

Miss Moravian Is Chosen In Monday, Tuesday Vote

Elections for Miss Moravian and the six members of her court will take place on South Campus next Monday and Tuesday, May 12 and 13. The Spring Festival, at which the queen will be crowned, will be next Saturday, May 17, on the South Campus hockey field at 2:30 p.m.

Eight senior women students and four senior secretarial students were chosen to vie for the honor of being on the court by the senior women and the senior secretaries, respectively. Of the eight seniors, five will be selected, one to the honor of being Miss Moravian, and the other four, to her court. Two of the four senior secretaries will be elected to the court.

Candidates this year are Jane Adams, Rosemarie Boyle, Carol Burwell, Connie Hanks, Gail Harding, Daneen Jones, Kay McMurray, and Eleanor Veronis, seniors; Pat Amison, Dawn Dangler, Georgine Fowler, and Lois MacDonald, senior secretaries.

Voting, which will be supervised by the Women's Activities Committee, will be for women students only. The vote will be a preference vote on the point system. Each woman student will vote for five seniors, placing her first choice for Miss Moravian first on her ballot, second choice second on the ballot, and so forth. For the senior secretaries, she will place her first choice first and second choice second on her ballot.

First place on a ballot will give a senior candidate five points; second place four points; third place, three points; fourth place, two points; and fifth place, one point. First place on a ballot will give a senior secretarial candidate two points; second place, one point.

The senior candidate with the highest number of points will be Miss Moravian, and the four with the next highest scores will compose her court. The two senior secretaries with the highest number of points will be elected to the queen's court. A senior secretarial student can not be elected Miss Moravian.

The festival, at which the queen will be announced for the first time, is under the general supervision of Mary Lesin, vice-chairman of WAC. In case of rain, the festival will be held in the South Campus Chapel at the same time, 2:30 p.m.

A stage will be constructed at the south side of the hockey field, with the trees along Monacacy Creek as a background. The queen and her court will proceed from the upper lawn down the hill to the hockey field. They will pass through a daisy chain, composed of two rows of freshman women in pastel gowns, holding a long chain of artificial daisies. At the end of the chain, the group will pass under an arch formed of palm branches held by an honor court. The honor court will be composed of the two women students who have the highest scholastic averages in each of the underclasses.

The queen, wearing a white gown and a blue and gray cape, will be seated with her court on the stage, where she will be crowned by Miss Moravian of 1957, Miss Karen Johnson. She will receive a spray of roses, and her court, in pastel colors, will carry bouquets of spring flowers.

A program of choral numbers and several folk dances will be presented in honor of the queen. Following the program, the traditional Blossom Tea will be served on the upper lawn.

Mary Ann Gingles Is Farewell Queen; Fraternity Dances Complete Weekend

Miss Mary Ann Gingles reigned as Queen of the 1958 Senior Farewell Weekend which was held here at Moravian last weekend. Her crowning was the highlight of the Senior Farewell formal dance, which was held on Friday night and which was the only event of the weekend not marred by rain.

The Queen, a junior at Moravian, was crowned by Miss Gloria Juhasz, Queen of 1957, with a coronet of rhinestones. This is the first year that the crown was used. It was purchased especially for the Senior Farewell Queen by the Social Activities Committee (SAC) and will be kept for future Senior Farewell Queens.

Due to the rain on Sunday afternoon, the Senior Farewell Picnic could not be held. It has been rescheduled for this Sunday, May 11, unless notice is posted on the bulletin board. The picnic, which is given in honor of the graduating class by the junior class, will begin at 2 p.m. at Saucon Park. The entire student body, faculty, members of the administration, and guests have been invited.

Walid Nammari, chairman of the picnic committee, emphasized the fact that only the date for the picnic has been changed. As previously planned, birch beer, potato chips, and pretzels will be provided free of charge, but those attending the picnic are expected to bring their own lunch. Dormitory students should make arrangements with the dining halls for obtaining lunches. The other members of the junior class picnic committee are Ginny Dancy, Barry Kratz, and Tony Matz.

Eliot Lawrence and Matt Gillespie, playing alternately, provided the music for the Senior Farewell formal, which was held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in College Hall. Decorations for the SAC-sponsored dance centered around an "Underwater" theme.

Three Political Internships Go To Students

Three Moravian political science students have recently been notified of their selection for internships under the program of the Eastern Pennsylvania Citizenship Clearing House. Dr. Otis Shao, professor of political science, made the announcement this week.

Shao explained that the Eastern Pennsylvania Citizenship Clearing House is an affiliate of the national organization whose purpose is to interest political science students in practical politics. Nominees from 40 or 50 colleges in eastern Pennsylvania compete for the 16 internships awarded. There are four each for national, state, country, and city governments, half Democratic and half Republican.

Joe Rosenfeld, a senior from Allentown, received an internship with the office of Major Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia. It will last for an eight week period, four weeks in the Office for Information and Complaints and four weeks in the Office of the Managing Director. He will receive a salary of $50 a week.

