

2nd Family Day Planned; College Hall Becomes Johnston Hall In Rededication Ceremony On October 23

The second Family Day to be held on the Moravian campus since the merger of the colleges in 1954 will be observed Saturday, Nov. 15. The event, sponsored by Triangle Honor Society, was formerly conducted by the staff of The Comenian.

According to Pete French, Triangle president, letters will be sent to the parents of all Moravian students, outlining the program for the day and requesting the return of a reply card for the purpose of estimating meal accommodations. The letters will be sent about the middle of October.

Schedule of the Day

Tentative plans for the day include registration in Comenius Hall from 11 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. At this time the names of all those in attendance will be recorded, and parents and faculty members will be given identifying name tags. Most college academic and administrative buildings, including the Archives Building, will be open for inspection from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

At 11:30 in College Hall classrooms 9 and 10, the movie "Half a Thousand Years" will be shown. The movie, approximately half an hour in length, was produced by the Moravian Church and shows scenes of campus and classroom life at Moravian College.

A buffet style dinner will be served in College Hall from 12:15 to 1:15 p.m. Visiting families and day students will be charged a nominal fee for the meal; dormitory students will eat free of charge. Free tickets to the afternoon football game will be distributed during the meal.

The football game, beginning at 2 p.m., will feature Moravian's Greyhounds against the Seahawks of Wagner College. The Moravian band is planning a special half-time show in honor of the families present.

Following the game a coffee hour is scheduled in College Hall classrooms 9 and 10. Refreshments of coffee and Moravian sugarcake will be provided. Musical entertainment during this coffee hour is also being considered by band director Ray Huston.

From 4 to 6 p.m., fraternities and dormitories have been requested to hold open house. Triangle has suggested that since the coffee hour is being planned, it would not be necessary for the dormitories and fraternities to supply refreshments.

Last Family Day

A similar setup was arranged by The Comenian during the 1956 football season. Approximately 500 students and parents attended the event. In the previous event, parents were invited to the Interfraternity Dance that evening. Triangle at the present is attempting to procure a similar event, either concert or dance, to provide evening's entertainment.

Members of Triangle serving with French are Nancy Baker, Nancy Gingham, Sandra Iobst, Dora Thomas, Neil Boyer, Nick Cuttie, Dr. Mary Kennedy, and Dr. Samuel Zeller.

College Hall will be rededicated as Archibald Johnston Hall at an academic convocation on Thursday, October 23, 1958, at 11:30 a.m. The convocation will be the first full scale academic event held with the student body since World War II.

In recognition of the dedication several changes in the exterior paint of the front of the building are being made. The doors will be dark blue; the buff plaster, gray; and the trim between the doors, aluminum. The white board over the doors has been removed, and the words "Archibald Johnston Hall" are being carved in it. The letters will also be painted aluminum.

Steel Plaque

A stainless steel plaque will be hung on the left side of the foyer. It has the following inscription: This building is named after Archibald Johnston, first mayor of the city of Bethlehem, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, an active Moravian, and for 45 years a trustee of Moravian College and Theological Seminary.

The entire faculty of Moravian College in their academic robes will be present at the convocation. The procession will form in Comenius Hall and proceed to College Hall for the ceremony. At this time approximately ten degrees will be granted to students who have completed their requirements since June and three honorary degrees will be conferred.

Archibald Johnston was one of the leaders in the development of Bethlehem as a city in 1917, and then served as its first mayor. As chairman of the Bridge Commission, he was influential in the building of the hill-to-hill Bridge which connects the three sections of the city.

An active Moravian layman, Johnston used a gavel and black taken from the original Gemein House whenever he presided over the City Council.

Born in Phoenixville, Pa., on May 30, 1865, he was the fourth child in a family of ten. At the age of four he came to Bethlehem and attended the city schools. After graduating from high school at the age of 15, Johnston went to Lehigh University.

He graduated in 1889 with a degree in mechanical engineering and became associated with the Bethlehem Iron Works. While with that company, he was placed in charge of the erection and operation of the first gun forging plant in the country and the first armour plate department. Then he moved to the Bethlehem Steel Corporation where he became assistant general superintendent, first vice-president, and finally from 1906 to 1908 president of the corporation.

His membership affiliations included the Iron and Steel Institute of Great Britain; the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; the American Institute of Mining Engineers; the Railroad Club of New York; the University and Union League Clubs of Philadelphia; the Metropolitan Club of Washington, D.C.; the Bethlehem Club; the Country Club of Northampton County; the Northampton Club; the Lehigh Country Club; and Theta Delta Chi.

At the time of his death in 1948, Johnston was residing at Camels Hump Farm in Bethlehem.

His son, Arch Johnston, is now on the Moravian College Board of Trustees.

Blackfriars Without Director, No Fall Production Planned

Griffith Dudding, president of the Blackfriars Dramatic group, has announced that the Blackfriars are not planning to produce any plays during the fall semester, since a director for the group has not yet been appointed.

Mr. Robert Burcaw, a member of the English Department faculty, the former director, resigned his position last spring due to the pressure of his graduate work and a full-time teaching schedule. He will remain as the group's advisor.

