

Three-Day Closure For Flu Will Not Be Made Up

There will be no change in the length of holidays or in the semester termination date due to the three-day closure during the flu epidemic. Dean Marlyn A. Rader made the announcement on Wednesday, reversing the earlier statement that the three days would be made up at Easter.

Rader said that faculty members have been able to make up the work which was lost during that three day period, and they do not feel it would be necessary to add another three days to the semester.

The dates for the beginning and ending of Christmas vacation remain the same as those stated in the catalogue. Classes will end at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow and begin again at 8:00 a.m., Thursday, January 2. The vacation will not be extended beyond that date, Rader said.

Administrative offices of the college will be open every day with the exceptions of Saturdays, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, and New Year's Day. Individual faculty members will have office hours at their own discretion.

Committee Named To Aid Revisions In USG Constitution

USG president Dave Jorgensen has announced the appointment of six members to a special constitution revisions committee. This group has been designed to look into the present college constitution and bring it up to date.

Several portions of the document are in much need of revision. This committee will act only in an advisory capacity and actual constitution changing will be done by the USG.

Alumni Association Holds All-Student Tea On January 3

A "welcome back" reception for all the members of the student body will be given on Friday, January 3, 1958, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Alumni room on South Campus.

It will be sponsored by the Home Club of the Alumnae Association, which is part of the whole Alumni Association at Moravian. This reception is held annually and is sponsored by various organizations of the alumni. However, the actual agenda of events has not been completed, for the final preparations will be made during the Christmas vacation.

The Comenian extends its sincere apologies to Brian Saderholm and Daneen Jones for omitting their names from the list of seniors elected to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," published in the issue of Friday, December 6, 1957.

Xmas Dance Tonite Brings 'Santa Claus'

The Christmas Dance will be held tonight in College Hall from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight. Dancing to the music of Matt Gillespie's Orchestra, a Christmas Carol sing, and the annual visit from Saint Nicholas will be the main features.

Decorations will center around the theme, "Here Comes Santa Claus." The bandstand, built under the direction of Brian Saderholm will resemble a fireplace. Table decorations will consist of evergreen boughs, red candles, and white tablecloths. A figure of Santa Claus will be placed in the center of each table. On the bleachers opposite the bandstand huge red letters, drawn by Pete French, will spell out the theme of the dance. A giant fir tree will set up at the north end of College Hall and its "snowy" branches highlighted by blue spot lights.

During the Intermission at about 10:45 Dave Jorgensen, master of ceremonies, will lead the dancers in the singing of some traditional Christmas Carols.

The caroling will be followed by the appearance of Santa Claus, complete with red suit, white beard, sleigh, and bag of gifts. He will give candy favors to all the ladies in attendance.

North Campus Cafeteria Set For Fall Of '58

Charles Kuhn, college controller, announced early this week that the North Campus refectory will begin serving cafeteria style meals in the fall semester of 1958.

Kuhn said that with the new male dormitory scheduled for completion by the fall semester of 1959, there will be too many male students on campus for the present dining facilities to handle efficiently. Therefore the administration has decided to organize the cafeteria and open it a year before the demand will necessitate in order to give it a chance to become properly organized before the increase in students.

Teke's Gain Schwarze Hall; Will Take Over In Fall, 1958

Fall semester, 1958 will be the earliest that the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity will be permitted to inhabit their newly acquired home-Schwarze House. The announcement was forthcoming from both the Dean of College and the Dean of Men. The Teke's had recently been granted permission to take over the former dorm unit.

Dean of the College, Marlyn Rader said, "The administration has okayed the approval of Schwarze House as a Teke residence. We have given it to them with the understanding that they will move into it next fall but no mention was made that they were to move into the house next semester."

Richmond E. Myers, Dean of Men, when asked if the Teke's received permission to gain Schwarze House for next semester commented, "We have definitely granted them the place for the fall semester of 1958, but they will not get it next semester. If the Teke's would gain the house spring semester, there would have to be a complete change for a new freshman resident dwelling. The place is still definitely a freshman dorm through next semester."

The Teke's earlier this semester were offered Clewell Hall on Church Street, South Campus for their residence. The fraternity, however, rejected this offer in preference to Schwarze House on the North Campus.

The Teke's after moving into their new house plan to completely renovate the entire interior so as to make room for as many residents as possible.