Bill Rupp, senior from Souder-ton, Pa., received an internship in the Democratic State Committee Headquarters in Harrisburg. Details were not available.

Ken Pyne, a senior from Old Zionsville, was named an alternate selection for an internship in the office of George I. Bloom, Chairman of the Pennsylvania Republican State Committee.

Shao stated that the awards were quite significant and expressed the belief that they would do much to increase the prestige of the history and political science departments of the college.

Hauptert Fund Benefits From USG Fund Drive

Paul Meilinger, chairman of the USG Fund Drive committee, announced the plans for the drive early this week. The drive will be conducted from May 12-17. The funds gathered from the drive will be added to the William Hauptert Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Canisters will be placed in obvious places on both campuses, including the lobby of Comenius Hall and in both the Femsee and the Emsee. In addition members of the committee will carry envelopes for personal solicitations and the campus fraternities and sororities will each receive a canister.

Chairman Meilinger stated that he hopes everyone will contribute to the fund since the committee wants to raise an amount of at least $250.

Mrs. R. Croman Appointed Post In Education

Mrs. Rosalind W. Croman's appointment to the Moravian College faculty as associate professor of elementary education has been announced by President Raymond S. Hauptert. She will replace Mrs. Frances Dager, who has been with the elementary education department two years.

Supervisor of the Bethlehem School System's elementary department since 1946, Mrs. Croman's resignation to Dr. Charles E. Chaffee was announced on Monday. She will assume her duties at Moravian with the academic year, 1958-59.

Since Mrs. Croman, among her duties, has been responsible for the placement of student teachers in the Bethlehem School system, the Moravian College elementary department and its students are well known to her.

In announcing Mrs. Croman's appointment, Dr. Hauptert commented that he felt her association with Moravian College would be of continued benefit to the Bethlehem community in a joint service to alleviate teacher shortages, especially acute on the elementary level, and to train good teachers.

Mrs. Croman was among 15 men and women who received highest honors from Temple University. She received a diploma from Columbia University in history and a master of arts degree from Columbia University. She took college work at Pennsylvania State College, Maine University and two semesters of study at Colorado University.

During her tenure here in Bethlehem she developed the curriculum for the elementary school in all its phases. Among her major contributions to education in Bethlehem, she has planned for the rapid advancement of the superior pupils in reading and organized the work and schedules of the reading adjustment teachers, which is a two year-old undertaking,

The William Hauptert Memorial Scholarship Fund was established in memory of President Hauptert's son who was killed in a mountain climbing accident on Mt. Rainer last September. The fund was begun with William Hauptert's summer earnings, his bonds and the settlement from his insurance policy. Since that time contributions from friends have brought the fund to its present total of over $8,000. Interest from the fund will be used in support of the Moravian College scholarship program after July 1, 1958, the beginning of the fiscal year. The fund will be under the direction of the college Board of Trustees.

In speaking of the USG, fund drive donation to the scholarship fund, Dr. Hauptert stated that he and his family were very grateful for the thoughtfulness of the student body and greatly appreciated their thinking of Bill.

The USG Fund Drive committee includes Pat Conover, Mary Lesin, Sophie Nicholas, Anita Ott and Meilinger.

Pi Delt Plans Initiation Of 8 New Members

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary collegiate journalism fraternity, will tap and initiate eight new members next Thursday, May 15.

A formal tapping ceremony will be held in the North Campus chapel at 10 a.m., where the new members will receive the colors of the fraternity. Brian Saderholm, president, Ginny Dancy, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Kathryn Phelps, advisor, will preside.

That evening at 6 p.m. the formal initiation will be held in the George Washington Room. Saderholm and Miss Dancy will officiate. Following the ceremony, a dinner will be held at Rader's Brau House on Broad Street. A short business meeting will be held for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year.

Those who will be tapped are Nancy Baker, Ed Borger, Fred DeFrank, Gene Salay, Dave Schattschneider, Bob Sottile, Mary Vezoli, and Jerry Witbro.