Miss Halcyon Sartwell, Dean of Women, who is in charge of appointing advisors to student extra-curricular activity groups, stated that the matter was "not definitely decided yet" and that there were several names being considered for the position. President Raymond S. Hauptert stated that the recommendations being considered were of persons not on the faculty.

Dudding also stated that tentative plans for the fall semester include participation in the weekly radio broadcast produced by Mr. Walter Beaupre, in place of the presentation of dramatic works. The program features news about Moravian College and originates from the sound studios on the third floor of Comenius Hall.

Five Nominated For Prexy Of Frosh Class

The freshman class held its freshman nominations at a meeting on Oct. 7, in the North Campus Chapel. Freshman class elections will be held this coming Monday and Tuesday Oct. 13 and 14.

Nominated for the position of president were: Susan Wilbraham, Dick Spaugh, Bill Needs, Dennis Hayman, and David Bryant.

Those nominated for the vice-presidency are: Constance Platt, Sylvia Perkins, Barbara Snyder, David Coe, Ronald Myers, David Cornelius and Glen Morris.

Running for the position of secretary are: John Yeldvieh, Judy Noll, John Meyers, William Cordray, and Ann Hottel.

Nominations for treasurer are: Barbara Brunner, Frances Guro, Ronald Danyi, John Dowman, Harold McGee, and James Gand.

U.S.G. nominations included: Barbara Hooper, James Mallay, Louis Brown, Joseph Roseman, and Russell DeVore.

I-F Weekend Possibilities Include Game, Parties, Dance, Visit From Steverino

A big Interfraternity weekend, complete with house parties, football game, house decorations, dance, and possibly a visit from Steverino (Steve Allen's four-legged, walking Greyhound bus advertisement) has been the object of heavy consideration during the past few weeks. Although the date, Nov. 22, has been set by the Interfraternity Council, details at present are undetermined.

Important details to be worked out include decisions on whether the dance will be formal or informal; or open to the student body or closed to fraternity members; and also where it will be held and what band will play.

I-F Council president Nick Nolfa said this week that the council was so busy writing and adopting rules for fraternity rushing that it did not have adequate time to give to the weekend.

At early meetings the council decided to hold the dance in College Hall. Later, however, it was discovered that the Moravian College-Bethlehem Community Concert Series is presenting a concert in College Hall that evening.

The council representatives carried back to their respective fraternities questions concerning the dance, Nolfa said. Fraternities were expected to vote on these questions this week. Further details will then be worked out by the council.

Tentative plans and ideas expressed by I-F members and campus leaders included parties at each of the three fraternity houses on Friday evening, Nov. 21. The houses would be decorated on the exterior in conjunction with a selected theme for the weekend.

Further suggestions included open house in the fraternity houses on Saturday after the football game with Muhlenberg. At this time the houses would be open for inspection and refreshments would be served. It was also suggested that the USG or I-F Council present a prize to members of the best-decorated house.

Steverino To Bethlehem

The idea of a visit from Steverino, a greyhound dog which often appears on the Steve Allen Show, originated with Stu Mansfield, new sports publicity director for Moravian. Mansfield also is a deskman for the Bethlehem Globe-Times.

Mansfield had taken pictures of the paintings of OGO in College Hall. Several Moravian students stood next to the paintings holding signs, "Steve" and "Allen." Mansfield sent copies of these pictures to Steve Allen and to the Grey Advertising Agency, handlers of the Greyhound Bus account.

An excited exchange of letters developed between Mansfield and Steverino account representative, Sam Blake. Blake suggested bringing Steverino to Bethlehem for appearance at a Moravian football game.

Among the ideas which resulted from the exchange of letters were as follows: (1) Have a group of Moravian students welcome the Greyhound bus as Steverino arrives on campus. (2) Christen the alabaster dogs on the front entrance to College Hall "Steverino." (3) Have Steverino make a halftime appearance on the football field with the president of the student government presenting

Who Was Responsible For The PAC Mishap?

The report of the United Student Government meeting in last week's issue of The Comenian appears to have caused a certain amount of disturbance and hurt feelings among officers of the Political Activities Club and the USG. The groups are blaming each other for the unfortunate situation which has resulted from a $190 deficit incurred by last year's officers of the PAC.

But the PAC perhaps is not to be painted as black as last week's issue of The Comenian made it appear. Actually more fingers were in the pot than either the PAC or the USG make it appear. The blame could be spread out over a number of campus personalities who at one time or another came in contact with the ill-famed incident. It was not, however, the first incident of this type for the PAC.

The matter began when the PAC went over its allocation and found itself approximately $230 in the hole. Bill Rupp, last year's president of the group, had promised the advisor, Dr. Otis Shao, that the money (to be used to pay a convention hotel bill) would be raised by the members of PAC and would not be taken from USG funds.

When the PAC realized the bill would exceed the amount they had raised, a so-called "gentleman's agreement" was made between Rupp, USG President Joe Prorok, and USG Treasurer Ted Lekorenos. A blank voucher was made out and signed by Prorok and Lekorenos with the understanding that the bill would be paid, and the payee reimbursed at a later date by Rupp and others concerned with the convention trip.

