Triangle Taps 17 Students, 3 of Faculty For Membership

Seventeen upperclassmen and three faculty members were tapped for membership into Triangle Honor Society yesterday at the second all-student convocation. Rev. Arthur Freeman delivered the Thanksgiving address as a second part of the convocation.

Triangle members are selected by the present membership on the basis on leadership, generally high standards of scholarship, and service to the college. The society's name, Triangle is derived from these three standards.

Faculty members as well as students are selected on the same merits, but faculty membership is for one year only.

Those tapped for membership are Pat Conover, Ginny Dancy, Fred DeFrank, Ted Lekorenos, Mary Lesin, Tony Matz, Marcia Morgan, Sophie Nicholas, Joe Prorok, Gus Rampone, Mary Vezzoli, and Kathy Werst.

Also, Mary Lou Clewell, Griff Dudding, Beverly Luzietti, Ernie Pappajohn, and Gene Salay, juniors.

Dr. Nels Ferre To Address Interseminary Confab Today

The annual Interseminary Movement Conference of Philadelphia is being held here today with Moravian Theological Seminary acting as host.

Dr. Nels F. S. Ferre, internationally known lecturer in theology, will speak to approximately one hundred seminarians. Dr. Ferre's first two lectures are open to the public. The sessions will be held at 10 a.m. and at 1 p.m. in the North Campus chapel.

Dr. Ferre has entitled his morning lecture "Neo-Orthodoxy" and his afternoon lecture "Neo-Naturalism and Existentialism." These lectures are open to all members of the Moravian student body and excused cuts will be given. Members of the faculty and the Bethlehem Ministerial Association are also invited.

Drawing upon his recently published book, Christ and Christianity, Dr. Ferre will also speak to the seminary conference group at 3:30 p.m. Conference discussion groups will meet at 7:45 p.m. when Gordon Jowett, Princeton Theological Seminary and general chairman of the Middle Atlantic Region of the Interseminary Movement, will act as moderator.

Visit By Steverino Kicks Off I-F Weekend This Afternoon

The first Muhlenberg-Moravian football game since 1946, a visit by Steverino, the Inter-Fraternity Dance, and house decorations will be among the highlights of the Inter-Fraternity Weekend today and tomorrow.

The Inter-Fraternity Council, which sponsors this annual event, has invited all members of the student body to participate in all of the activities which are planned.

Steverino, the famous greyhound of the Steve Allen television show, will arrive in Bethlehem early this afternoon and will have her picture taken, wearing the "leash to the city," in Major Earl E. Schaffer's office at 3:30 p.m.

At 3:45 p.m. will be the dedication of the sign for "Steverino Walk" near the site of construction for the new men's dorm. Pictures will also be taken this afternoon of Steverino with the football team on the Moravian field.

Pep Rally Tonight

Tonight there will be a pep rally in Johnston Hall at 7:30 p.m., where the dog will receive a blue and grey felt dog blanket made by Kathy Werst. The blanket, which has a large Moravian "M" on each side will be presented by Tony Matz, president of the Varsity "M" Club.

In addition, Steverino will be made an honorary student of Moravian College. Joe Prorok, president of the United Student Government, will make the announcement. Her official welcome to the campus will be extended by Bob Gray, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

Tomorrow morning pictures will be taken on campus of Steverino and Moravian students. There are tentative plans to have the greyhound visit children's institutions in the area.

'Letters' Citation

At 1:50 p.m., before the game with Muhlenberg, Dr. Raymond S. Hauptert, president of the college, will present Steverino with a citation recognizing her as an "Associate in Animal Letters."

Moravian's mascot, Ogo, will also appear at the game. He will be wearing a new blanket made for him by Miss Werst. Ogo's blanket is just like Steverino's except that it has his name applied in red felt letters.

A new feature of the weekend this year is the addition of fraternity house decorations. The theme for the decorations is "Beat Muhlenberg."

The informal Inter-Fraternity Dance will be in the Bethlehem Masonic Temple from 9 to 12. Music will be provided by the Eddie Holmes Band. Tickets can be purchased at the door for $2 per couple. Decorations will center around the theme "Beat Muhlenberg."

Holmes Orchestra

The Holmes Band has played at Sunnybrook Ball Room in Pottstown, Ursinus College, Drexel Institute of Technology, Temple University, University of Pennsylvania, and most of the high schools in the Delaware Valley area.

During intermission, Gray will crown the Inter-Fraternity Queen and present her with a gift. The queen will be chosen by Eddie Holmes from pictures submitted by members of the fraternities.