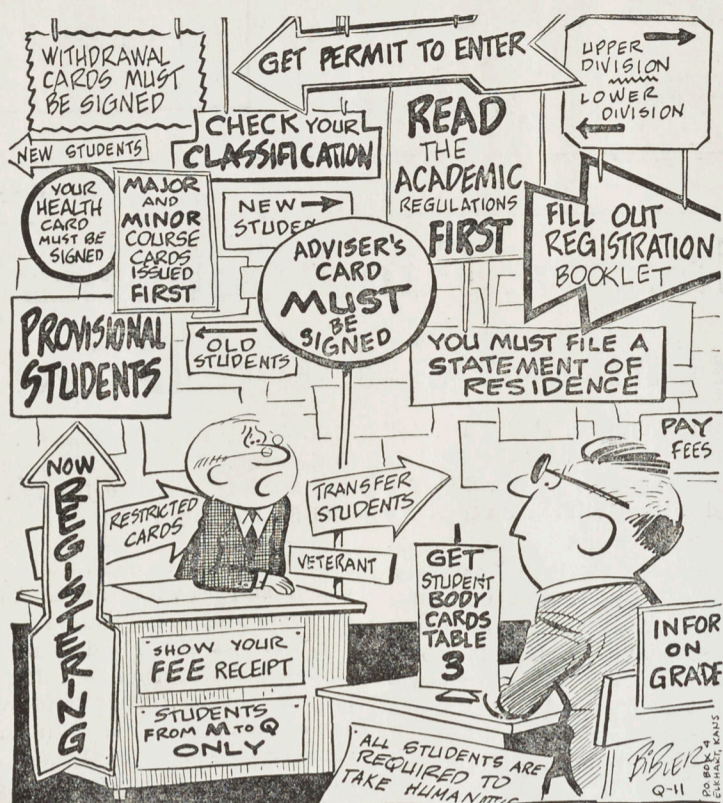

In order to obtain membership in this honorary fraternity, three requirements must be filled: (1) scholastically, the member must be in good academic standing; (2) he must have served at least two years on a campus publication; and (3) he must have held a position of major responsibility on that publication for one year.

Pi Delta Epsilon is the only national honorary collegiate journalism fraternity in existence. There has been a chapter at Moravian since 1938.

USG MEETING

USG President has announced the postponement of the scheduled USG meeting from May 13 to Tuesday, May 20, at 7:30 p.m. in WC-41.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"DON'T THINK WE'LL HAVE MANY STUDENTS THIS YEAR - NOT MANY INTELLIGENT ENOUGH TO GET THROUGH REGISTRATION."

Students Enjoy 'Big Name', But E. L. Not Worth Money

by Gene Salay

This past week-end, the Senior Farewell saw Eliot Lawrence and Matt Gillespie perform for the alumni and students of Moravian College. In keeping with tradition, the Social Activities Committee secured for our enjoyment a name band. Three of the past dance bands that have entertained us have been Ralph Flanagan, Woody Herman, and Les Elgart.

When asked the question, "What did you think of Eliot Lawrence?" and "Did you think it was worth the extra expense of having a name band perform for us here at Moravian?", Moravian students had this to say:

Fred DeFrank: I certainly do not think that E. L. was worth the money. Also I feel he was not adequate for a big affair like the Senior Farewell. I think we should go all out for our senior formal and acquire a real good showman like Flanagan was three years ago.

Bob Volko: Good. Yes, I think we should have a little bit of a change once in a while and act like a college. Other schools of our size usually have affairs like this one more than once a year. Therefore, why shouldn't we splurge for one weekend?

Jeannie Davis: Eliot Lawrence was all right but in my opinion he wasn't worth any extra money.

Jean Hudak: I thought E. L. was very good. The extra cost was well worth the fine entertainment he presented.

Ronald Fradeneck: E. L. was good but too - - - loud. I don't think it was necessary to have two bands because I would have appreciated an intermission break.

James Owen: I feel the dance was a success and Mr. Lawrence's presence added the extra touch to put the whole thing over. As for the extra expense—I feel that when the trouble and expense of renting a tux, buying flowers, etc. is gone into, the expectation of hearing and enjoying a "big name band" is in keeping with those other arrangements and such an important occasion as the Senior Farewell. Live it up once a year.

B. A. Wiczowski: I think that E. L. was worth the money. Therefore I feel that a name band is needed for the occasion.

Dale Stewart: I thought Eliot Lawrence was much better than Woody Herman as far as dancing music is concerned, but I can't see the significance of putting so much money into hiring a band. I think we should just hire Matt Gillespie and give him a bonus for playing at such a special occasion.

Mary Lesin: Worth the extra expense? Yes, I certainly do think it is! As far as Eliot Lawrence is concerned I enjoyed listening and dancing to his music very much. I believe we need a "name band" like his or maybe bigger and better not only because it is good but because Senior Farewell is the biggest and the most memorable dance of the year and let's keep it this way!

Warren Edwards: E. Lawrence has a good dance band but as far as being worth the extra expense, I feel Matt Gillespie did the job just as well. But all in all it was a very colorful dance with a solid swing.

COAT LOST

A coat belonging to Mrs. Frank Fermato was taken after the dance in College Hall last Friday night, and a similar one was left in its place. Mrs. Fermato's coat is a cream color nubby wool jacket with a Forstmann label. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of this coat has been asked to contact Mrs. Fermato or Mrs. Billiard in the office of College Hall.

'Much Ado About . . .'

by Dave Schattschneider

Greetings all! Ah yes — you lucky people! That's right — there's a new mug leering out at you in this column. No more of Deutsch talk-en Mr. NAB or charming Miss VAD. These two happy people have moved up to the top rung of executive responsibility, and in keeping with the dignity and high obligations of their new office, they shall cease to spiel and chatter—at least as far as this column is concerned. In other words the new editors ain't writin' this column no more! They're lucky—they can do it anonymously now—this much ado has to be signed!

