Georgia Tech and that Lehigh University gives one hour of college credit for each semester of work on a college publication were two rather amazing facts brought out at the Pi Delta Epsilon national convention at Cornell University this past weekend.

These and other practices were among those that were emphasized during the opening meeting of the convention, attended by Brian Saderholm and Al Bergstein. A practice at the University of Wyoming, sanctioned by the administration, is that of having a dinner meeting at the end of the school year. This meeting, sponsored by the Pi Delt chapter there, invites the outstanding campus leaders and members of the administration, faculty, and other college personell who have been criticized publically, to refute the accusations.

The offices of the Cornell Daily Sun and the Cornellian, the newspaper and yearbook of Cornell University were open to the representatives, and found to be very efficient in structure. The Sun, published daily, is sold to the students and local people at five cents per issue. Both of these publications are self-sufficient, and the University has virtually nothing to say about how these publications are run. The business department and editorial and news departments are completely dis-associated.

Lloyd H. Elliott, Executive Assistant to the President of Cornell University, and George V. Denny, Jr., President of Town Hall in New York City, Vice President of People to People, Inc., and originator of "The Town Meeting of the Air," were the two featured speakers at the dinner meetings on Friday and Saturday nights.

Both men, in speeches entitled "Higher Education and Student Publications" and "People vs. Sputnik," brought forth almost similar points.

The themes of the talks concerned the role of college journalists in formulating student opinion, and their role in encouraging the students to make the best of their higher educations. Further emphasized was the problem of survival of the modern adult in terms of human relations and education.

In retrospect, an enlightening weekend was spent at Cornell University by both representatives. The thanks of the representatives from Moravian College are extended to brothers of the Tau Kappa Epsilon chapter house for their hospitality in housing and living arrangements.

English Professors To Attend Meeting In NY Today

Dr. Burkhart, Mr. Beaupre, Mr. Burcaw, and Miss Williams, members of the English Department, will attend the first meeting of the Council on English of the Central Atlantic States at New York University today.

The College Council meets twice a year and will have as its topic for discussion "Whose Responsibility Are the Inadequately Prepared Students You Find in Your Composition Classes, the High School's or the College's?" Professor Charles W. Roberts, Chairman of Freshman Rhetoric at the University of Illinois will open this subject for discussion in his presentation of the "Illinois Plan," for dealing with insufficiently prepared college freshmen.

Greyhound Gossip

by Dick Steiner

Our football season thus far has been somewhat disappointing, not so much in the light of our 0-2 record as in respect to the cancellation of half of our games. School spirit has suffered a great deal along with the morale of the team. It is important to remember, however, that the cause of the trouble was as unavoidable as the result. Our team still has four big games left, and it is up to us to support them all the way. If you think our cheers don't make any difference, talk to a player sometime. They're human and it matters to everyone of them whether or not you care if they win or lose. At high school games, the kids often stop cheering when their team is losing and things aren't going so well, but we should be a little more mature than those kids. Let's show our team that we're behind them 100%.

With the World Series barely over (150 million people and I were wrong on that one) and football season going strong, a new sound can now be heard around College Hall. That's right—the basketball team has started early this year. Coach Calvo will be a very busy man between now and the end of football season as he coaches two Greyhound combines. J.V. coach, Paul "Mo" Marcincin will help Calvo until his pigskin chores are over. The Greyhound cagers look back on a highly successful year, as they posted a 15-8 mark last season. The boys won nine of their last ten contests and carry a five game winning streak into their opener this season. The loss of three fine seniors, Bob Jones, Skip Fegely, and Joe Causely, Joe Keglovitz, Lorenzo Martin and Bill Davis to take the slack left by these three star graduates. Look for a number of frosh to see action this season also. Not since Jones and Co. were frosh has there been such a promising crop of rookies.