Wreath On Comenius Hall Is Newest Christmas Decoration

An enormous wreath, twenty feet in diameter, now stands above the main entrance to Comenius Hall. This wreath, with a fifteen foot candle at its center, is the newest addition to a long list of decorations traditionally set up at Moravian at Christmas.

Candles in every window of Comenius Hall facing Main Street are another innovation. Candles have also been placed in all the windows of the Archives Building and Colonial Hall on North Campus, and in Main Hall, Colonial Hall, and South Hall front on South Campus.

College chaplain Samuel Zeller and the Religious Activities Committee worked on Saturday, December 7, to take care of their customary part in the Christmas pageantry: the erection of a putz in the vestibule of the North Campus Chapel and the decoration of the Christmas tree in the main lobby of Comenius Hall.

Mr. Paul E. Cunningham, superintendent of buildings and grounds, stated that both the front and side windows of the chapel would be illuminated at night during Advent season.

College employees were further responsible for the decoration of the North and South Campus refectories, the placing of a wreath above the doorway to Colonial Hall, the decoration of a Christmas tree in Main Hall South, and the traditional display of Moravian Advent stars on both North and South Campus.

Junior Class Plans For A Variety Show Open To All Student Talent

Plans were discussed for a Variety Show to be presented during the spring semester at the Junior Class meeting Thursday, December 5. Chairmen Nan GINGER and Bob SOTTILE reported College Hall rooms 9 and 10 had been reserved for March 28 and 29. The entire student body will be invited to audition for the show sometime in January after final exams.

Pat Conover reported on the class table-decorations for the women's Christmas Dinner, December 12.

Student Audience Warms To Teddy Wilson's Jazz

by Dick Tewell

For the first time in its history, the Bethlehem Community Concert series presented as a part of their program a jazz concert. Many of us will argue the status of jazz, but we must realize it as the only part of American culture that is truly American.

Actually, the term jazz can be misleading; jazz consists of dixieland, Chicago style, swing, West coast jazz, and progressive. What we heard Friday night was mostly swing, the swing beat associated with the Benny Goodman era.

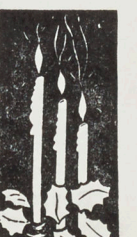

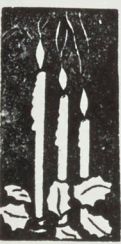

The effect on the audience varied in degrees of complete rapture and ecstasy to indifference and disgust. The student body seemed to warm to the music much sooner than did our elderly counterparts.

The most fascinating aspect of the concert was not the music, so much, but the speed, agility, and lightness and touch of Mr. Wil-

Campus Chatter

by Ginny Dancy

Well, you can let out that sigh of relief now—your term paper's in, unless you're one of those poor unfortunate creatures that have one due tomorrow and haven't finished yet. In that case, it sure looks like a long night ahead.

Congratulations go to Rod Miller on recently becoming the father of eight German shepherd puppies! That's kind of hard to do these days. Rod says there are three boys and five girls, and they're for sale for $75 each. Anyone interested should contact Rod, who is acting as agent for "General."

The snow last week seems to have caused some more damage to ye old blue goose (actually, there's not much more that could happen to the thing that hasn't already happened.) Guess the latest ailment is the broken window in the back, but that really isn't too bad — not when you remember that lovely little fountain of muddy snow and water that came up from a hole in the floor. It left everyone in the back seats looking like they had measles. We happened to be in the back one day, watching "little Vesuvius" go through the process of erupting, when Al Taylor just gave it a disgusted look and sadly said, "Some people will do anything to get an education."

Aside from the fact that the Teddy Wilson Jazz Concert Friday night was simply GREAT in its own right, there were several lines in the vocalist's rendition of "New York's My Home" that were very apropos. Miss Sherrill really hit the nail on the head when she said Bethlehem had Moravian College with King Lear in the Emcee and "Write me a letter Rader!" Felicitations should go to Al Schwab, who not only supplied the information, but wrote the verse!

Mrs. Solt was apparently promoted and de-promoted all in one day! Wow! She had a great big sign over her desk Tuesday morning reading "DEAN SOLT," but it was taken down by that afternoon. We thought maybe the men in the offices beyond had demoted her, but she assured us they hadn't and that she got the sign as a joke at the Christmas party for the business office women.