First off — many, many laurels to Bob Smith and his great decorations committee — plus the around-the-clock shifts of volunteers—for the wonderful job done in transforming "the barn" into a beautiful underwater fantasy land. The decorations this year were not only different but truly beautiful. Way to go, gang.

Certainly hope nobody had their pet stuffed fish suspended from the ceiling or their pet gold fish swimming around in a bowl. Both vanished quite rapidly towards the end of the affair. At last report one little goldfish, snug in a plastic vegetable container, had gone as far as Troy, New York—by plane no less.

The committee picked a proper theme anyway — seeing as how the dance took place on the eve of the monsoon season. As this little gem of a column was being wrung out it was STILL RAINING — Wednesday morning. And it doesn't look like any let up is in sight. (This is one prediction from 'Poor Schattschie's Almanac' which I personally hope is completely wrong!)

Congratulations of another sort are in order for our economy-minded Emsee management. Surely you must have noticed the new, shiny, "Creemeze" by now. In case you haven't — its that little jug (don't get excited) that sits on the Emsee counter and obligingly squirts your coffee cup half full of a mixture of half cream and half milk. When you see this mixture being put into "Creemeze" you really feel that at last you may enjoy the long over due luxury of at least having a little cream in your coffee instead of milk. But then—alas and alack—while you end up with plenty of half and half (milk and cream that is) you also get only a half a cup of coffee. Oh well—let's face it — economy is still the sacred word in these quarters.

That's about it for this week, fans. Any ideas (printable ones) for this column may be dropped in Box 50 in Comenius Hall and don't be too shocked if this column should take on a more serious note one of these issues.

See you next week—"whatever you are."

Why A Big Name Band?

The past four Senior Farewells have each featured a big name band and each time there has been an argument on whether or not it was worth the cost. Each year has seen The Comenian print surveys of student opinion on the issue. Editorials and letters to the editor have argued the point pro and con, and, although it seems monotonous, we want bring it up again.

Let's look at the facts—last year Woody Herman cost us $1750; this year Eliot Lawrence cost us $1400. It's a lot of money for the name, and that's about all it amounts to. Many students have said they couldn't tell whether Lawrence's or Gillespie's orchestra was playing unless they looked. Well, who looks at the band anyway? It's the music we go to enjoy, and why not get the best music for the cheapest price?

Matt Gillespie cost $350 this year, over a thousand dollars less than Lawrence. Yet most students will say that he played as well as the big name band, and some will say he played even better. No, he doesn't have the name of Flanagan, Herman, or Lawrence, but he plays music that we can dance to. No, he doesn't let loose with a jazz number during the dance like Lawrence, but is that what we go to hear? To us, a dance and a jazz concert are two different things.

Students who argue that we should have a name band say that it is something to remember from our college dances. But is the band what really impresses us at a Moravian dance? Ever since we've been here, the thing about a Moravian dance that has been boasted most is the elaborate decorations. Not many dances at other colleges this size would show the organizing and work that is shown in the decorations at our dances. Not many other colleges have the informal atmosphere we gain by the arrangement of tables instead of just chairs around the walls.

These are the things that we'll remember about our Moravian dances; these are the things that make Moravian dances different—not the fact that we have a big name band. Any college which puts out enough money can have a name band. Maybe if students would think about what is the most important feature to them, they would come to the same conclusion. Why not give credit where the credit is due, and save ourselves an unnecessary waste of money?

No Cooperation--Again . . .

We notice again the frequent campus problem of disinterest and unwillingness on the part of the students to do their share in a student project. We are referring to the lack of interest shown in next week's Spring Festival, sponsored by the Women's Activities Committee.

This has always been one of the most cherished traditions of the women of this college, and even though this is a co-ed college now, the women have a right to preserve this one remembrance of the former women's college. In a sense, it is not only a right, but a privilege.

The Spring Festival can be a very impressive affair—if time and work are put into it to make it that way. Last year the women students were generally insulted that the sub-freshman day to be held the day of Spring Festival was called off, one reason being that the Spring Festival was not good enough to show the guests.

If this was their reaction, why don't they show a little cooperation to show that they can produce a Spring Festival worthy of the name behind it? There have been announcements of meetings, of rehearsals, practically begging women to come! And the response? Virtually nill.

With yet a full week to go, we ask the women students to give some of their time and support to making the festival a success. There's still plenty of work to be done and there are plenty of places where each can help.