Because this column is somewhat editorial in nature, making it occasionally controversial, I would welcome any and all letters, both pro and con, regarding anything printed in it. I can't guarantee that they will be printed in entirety (You might write long letters so you don't have to read this stuff) but I promise you I will try to have your ideas printed. Remember, though, my editor has broad censorial powers. Leave those letters in the Comenian office or send them to box 54, Moravian College.

See ya next week.

OGO'S Edge Tekes, Tie Hurricanes For First

By Art Potasnak

After a week of battle in Intramural Football League, the Hurricanes and the OGO's are tied for first place. Sigma Phi Omega is in third place followed by the TEKES.

On Tuesday afternoon the TEKES and Sigma Phi Omega battled to a 0-0 tie after four overtime periods in a game featuring fine defensive play on both sides.

Two games were played on Wednesday. The OGO's squeaked past Sigma Phi on late period touchdowns by a 13-12 score. A protest is being lodged by Sigma Phi with Mr. Gillespie. In the second game, the Hurricanes defeated the TEKES on a spectacular catch in the end zone by the Hurricanes' Walt Salaski, the final score being 7-2. This game is also being protested by the TEKES over interpretation of the rules.

Thursday's scheduled games between Pi Mu and Sigma Phi Omega and the TEKES vs the Seminary were rained out. They are rescheduled for October 31.

On Friday, the Hurricanes won their third game as they defeated the OGO's in another close game 6-2. In the second game, the TEKES downed Pi Mu after the Pre-theos had taken an early 2-0 lead. But the TEKES struck just before the end of the first half when Bob Volko hit Fred De Frank in the end zone with a pass. The second TD came near the end of the game after Fred De Frank took a pitchout from Volko and hit Dick Roth with a strike as he crossed the goal line.

Monday's action featured a hard fought, well-played game between the Hurricanes and Sigma Phi Omega. The Hurricanes were toppled from the undefeated ranks by a 2-0 score. In the second game the OGO's were awarded a forfeit victory over the Seminary.

Intramural League Standings

Hurricanes	4	1	0
OGO's	4	1	0
Sigma Phi Omega	1	1	1
Tekes	1	2	1
Pi Mu	0	5	0
Seminary	0	5	0

Tuesday afternoon, the Hurricanes picked up their fourth win on a forfeit victory over Pi Mu. The second game was a thriller between the TEKES and the OGO's, which was won by the OGO's, 13-12. The TEKES began the scoring early in the first period when Bob Volko hit Ron Shickora in the end zone. The extra point play was missed and the TEKES led 6-0. However, the OGO's retaliated quickly when Jack Van Natta took the kickoff and streaked down the sideline for the tying score. The extra point was also missed and the game was knotted 6-6.

The OGO's scored again in the second period on a pass from Van Natta to Jim Howell. The extra point was good. The TEKES came back in the fourth quarter to score again on a pass play, Roth to Shickora. However, they were unable to push across the extra point and the OGO's won out 13-12.

The playoffs are scheduled to begin Friday with the top four teams to be included in the playoffs.

FOOTBALL PROFILES

DICK BERNER, Fullback

The football profile spotlight falls on Dick Berner, a 5ft. 11 inch, 175 lb. fullback. Dick was born in Coplay, Pa., but now makes his home in Stiles.

He began his football career at Whitehall High School where he played halfback. At Whitehall, Dick participated in football, basketball, and track, earning ten varsity letters.

Before coming to Moravian, Dick spent one year at the University of Delaware where he played freshman football and ran the 100 and 220 yard dashes for the track team. Because of this participation, Dick was ineligible for a varsity sport during his first year at Moravian. Now a twenty-one-year-old senior, Dick is participating in his second year with the Hounds. His powerful running and blocking abilities make him one of the great assets on the Moravian football team.

Dick's greatest thrill came when his high school beat Stroudsburg, 14 to 13, coming from behind in the last minute to beat them.

Dick is majoring in history, and plans to become a teacher in the future.

He is treasurer of the Kappa Phi Kappa education fraternity, sargeant-at-arms of Omicron Gamma Omega fraternity and a member of the Varsity M club.

