Beck Oratorical Contest Scheduled For April 16

The annual James M. Beck oratorical contest will be held in Johnston Hall during a regular convocation program April 16. First, second, and third prizes of $25, $15, and $10 will be awarded as deemed by a group of judges to be selected from among notable community figures.

The contest is open to all regularly attending full-time men and women students, whose applications are submitted to Walter Beaupre, assistant professor of speech and drama, no later than March 17.

Applications and general instructions may be secured in Beaupre's office (South Hall) or in the Publicity office in Colonial Hall on South Campus beginning Monday.

A preliminary contest will be held April 6, at which time five

Rev. Mackey Will Receive Alumni Award

The 1959 Comenius Day Award will be presented to the Rev. Dr. Sheldon E. Mackey. The award is made annually by the Alumni Association to an alumnus who has made an outstanding contribution in his field.

It will be presented at a dinner meeting of the association on Thursday, March 19, at the Hotel Bethlehem. This year's award will be in the form of a key.

The award is made at this time in commemoration of the birth of John Amos Comenius on March 28, 1592. Comenius, an early Moravian, is internationally famous as an educator.

Dr. Mackey receives the award in recognition for his accomplishments in church administration. At the present time he is Secretary of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and Co-Secretary of the United Church of Christ. He has held these positions since the merger of the E & R Church with the Congregational Church, forming the UCC.

He graduated from Moravian in 1936 with a Bachelor of Arts Degree. After graduating from the Theological Seminary in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, he served as pastor of churches in Orwigsburg, Reading, and Sunbury, Pennsylvania. In 1954 he became Administrative Assistant to the President of the E & R Church.

Rev. Mackey received an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree from Franklin and Marshall College in 1954 and a LL.D. from Ursinus in 1958. He is married to the former Marie Dilliger, a 1935 graduate of the Women's College. They have five children.

Dr. Arlington A. Nagle, president of the Alumni Association will make the award to Rev. Mackey at the dinner. Arrange-contestants will be selected to take part in the final contest on April 16. Judges for the preliminary contest will be chosen from members of the faculty.

Besides the three money prizes, honorable mention awards will be a book, In Defense of Yesterday, a biography of Dr. Beck by Morton Keller. The book was published in 1957.

Students who plan to enter the contest will receive, during the preparation period, maximum assistance from Beaupre as well as from other faculty members in a position to help insofar as choice of topic and method of presentation is concerned.

Subject matter for the speeches, according to the official rules, is limited only by the "bounds of good taste."

The late James M. Beck, LL.D., was graduated from Moravian in 1880. He was a corporate attorney and at one time held the position of Solicitor General of the United States.

The oratorical prize was established by him from the income on a $1,000 fund to promote excellence in oratory.

Brookhaven Scientist On Campus Next Week

Moravian students will have an opportunity to hear a nationally known scientist next week. The scientist, Dr. Leslie F. Nims, of the Brookhaven National Laboratory, will be here from Wednesday through Saturday.

During a recent interview Lester Lazarowitz, president of the Rau Science Society, which is sponsoring the visit, said that this is the first time a scientist of Dr. Nims' stature has visited Moravian for this length of time.

Lazarowitz also said, "We in Rau Science hope that everyone will have a chance to meet Dr. Nims. He is planning to talk to both science and non-science majors. If you don't wish to bring up a question in front of a large audience, Dr. Nims would like you to walk up to him in the hall or make arrangements for a private discussion."

Students are especially urged to attend the keynote speech which will be given Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the South Campus Chapel. Students from all Lehigh Valley Colleges have been invited.

The topic will be "Energy, Life, and the Pursuit of Existence." Afterward there will be a reception in the George Washington Room.

Dr. Nims will also address two classes during his four day stay. The classes and the topics he will discuss are as follows: Wednes-

USG Plans General Elections; Officers To Be Installed At Tuesday Meeting

New Student Government Officers for 1959-60 term will be installed on Tuesday night, 7:30 p.m., in room SC203. The officers will be determined by general elections on Monday and Tuesday.

Rev. Forney To Be Speaker For Religious Emphasis

The annual observance of Religious Emphasis Week will take place on both campi of Moravian College, March 9-12. Events will include chapel addresses, classroom talks, Convo address and two evening programs by The Rev. Melvin Forney of Philadelphia, featured speaker of this year. His main topic will be "The Christian's Responsibility in a Secular World."