Greyhound Gossip

by Dick Steiner

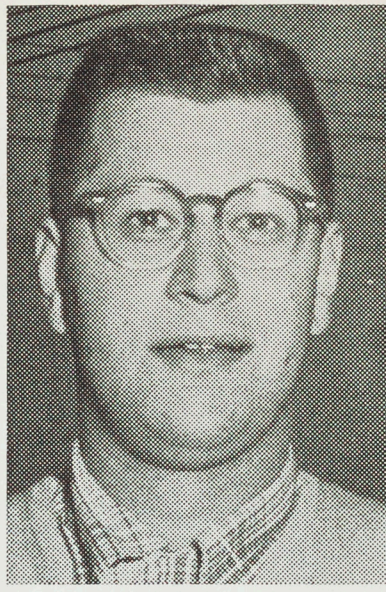

Mother Nature seems to be playing havoc with our spring sports program. The golf, tennis, and baseball teams are all finding a large number of their contests being cancelled by the rain. Though a few of these events may be rescheduled, the majority will have to remain on the crossed-off list due to the limitations of time till exams. Though it's not unusual for a few contests to be rained out each spring, this year has been unusually troublesome during all the seasons. Flu cancelled two football games, an unprecedented event. Even more unusual, however, was the cancellation of a basketball game due to power failure. With that kind of luck going before, no wonder the spring program is having trouble.

So far, it looks as though the Greyhound diamond rookies are going to live up to pre-season hopes and expectations. Our pitching staff, a big question mark on opening day, looks better than ever. Hunter Matthews, Pottstown frosh, has shown that he can be counted on as regular starter. Mike Lansenderfer has looked good, and Bill Hershey, a converted infielder—outfielder turned in a beautiful four-hit shutout over Muhlenberg. Dick Chergey, the only "sure" hurler on the squad in the beginning of the season, has also done a fine job. The Hounds should really roll the rest of the season.

An interesting event to take place before we call it a year is the annual spring athletic banquet. At the banquet will be presented most valuable player trophies to individuals in basketball, football, and baseball. What makes these presentations an exceptional honor is that the recipients are chosen by their fellow-players, not by sportswriters who, after all, are guessing about most things most of the time. In past years such greats as Champ Storch, Joe Gerenscer, and Rod Miller were nominated for football, Bob Jones for basketball, and Ron Gift and Jack VanNatta for baseball. These stars' names are carved on the large trophies in College Hall. Wonder whose names will join this select circle. The banquet is slated for Wednesday, May 21.

See ya next week.

SPRING SPOTLIGHT Sy Hirsch - Rightfielder

In this week's spotlight we have Sy Hirsch, the Greyhound's right fielder. Sy is a 22 year old, 6 ft. 1 in., 190 pound, senior who hails from Plainfield, N. J.

He attended Plainfield High School as a freshman and senior and Allentown as a sophomore and junior. Sy played both baseball and basketball earning varsity letters in each. In his senior year, he received the Honor Plaque Award which is given to the outstanding senior ball player. He was also a recipient of the Craftman's Scholarship Award.

Sy has had several great experiences. Last year against Lebanon Valley, he smashed a tremendous 400 ft. pinch-hit home run into left field. In a 22-5 affair with Wagner last year, our Greyhound right fielder had three triples and a single. This year against the same opponents, with the Hounds on the short end of a 4-0 score, Sy slammed a three run homer over the left field fence. The following inning he repeated the same performance with one man on. To round out the afternoon, Sy knocked in another run in his next time up to give him six runs-batted-in for the day.

As a sophomore for the Hounds, Sy had a .305 batting average as a pinch hitter. In his junior year, he played regularly and collected a .289 average. So far this year, Sy is 8-22 for a .365 average. During the past summer, he played with Giddes Sporting Goods Team in a twilight league.

Sy's interests lie in all sports, reading and deep sea fishing. He is majoring in English and plans to teach on the secondary level and do a little coaching.

He is a member of the Sigma Phi Omega social fraternity, the Kappa Phi Kappa national honorary educational fraternity and the Varsity M Club.

When asked if he thought the team would continue its present winning streak, Sy replied, "If our pitchers keep producing the way they have been, we should end up with more wins than losses for a better than .500 average."

INTRAMURALS OFF
No intramural hand ball or table tennis schedules have been set up because of insufficient interest on behalf of the student body. Harvey T. D. Gillespie, Director of Athletics, made the announcement this week.

Athletes Face Eight Foes In Sports Action

This week the Moravian Greyhounds have eight events on the agenda. Tomorrow the Greyhound diamond men will travel to P.M.C. to be entertained by the Cadets. Last year Rollie Passaro held P.M.C. hitless for five innings as the Hounds earned a 5-0 victory. It was called in the fifth inning on account of rain.

On Monday May 12, the Hound nine will play host to Ursinus. Last year Ursinus topped Moravian in a close 11-10 game.

Wednesday, Coach Gillespie's men will hit the road for a contest with Franklin and Marshall. Strong pitching by Dick Chergey and a two-run homer by George Hollendersky highlighted Moravian's 4-1 win over F & M last year.

The rain-postponed game with Muhlenberg scheduled for last Saturday has been rescheduled for Monday May 19, on the Hounds' Diamond.