The bill was paid, but thus far only $60 has been received and it appears that that will be all.

This entire agreement took place without the knowledge of Shao, who claims he would not have permitted PAC to go back on their promise and use USG funds. Shao said he had requested the business office to notify him of any vouchers that were to be approved for PAC, but this was not done for any voucher during the year.

In addition, Dean Marlyn Rader, without questioning, signed the voucher so that the hotel bill could be paid. It had been the practice during the year for Rader to sign vouchers without the knowledge of organization faculty advisors; therefore, the entire blame for the PAC mistake can not be laid here.

According to the business office, the system of approving vouchers will be more carefully operated in the future. All vouchers must bear the signature of the faculty advisor of the individual organization before it can be submitted to the business office for USG approval.

The USG also this week prepared circulars for all member organizations describing the stricter rules by which money matters will be governed in the future. This includes the requirement that all vouchers be signed by the organization faculty advisor. These actions should help to curb practices of over-spending, one of which in this case led to an unwise "gentleman's agreement."

At different times, or all together, the blame can be laid on the past and present officers of PAC and USG, the advisors, deans, business office, etc. And while the present officers of PAC may or may not have been involved with the overspending of the budget, its example should prove worthy to other organizations which may have occasion to run into a similar problem.

A condemnation before the student body should be enough to make induce reform and prevent recurrence.

Apologies

To the editor:

As the reporter directly responsible for the article of Oct. 3 about PAC and USG, I feel constrained to apologize not only for the inaccurate statements made therein but also for the general tenor of the article which was anything but charitable toward PAC.

Two statements made within the article were incorrect. First Joe Prorok stated that the Hotel Penn Harris threatened to bring suit against the college. As a quotation this is correct but as a fact it was rather a printing company that threatened suit. More important, however, is that I quoted Ted Lekorenos as saying that PAC had received over $200.00 from unidentified sources. Ted assures me that he never said any such thing.

The true failure of such reporting lies much deeper, however. Even if the quotations had been correct, the reporting of such was very unwise for it was the spreading of hearsay evidence. The article not only casts suspicion upon the two gentlemen who were formerly president and vice-president of PAC respectively, but it also taints the reputation of the club and its present officers.

Any such impressions drawn from my article are of course totally false. Present PAC president Paul Meilinger has proven himself to be a man above reproach and the achievements of his organization in the past cannot be glossed over.

It was never my intention to obscure the good which PAC has done, and to those persons who might have been disturbed or offended by my writing I offer my most sincere and humble apologies.

Sincerely yours,
Ted Rights '61

C. Weiss Wins Founders Day Art Exhibit

Camillo Weiss, of 1410 W. Market St., Bethlehem, was given the first place ribbon as winner of the second annual Moravian College Founder's Day art contest-exhibition at a preview tea Sunday afternoon in College Hall on the Moravian College campus.

In last year's exhibition, Weiss received honorable mention for an oil painting of a church street campus view. His winning painting this year is entitled "437-443 Old York Road" and will be added to the permanent art collections of the college.

Will Bekler, of 1111 Russell Ave., another honorable mention winner in last year's contest, was awarded second prize. Bekler's painting also in oil, is of Central railroad station and is entitled "Calm After Storm."

Two honorable mention awards went to James E. Schwering Jr., Bethlehem, for his watercolor of Central railroad station, and to Robert E. Brown, also of Bethlehem, for a pastel view from 1st Avenue of Central Moravian Church.

The subject matter of this year's contest is 19th century Bethlehem building still in existence.

Judges of the contest were as follows: Dr. Johannes A. Gaertner, of Lafayette College; professor Francis Quirk of Lehigh University, and Mr. Ralph G. Schwarz of Bethlehem.

The 34 paintings in the contest will be shown each Sunday afternoon this month 2 to 5 p.m. in College Hall.

The student Women's Activities Committee of the college was in charge of last Sunday's tea.

'Much Ado About...'

By Dave Schattschneider

Gather around, my friends, and let us see what we have here this week. Here it is another Friday—

Friday, October 10, 1958 to be exact—and I imagine more than a few of us are beginning to wonder where the days and weeks are going. Everything was fine until the first test, exam, "quizzie" or whatever you want to call it! Then everything was back to normal — rushing around, getting behind in assignments, and an ever increasing use of midnight oil. The days and weeks may fly but some of those hours spent in class just seem to drag by very slowly—yes, everything is back to normal (if there is such a state) Reminds me of the little epitaph scratched on a desk in my old high school, "In memory of all those who died here, while waiting for the bell to ring."

A new fad, of sorts, seems to be creeping onto the campus. It's becoming quite fashionable now for organizations to follow up their meetings with refreshments in the "Gold Room." In case you are unfamiliar with this campus addition, otherwise known as the "Emcee extension" or something like that, see Lear. He'll be glad to give you all the details.