Awards for house decorations, scholastic averages, and athletic abilities will also be given at this time. The last two awards will (Con't. on p. 3, col. 5)

'Winter Ball' To Be Formal

The Social Activities Committee announced that the annual Christmas dance this year entitled "Winter Ball" will be held December 13, 9-12 p.m. The dance will be a formal affair.

The attire of the women shall consist of evening gowns, while the men, according to there digression, are able to choose between tuxedos and dinner jackets or dark suits. Due to the nature of the dance, sports jackets are absolutely not acceptable.

Marcia Morgan, co-chairman of the affair, established that the reason for making this dance formal was to create a second traditional formal affair on campus, which has been the demand of many students.

The decorations of evergreen trees, snow, and stars will augment the idea of sophistication and formality. Matt Gillespie will furnish the music for this event at Johnston Hall. Free refreshments will be served by SAC.

Planning Committee

The students and faculty members who have planned for this festivity are Pete French and Miss Morgan, co-chairman; Fred de Frank, vice chairman; Bob Gray, clerk; Pat Conover, Harriet Peters, Joan Albrecht, Mo de Muccio, Dick Tewell, Mr. Kilpatrick, Mrs. Wallace, Mr. Ridge, Dean Sartwell, and Mr. Burcaw.

1959 Yearbook Will Leave Out 23 Senior Pix

Twenty-three seniors will not be included in the senior listing of the 1959 Benigna, editor Nancy Baker announced this week. The senior pictures were taken by a representative of Merin Studio last week, Miss Baker said, and those seniors either failed to make appointments or failed to show up for the ones they made.

No white space will be left for these seniors, Miss Baker said, since the names will not be included in the listing either. All names will be listed in the activity directory at the rear of the book, she added.

Seniors may pick up proofs in fraternity houses or in Main Hall immediately. They will be contacted for orders shortly before or after Thanksgiving.

D.O.G.—NEW FRAT ON CAMPUS

Joining the festivities for the Inter-fraternity weekend is the Delta Omega Gamma fraternity, members of which are weekend celebrity Steverino and his brothers (or is it sisters?). Anyway, I-F representative Stevo leads the way is festivities today and tomorrow. The above was taken at the get-together last Christmas.

VACATION

Thanksgiving recess will begin next Wednesday, Nov. 26, at 5 p.m. and end Monday, Dec. 1, at 8 a.m. Dean Marlyn Rader has announced that double cuts will be given for all classes missed on days immediately preceding and following the vacation.

Going To The Dogs?

Little did we foresee the time when The Comenian would have to come to the defense of man's best friend (a dog, not a woman), but unfortunately the time has come. The controversy, it seems, centers around the four-footed celebrity who will visit our campus this afternoon and tomorrow.

We find the majority of the student body was quite delighted upon the revelation of the Steverino project; the ideas of having a celebrity on campus and the resultant publicity were quite agreeable to most.

However, time has seen this enjoyment fade to a passive display of "So What?" and even to condemnation.

"Making Steverino an honorary student—we're lowering ourselves," say many. How, pray tell, how can we lower ourselves?

Reportedly, faculty members are equally unenthralled with the idea of giving a degree to the dog. It couldn't be jealousy, could it? Giving a dog a bachelor degree or an associateship when he hasn't even lived as long as our illustrious professors have studied, perceptibly could have a down-grading influence and it may hurt some egos.

But let's face facts. Giving an award to Steverino, while all in fun (which it is), isn't going to lower or eliminate our status as an accredited college. Neither is it going to keep any genius-like professors from joining our teaching staffs. And neither is it going to degrade the college in the eyes of prospective frosh.

What it might do, in fact, is spread the college name to a few million people who have never heard of Moravian College. It might just gain the appeal of many prospective students and faculty members. It might just remind a few distant alumni that Moravian College still exists and that it needs money to expand. And least of all, from our standpoint, it might help the Greyhound Bus Corporation.

What our college needs is something to build it up beyond the "almost" level. Perhaps if we stepped down off our pedestals and relaxed our "standards" a little, we might do more for our college than by pretending to be the things we're not.

A little publicity never did anyone any harm (except, perhaps, Eddie Fisher), and the least Moravian can gain from it is a little nation-wide recognition.

To those who think Moravian is suffering, going below its "level," or degrading its professors, we offer our condolences. And we welcome Steverino in the best doggy fashion we know how. ARF! ARF!

Another 'Big' Weekend . . .

Social life during the football season this year seemed to grow to an all-time high. All the Greyhounds' "away" games were opponents' Homecomings, and on two past weekends we've entertained alumni and parents.

Today and tomorrow another "big" weekend greets us, only perhaps this time we've grown tired of socializing. An I-F weekend, as the original thoughts went, would include Friday house parties, house decorations, a big dance, a queen, pep rally, and other miscellaneous items.