On the tennis scene, the Greyhound court men will challenge Ursinus on our courts Monday. For the past three years the Ursinus netmen have squeezed out 5-4 wins.

The Hounds will be invaded by Muhlenburg on Wednesday. Last year it was a 3-6 contest in favor of Muhlenberg.

The Middle Atlantic Conference Tennis Tournament will be held today and tomorrow at Haverford. The Hounds will be represented by senior Captain Dick Roth and freshman Bob Lipkin. They will play in the singles and doubles.

The Moravian Linksmen will visit Wilkes' golf course on Monday. Last year the Hounds romped over the Colonels, 17½-½ on the Hounds' home course.

Juniata will be the scene of the Middle Atlantic Conference Golf Tournament this year. It will be played on the Mount Union Golf Course with approximately fourteen teams entering. Last year Bucknell took first place honors while the Hounds placed sixth. This year our team will be represented by Tom Volko, Ducky Potter, Fritz Toner, and Ken Skrable in the tournament.

Golfers Split Two With Scranton And Lafayette By 14-4

Last Thursday the Moravian linksmen absorbed their second loss of the season at the hands of a powerful Lafayette squad. The final score was 14-4. Bob Volko was the only winner of the day for the Hounds as he defeated Ken Werner 3-0. Buddy Soloff picked up the only other point in 2-1 loss to Jim Hart.

In the other matches: Mike Houldin (L) defeated Tom Volko 3-0. Dave Paige (L) defeated Ducky Potter 3-0. Al Gaul (L) defeated Fritz Toner 3-0. Bill Brackner (L) defeated Joe Collins 3-0.

The Greyhounds hosted Scranton University Monday on a wind and rain swept Bethlehem Municipal Course. The final score was the reverse of the Lafayette match 14-4. Moravian won five of the six matches, the only setback being received by Ducky Potter as he lost a close 2-1 match to Ed Man-ky. Fritz Toner had to play 20 holes before he defeated Jim Brown 2-1.

In other matches: Tom Volko (M) defeated Pete Foley 3-0. Joe Collins (M) defeated Bill O'Malley 2-1. Ken Skrable (M) defeated Frank Gallagher 3-0. Gene Salay (M) defeated Paul Nelson 3-0.

Netmen Drop Two To Leopards And Dutchmen, 9-0, 5-4

The Moravian College tennis team managed to get in two tennis matches during the rainy weather last week although neither match turned out to be a pleasant affair for the netmen. The Greyhounds were drubbed 9-0 by Lafayette and lost a 5-4 squeaker to Hofstra.

The scores of the Lafayette match were as follows: Schmitz (L) defeated Roth 6-2, 6-1. O'Donnel (L) defeated Bob Lipkin 6-1, 6-3. Jim Murphey (L) defeated Dick Steiner 6-3, 6-3. Dane Williams (L) defeated Les Lazarowitz 6-3, 6-2. Bob Dilworth (L) defeated Dan Simon 6-2, 6-1. Bob Katona (L) defeated Hal Cole 6-1, 6-4.