While we're in the "campus additions" department, let's not overlook the addition of two new fraternity houses to the M.C. scene. Sigma Phi Omega is located in the former Schwartze Hall, and Tau Kappa Epsilon is over at 1131-1133 Monocacy Street. The brothers of Omicron Gamma Omega, as well as the Sigma Phi's and TKE's have put in a lot of work on their respective houses over the summer vacation. This activity can certainly be considered an encouraging step forward in Moravian's developing fraternity program.

Still another "campus addition" worth mentioning is the class of 1962. The frosh of this year have, what is termed "school spirit" (for lack of a better term). Of course, everyone seems to have some of this at the start of the semester, but as the year grinds on, and individual pressures become greater, much of the original spirit fades into a passiveness, or out right pessimism, usually reserved for only the "wordly-wise" upperclassmen. But this year's freshman class not only seems to have more of this rare commodity than has been seen in the freshman class of previous years, but it seems to be a spirit of genuine enthusiasm, rather than one wrenched from the frosh by a debatable hazing program.

Whether or not you agree with this opinion, is, of course, up to you and whether or not this frosh spirit will last any length of time is a matter of conjecture—but anyway—congratulations to the frosh for making a fine start—and a good impression on lots of old pros at this college game.

That's about it for this time—see you in two weeks—"whatever you are!"

79 Percent Of Student Body Receive Insurance Coverage

Seventy-nine per cent of the student body will be covered by the new student insurance plan which was instituted this year.

The program costs $15.00 for the college year, payable $7.50 per semester. Those students who live in college dormitories, or college approved residences, were required to participate in the Moravian College Student Insurance Plan. Non-resident students were automatically included in the plan unless the college received an exemption request prior to Sept. 1, 1958.

Charles H. Kuhn, Comptroller, announced that a total of 631 members of the student body are covered by the insurance. This left 162 students not participating in the plan.

The insurance may be continued during the summer months to students upon application and payment of an additional premium. Applications will be distributed for this purpose before the close of the college year.

Students enrolled in this plan hold policies with the Educators Mutual Life Insurance Company of Lancaster, Pa. Cards have been issued to policy holders identifying them as such. In case of any illness or injury, the student should notify the Business Office immediately.

Publications Board Buys Photo Gear For Joint Staff Use

The Moravian College Board of Publications, at its meeting on Friday, September 26, authorized the purchase of some photographic equipment to be used jointly by the Comenian and Benigna photography staffs.

The most important item is the Crown Graflex 4 x 5 inch press camera complete with carrying case and Ultrablitz strobe flash unit. The camera is the same model employed by many professional and amateur photographers all over the world, and, according to Photography Editor Ed Borger, "It is much more adaptable to the variety of assignments here on the campi than was my Rollei."

Also included in the purchase was a Solar diffusion enlarger which is equipped with cold cathode lighting and can accommodate negatives up to 5 x 7 inches in size.

The equipment is already being used, and the first pictures produced with it appear in this issue of The Comenian.

Tonight's Free Movie

The Caine Mutiny, the movie version of the Pulitzer Prize winning novel Caine Mutiny Court Martial by Herman Wouk, will be shown in College Hall 9 and 10 tonight.

This Academy Award winning film tells the story of Captain Queeg, the strangely acting commander of the Caine who looks like a coward under fire; the murderous typhoon when Maryk (played by Van Johnson) takes command; the court-martial of Queeg who is mercilessly attacked by the brilliant defense attorney.

Star roles are played by Humphrey Bogart as Queeg, Jose Ferrer as Greenwald, and Fred MacMurray as Keefer.

The movie will last for two hours and five minutes.

Additional Movie

Starting at 7:30 p.m., a new movie, produced by the Bethlehem Steel Corp., will be shown. The 20-minute film, Futures in Steel, outlines opportunities in the steel industry for college graduates.

Brief summaries of jobs in engineering, management, selling, etc., will be included in the color motion picture. Moravian will be one of the first colleges to be shown the recently-released film.

C. C. A. Plans First Retreat At Camp Hope

Members of the Campus Christian Association are planning to attend a fall retreat at Camp Hope, in Hope, N.J. tomorrow, Oct. 11, and Sunday, Oct. 12. They will be leaving South Campus at 1:15 p.m., Saturday, and will return to Bethlehem sometime Sunday afternoon.

The main topic for the weekend, "Why Am I Here? Where Am I Going?" will be discussed in various groups and will also be featured at the Sunday morning worship service.

This past Wednesday a group of C.C.A. members visited and entertained the children at the Good Shepherd Home in Allentown. It is the desire of the group to make weekly visitations to the Home throughout the school year.

At its first meeting of the year the organization cordially welcomed ten new members and appointed the following committee chairman: Ted Rights, Christian Heritage Committee; Mary Ann Smodish, Social Relations Committee; John Minor, Retreat Committee; Ann Worthmann, Program Planning Committee; and Judy Frederick, Publicity Committee.

The new advisors for the Association are Miss Johanna Ott and Rev. Henry Williams.

Sigma Phi Omega Appoints Goldberg, Meder As Officers

Thomas Meder and Arnold Goldberg were appointed to the respective positions of social treasurer and corresponding secretary at a meeting of Sigma Phi Omega held on Oct. 2.