Reverend Forney was an honor graduate of the Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary. He is at present the pastor of the Third Baptist Church in Philadelphia.

He is especially known for his outstanding work with the youth in his pastorate. Rev. Forney has been a past president of the Ministerial Union of Philadelphia, and has served as pastoral counselor for the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor Union.

He is also well-known in his connection with the State Legislatures. He is the chairman of the Federated Legislative Committee of Pennsylvania, conducting the yearly Legislative Field Day.

Hospitality and publicity committees have been selected to help Rev. Forney during the program as well as provide him with advance publicity.

Appointed to the hospitality committee are David Stehley, chairman; Cynthia Geiman, Robert Gohdes, William Needs and Paul Graf. Appointed to the Publicity Committee are James MacDonald, chairman; Nancy Boerstler, Carla Nowack, Ernie Pappajohn and Gene Salay.

Flu Shots Planned In Early March

Reservation slips are now available for a set of two influenza inoculations to be given the first and third week of March. The shots, at a cost of one dollar each, will be available to faculty, students, and college employees.

According to Harvey T. D. Gillespie, Moravian health director, the Public Health Service indicates that an influenza epidemic is not an impossibility although none is now threatening.

Reservation slips are available in the business office, office of the Dean of Men, and the office of the Dean of Women. They must be returned to Gillespie's office before noon, next Tuesday.

The shots will be given in Johnston Hall from 8 to 10:30 a.m., March 4 and March 18.

Sixty per cent of the student body cast their votes this past Monday and Tuesday in the Primary elections to nominate Charles Bartolet and Peter French for President. Others nominated were: Vice-president, J. Robert Gray, Fred Lipari; Treasurer, James McDonald and Ernie Pappajohn; Secretary, Joan Albrecht, Judy Laning.

Results of the votes cast were: Presidency, Charles Bartolet 257, Peter French 193; Vice-presidency, J. Robert Gray 197, Fred Lipari 249; Treasurer, James McDonald 222, Ernie Pappajohn 227; Secretary, Joan Albrecht 274, Judy Laning 173.

The conduction of the primary elections was due to the possibility of write-in ballots, as stipulated in the USG constitution.

Primary elections were taken care of by the members of the Elections Committee. Chairman of the elections committee is Gene Salay.

Do We Need Student Government?

Once again the time for student government elections is here, and once again we're faced with the same old problems that come with the same frequency.

Student government elections, it's admitted, usually turn into nothing more than popularity contests. It isn't the person who has the most leadership ability or the best ideas who becomes an officer in most cases. Rather it's the person who has the most friends and perhaps has an arbitrary social group backing to boot.

But then it might be said, why not? After all, what is student government anyway? Possibly it might be an opportunity for someone to add another activity to his list of achievements when filling out a grad school or employment application.

It might be a great opportunity for a person who has a compulsive leadership complex and who likes to see things done his way.

And then again it's entirely possible for it to be an opportunity for someone who feels like doing his best for the college—with a real sense of service. But then we ask, what for?

Does a student government really do a college a great service? Or rather, CAN it?

A student government, we suppose, is the main method a college administration uses to reflect its policies and actions. If something isn't liked, the student government usually lets them know. But why let them know? We paid to get an education in the way a college is used to giving it. If we don't like it, we can always leave.

The college, in person of faculty or administration, could probably do just as good, if not a better job, as the student government in the arbitrary selection of students for student-faculty committees. It could also do just as good a job in doling out the funds to organizations, although the student leaders might take a little more care in the process and get a little closer to the organizations involved.

Political scientists might call this undemocratic, but a student doesn't attend college expecting to take over full control.

The fact remains, however, that we HAVE a student government. How have we used it? In the past year, despite much disagreement and dissatisfaction with the persons selected for committee membership, the student-faculty committees have done a much better-than-average job in carrying out their duties.

Financially there hasn't been much to complain about, except that the government leaders got involved in a money mixup with a campus organization last June. But herein is a prime example of a fallacy of the collegiate student government. Putting unwarranted trust in a fellow student in financial matters is to be expected for a FIRST time. Fortunately there seldom are any second and third opportunities.

And since these incidents usually occur so infrequently, there is no chance for experience to bring about a remedy. With a one-year term of office, the leaders hardly get a chance to know their jobs well when they are replaced by the winners of a school-wide popularity contest who in most cases haven't even been to a student government meeting before the night on which they're installed.