However, only one house party is on tap, and on Tuesday only one person was "brave" enough to submit his date's picture as a queen candidate.

Well, maybe we're not a Penn State or a Lehigh, as has been said here before. But a first attempt at a big I-F weekend seems doomed due to, perhaps, a lack of push by the I-F Council and a surprising but not unfavorable decline in inter-fraternity competition this year.

The I-F Council, suffering this year under the pains of an attempt at gaining strength, is experiencing the problems of organization. Perhaps more support from the individual fraternities in the future will give the I-F Council the inspiration and strength it has on other campuses.

And a Note to the Weatherman . . .

This is our last big football weekend. Leave us alone, will ya?

'Much Ado About . . .'

By Dave Schattschneider

First item on the agenda this week is a memorandum for my Under the Table "buddy" and all those who have been mis-informed by her! I AM NOT ENGAGED—contrary to a rumor which started during the choir retreat at Camp Hope and has spread around quite rapidly. Enough said.

While we're on this subject of mis-information—somebody had better clue in our local Bethlehem "Radio Center of the Lehigh Valley" (!?!) WGPA (Those call letters must be incorrect—there has to be a "C" in there for "Clown" somewhere.) In case you didn't happen to be listening to the sports preview Monday of this week at 12:15 p.m. we are playing Wagner College of Staten Island tomorrow! After giving a splendid resume of the past records and this season's accomplishments of the two teams, there floated over the air waves a very tortured version of the Mo-Mo starting lineup—including "co-captain Gus Raapone, Bob Haneley and Joe Epesoto." Rather than stop there when they were definitely out in left field the resounding finale was too, too much. It ran something like this, "Moravian will end its season by facing Muhlenberg College on Saturday, November 22." Lots of luck, boys, with your double-header on Saturday!

Well, one thing that was certainly not a mistake is the recently past Family Day. A big "Thank You" to the members of Triangle and to the table decorating WAC crew for their swell job. It was a day well enjoyed by mom and pop as well as the student—highlighted by a fine football game. Let's see the same thing again next year!

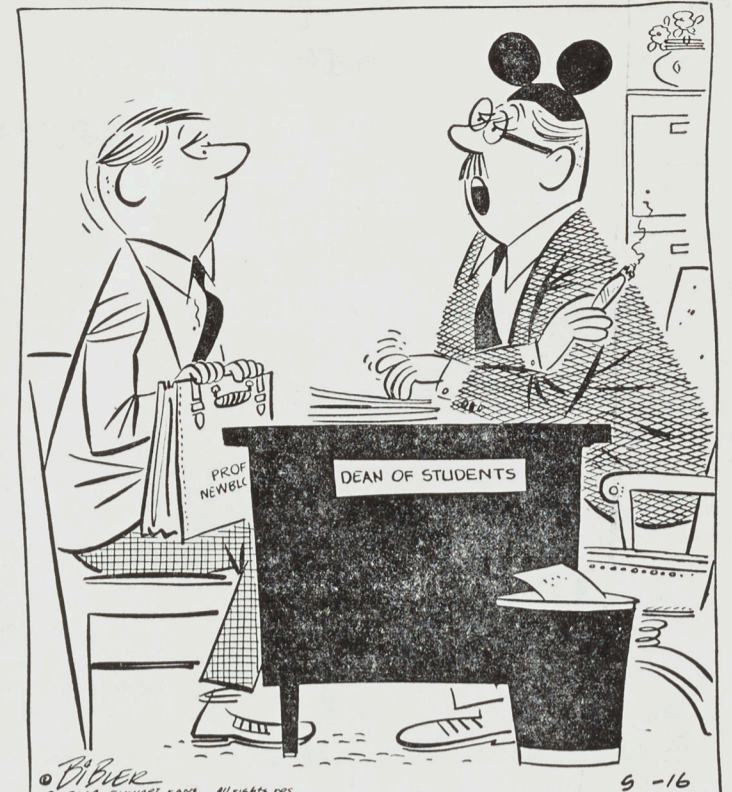

If you're in the mood for some late evening (actually early morning) entertainment, tune in radio station WSAN. Seems there has been quite a battle going on lately with record dedications on the all nite DJ program—for the "TKE Sorority" or "The OGO Dog Club" and various other maligned campus groups and mis-represented individuals.

It's a tired theme so all that can be said is that as of Tuesday 1 p.m. the weather is normal for this 'berg—wet, damp, sloppy, and raining. But by the time you read this the weather will probably have cleared up for several hours and will already be getting back into its usual mood for the weekend (nice thought!)

Latest word from the SAC (that's the Social Activities Committee). The following dress is in order for the formal Winter Ball (remember the name) which will be held on December 13: formal gowns for the ladies and tux for the gentlemen, or dark suits—but please—no sports jackets.