Meder, a senior majoring in Business Administration, comes from Easton, Pa. He is a member of E.B.A. and participates in intramurals.

Goldberg is a native of Bethlehem. A junior majoring in history, he plans to enter the teaching field after graduation. He is a member of P.A.C. and I.R.C.

him (her?) with a scroll making her (him?) an honorary student of Moravian College.

(4) Promote a halftime race between OGO and Steverino, giving OGO a 30-yard handicap (Blake declined; "Steve doesn't race."). (5) Promote a dormitory decoration contest (to put Muhlenberg in the "doghouse") and let Steverino judge. And finally, (6) to procure Gov. Leader of Pennsylvania to make Steverino an honorary citizen.

Blake told Comenian co-editor Neil Boyer this week that if the project is completed, approximately 3500 news releases and pictures will be distributed by the NBC-TV Press across the nation. Mansfield is also working on consideration from Time and Life magazines. Neither Mansfield nor Blake seem to think the project will go as far as indicated by the above list of ideas, but both have high hopes of making the proposed visit a big affair.

However, money problems may curtail the project. In a letter to Boyer, received on Monday, Blake said, "It would cost us many hundreds of dollars just for one day's outing with the dog due to trainer costs, my expenses, insurance, etc. For that reason we must honestly weigh the publicity value of the canine's visit to Moravian College . . . Stu's letter is now in the hands of the top brass, and if he can get Time and several other projects of national interest, chances are good we will go."

Blake suggests an alternative of presenting Steverino with a scroll when Moravian students are in New York, or having Steve Allen make the presentation on his weekly show.

Greyhounds Crush Colonels In Season's Opening Tilt, 30-8

by Neil Eskolin

Head football coach Rocco Calvo took the wraps off of his 1958 Greyhounds last Saturday as the season officially got underway. Led by newly elected captain, Gus Rampone and the fine quarterbacking of seniors Tony Matz and Nick Cuttic, the Moravian gridders had little trouble subduing the weak Colonels of Wilkes by a 30-8 score.

The Hounds put on a terrific display of defensive and offensive power. They allowed the Colonels a mere 35 yards on the ground as they themselves gained 319 yards rushing. Calvo's men could have been in trouble several times as they fumbled six times but fortunately they recovered five of them.

The coach resorted to the bench liberally throughout the game and many of his question mark reserves played more than adequately well in staving off the Colonels.

The Greyhounds hit pay dirt the first time they got their hands on the ball. After gaining five straight first downs, senior fullback, George Hollendersky skirted right end and plowed seven yards for the T.D. Matz flipped a neat aerial to halfback Bill Hershey for the two extra points.

A few plays later the Colonels were forced to punt and once again the Hounds were on the move. In the closing minutes of the quarter, Cuttic took over the quarterbacking chores and a few plays later he hit sophomore end John Olson with a 35 yard pass. Olson eluded two Colonels and sped the remaining 37 yards untouched for the tally. Cuttic then flipped to Paul Noonan for the duece, putting the Hounds up 16-0.

The Colonels failed to gain ground at all in the second quarter; whereas the Hounds kept up their surge. In the middle of the second period Moravian recovered a fumble on their 28 yard line and began the 72 yard drive which was climaxed when senior halfback, Joe Esposito crashed over from the one. Hershey ran the extra point and at the half the Hounds were comfortably ahead 24-0.

Intercepted Pitchout

The Colonels came alive briefly in the third period as Frank Spudis of Wilkes intercepted a pitchout from Matz and sped 70 yards untouched for their lone tally of the game and incidently, their lone tally of the year. A pass play from Jay Kubricki to Ron Ercolani netted the visitors an additional two points.

The Greyhounds dominated the play in the fourth quarter despite Calvo's liberal substitutions. Their final tally came when Ron Myers, freshman from Vestal, N. Y. scampered over from the four on a off tackle slice. The score climaxed a 45 yard drive in five plays. Matz's pass for the extra points was incomplete.

FALL FOCUS

Nick Cuttic, Quarterback

This week we turn the spotlight on one of the Greyhound signal callers, Nick Cuttic. Nick, who hails from Frackville, Pa. is 21 years old, 5 ft. 9 in. tall and weighs 160 pounds.

Some of Nick's many accomplishments in high school include the ten letters he received in football, basketball, and baseball; he was co-captain of the football team and captain of the baseball squad. He was also selected outstanding athlete of his class and member of Schuylkill county all-star football team.

Here at Mo-Mo, Nick has been quarterback for the Hounds for three years and has also played two years of baseball. His campus activities have included, president of the freshman and sophomore classes, Triangle Honor Society, USG representative for Varsity M Club, vice president and pledge-master for Sigma Phi Omega fraternity and chairman of the college menu committee.

Majoring in chemistry, Nick plans to become a teacher and coach.

When asked for a comment on tomorrow's game with Juniata, Nick replied, "There is no doubt that Juniata is a great football team, however, any team can be beaten if the opposing players are physically and mentally prepared, and we are going to have what it takes on Saturday to beat this team. If this one is ours, the rest will also be ours."