Moravian has been exceedingly liberal in granting powers to its student government. Where the really important control lies—in money distribution—Moravian's student leaders have more authority and control over more money than those at many other colleges—including Lafayette, Muhlenberg, Cedar Crest AND Lehigh.

The powers Moravian's student government has are powers the college did not have to give. But we have every right in the book to take those powers and make good use of them—to demonstrate responsible leadership.

And this goes for the "mass" as well as the candidates for office. It is up to those who will be elected next week to make good use of the powers entrusted them, and it is up to the voters to make the election more than just a popularity contest.

'Much Ado About...'

By Dave Schattschneider

Several years ago a journalistic effort of Penn State U., Froth, produced a serious sociological report dealing with the history of a joke. Now, we must realize that conditions are somewhat different at Penn State than they are here at Moravian, but nevertheless, upon reading this little essay there appear some grounds for an analogy.

Birth: A freshman thinks it up and chuckles rather loudly, waking up two men in the back row during Chapel.

Age five minutes: Freshman tells it to a senior in the Emsee who answers, "Yeah, it's funny, but I've heard it before."

Age 1 day: Senior turns it in to the Comenian office, receives profuse thanks.

Age 7 days: Comenian editors get desperate for material (late Wednesday night), print joke.

Age 4 years: Comenian associate editor, rummaging for column material, prints the joke as an original.

Age 4 years 3 months: Associate editors of exchange papers, throughout "the greater Lehigh Valley" reprint the joke.

Age 4 years, 6 months: Associated College press release contains the joke, credited to Comenian.

Age 10 years: WSAW comedians in Allentown discover the joke, retail it accompanied by howls of glee from the boys in the orchestra.

Age 10 years 6 months: WG-PA comedians in Bethlehem discover joke, retail it after two garbled attempts, accompanied by howls of record laughter.

Age twenty years: Reprinted in Reader's Digest, not credited to Comenian.

Age about 100 years: Joke is used to illustrate one of two main points by chapel speaker at Moravian College.

Age 100 years, one month: Moravian College professors begin telling it in class to illustrate no particular point at all.

You may not agree with this but due to rather obvious limitations this columnist is not in a position to trace the development and see if what he has surmised is really true.

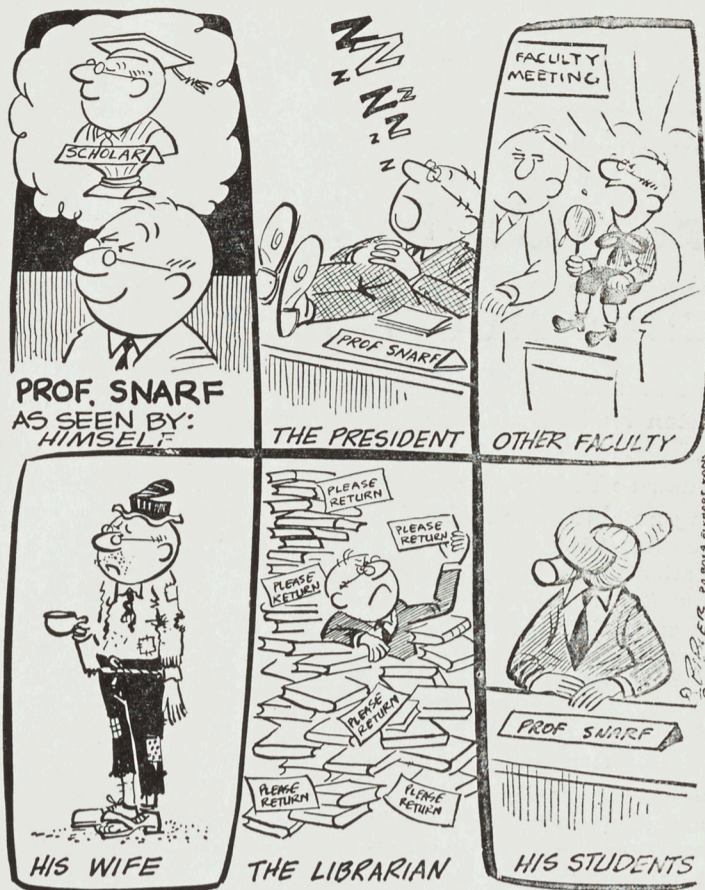

It's always bad to try and talk about something serious after trying to talk about something humorous but the point is to get out and vote in the U.S.G. elections next Monday and Tuesday.