When asked what he thinks the teams' chances are against Albright, Dick replied, "I think the team has improved a lot. Barring anymore postponements, I think we should win the rest of them."

Twenty Students Out For Wrestling; Wilkes First Meet

On Monday, October 28th, the wrestling team held its first meeting of the campaign.

Twenty candidates met with Coach Kunklentz with more expected after the football and cross country seasons are completed. Some of the boys have wrestled in high school but many are inexperienced.

Kunklentz warned that much hard work is in store but with confidence and good efforts, the squad could produce a successful first campaign.

The grapplers will face their first opposition on December 7 with Wilkes College.

Hounds Face Lions; Try For First Win

By Neil Eskolin

Things have been looking pretty glum around Moravian's campus during the past several weeks in respect to football. A crippled Hound squad traveled to Lycoming on October 5 to be turned back to the tune of 34-13. A week later, M. C.'s tussle with Juniata had to be cancelled because of the flu here at Moravian. October 19 found the situation no better when to top off a very disappointing Homecoming Week-end, the Hounds dropped a squeaker to the Cadets of P.M.C., 6-0.

And, just to make the picture complete to date, Lebanon Valley had to cancel last week's tilt with Moravian since the same bug that had plagued the Greyhounds earlier in the season, had moved out to the Lebanon Valley region.

Several other games in that section were also cancelled last Saturday for the same reason. Because of the arrangement of both the Moravian and Lebanon schedule, the game will not be rescheduled.

The outlook for the remainder of the season is not nearly as dismal. Today, the Hounds play host to the Albright Lions. The Lions, to date, have not displayed too much in the way of football prowess. They have dropped five of their six starts, most of which were by rather lopsided scores. Out of the six games, they managed to salvage no better than a 0-0 tie with Lycoming.

Today's game will be the 21st in the Albright-Moravian series; with the Lions holding a 15-5 edge. This is of little significance since Moravian has copped the last three games, the last two being by rather one-sided scores.

The forward pass is expected to be the chief offensive weapon of the Lions today. Frank Suddack, in his last season at quarterback, will do most of the throwing. Other lettermen include John Kapp and John Cunningham, senior halfbacks and Gerald Bricker, a sophomore fullback. The line looks fairly strong, especially at the ends and tackles.

On November 9, Moravian's rescheduled Homecoming Day, the Hounds will entertain the Upsala Vikings here at M.C. This game will be the 18th in the Moravian-Upsala series. M.C. will be gunning for its 9th victory over the Vikings while Upsala will try to make it number seven over the Hounds. The two squads have tied three times. Last year, the Vikings won a close game over the Moravian gridders by a score of 6-0.

Since graduation claimed all of the starting backs from last year's Upsala squad, Coach Hooper has had to mold a completely new backfield. Halfback John Jacane, a sophomore, is expected to help the Vikings, while Pete Rubas, a reserve halfback of last year, will probably also be in the starting backfield.

Today and next Saturday a healthy, enthusiastic, and aggressive Greyhound team will attempt to make it four in a row over Albright, to reverse last year's defeat with Upsala, and to win their first two games of the '57 season.

Cross Country Scoring Easy; 4 Meets Left

by John Layman

Moravian's Cross Country Team has started its season with a loss and win. A little concerning the sport should be mentioned for the benefit of the bystanders.

Cross Country is run over roads, fields, and hills. The average course is between 4.5 miles to 6 miles. The course is marked off for the runners by colored flags. A red flag signifies a left turn, a white flag a right turn, and a blue flag for a straight ahead signal.

The runners have to run at least four miles everyday in practice in addition to a few other exercises. A few days prior to a meet the team holds time-trials which are run under regular meet conditions. This is to determine the best seven runners who will compete. Those with the best times will compete in the coming meet. This gives the runners who didn't make the first seven a chance to prove themselves the following week.

The equipment for the runners consist of a jersey, shorts, and running shoes.