The Benchwarmer

by Neil Eskolin

Here we are again with our opening football game behind us. The boys really looked powerful last Saturday as they rolled to an easy victory over the hapless Colonels of Wilkes. The coaches no doubt breathed a sigh of relief when they saw how effectively their reserve players staved off the Wilkes squad. Although the victory was no great test, it definitely showed that the feared depth problem is not as serious as might have been expected.

At the same time that our Hounds were fighting it out on Saturday, Pennsylvania Military College blanketed Western Maryland by a 13-0 score and Wagner squeezed past Haverford 15-14. On the local scene, our neighbors to the west, Muhlenberg, dropped their tilt to Lafayette by a decisive 27-14 score. The Mules led at half time 14-0. The Vikings of Upsala lost to Hofstra 34-8 while Juniata white-washed Alfred College 20-0. The Hounds travel to Huntington Penna. tomorrow to tackle these same Juniata Indians who, by the way, are ranked 15th in the nation among the small colleges. A victory for Moravian, would really be a feather in our caps. Our boys are definitely up for this game and are aching for a victory. Look for a close game which may well be decided by just one or two points. No predictions from this writer this week.

The Greyhound Harriers debuted this past Tuesday at P.M.C. without the services of Hank Sunyak, their number one runner of last season. Sunyak will be sidelined for a while with a bone bruise on his right foot . . . Hal Bilheimer, Moravian's golf coach, took top honors in the city golf tournament last week.

Now that the regular baseball season is over, it's once again time to look at the leaders in their respective positions. In the American League, Ted Williams (who else?) once again led the league in batting. Going into the final week of the season, the Thumper was four points behind his teammate Pete Runnels. But an all out surge by Williams found him on top by eight points when the smoke cleared. The National League also saw a very close race for top honors. The eventual victor was the Phillies' (at least they have something to brag about) Richie Ashburn, who beat out Willie Mays of the Giants in the final two days of the season, .350 to .347. Stan the man placed an impressive third with a .337 average. It was the first time in quite awhile that both leagues had such a close race.

The Sporting News this past week announced the winners of this year's Rookie awards. In the Junior circuit, Albie, 5' 5" Pearson, freshman outfielder for the Washington Senators was honored. Ryne Duren, the fire balling master of the Yankees was named Rookie Pitcher of the year. In the National League, Orlando Cepeda, the 20 year old first base sensation of the Giants and Carlton Willey, the Milwaukee Braves' relief specialist were feted.

See ya on the bench.

Hounds Set For Juniata Try To End String At 14

The Greyhound gridders of Moravian College have been preparing all season for their toughest game of the campaign against Juniata tomorrow. The Hounds, relatively free from injuries, are in top shape and are eagerly awaiting their chance to tackle the Indians.

Coach Rocco Calvo has been strenuously drilling his squad this week and the boys all feel that they are ready to pull the upset of the year tomorrow on the Indians home field. Juniata is the standout favorite to take the title in the Northern Division of the Middle Atlantic College Conference. They have 20 letter winners back on the squad this season and have already posted impressive wins over Scranton and Alfred. They're working on a string of 14 straight victories. Going back to early in the 1956 season. Prior to that they had a record of 23 wins and one tie during 1953-54-55.

The Indinas have an 8-4-1 record with the Greyhounds with six of those victories coming in a row. Last year's contest was cancelled due to the Asian flu. Two years ago when the two teams met, Juniata crushed the Hounds 25-0.

The Greyhound coaches expect a multiple offense and unbalanced line attack from the Indians and have been setting up their defenses accordingly. The Moravian offense, which scored 30 points last week has been sharpened to penetrate the Juniata line which is unscored upon this year.

Moravian is back to full strength with the services of George Hollendersky, senior fullback who was sidelined with an ankle injury, and Fred Lipari, first string center, who was out with an injured knee, available for tomorrow's action.

Other starters will be John Olson and Paul Noonan at ends, Bob Haney and Jim Kritis at tackles, captain Gus Rampone and Mike Payonk at guard, Joe Esposito and Bill Hershey in the halfback slots, and Tony Matz and Nick Cuttic alternating at the quarterback position.

In a statement by Calvo this week, he said, "We can beat this club. We're better off than we were two years ago. With no mistakes and heads-up play, Juniata will lose."

DIRECTIONS

The most direct route to the Juniata game in Huntington is Route 22 from Bethlehem. Route is Route 22. Follow straight through to Huntington, passing through Harrisburg, Lewistown, and Mt. Union. The trip should take approximately four hours by automobile.

Game time is at 2 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, or 1 p.m. Bethlehem time.

Cheering Asssiation Formed To Take Students to Games

An new organization on campus, tentatively named the Moravian College Student Cheering Association, took form last Wednesday under the leadership of Joannie Albrecht and Pete French, with an assist from Marcia Morgan.

Main purpose of the group, according to French, is to provide transportation to "away" football games to approximately 30 students.

Dean Marlyn Rader, French said, has stated that it may be possible to have the college allocate part of the costs of renting a bus. Other funds will have to be supplied by the students themselves.