The primaries were rather surprising to some people around the alma mater and the elections results should be even more interesting. However, the main point is still—get out and vote!

See you next week, what ever you are!

Two Candidates Vie For Each USG Office

General elections for the four offices of the United Student Body of Moravian College will be conducted on the North Campus next Monday and Tuesday. Two candidates for each office are running in the election. In order to better acquaint the student body with each candidate, his plans and opinions, The Comenian has prepared this special page.

Each candidate was asked the following two questions: (1) Do you approve of the present USG constitution, or would you prefer to see a new one installed? What would you like to see the USG do during the coming year? The answers below are numbered in the same order as the above questions.

For President

Charles Bartolet is a junior history major from Easton. He has been a member of the Men's Hazing Committee, and is now a member of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and is vice president of the Varsity "M" Club. He has also been a member of the football, baseball, and wrestling teams, the latter of which he was co-captain.

(1) I think that the present constitution is adequate, but with the advent of the Student Union, the new dormitory facilities, the expanding campus, and with the accelerated extra-curricular activities program, the present constitution will naturally need revision to cover these conditions.

(2) I would like to see the following: (a) I would like to solve immediately the problem of an adequate day student lounge. (b) A more coordinated and expanded social activities calendar, especially for the dorm students in their leisure time.

(c) An expanded intra-mural activities program for both the men and women students. I would also encourage competition with other local colleges. (d) I also believe that we should go ahead with the plans for joining the N.S.A., for it will strengthen our student government by giving us a broader outlook and many ideas from other colleges who are faced with problems similar to ours.

(e) I would also strive through the Lehigh Valley Student Government Association to develop a closer relationship between area colleges and to develop educational, social, and cultural exchanges with these local colleges. This would include speakers, social events, and other types of educational programs.

Peter French is a junior history major from North Plainfield, N. J. He is vice-president of USG, co-chairman of the Social Activities Committee, president of Triangle Honor Society, and a member of Omicron Gamma Omega fraternity. He is also a cheerleader and a member of the choir, the constitutional revisions committee, the freshman hazing committee, and the student union committee. He has been a dorm counselor, dining hall proctor, and football manager.

(1) Last year we ratified a new constitution at Moravian. After a year in operation we have found inconsistencies and defects of a minor nature; however the main problem stands outside the Constitution.

This problem is the new Student Union and how to integrate it into our college activities. When this integration comes about there will definitely be need for constitutional revision.

In conferring with other college campuses who are faced with similar problems I can see that ours is not an easy task but I believe that work and study will produce an adequate solution.

(2) In the coming year I would like to see the USG undertake several projects. I believe that expansion of the Social Activities Committee could produce a fuller social calendar, with SAC acting more in a coordinating role.

I would like to see our growing college become a member of the National Student Association which I feel would benefit us greatly. Finally, I think USG should strive to improve existing conditions in our biggest problem, getting students more interested and active in student affairs and activities.

For Vice-President

Robert Gray is a junior history major from Pottstown, Pa. He is president of the Inter-Fraternity Council and of the junior class. He is also clerk of the Social Activities Committee and USG representative from the Political Activities Club. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon and has been head waiter of the North Campus dining hall.

In respect to the two questions which have been asked of me as a candidate for vice-president of the USG, I would like to combine my answers into one. I am doing this because I think that the two are very closely related.

I believe that under the present system of student government, the present constitution is quite adequate. However, it is my opinion that the present system should be changed.

I believe that to have a proper representative government it is necessary for the whole student body to select the representatives to USG. To allow the representatives to be selected by a comparatively few organizations is in my opinion a poor system.

Therefore, I would like to see the USG strive to reorganize the government to include all of the students at Moravian College.

In closing let me add that I think the use of a constitution as a political football will never produce good government.

Fred Lipari is a junior history major from Easton. He is treasurer of both the Inter-Fraternity Council and the Varsity "M" Club. He is a member of Omicron Gamma Omega and has played varsity football.

(1) The present USG Constitution has been the object of great concern for a good many months. Its foundation is basically an operative one, otherwise its revision would have been sought by the constituents of USG upon encountering any difficulties.

It is my opinion that the USG constitution suits the demands and meets the needs of the USB in most areas. However, I will endeavor to make the necessary changes for the betterment of the USB.

This afternoon a representative of the National Student Association will meet and discuss with the student body the advantages and potentiality of membership in the National Student Association. If we should decide that belonging to this organization will be beneficial to the student body, revision will not necessarily be of necessity, because this organization has a standard constitution for its members which does not conflict with our constitution as it now stands.