Bethlehem's Christmas Lights Symbolic Of Founders Faith

by Gene Salay

Two hundred and sixteen years ago, in the midst of a cold, bleak winter, Bethlehem was given its name and birthright. Under the able leadership of Count Zinzendorf the settlers who were gathered in the log house that Christmas Eve in 1741 had little or no knowledge that that day they were to begin a historic life not only for themselves, but for that tract of land they planned to call home. The hymn which they sang, "Not Jerusalem but Bethlehem," so moved the Count and his people that Bethlehem was unanimously chosen as the name of the new settlement. They dedicated their new home to Him who brought good will to all men.

Bethlehem has come to be known as the "Christmas City of the United States." From the first Christmas Eve in 1741 to the present time, the "Christmas City" has remained true to her religious heritage. The original spirit of tolerance, respect, and understanding for all nationalities and religions has continued to be the dominating spirit of Bethlehem.

Bethlehem's Christmas lighting and decorations are symbolic of the faith and hope of her founders and of her residents today. It was in 1937, under the leadership of Vernon K. Melhado, that our present city-wide Christmas lighting was organized. Since then, with the exception of the World War II years, the lights have been installed every year. In 1939 the permanent Star of Bethlehem was erected on South Mountain. It is the largest display of its type in the world, and is visible for twenty-eight miles.

Since 1940 one of the biggest features of the lighting program is the large Christmas tree on the center pylon on the Hill-to-Hill Bridge. This year's 52-foot high Christmas Tree is made up of about 140 balsam trees. It is illuminated with about 3000 green, white and red bulbs. A new feature added this year are the 42 huge translucent candles which are fastened to the light standards on the Hill-to-Hill Bridge. Other decorations on the bridge consist of evergreens, many-colored bulbs, and strands of lights having crescents, bells, stars, and circlets. Similar strands of lights also decorate many of Bethlehem's streets on both the north and south sides. Bethlehem's lighting display has been described as the most elaborate and artistic community Christmas display in the world.

The Mail Box

Dear Editor,

On Saturday evening December 7th our basketball team played its first game of the season in College Hall, the turn out of the student body was really poor. This fact could easily be discovered by one fast glance. Also, there was no cheering at all, yet there was much to cheer about for the game was a complete rout. It seemed that everyone was afflicted with an acute case of laryngitis. We should be ashamed of our school spirit—or rather our lack of it.

Sincerely yours,
Joel Leeb

Teddy Wilson Jazz Concert . . .

son's playing. There were several instances, as in "Stompin at the Savoy" and "One O'clock Jump," that there seemed to be a missing element, that element being Benny Goodman. These two arrangements have not been changed since Mr. Wilson recorded them with Goodman in the late thirties. However, they are just as enjoyable today as they must have been then. In "I've Got Rhythm," and "I Got the World on a String" Mr. Wilson departed for a line or two from the swing style to the blues which was entered in the score at a very appropriate time and made the rendition even more enjoyable. Throughout his entire performance, Mr. Wilson gave the impression of the ultimate of dignity.

If nothing else was impressive about the concert Miss Sherrill's gowns were. Joya Sherrill presented a picture of grace, poise, and dignity of the accomplished songstress. She played to both sides of the audience, which is one thing a great many performers fail to do. Her rendition of "Summertime" was comparable to the most enjoyable experiences of one's life; you have never heard it before and never expect to hear it quite the same again. As she sang "Easy Street" I could not help thinking that she was singing of every college student's own ambitions and desires; also her interpretation of "New York's My Home" will live in the hearts of Moravian students for a long time to come.

Sam Most's jazz flute was smooth and enjoyable. He is also noted as an accomplished clarinetist. Buck Clayton, who has been associated with names such as Count Basie and Benny Goodman.

As for Arvell Shaw, he is the ideal man enjoying his work and doing an excellent job of it. This is all that need be said.

Bert Dahlander's drum solo was the high point of the evening for me "as well as Holywood." It is very evident why he won so much acclaim at the Swedish Jazz Festival.

Sonny Truitt's trombone styling brought back memories of Claude Thornhill, with whom he played.

Duke Ellington's "Tune Poem" was lacking of the jazz man's ability. It would appear that it was written too quickly and that he had not given it a thorough test of his style. The first movement had body and reflected a blues theme that symbolizes the greater majority of Ellington's work. However, this built up great expectations for the lyric that was only saved by Teddy Wilson's styling. It fell short of the goal the call-and-response had set for it. As for the third movement, it lost completely the theme of the first movement. Still, it had the Ellington touch, but became nothing more than a very reserved jam session.