Well, that's it again for this week—see you in two weeks—"whatever you are!"

Coed Treat Boys At LVC During 'Gandering Weekend'

"Gander Weekend" was celebrated recently on the campus of Lebanon Valley College in Annville, Pa., according to the college newspaper La Vie Collegienne.

The weekend was marked by having the coeds open doors, allow males to precede them into the dining halls and class rooms and pay the bills.

Family Day Appreciation

To the Moravian College Community:

Speaking on behalf of the Triangle Honor Society, I would like to extend our warm appreciation and thanks to anyone who had a part in making last Saturday's Family Day the success it was.

Individually, I would like to express thanks to the Women's Activities Committee, Mr. and Mrs. Frey and their Slater Staff for the fine luncheon, and to the members of the administration who helped so much.

I think that this year's Family Day really showed how interested the parents of students are in the place where their son or daughter is spending four years of his or her life.

So, to you, parents, I also extend thanks, for organization would have made little difference had not you showed your interest by coming out in large numbers despite rather adverse weather.

It is the sincere desire of Triangle that Family Day will continue to grow as an annual event, and that each succeeding year will bring both renewed and greater interest. I remain,

Most appreciatively yours,
Peter L. French
President of Triangle

The coeds also had an opportunity to invite and escort a male student to the Friday night "Gander Gala" sponsored by the WAA. Fifty cents was the cost for the affair which featured dancing, games, and refreshments. "Stags" were invited for a cost of twenty-five cents.

On Saturday, two campus organizations co-sponsored "Bewitched," a dress-up hi-fi dance from 8:30 to 12 p.m., at $1.00 per couple.

The Gandering rules, listed below, were in effect from 6 p.m. Friday until after the noon meal on Sunday.

General rules on conduct:

1. Men will precede women into and out of the dining hall.
2. Women must hold the chairs for the men in the dining hall.
3. Women must hold all doors for men. This includes car doors.
4. Freshman women must tip their dinks to all male students.

General governing rules are:

1. Women must ask the men for dates.
2. Women must call for their dates at the men's dorm. (Guys should be ready and waiting at the door.)
3. Women are expected to pay all expenses for the evening. This includes refreshments.
4. Women must escort their dates back to the men's dorm at the end of the evening's activities.

Specific rules for the dances on campus are:

1. On Friday evening, Freshman women must remove their dinks while inside. Freshman men must keep their dinks on.
2. For the dance Saturday evening, the women are required to make vegetable corsages for their dates. All men at the dance must be wearing a corsage!

Nammari Resigns Office Of PAIRC Presidency

Wallid Nammari, a member of the senior class from Jerusalem, Jordan, announced early this week that he has resigned his post as president of the Pennsylvania Association of International Relations Clubs, (PAIRC.) He has also resigned membership in the local branch of the IRC at Moravian College.

Nammari said that financial problems which require additional outside work on his part were the reason for his resigning the state office. His formal resignation will be presented to the Executive Committee of the Pennsylvania IRC at their next meeting on Sunday, Nov. 23, in the YMCA Building in Harrisburg.

According to Nammari, the Pennsylvania Association of International Relations Clubs encompasses "about 50% of the colleges in Pennsylvania."

WALLID NAMMARI

Last April, the Executive Committee voted to hold the PAIRC conference at Moravian College sometime in January of 1959. The conference weekend will feature speakers on international affairs.

There are also four other state officers of the organization among the Moravian student body and faculty. Jeannie Davis serves as corresponding secretary, Barbara Stefanavage is the recording secretary, Robert Russoli serves as the state parliamentarian, and Bernard Nering, who did not return to school this year, was the group's historian.

Dr. Mary Kennedy, assistant professor of history, is one of the four faculty advisors of the state organization.

Nammari stated that he resigned "in protest" from the local branch of the IRC. He said that although the IRC and Political Activities Club (PAC) were legally one, according to their constitution, they functioned as two or-

Nammari further stated that he personally felt that if they wanted two seats they should become two separate organizations with different leadership or they should remain as one organization with one leadership.

He concluded by saying that he felt that, "the USG should decide whether they should have one seat as one organization or whether there should be two seats for two different organizations."

'Berg Rivalry Resumed; Annual Trophy Initiated

The big football weekend is here at Moravian as the Hounds face one of their toughest tests of the season against Muhlenberg tomorrow.

The "Berg" club is big, strong, and fast. They have compiled a poor-looking 4-3 won-lost record, but their losses came in close, well-fought ballgames. They lost to a strong Lafayette eleven 27-14, to Gettysburg 7-6, and to F & M 18-13. Their victories came over Temple 24-18, Hofstra 12-0, Albright 27-20, and to Lebanon Valley 42-12. Valley took the Hounds over the jumps 14-0 on Homecoming Day.