(2) I should like to see a closer relationship between the USG and USB in the future. It is my feeling that a closer relationship between the two would be advantageous in pursuit of solutions to more problems of concern to the student body. In the past, some decisions made by USG have been in direct conflict with student opinion.

I feel that a relationship such as this would provide more power to the USG as it would be fully representative of the students.

Of problems of direct concern to the student body, the USG would do well in conducting its meetings in direct discussion at an all-student convocation.

There are many individual problems which would be sought out and dealt with in a satisfactory way if legitimate student polls would be held regularly. I feel that the consensus of opinion of the students is of major importance when issues directly concerning the welfare of the USB are being considered.

For Secretary

Joan Albrecht is a sophomore Spanish major from Cheltenham, Pa. She is secretary of the Treasurer-Sorority Council, to which she is representative from Alpha Epsilon Pi Sorority. She is also a member of the Social Activities Committee.

(1) I feel that the present constitution is adequate for the needs of the student body at this time. However, it is only serving as a basis for a more complete one which will fulfill the demands of future additions to the school, such as the student union.

(2) I would like to see the United Student Government promote closer inter-scholastic relations. USG has been working on this idea in the past but I think that if more emphasis were put on it we would see stronger ties grow between us and our neighboring colleges.

Also, USG should and could, I believe, bring the day and dorm students closer together both socially and academically.

Judy Laning is a sophomore elementary education major from Palmyra, N. J. She is a cheerleader, member of the girl's hockey team, and secretary of the Women's Athletic Association. She is a member of Phi Mu Epsilon sorority.

(1) There should be a democratic, working constitution. Of course we'll never have one which will suit the needs of each person. The constitution has been working but there are many loopholes. One of the main ones in the unequal representation of clubs and organizations.

Take for example: the individual classes are much larger than many of the smaller organizations but there is the same representation for each.

Too, I think the WAC's officers should be elected by the women of Moravian College, not appointed by the president of USG, because I don't feel he's qualified. These are just two of the main loopholes that I think should be taken out of the constitution, but many of its good points should be kept.

(2) First of all, I'd like to see an effective point system put into operation. This would enable many more and qualified people to participate in the college activities.

In this way the people will do a better job if they can concentrate on a lesser number of activities.

Secondly, there is a committee working on the Student Union Center. Their work should be accomplished as soon as possible so that when the building is ready, there will be a definite set of rules pertaining to the facility. In this manner the people paying for the building benefit sooner and for a longer period of time.

For Treasurer

James MacDonald is a sophomore pre-law major from Staten Island, N. Y. He is president of the sophomore class and held the vice-presidency of his freshman class. He is an Omicron Gamma Omega pledge and both news and sports writer for The Comenian. He was a member of last year's cross-country team, the Constitutional Revisions Committee, and is chairman of the publicity committee for Religious Emphasis Week. He has also played intramural basketball.

(1) I believe that the USG Constitution is adequate at the present time for our present governmental set-up. A new, revised constitution was just approved last year by a vote of the student body after a careful study of this document by the Constitutional Revisions Committee. However, since Moravian College is growing, our constitution will probably have to alter in the near future.

The present Constitutional Revisions Committee, of which I am a member, is aware of the new problems that will arise in our constitutional make-up when certain progressive actions, such as the new Student Union Building, are carried out on campus. At such time as these measures are carried out, I believe this Committee will submit a revised Constitution to the USG.

(2) I would definitely like to see the USG carry on a program that would attempt to gain a greater support of the organization by the entire student body. If USG meetings are more fully publicized and talked up to the students, attendance at these meetings will be greatly improved.

More complete cooperation in government and support by the student body would give the USG a far stronger position in determining future school policies affecting us all.

Ernest Pappajohn is a junior business administration major from Bethlehem. He is treasurer of Tau Kappa Epsilon and business manager of The Benigna. He is also a member of Sigma Phi Alpha classics club and is alumni secretary of the Veteran's Association. He is a member of Epsilon Beta Alpha business society and was tapped this year for membership in Triangle.

(1) The USG constitution is adequate for the present school's need. But with the introduction of the new Student Union many problems have arisen and will arise which are not covered by the present constitution.

Therefore, I suggest that after careful investigation of the union's needs, the constitution be amended or entirely reorganized.