In a meet the runner crossing the finish line first is the winner of the race. However, this does not necessarily mean that his team is victorious. A teams' victory is decided by the place in which their first five runners cross the finish line. Each runner receives the number of points equal to that of the position he places. The first runner receives one point, the second, two points, and so on. The final score for a team is the total number of points scored from their first five runners. The team with the lowest number of points wins the meet.

The next meet for the Hound harriers will be today against Albright. The meet will take place during half time of the football game.

Next Tuesday the harriers will meet Muhlenberg at Allentown, and Thursday the Hounds will entertain F & M in a re-scheduled meet.

I-M Tennis Tournery Is Cancelled, Says Gillespie

Intramural tennis matches, scheduled for this fall, have been cancelled, Harvey T. D. Gillespie, Director of Athletics, said recently.

Gillespie said that because of insufficient student interest, and a delay in starting the program due to the recent illness, were the reasons for the cancellation.

Initiation Of Pledges Highlight Of Pi Mu Annual Fall Retreat

Initiation of pledges was the highlight of the annual fall retreat of Pi Mu pre-theological fraternity held the weekend of October 25-27. The retreat was held at Camp Hope, a camp operated by the Moravian Church, in Hope, New Jersey.

The pledges and brothers left Bethlehem on Friday evening at 9:30 p.m. following the fraternity's informal initiation ceremonies. Upon arrival of the men at the camp, chaplain Dick Ehrenberg gave a talk outlining the activities of the weekend and stated the theme of the retreat which was, "My All for Christ."

The speaker at the Saturday morning and afternoon discussion sessions was the Reverend Milton E. Dettlerline, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Congregation Church, Allentown. His talk and the discussion centered around group work in the church with special emphasis on the problems these activities present to young ministers.

Following the afternoon discussion session, the annual pledge-brother football game was held on the camp's recreation field.

The formal initiation of the pledges took place following the Saturday evening dinner. Norman Prochnau then led the brothers in singing and the evening was concluded with a conservation service under the direction of retreat committee chairman Ron Hiester.

The retreat closed on Sunday morning following a service of Holy Communion with the Reverend Gordon Stoltz presiding. Rev. Stoltz is pastoral advisor to the fraternity and minister of the College Hill Moravian Church of Bethlehem.

Hauptert Re-elected Pennsylvania College Association Treasurer

President Raymond S. Hauptert was re-elected treasurer of the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities, at the organization's annual meeting held on October 20-22 at Galen Hall, Pennsylvania. Dr. Hauptert was also Moravian's official representative at the sessions, and is a member of the group's executive committee. The headquarters for the association is in Harrisburg.

The association is comprised of a d m i n i s t r a t i o n representatives from 64 Pennsylvania institutions of higher learning. The organization's main interest lies in the discussion of administration problems and trends in higher learning.

Legislation effecting higher education is discussed and accreditation of schools is carried on through this organization.

Five Programs On Tap For 9th Year Of Audubon Tours

Moravian College Conservation Association, in conjunction with the National Audubon Society, will sponsor five Audubon Screen Tours for the ninth consecutive season at Moravian. The series will begin with a screen tour on Saturday, November 16, at 8 p.m. in College Hall.

Student season tickets may be obtained for $1.00 from the Publicity Office on South Campus. Adult season tickets may also be purchased there at a cost of $3.00, and family tickets are being offered at the rate of $6.00.

The first of the 1957-1958 programs on November 16 will be presented by Allan D. Cruickshank, a naturalist from Rockledge, Florida. His subject, "River of the Crying Bird," is about the Wakulla River of Florida. His program will include color films he shot of the wildlife wonders along the river. The strange title of his topic is derived from the "crying bird" that lives along the Wakulla — the limpkin, which wails a kind of music as basically Dixieland as that of Basin Street.