Announcements of the groups plans will be placed on bulletin boards Monday and Tuesday with place for all those interested to sign their names. A meeting will then be held to discuss plans to attend the Pennsylvania Military College game next Saturday.

"We want 30 people we can count on to come out and to support the team on the trips," French said.

Plans for the PMC trip would be to leave the college after third period Saturday, and to return immediately after the game. PMC is located in Chester, Pa., about two hours from Bethlehem.

Placement News

Arrangements are being made for interviews with the Director of the Third U.S. Civil Service Region, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Trainee positions are available in the field of Inventory Management Procurement, Management Engineering, Systems and Procedures and Financial Control. Trainees are appointed at $4040 per annum. Upon the completion of one year of service the trainee is promoted to $4,980 per annum and to $5,985 per annum. The date for interviews will be set for early in 1959. Notices of the date will be posted and listed in this column prior to the interviews.

The Department of the Army has announced a new program under which 25 graduates of accredited colleges and universities will be selected annually for direct appointment as officers in the United States Army Regular Officer Corps. A man is eligible if (1) he is between the ages of 21 and 26; (2) he is expected to graduate this year from an accredited college or university; (3) his college or university does not participate in the Army Reserve Officer's Training Corps Program; or (4) he is scholastically outstanding in a critical specialty and was unable to participate in his school's ROTC program for valid reasons. Application forms may be obtained from any Army installation or recruiting station. Upon completion, the forms should be forwarded to the nearest Headquarters of the Army Area in which the candidate lives.

Terry Paces Harriers In Victory Over PMC

Moravian's cross-country team, opened its second year of varsity competition on Tuesday, beating Pennsylvania Military College (PMC) 25-32. It was the third victory in six starts for Paul Kuklantz' harriers.

PMC had an unexpectedly strong squad this year and gave the Hounds harriers a run for their money. Wendell Terry, the freshman sensation from Vestal, N.Y., set a new course record, running the 3.8 mile course in 19 minutes and 54 seconds. This was Terry's first collegiate race.

I-M Football League Begins Action Monday

Intramural football will get under way on Monday October 11, on the lower athletic field. Intramural athletic director Rocco Calvo, announced this week that there would be eight teams in the competition. The teams include the Seminary, the Fighting Irish, the OGO's, the Upsetters, the Tekes, Colonial Hall, the Vets, and Sigma Phi. The captains have not yet been named.

Each team will play five games. At the end of the season, which closes November 13, the championships will be decided by the two top teams playing a double elimination.

There will be four games a week for five weeks and the action will get under way at 4:00 p.m.

The games for this week include on Monday, Seminary vs. Fighting Irish; on Tuesday, OGO's vs. Upsetters; on Wednesday, Tekes vs. Colonial Hall; and on Thursday, Vets vs. Sigma Phi.

Ray Herman and James Worman, sophomores and newcomers to the squad, laced third and fourth respectively for the Hounds in very good times. The top six finishers this year beat the winning time of 21 minutes 26 seconds of last year's run over the same course. Jack Jacobs and freshman George Fiegel added the final points for the harriers.

Hank Sunyak and Bob Fatzinger the two top runners of last year were sidelined for the opener with minor injuries but are expected to be ready tomorrow for the meet with powerful Juniata.

Following Terry in the race was Ronald Tasket, PMC, 20:32; Ray Herman, Mor., 20:48; James Worman, Mor., 21:04 David Bain, PMC, 21:15; Robert Shor, PMC, 21:20; Anthony Periozo, PMC, 21:42; Jack Jacobs, Mor., 22:08; George Fiegel, Mor., 22:50; and Bill Rinker, Mor., 22:53.

Olympics a la Mo Scheduled Wednesday; Dance To Follow

"Olympics a la Mo," sports day for the women students of the college, will be held next Wednesday evening, October 15, in the College Hall gym. The event, which is sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association (WAA), will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Record Dance Follows

Vicki Kokolus, president of the WAA, said that free pretzels and cider will be served, and the affair will be followed by a record dance. Each class should try to enter contestants in all the events, as the winning class will be the one with the highest number of points at the end. Events will include 50 and 100 yard dashes, relays, obstacle races, standing and running broad jumps, basketball throw, and tennis ball throw.

The traditional rope tug will also be held to determine the fate of the freshman dinks. If the frosh win, they may take off their dinks, but should they lose, they will wear them until Thanksgiving.

Sign Up In Locker Room

Women students may sign up for the various events on the lists posted in the women's locker room on South Campus. On the night of the "Olympics," contestants will be required to wear some article of clothing in the color chosen for their respective class. Seniors will wear gold; juniors, purple; sophomores, gray; and freshmen, blue.

"Olympics a la Mo" grew out of the annual tug-of-war between the freshmen and sophomores. Three years ago it was expanded into a general sports competition for all classes, to attract more participants and spectators.

In charge of the affair are Miss Kokolus; Phyllis Zwarych, WAA vice-president; and Judy Laning, WAA secretary-treasurer.