Muhlenberg is led by 6 foot, 195 lb. Ed Yost. Yost, a bruising fullback, has been a two-time member of the All-East team. His running balances the terrific outside bursts of halfback Herb Owens. Owens, a great breakaway runner, has been hampered by injuries through most of the season, but is now in good condition. Herb scored 10 touchdowns last season as a sophomore.

Trophy At Stake

A trophy has been contributed to the game-winner by the student government organizations of Moravian and Muhlenberg. Rules governing the presentation of the trophy are the same as the Upsala-Moravian trophy rules.

The past history of the Moravian-Muhlenberg rivalry has resulted in Muhlenberg over Moravian three games to two. Two scoreless ties in 1900 and 1901 have also been played. Nineteen Hundred was the opening year for the rivalry which will be resumed tomorrow at 2 p.m.

TKE's Initiate 7 Into Membership At Formal Ritual

The Epsilon Gamma Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon national social fraternity initiated seven men into its membership on Friday, November 14, at 7 p.m. in the Teke House at 1133 Monocacy Street.

Among those initiated during the formal ritual ceremony were the fathers of two present undergraduate Tekes and four alumni of the former Sigma Theta Pi local fraternity.

The fathers of undergraduate Tekes who became associate members of Tau Kappa Epsilon, were U. Lawrence Bergstein, father of Teke president Al Bergstein and Francis Sites, father of George Sites, assistant manager of the Teke House.

Bergstein is a lawyer from New York City and Sites, a sales engineer, has his home in Bergenfield, New Jersey.

The Sigma Theta Pi alumni who became associate members of Tau Kappa Epsilon included Lewis Amici, a Air Force veteran, who is presently enrolled as a sophomore business administration major and lives in Bethlehem, and Donald W. Eckert, employed by Sears, Roebuck and Company,

Also initiated were Hugh J. Flanagan, employed as a bacteriologist in Philadelphia; Tony Klein, attending Moravian as a special student, a veteran of the United States Navy who lives in Bethlehem; and John H. Semanick, a resident of Bethlehem employed in the Purchasing Department of Bethlehem Steel.

Houndettes Tie, Drop Two In Playday Action

Moravian's girls' hockey team attended the playday at Cedar Crest College last Saturday and returned home without a victory. Beginning at 9:30 a.m., the Houndettes played a series of three fifteen minute games, with rest periods of ten minutes in between, against Cedar Crest, Albright and Kutztown State Teachers' College.

In the first game, Cedar Crest scored the only point when in the early minutes of the game, they managed to bring the ball through Moravian's defense and into the goal. For the rest of the time, the two teams battled back and forth with neither gaining the advantage.

Slippery Grass

Against Albright, the Houndettes were able for the most part, to keep the ball in the center of the field but were unable to score any points. The game ended in a scoreless tie. A slight drizzle made the grass extremely slippery making it hard for the girls of either team to keep their footing and raising the question of whether it would be possible to continue the Playday.

The officials decided to let the games go on when the rain stopped before the beginning of the third game. The Houndettes kept Kutztown from scoring until the last five minutes of the game when Kutztown brought the ball in from a penalty corner and scored the one point of the game.

The game scheduled for Monday against Centenary was cancelled because of rain and was not rescheduled.

Seminary Tops League; Oppose Sigs In Playoffs

The regular season play of intramural football ended last week with the Seminary and Sigma Phi winning. Sigma Phi finished second and will play the Seminary best out of three for the championship.

The Seminary had a hayday last Wednesday when they rolled over the VETS 38-0. The VETS were unable to cope with the Seminary's passing power which through the season has proven one of the finest in the league.

The final game of the season saw Sigma Phi and the Fighting Irish battle it out for second place. This was one of the most exciting games of the season. Sigma Phi edged out a 26-25 victory.

Sigs Tally First

Sigma Phi scored first on a Jim VanNatta to Willie Wohlbach pass play which covered 25 yards. The extra point was also scored on a pass from VanNatta to Wohlbach. The Fighting Irish came fighting back as Bill Gaughan spotted Neil Wagner in the end zone for their first score. The Irish missed the extra point.

The Sigs increased their lead when VanNatta connected with a long pass to Larry Fatzinger for six points. Their attempt for the conversion failed as the quarter ended.

In the early minutes of the second period Bill Gaughan again hit Ned Wagner in the end zone for the T.D. The Fighting Irish made the point after touchdown on a pass from Gaughan to Tom McHale to tie the score at 13-13.