In all, the concert was probably the high point of the social year and will not be surpassed until someone of Wilson's standing and abilities plays in College Hall.

Christmas and Commercialism . . .

Consider the one born into this world so long ago in Bethlehem. Two very wonderful facts are clear to us this Christmas season. He is the Son of God and he is God Himself—Immanuel, the Mighty God, the Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace.

This much is clear: in sending Jesus Christ God gave Himself! Giving things, a part of what we have, is fairly easy. But it is a different thing to give oneself. At this time of the year when the world is bathed in the spirit of joy, and our desire to give happiness to others, let us not forget the true meaning of Christmas and the One who gave of Himself.

This is the season when persons are apt to indulge themselves in all manner of luxury. Surely this cannot be called a celebration of the birth of Our Lord. It seems to be only a cloke to cover up our own desires and means.

For those of us who live and study here in Bethlehem and vicinity the Christmas story and the commercialization clash can readily be seen. One need only to wander through town and observe.

Are the Sunday sales a real convenience to these Christmas shoppers? Do the merchandise houses really need the trade that bad? The extra shopping day on Sunday seems to only push down the religious feelings of the Christmas season. The law is now recognizing with those establishments who continue to abuse the weekly day of rest.

The world is filled with people who will never be greatly helped by the thing that we annually give them. Their real problem seems to be the need for Christ, gifts become secondary.

KAGERS KORNER

Fritz Toner

In starting the Kager's Korner column for 1957-58 season, we have Fritz Toner, the popular playmaker and captain this year for the Hounds.

Fritz, a 5'9" senior guard, is playing his fourth year with the Greyhounds.

His basketball playing started back in Bethlehem's Liberty High School. Football, baseball, and tennis were the other sports played by Fritz at Liberty High. He earned a total of eight letters and was awarded the Best Athlete in Liberty High School award and was on the All Star East Penn League basketball team.

In his freshman year, Fritz took up tennis and compiled the finest record ever produced by a freshman. He lost only two matches.

During his brief time with Uncle Sam, Fritz participated in baseball, playing the outfield, and also played basketball.

On returning to Moravian, Fritz, as a sophomore scored 283 points. His average per game was 15.7 and he led the team in foul shooting 81 out of 118 attempts. In this same year he set a Memorial Hall scoring record of 40 points, a record that still stands at Muhlenberg.

Last year Fritz finished the season with 334 points for an average of 15.2. This gives him a total of 817, thus putting him in a position to go over the 1,000 mark this year.

His hobbies include all sports and reading fiction. Majoring in General Studies, Fritz plans to teach and coach.

A happily married man, Fritz is the proud father of a son, David, two years old.

Cagers Drub Drew 71-44; Wilkes Wins

by Neil Eskolin

The Moravian Greyhound cagers started off the 1957-58 season on their own court, thoroughly drubbing Drew Saturday night, but losing a squeaker to Wilkes last Monday.

The team started off the year with a "bang" on Saturday night as they walloped the Drew Rangers, 71-44. The Hounds, led by Senior captain, Fritz Toner, took charge in the opening minutes and opened up an insurmountable 16-1 lead after about ten minutes of play. The hapless and helpless Rangers looked more like a high school team rather than a collegian squad as they were slow afoot, poor shooters, and lacked coordination and height.

Coach Calvo's hoopsters looked very impressive throughout most of the so-called contest. The ball handling during the first half was superb, the rebounding was good and the defense was impenetrable.

Playmaker, Fritz Toner was deadly with his soft touch outside sets, as he connected with six in seven tries. Also looking very sharp were Junior forward Dick Causley who couldn't be stopped on his fancy drives and tricky jumps, and the Hounds' height-man, 6 ft. 6 in. Joe Keglovitz.

The Hounds piled up a comfortable 39-16 edge by half time and then continued the slaughter after the buzzer resumed the game. M.C.'s widest margin was 61-30 after about eleven minutes of the second half. Coach Calvo liberally replaced his starting five in the second stanza, and they did quite a commendable job as they maintained the huge bulge through the remainder of the game.

Sixth man, Bill Davis, led the Hound offense in the second half and walked off with scoring honors as he tallied 16 points, eight of which came in a row when he dunked four successive baskets midway through the last half.

Three other Hounds also hit double figures—Causley with 13, Toner with 12 and Kegovitz with 11. As a sidelight, the cagers were also successful on the charity line as they connected with 13 in 15 tries.