Student Loans, Scholarships Object Of Insurance Study

One per cent of the nation's colleges and universities account for fifty per cent of all the loans made to students by institutions of higher education. This fact was disclosed in a study made public today by The College Life Insurance Company of America.

Harvard led in the amount loaned in the school year with $825,000. The University of Michigan, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and University of Denver followed in that order.

The largest number of loans, 3,621 was made by Michigan State. The University of Texas and University of Florida were next high.

At California State Polytechnic College loans were made to 42% of the students and at the University of Oregon to 38%.

Highest average loan was $612 at M.I.T. The four year maximum loan varies from $200 at the University of Colorado to $3,300 at M.I.T.

Trend Away From Scholarships

These loan activity figures are very significant, according to Mr. John Burkhart, President of College Life. They clearly indicate, he stated, the beginning of a trend away from scholarships, the traditional method of student help.

Scholarships, however, remain the present chief source of funds for students and the figures suggest that they will remain so for

Reading Tests Will Be Given To All Students As Sample

Moravian College has been selected as one of the number of colleges to provide a validating test for a new form of the Nelson-Denny Reading Test, according to Marlyn A. Rader, Dean of Instruction.

The test will be administered to freshmen and seniors on Tuesday, Oct. 14, and to sophomores and juniors on Tuesday, Oct. 21. On both days the testing will take place during the fourth period. Some students will take the test in Comenius Hall classrooms since there are only accommodations for 200 students to be tested in College Hall at one time.

Sample Group

Rader said that the test is of the type included in the battery of tests given to incoming students. The publishers, before distributing a new test, send it to a select number of colleges to have a sample group from which to establish norms for scoring.

In stating that the scheduling of the tests might be an "imposition" for some members of the student body, Rader continued, "but I hope all students will cooperate to work out a validation."

a long time to come.

At the University of Chicago, the number of scholarships awarded was equal to 45% of the undergraduate enrollment. Fifty-two per cent of the graduate students at this same school were receiving fellowships.

Part Time Employment

Part time employment is another major means of student assistance. Ohio State alone paid out more than $3,700,000 for all types of student services.

Mr. Burkhart stated that much interest surrounded the new Federal program enacted in the closing days of the last Congress. Many observers believe that existing programs, plus new planned programs, will adequately handle all needs and that the intervention by the Federal Government is not needed. Resistance to Federal programs centers around fears of both the students and the colleges in the surging enrollments that will characterize the decade ahead can be met only by large-scale Federal expenditures.

Charlie Brown Is Guest At Minnesota U.

(ACP)—Charlie Brown, Patty, Pig Pen, Lucy, Linus, Snoopy, Schroeder and Beethoven were at University of Minnesota early this year, brought by their creator Charles Schulz.

The cartoonist creator of "Peanuts" talked about his characters "as if they were real people, not the products of a grease pencil," reported the Minnesota Daily's Ivory Tower magazine.

Schulz drew as he talked.

"Lucy says you can draw Charlie Brown's head by using a pie plate," Schulz said as he drew something that looked very much like it could be drawn with a pie plate, "but this is not necessarily so."

He put a sad little face in the circle, drew a much-too-small body under it and introduced Charlie Brown. Then he covered the drawing with vertical streaks.

"That's rain," he explained. "Charlie Brown says, 'It always rains on the unloved.'"

The strip, says Schulz, "depicts high-toned sayings jammed into these little people." He does all the work himself. "After all, there's not much there—just figures and graphs."

"I'm ignorant as far as fine arts go. But cartooning is a lively art—something which sometimes surpasses fine arts."

He drew Snoopy the dog in a frantic moment trying to find his way out of a patch of grass "caught in the throes of weed claustrophobia."

Lucy: A Fussbudget

Lucy, author of "I Was a Fussbudget for the FBI," complains about Pig Pen, "Schulz says. Pig Pen replies, 'Yeah, but I got clean thoughts.'"

Schulz has a hard time thinking up ideas for Pig Pen. "They're planning a Pig Pen doll, you know," he told the Minnesotans. "When you set it down, a little cloud of dust rises."

He has trouble, too, with Schroeder, mainly because of the Beethoven bust on his piano. "I have a hard time drawing Beethoven. Sometimes he looks like James Mason and sometimes like Elsa Maxwell."

Says the Tower, Schulz has some of the emotional problems the Peanuts clan does. He is motivated by the belief that few people like cartoonists, writes reporter Todd Hunt, and he "can't stand" people who send in suggestions.

His wonderment was matched on one occasion by that of little Linus.

Clutching his "security blanket," Linus listened intently to the story of Sambo and the tigers. When the story was over, Linus looked puzzled and asked the question one might expect any normal child to ask:

"How in the world could anybody eat that many pancakes after undergoing such an emotional experience?"

Poor Sam . . . here it is the night before that big Psych exam and he can't make head nor tail out of his notes. Oh sure, he took notes all year long, but he wrote them on the back of matchbooks, envelopes, the fly leaf of his textbook . . . everything that was handy except a note book. We hope that next term he'll have enough sense to be well supplied . . . it's so easy when the book store has plenty of ring binders, filler paper, spiral pads . . . in short, everything you need to make your school work easier.