Irish Retaliate

On the next series of plays, Sigma Phi scored again when Wayne Pysher hit Fatzinger with a neat aerial. They failed to make the conversion. The Irish retaliated and tied the score once again on a pass from Gaughan to McHale. The half ended with the score deadlocked at 19-19.

The third quarter saw both teams displaying a tighter defense and there was no scoring. In the opening minutes of the fourth quarter however, the Sigs scored a T.D. on a pass from VanNatta to Pysher. They then converted the extra point.

The Irish finished the scoring for the afternoon when they pulled to within one point on a pass from Gaughan to Wagner. They were unable to get the extra point however and wound up on the short end of the final score.

Placement News

Most companies being contacted for college interviews have completed schedules one year in advance. Although they will not send a representative to Moravian this year, they will accept applications. Information may be obtained at Dean Gillespie's office.

'Hounds Bounce Back To Swamp Seahawks, 34-6

In tuning up for tomorrow's big one against Muhlenberg, the Hound's, last Saturday, rolled over the Seahawk's from Wagner College, 34-6. The game was witnessed by a large, damp, and chilly Parent's Day crowd as they sat through a steady rain. The weather, however, proved no foe to the Hounds as they amassed 222 yards rushing and 88 yards passing.

THE EASY WAY OUT

Forced to punt the first time they had the ball, the Greyhounds quickly found themselves in control again as Tony Matz fell on a loose ball at midfield. Two plays netted six yards before Paul Noonan made a tremendous catch of a Matz pass on the 17. George Hollendersky then picked up four. On the next play Joe Esposito plowed through tackle and hit pay dirt 13 yards downfield. Hollendersky's attempt to run for two conversion points failed.

Olson Scores

Several plays later Esposito returned a Seahawk punt 18 yards to their 42. On the first play from scrimmage Matz again faded to pass. John Olson, who played one of his best games thus far, hauled it in at the five and stepped into the end zone. This time Esposito ran for the two point conversion and the Hounds led 14-0.

The Hound defense had held the Seahawks to a mere 10 yards rushing in the first quarter. The forward wall led by Jim Kritis, Bob Haney, Gus Rampone, and Olson threw back practically every Hawk attempt to advance the ball. The Hawks gained only 22 yards rushing all afternoon.

The Greyhounds lone tally in the second period came as the result of a pass interception by Matz. With Esposito, Hollendersky, and Meyers eating up yardage, the Hounds moved 51 yards in 13 plays to pay dirt. Hollendersky plunged the final two yards.

Neither team threatened again until late in the third quarter when the Hounds again started a sustained 49 yard T.D. march. Directed by freshman Russ DeVore the Hounds scored in 11 plays. Featured in this drive was the running of Dave Coe and Bucky Yelovich as well as a DeVore to Jeff Gannon pass. Coe ended the drive as he cracked over from the one. The score then read 26-0.

Port Jervis Visitors

With the Port Jervis, N. Y. high school gridders screaming for DeVore, Calvo re-inserted him with Moravian in possession on the Seahawk 27. DeVore skirted right end on the option and pitched back to Gannon on the 20. Jeff sped down the right sideline and barely into the endzone at the corner flag. DeVore connected with Noonan for the 33rd and 34th points.

Wagner's lone tally resulted from the recovery of a Moravian bobble on the winner's 42. Trentalange connected with Bruce Wilson for a first down on the 12. Trentalange then connected with end Al Ferrie for the T.D.

Harriers Win In Season Finale; Terry Takes 7th

Freshman speedster, Wendell Terry, running his usual great race, ranked up his seventh victory in eight meets last Saturday as he paced the Harriers to an easy 16-47 win over the Mules from Muhlenberg.

The Harriers record of 5-3 this year constitutes the first winning season for the sport at Moravian.

FALL FOCUS

Joe Esposito—Halfback

This week from Budd Lake, New Jersey, we have in the Fall Focus the hard running Greyhound halfback, Joe Esposito. Joe is a senior who stands six ft. and weighs 190. He is currently in his fourth season with the grid-ders.

Joe's football career began at Netcong High School in New Jersey. There he participated in football, basketball and baseball earning a total of ten varsity letters. In his senior year he received the honors of All-County and All-Area as a backfield man. He also was named to the Second String State Group 1 team.

One of Joe's greatest accomplishments came in a game between his high school and Seton Hall Prep who up to that time had been undefeated in the last twenty games while Netcong was having a poor year. In that game

Joe ran 85 yards for the game's second touchdown and then ran another 50 yards for the third tally. Netcong went on to win 25-0.

Joe's interests pertain to "a little of everything." He is a member of the Tekes and Varsity M Club.

Joe is majoring in English and plans a career in the teaching field. He was recently engaged to Daneen Jones, a Moravian graduate of 1958.