(2) The United Student Government should continue the present policy of strict scrutinization of all vouchers and all monies.

I intend to initiate that budgets be presented in the spring semester thereby allowing both the organization and the budget committee ample time to investigate fully the financial needs of the organization.

Matmen Bounce Back To End Sensational Campaign

The Moravian Wrestling team made a strong comeback from last week's loss to Wilkes as they overwhelmed Elizabethtown 31-5 on Tuesday night to close out the season. The Hounds matmen captured the last five bouts, four by pins, in ringing up their eighth victory in nine meets.

To start off the action, Bill Rinker, Moravian's outstanding 123 pounder pinned Wayne Hodel in 2:29 with a guillotine and Dave Cornelius decisioned Calvin Carter of E-town to send the Hounds out on an 8-0 lead.

Bill Fox of Elizabethtown gave his team their only points as he pinned Moravian freshman, Bob Sallash, in 1:45 with a body press.

Dan Turner, using strong defensive tactics, decisioned Jim Weaver 3-0 in the 147 lb. class. Ron Myers then followed with an 8:25 pin over Helmut Blair with a half nelson and body press.

Silvetz Pins

In the 167 lb. bout, Moravian's senior captain, Bob Silvetz pinned John Wenger in 1:30 with a bar and crotch. Gus Rampone followed with a pin over Bryan Seese in 2:50 with a headlock.

Heavyweight freshman, Lew Rozelle finished off the night with a flourish as he felled Dan Anwyll in 8:23 with a half nelson and body press.

Tuesday's meet was the last for Rampone and Silvetz who are both seniors. Rampone ended the season with a record of seven wins against two losses and Silvetz shared the team's best record along with freshman Bill Rinker; an 8-1 slate.

CONSOLATION

Picking up half the team's points in their wrestling match against Wilkes last Friday, 147-pounder Dan Turner has his arm raised in "victory." The tie, one of two (the other involved heavyweight Lew Rozelle), gave the Hounds two of their four points in Wilkes', 32-4 romp.

OGO's Still In Lead In I-F Ten-pin League

As the second round of the Inter-Fraternity Bowling League got underway, the OGO's increased their strong hold on first place as the OGO Black squad rolled to a 3-1 victory over the TKE Red team while the OGO Red Quartet eased past the Sigma Phi Green by the same score.

Tony Morelli lead the OGO Black team as he rolled a 545 series. He was followed by Ken Sepe with a 531 series. Steve Kalamar paced the alternate OGO squad with a 527. Bob Haney set the pace for the losing TKE's with a 526 while Jim Harkel led the underdog Sigma Phi's with a 430.

In the other action, Sigma Phi White eeked out a 2½-1½ win over the Grey TKE's. They copped the opening and closing games by a comfortable margin but had to settle for a tie in the second match. Tom Meder was high for the Sig's with a 425 while George Mesios topped his teammates with a 433.

Powerful Colonels Crush Unbeaten Grappers, 30-4

The superiority of two unbeaten was unquestionably decided on Friday night as the Wilkes College wrestlers met and soundly drubbed the Moravian matmen to the tune of 30-4 before a near capacity crowd of about 1700 in Johnston Hall.

Moravian seemed to be licked after the first bout which saw 123 lb. undefeated ace, Bill Rinker go down to a 10-6 reversal at the hands of Dick Stauffer.

Wilkes quickly moved out of reach as they upped the team score to 13-0 on successive pins by 130-pounder, Girard Senick over Dave Cornelius in 7:30 with a chance and body press and by Tom Morgan who in the 137 lb. match gained a fall over Bob Sallash in 5:18 with a bar arm and reverse chancery.

In the 147 lb. contest, once beaten freshman Turner, managed to eek out a slim 1-1 draw with Ron Bienkowski. Turner scored first with an early escape in the second period and Bienkowski countered with another escape after five seconds of the third period.

Wilkes mathematically wrapped up the match in the 157 pound division as undefeated freshman, Ted Toluba completely routed unbeaten senior captain, Bob Silvetz, 7-1.

With the score then reading 18-2, Wilkes was home free. However, they did not slacken off at all as their next two entrants, Marvin Antinnes, in the 167 lb. class, and captain Walt Glogowski, in the 177 lb. semi-wind-up bout, easily took care of and pinned Gus Rampone and freshman newcomer, Dave Bryant.