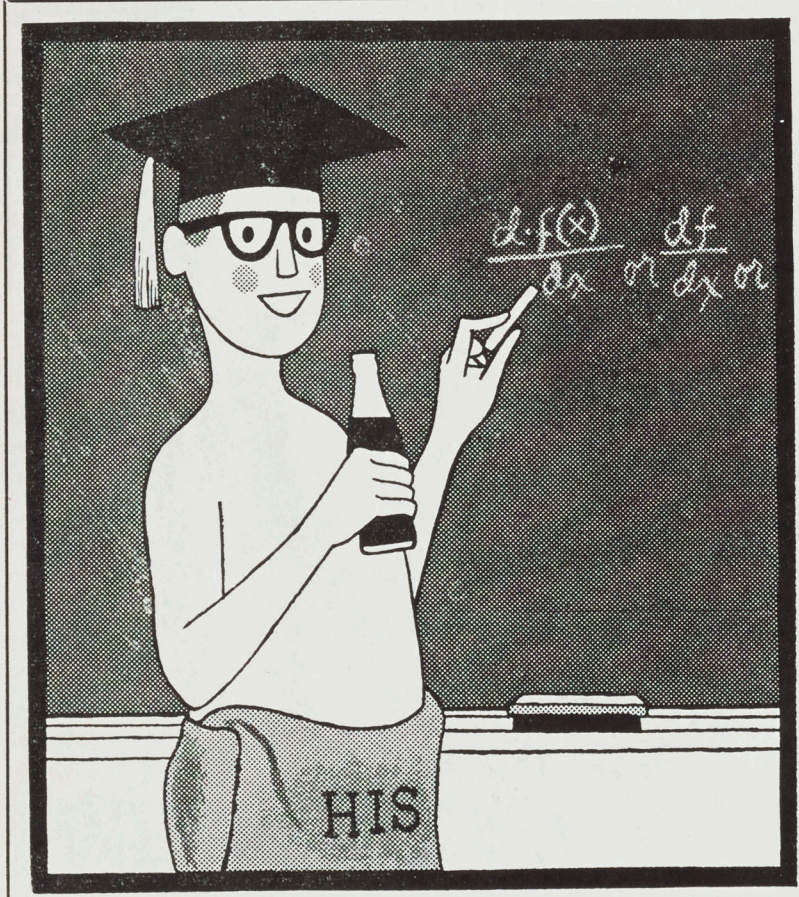

In the doubles, Schmitz and Williams (L) defeated Roth and Steiner 6-0, 6-2. O'Donnel and Murphey (L) defeated Lazarowitz and Simon 6-0, 6-4. Dilworth and Katona (L) defeated Lipkin and Cole 6-4, 6-0.

In the Hofstra match the story was different but just as disastrous in the end results. In the singles matches, Dick Roth (M) came brilliantly from behind to defeat Al Knaus in three sets 6-8, 9-7, 6-2. Steve Backer (H) defeated Bob Lipkin 6-2, 6-1. Carl Abraham (H) defeated Dick Steiner 6-4, 8-6. John Carter (H) defeated Les Lazarowitz 6-2, 6-3. Dan Simon (M) defeated John Page 6-2, 6-3. Ron Mui (H) defeated Hal Cole 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

In the doubles, Knaus and Backer (H) defeated Roth and Steiner 6-4, 6-3. Simon and Lazarowitz (M) defeated Abraham and Carter 6-0, 6-3. Lipkin and Cole (M) defeated Page and Mui 6-1, 4-6, 6-3.

Ten Moravian Students Sing In Bach Choir

Ten students from Moravian College, who are members of the Bach choir, will be participating in the choir's fifty-first annual Bach Festival on May 8, 9, 10 and 16, 17. The choir is under the direction of Dr. Ifor Jones.

The program for the first week-end will begin at 8:30 p.m. this evening in the Packer Memorial Chapel on the Lehigh Campus.

A brass choir will play chorales beginning at 7:45. This evening's program will include selected choruses from the "Mass in B Minor" and "The Passion According to St. John." The program will be the same for next weekend.

Soloists this year are soprano Lois Marshall, contralto Constance Shocklock, tenors John McCullum and Richard Gilley, and basses Norman Farrows and Yi-Kwei-Sze.

The Festival Orchestra, with Vernon GeTar, organist, and Mary H. Givins, choir accompanist, will also be heard.

Two Campus Organizations Name Officers For '58-'59

Two campus groups this week elected officers for the coming year. Bill Strohl was elected the president of the Choir. Elected to the position of president of the Varsity M Club was Tony Matz.

College Choir

William Strohl, a junior history major from Bethlehem was elected president of the Moravian College Choir for the coming season at a special business meeting held on Monday, May 5, at 3:30 p.m. in the South Campus chapel.

Gordon Arnold, a pre-med student from York, was elected vice-president of the group. Arnold is a member of Rho Alpha Upsilon science society, Omicron Gamma Omega fraternity and was formerly a member of the band.

The new secretary of the choir is Miss Dora Thomas of Bethlehem. Miss Thomas is an English major, a member of the Women's Council, Women's Athletic Association, Triangle Honor Society, and Phi Mu Epsilon sorority.

A pre-theological student majoring in English, Robert Daneker is the choir's new treasurer. Daneker, whose home is in Palmerton, is a member of Pi Mu.

Miss Beverly Luzietti, from Phillipsburg, New Jersey, is the newly elected business manager. Miss Luzietti is a member of the Blackfriars, serving as the group's treasurer this year. She is also a member of Phi Mu Epsilon sorority.

Co-librarians for the coming year are Paul Graf of Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, and Jerome Livengood of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Graf is majoring in history and Livengood, a member of Pi Mu, is a pre-theological student majoring in English.

Miss Janice Keve, elementary education major, from Cranford, New Jersey, is the new U.S.G. representative. Miss Keve is a member of Kappa Delta Epsilon educational sorority, the Modern Language Club, and Phi Mu Epsilon sorority.

Varsity M Club

Tony Matz was elected president of the Varsity M Club this past Tuesday. Other officers that were elected are: vice-president, Charles Bartolet; secretary, James Wohlbach; treasurer, Fred Lipari; and USG representative, Bruce Mumie.

Matz, a member of the Omicron Gamma Omega fraternity, is a letter winner on the varsity football and baseball teams. Tony, a junior mathematics major, comes from Reading, Pa. Bartolet, a varsity letter man in football, baseball and wrestling, comes from Easton, Pa. Bartolet, who is a member of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, is a sophomore history major.

Wohlbach, from Easton, Pa., is a varsity letterman in both baseball and wrestling. A junior Spanish major, he is a member of the Sigma Phi Omega fraternity. Fred Lipari, a sophomore history major, comes from Easton, Pa. A member of the Omicron Gamma Omega fraternity, he is a varsity letterman in football. U.S.G. representative Bruce Mumie, also a member of the Omicron Gamma Omega fraternity, is a letterman in football. Mumie, a senior English major comes from Bethlehem, Pa.