In their first year's competition last season, the Hill and Dalers compiled a 2-2-1 record.

Last Saturday, as in other Moravian victories, it was Terry setting the pace with sophomores Ray Herman and Jim Worman placing second and third respectively and turning in their usual steady pace. Freshmen George Fiegel and Bob Durn rounded out the first five positions for Moravian.

First year man, Dick Ochs of Muhlenberg actually finished two seconds ahead of Greyhound ace Terry, but freshmen are ineligible to compete at Muhlenberg because of the schools's higher enrollment.

Today freshman and varsity teams from Moravian will compete in the Middle Atlantic Conference at St. Joseph's in Philadelphia.

The summary: Wendell Terry, (Mo) 26:18; Ray Herman (Mo) 27:43; Jim Worman (Mo) 27:54; George Fiegel (Mo) 28:35; Richard Lewis (Muhl) 28:45; Bob Durn (Mo) 28:48; Bill Rinker (Mo) 29:26; Hank Sunyak (Mo) 29:28; Dick Gross (Mo) 30:16; Jack Jacobs (Mo) 30:17.

Grapplers Plan Exhibition Next Tuesday

The Moravian College wrestling team has been practicing over two weeks in preparation for their opening match against Albright on Dec. 6. The grapplers will conduct a wrestling demonstration designed to familiarize spectators with the sport and the rules which govern the sport. The rule changes for the 1958-59 season will be shown.

The demonstration will be held on Tuesday, November 25 at 8:00 p.m. in Johnston Hall. Members of the Greyhound squad will display take-downs, reversals, escapes and pins for the benefit of the students who wish to view the demonstration.

The Benchwarmer

by Neil Eskolin

Moravian was the only team in the Valley to walk off with a victory last Saturday and what a victory it was. Those Greyhounds of ours sude looked good against the pass-happy Seahawks. The linemen did a fine job of blocking and tackling and looked sharper than they have all year. Even the pass defense, which has been a costly weakness, was very successful. The Hounds intercepted three aerials and foiled 13 other attempts, while they themselves had a fine afternoon as they took to the air on several occasions and completed four neat passes for 88 yards. Tony Matz was threading the needle with every throw.

Russ DeVore took over the signal calling position in the second half and had great success. He shows excellent promise and should prove to be a key man in Coach Calvo's plans for the future. Other freshmen who saw action in the second half namely Dave Coe, Bucky Yelovich, Dan Turner, and others showed they can be counted on for strong offensive and defensive work.

Tomorrow is the big game of the season. A lot depend son the outcome. The Hounds will be going all out to even their record, in what will probably be one of the toughest games of the year. Muhlenberg has shown themselves to be a powerful squad. With men like Owens and Yost in the lineup they boast one of the better backfields around. The thing that might prove advantageous for the Hounds, though, will be that Muhlenberg has a few key men sidelined with injuries. Moravian on the other hand should be at full strength, as they had no serious injuries last week. The game could go either way, but if Moravian moves like they did last Saturday, the victory should be ours. With the Hounds having an up and down season though, it's hard to say what will happen. Don't miss it though—there's sure to be plenty of action and excitement.

There will be another interesting game taking place in the area tomorrow, the traditional Lehigh-Lafayette game. Lafayette has had a pretty good season despite losses to Dartmouth, Rutgers, and Tufts, and have been labeled the slight favorites in the tussle tomorrow. Lehigh, although not bad, can't be compared to the squad of a year ago. They have pulled a few surprises though this year and at times have shown greatness. So I'll go along with Lehigh.

With the basketball squad cut down to size, the boys have been holding intensive practices this past week. The opening game with PMC is only a week and a half away and the boys feel confident they'll "be ready" by then. A number of the freshmen have shown a great deal of promise . . . Wonder who's going to take Toner's place. Could it be one of the frosh? Expect to see a great year for the cagers—with a lighter schedule, lots of talent and experience.

Don't miss the wrestling demonstration Tuesday night in "Archie's Gym." Coach Kuklantz will have his boys there to show what they've learned and how well they've learned it. It'll be a good opportunity to see what makes wrestling tick.

See ya on the bench.

Reference Room, New Librarian To Aid Student Study

Rev. Henry Williams, administrative librarian, cited the obvious need for more study area and a better controlled reference library as the prompting factors in the creation of the new reading and reference room.

The reference library was planned by the library committee last year and installed in the old North Campus reading room last summer.

Space has been provided for 1600 reference reserve books and 100 periodicals. Books are at present being placed in the room that have been in the stacks due to the lack of library space. Rev. Williams remarked that it will now be possible to build up the reference collection.