The J. V. team walked off with their opening game over an independent team from Newton, N. J. by a score of 71-48. They were led by Freshman jump shot ace, Jack McGowan, who scored 18.

The story was sadly reversed Monday night when the Hounds played host to the Wilkes Colo- (Cont. on p. 4, col. 3)

OGO's; Rockets, Redbirds, Pi Mu Win Openers In I. M. Basketb'l

by Art Potasnak

Action began in the intramural league last Wednesday afternoon when two games were played in the A league. The Rockets downed the Comets in the first game 30-24. The Rockets were led by Castellano's 10 points. The high scorer for the Comets was Christianson with 8 points.

In the second game the Redbirds beat the Panthers 58-41. The high scoring Redbirds were spearheaded by Mickey Hartnett with 18 counters. Frank Korpics and Ron Rhen each came through with 11 points to aid the Redbirds cause. The game was closely contested in the first half. The Redbirds were leading by only two points at the end of the half 23-21. However, the Birds pulled away in the second half to win handily by 17 points.

The B' teams of the intramural league went into action on Monday. The first game was a low scoring affair between Pi Mu and the Seminary, which Pi Mu won 29-13. Ted Wilde was high man for Pi Mu with 6 points and was followed closely by Gohdes with 5 points. Pete Hauptert accounted for almost half of the seminary's total as he garnered 6 markers.

The second game was a thriller between Sigma Phi Omega and the OGO's, which the OGO's won 33-31. The game was decided in the last minute of play, Jack Vannatta sank a layup and was fouled for a three point play which put the OGO's ahead to stay. The high scorer for the OGO's was Al Apple, who hit for 11 points. He was followed closely by Monk Morelli who tossed in 9 counters. Sigma Phi's high man was Nick Cuttic with 9 points.

The leagues will get into full swing immediately after the holiday's, as many teams will not play their first game until January. The champion will be decided by a double elimination between the two leagues in February.

Thompson Named To Committee Of Student Christians

Bob Thompson, Moravian senior, was chosen to serve on a planning committee of the Student Christian Movement (SCM) at its Fall Conference last week. He was elected as Moravian College's representative to the group by the members of the local Campus Christian Association (CCA).

The special committee will meet in January for the purpose of reactivating the district, and to promote local intercollegiate activities in support of the SCM.

Cagers . . .

nels. After a nerve-rackingly close game, the Colonel hoopsters pulled it out with a final surge in the last three minutes—77-72.

The Hounds scooted out to a quick 11-4 lead after about four minutes as Keglovitz, starting out as a ball of fire, dunked three in a row for M.C. In addition to his scoring though, big Joe committed two fouls in the first few minutes. Therefore, Coach Calvo, wanting to save him for later action, replaced him with Junior forward, Bill Davis. After that the team just didn't seem to click as well. After eight minutes, Wilkes closed in and tied it up at 14 all.

A few minutes later Joe Ordeka of Wilkes was hit under the boards and had to retire with a sore back.

Calvo put his starting quintet on the floor to open the last half. From here on in, it was nip and tuck all the way. The score was tied on five different occasions through the half. The ball handling, rebounding and shooting wasn't up to par, but was adequate enough to keep the Hounds in the game until the closing minutes.

Deck Causley sparked the team as he sank jump-shot after jump-shot and really played his hardest.

With the scored tied 63-63 and five minutes remaining, Keglovitz fouled out and had to retire to the showers. As soon as he left the Hounds fell apart. Their rebounding dropped to nothing and the defense under the boards disintegrated. With a minute and a half to go and Wilkes up by two, the Hounds fouled several times in vain attempts to get possession of the ball. The Colonels took advantage of these fouls and picked up four quick points to just about put the game in the bag. At the buzzer the scoreboard showed that Wilkes had won by five.

In the preliminary J. V. Game, the scrappy Junior Colonels gave the Hounds a good battle. They were leading by one point at the half, but a second half drive, led by freshman Jim McCrudden who tallied 15 points, proved too much for the Wilkes J. V.ers to overcome. The Hounds came out on top 85-67.

Of Two Minds

On the one hand, you have Thirsty G. Smith. Good taste to him means zest and zip in a beverage, sparkle and lift and all like that . . . On the other hand, T. Gourmet Smythe perceives good taste as the right, fit and proper refreshment for a Discriminating Coterie. So? . . . Have it both ways! Coca-Cola . . . so good in taste, in such good taste. Et vous?