The club plans to reactivate and perform various functions pertaining to the improvement of Inter-collegiate Athletics. Bartolet announced a meeting for May 13, Room 205, at 11:30 a.m. and urged that all varsity letter winners attend.

Alumni Day Sees 150 Grads Return For Special Functions

Over 150 Moravian grads returned to the campus last week-end to participate in the Alumni Day functions. The graduates of Moravian College for Men registered at College Hall and then proceeded to the Emsee for an informal coffee hour. Women graduates registered in the Blue Parlors, under the direction of the Home Club, and then enjoyed their own coffee hour in the Femsee. A large number attended the formal dance on campus Friday night. Also on Friday evening, the women's class of 1943 enjoyed dinner at the Lehigh Valley Club, Allentown.

Saturday morning several members of the sophomore class acted as guides in a tour of the science building, greenhouse, speech lab, broadcasting studio, and other recent campus additions. Individual games of golf and tennis had to be cancelled due to the rain. The men's class of 1953 had a special coffee hour in the Emsee during the morning.

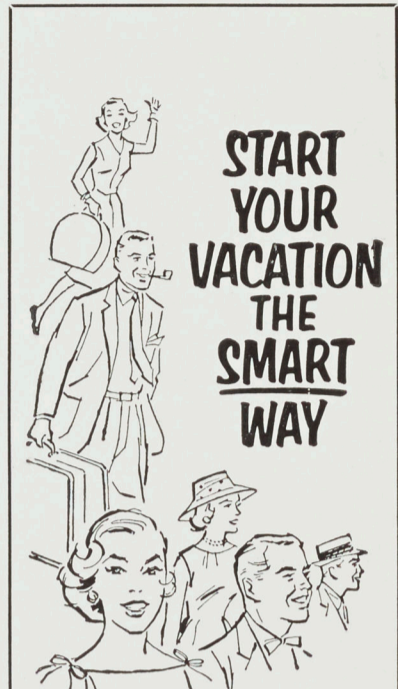

A large attendance at the Alumni Day Luncheon heard John Strohmeier, editor of the Bethlehem Globe-Times, speak on the topic "An Editor Looks at the Responsibilities of a Liberal Arts College." Strohmeier has been editor of the Globe-Times since April 1956, and is a native of Nazareth, Pennsylvania. He attended Moravian College and, after serving in the U. S. Navy, completed his education at Muhlenberg. He then went on to Columbia University for his master's degree. Following a period spent traveling through Europe doing stories on postwar recovery, Mr. Strohmeier joined the Providence, Rhode Island, Journal-Bulletin newspapers in 1948.

During the luncheon the new members of the Alumni Board were introduced.

After the luncheon, Dean Rader presented the senior class officers; Dr. Vernon Couillard of the Theological Seminary presented the seminary graduates; and Dr. William C. Hemmerly, president of the Alumni Association presented the 50-year Recognition Awards. The group disbanded with the singing of the Alma Mater.

During the afternoon the Alumni were entertained at a lunch hour in College Hall. Although the sporting events had to be cancelled, various groups continued to hold reunions.

Phi Mu Epsilon entertained sorority alumni at a punch party in the sorority room.

a resident of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, who was escorted by Burke Johnson; Mrs. Sidna Skrable, a Bethlehem resident, who was escorted by her husband Ken; Miss Carolyn Timan, of Danbury, Connecticut, who was escorted by Al Schwab; and Mrs. Nicky Yoder, a Moravian junior from Quakertown, who was escorted by her husband Dale.

Miss Gingles, who lives in Easton, is an elementary education major and was recently elected president of the Kappa Delta Epsilon professional education sorority. Her escort, Bob Boyler, lives in New Brunswick, New Jersey, and is also a junior elementary education major.

On Saturday the Omicron Gamma Omega, Pi Mu, and Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternities held functions to which the alumni were invited.

The OGO's were guests of their alumni at a dinner-dance at the Locust Valley Country Club in Coopersburg. After dinner the fraternity's newly elected officers were installed, and there was dancing to the music of Charlie Messina and his orchestra.

Pi Mu held a dinner at Shankweiler's Hotel in Orefield, Pennsylvania. The guest speaker was the Rev. Arthur Freeman, a Pi Mu alumnus from Yardley, Pa. After dinner the traditional stunt night was held, at which the officers for next year were announced.

The Tekes spent the entire day at Vacation Valley in the Pocono Mountains. The feature event was the announcement of Miss Lillian Long as the Sweetheart of TKE. Miss Juhasz, who is the 1956 Sweetheart, presented her with a Spring bouquet and her escort, 1957-58 fraternity president Frank Danyi, gave her the sweetheart pin of the fraternity.