Miss Carolyn Langford has been employed by the school as a full-time reference librarian. Miss Langford will be in charge of the new reference library and will aid the students in finding reference material and using the library.

Additional stacks for the use of the circulation library are now being placed on the third floor. This improvement project will continue during the next two years.

Rev. Williams pointed out that reference books do not circulate and must be used in the reference room. Quiet, no smoking, and other regular library regulations will be enforced.

Literary Mags Discussed At Pi Delt Meet

Peter J. Schwartz and Miss Anne Schonberg, editor-in-chief and associate editor, respectively, of the Muhlenberg College Literary magazine, The Arcade, were the guests at a meeting of Pi Delta Epsilon last night, Thursday, November 20.

The meeting of the Moravian chapter of the honorary collegiate journalism fraternity was held at 7 p.m. in the Emsee annex in the basement of Comenius Hall.

The Muhlenberg editors were questioned about their magazine and the publication procedures by Miss Mary Vezzoli, editor of The Manuscript, Moravian College Literary magazine. Following this, the meeting was thrown open to discussion from the floor and the visitors also questioned the members about The Manuscript.

Following the meeting, cake and coffee were served to those present.

Prior to the meeting, Schwartz and Miss Schonberg were the dinner guests of Pi Delt in the South Campus dining hall. Representing Pi Delt at the dinner were David A. Schattschneider, vice-president of Pi Delta Epsilon, Miss Vezzoli and Mrs. Kay Lane Phelps, Director of Publicity for the college and advisor to the group.

"And this ugly guy is Fred DeFrank."

"The men's room is that way."

"But he always pours the coffee on his shoes."

"You mean he won't give you any ice cream?"

Well, whatever they were saying, the attention of all hands seems to be pointed in the direction of the young ladies, regardless of anyone else. All of which goes to make Family Days that much more interesting.

What Characterizes U. S. College Students? Silence, Apathy, Concern, Dirty Thoughts?

(ACP)—Who is today's student? What does he believe? Hardly a magazine remains which has not attempted some definition of Joe College: 1958.

Here a college journalist outlines her ideas of what the student is according to what he feels. The article is by Laura Carr, co-managing editor of Western Reserve University Reserve Tribune, Cleveland.

Silence Versus Sapathy

And then there's the story of the man who went to his psychiatrist. In the usual battery of Rorschach, T.A.T.'s and I.Q. Tests, the good doctor drew a triangle on a sheet of paper and showed it to his patient, asking "What does that remind you of?"

The man looked at it and answered promptly, "Sex."

The doctor got the same response when he had drawn a circle, a rectangle, and an ellipse, and said "Son, you need help."

"But doctor, the patient protested, "You're the one that's drawing the dirty pictures."

This sort of suggestive analysis, in the age of the engineering of consent, the depth study, motivational research and the "p.r." man, has now been applied to (the student) in a somewhat dirty picture of apathy. He is, according to his critic, one of the beat generation, or the angry young men, or as a recent issue of TIME puts it, one of the no-nonsense kids. . . .

All of these accusations seem to point nowhere in particular except to those generalizations proffered by your grand-daddy and mine about "this younger generation." Today's students have been called the "silent generation" for their lack of literary champions, the loud and clear voices of earlier campuses, which were regarded as symbols of unity.

If this generation appears to have nothing to say, no radical philosophies to offer, perhaps those students of the past were too quick to voice their new-found theories. Theirs might have been the hasty sin of sapathy. The quick answer is not the forte of the student of today. He must retrench, for new ideas cannot grow without strong roots in the knowledge of the past.

Did vigorous outbursts of oratory and bravado from the ivory towers do much to change the world? Despite the righteous bonfires of the thirties, scrap metal went to the Orient, and American businessmen sold celluloid toys MADE IN JAPAN.

College students were expected to be noisy, zany, and idealistic; out in the cold cruel world, they would soon learn to be realists. The occasional spark of genius was an element treated as lightly as the hazing prank.

The great Albert Schweitzer, who seems to have achieved serenity in a world which had forgotten this gift, was once asked what he thought of the future of Europe, Schweitzer, musician, doctor, and theologian, hunched his shoulders and said: "My business is ethics, not prophecy. What's the use of talking about it? Perhaps all the talkers will be toppled in the end."

There is danger in silence which becomes a habit, wherein intellect atrophies. It is this problem with which critics of the college student are concerned. Although Amherst psychologist Robert Birney may be right in his statement that college students are "too concerned with their psychological well-being," it does not seem that the student's egocentricity stops here. His intellectual aims are searching for a credo which will serve our complex existence.

Must we then, accused of "sapathy," speak out to indict the future, when the past has proven successful in creating a world threatened by atomic destruction?