"Ranch and Range," to be presented by Albert Wool of San Jose, California, on Saturday, January 25, is a dramatic portrayal of the relationship of wildlife on a western ranch, its tragedy and beauty. Wool, rancher-naturalist, has filmed the great birds of the western ranges, cattle, the wolf, 'possum, wildcat, and other animals in color.

Robert C. Hermes of Homestead, Florida, will present the third program of the series on Saturday, February 8. It is entitled "Ranch of the Purple Flowers." It offers the audience a look at Venezuelan wildlife in action. This is a natural history motion picture, in color, of wildlife on a flower-covered ranch on the Orinoco basin.

"Animals at Night in Color" will be presented Saturday, March 1, by Howard Cleaves of Staten Island, New York. This is "an amazing revelation of the nocturnal activities of varied animals, birds, and other wildlife."

The final program will be Fran William Hall's presentation of "Hawaii, U.S.A." on Saturday, April 19. Mr. Hall, of Northfield, Minnesota, pictures in color film the natural history, the people, and the lavish beauty of this land of fern forests, volcanos, and great expanse of Pacific.

Academic Event

At the same time the Music Department will sponsor sessions on Moravian music with special emphasis on its foundation in the works of the 18th century Viennese Classicists, especially Haydn. The College Choir will be present to help illustrate some of the points.

Members of the music faculties of several eastern colleges and the American Guild of Organists have been invited to take part in these discussions which will be primarily musical rather than historical.

In conjunction with these two programs the Art Department is planning an exhibition of Colonial portraiture.

The day will be divided into morning and afternoon sessions with lunch in the South Campus dining room. After lunch some of the members of the string orchestra which is performing with the Choir on Friday night will present a concert of Moravian chamber music. In the commentary on the various pieces an attempt will be made to show the tie-in of the early Moravians with the growth of this area in addition to its contributions in education. One example of this is the world famous Bach Choir. The music performed will be primarily that of John Frederick Peter and John Antes.

The concluding event of the weekend will be Ray Dudley's concert of the Bethlehem-Moravian College Concert Series in College Hall. Ray Dudley replaces the Czech Orchestra which has cancelled its American tour.

Government Confab Attended By Four PAC Representatives

Four representatives of Moravian College attended an executive meeting of the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Conference on Government, held this past Sunday, Oct. 27, at the state capitol in Harrisburg.

The representatives were Joe Rosenfeld, second-ranking state official in the 79-member college and university organization; Bill Rupp, President of the Moravian College Political Activities Club; Paul Meilinger, Chairman of the Moravian College IGG Unit; and Bob Russoli, Good Will Ambassador of the PAC.

The Honorable Miss Genevieve Blatt, State Secretary of Internal Affairs and Executive Director of the IGG, mentioned the distinct honor of Moravian College as host of the Northeastern Regional Model National Congress this coming March. The honor was accorded the college last April at the state convention in Harrisburg.

Another announcement made at the meeting on Sunday was the appointment of Joe Rosenfeld as the first assistant state historian.

More specific plans for the Model National Congress will be announced at a PAC meeting Wednesday, November 13, at 7:30 p.m. All students are invited to attend.

Illness Causes Polio Program To Be Delayed

Mr. Harvey Gillespie has announced that, because of the excessive amount of illness among Moravian College students, the polio inoculation program will be still further delayed.

Gillespie said that Dr. Karl Hahn, school physician, is tentatively thinking of the first week in December for the first polio shot, the second to follow in two weeks. All students who have signed up for this program should watch the bulletin boards for further announcements.

Triangle Tapping

Club of Moravian College. Dick Lambert explained that the club was organized to honor student and faculty members who made exemplary contributions in scholarship and campus citizenship at Moravian. The club then proceeded to "tap" the elected new members.

The new members from the student body that were chosen are: Seniors; Carol Burwell, Janice Kennedy, Frank Danyi and Richard Steiner; sophomores Nancy Baker, Dora Thomas, Ted Wilde, and Peter French.

There were also two faculty members elected into the Triangle Club. They were Dr. Mary Kennedy and Dr. Samuel Zeller.