Antinnes felled Rampone, who was held scoreless, in 6:47 with a chancery and arm tie up after which Glogowski knocked off Bryant in 5:46 with a reverse cradle. Bryant was also unable to score a point. In all the bouts, before the pins, Wilkes scored a total of 38 points to Moravian's 9, six of which were collected by Rinker.

In the Heavyweight finale, Lew Rozelle managed to draw 1-1 with Bob Sisljan to close out the match.

Cagers End Season With Win Over Lions

Ducky Potter, despite his injured shoulder, again led the Greyhound cagers to a 65-61 victory over Albright in the season finale last Tuesday night in Johnston Hall. Coach Calvo's hoopsters finished the season with a 13-7 log including an 11-4 MAC record.

Seniors Joe Keglovitz, Russ Causley, Bill Davis and Lorenz Martin who played their last collegiate game scored 13, 9, 4, and 4 apiece. Charlie Smith and Fred Dietzel led the visiting Lions with 16 and 15 points each.

The game was tied early at 6, and 10. Potter, who finished the campaign with 422 points for an average of 21.1 per game, scored on a jump shot to send the Hounds into a 16-15 lead, but a seven point outburst by the Lions with 8:40 left in the half made the score 22-16. Each team then scored ten points in the closing minutes of the half as the Lions held a 32-26 bulge by intermission.

Moravian had it's chance to pull far into the lead but was only able to click on two of eight free throws in the first six and a half minutes of the second half. However, they hit for three field goals while the Lions were held to a single deuce and pulled into a 36-34 lead with 14:33 to go.

The Lions put together four quick points after which Potter tied it up with a neat jumper. The visitors again countered with a goal, and Potter then put Moravian ahead for keeps on two successive jump shots, 42-40.

With the Hounds on top 47-40 Coach Calvo reinserted his four seniors who along with Potter held the Lions at bay for the remainder of the game.

Freshman Len Zavacky sank 24 points for the Junior Hounds as they raced to their eighth victory in a row over the Albright jayvees, 75-65. The J.V.'s final slate stands at 10-5.

Kokolus Paces Coeds In Win Over Wilkes

The Moravian Houndettes on Tuesday afternoon coasted to their eight victory in nine games as they trounced the visiting Wilkes co-ed hoopsters 53-32. Vicki Kokolus was high scorer for Moravian as she tallied as many points as the entire Wilkes team.

The Houndettes ran off to a 20-5 lead after the first quarter and continued to pour in the points in the second period to gain a very impressive 35-12 lead at half time.

The visitors began to find the range in the third period as they scored 10 points. However, the Moravian sextet refused to yield any part of their lead and rolled up 14 points in the period.

Vicky Tinnis replaced Vicki Kokolus in the forward slot and scored the only two field goals of the final period for the Houndettes. The Wilkes club sank 10 points but the Moravian lead was too large to overcome.

Following Vicki Kokolus in scoring was Judy Clay with 10 points, Vicky Tinnis with 7, and Faith Mong with 4.

BLOW THE MAN DOWN!

Leftfielder Joe Keglovits winds up for the long throw to the plate after making a grandstand catch up against the wall. Centerfielder Deck Causley came close to making the grab and almost caused a catastrophic collision. Despite a left body block by Ducky Potter (on floor), two Albright men came crashing through for the tackle. Incidentally, the Greyhounds won their finale, 65-61.

The Benchwarmer

by Neil Eskolin

It seems that not much can be said about the wrestling meet last Friday. Those Wilkes boys really have it. They know their takedowns, reverses, escapes, and besides just knowing all this, they can apply it with tremendous speed and efficiency. From watching the matches it appeared as though most of the wrestlers were planning their strategy for the third period before the first one was even over. It sort of takes the wind out of Moravian's sail to be defeated by such a one sided score. But Wilkes must be given all the credit in the world. They are in a class all by themselves.

Now that the basketball season is just about over, the Pro teams are trying to get their hooks into some of the top flight collegiate talent across the country. This year seems to be shaping up as one of the most productive in regard to potential pro players since 1955 when such standouts as Maurice Stokes, Tom Gola, Jack Twyman, Ed Conlin, Corky Devlin, Ed Fleming, Dick Garmaker, Jim Luscatoff and Ken Sears made the big jump from college ball.

Top ranked in the 1959 list of prospects is Bailey Howell, the wonder boy from Mississippi State. So far it looks as though Howell will be entering the Cincinnati Royal fold next season. Other names to be looking for are Bruno Bain, Washington; Bob Boozer, Kansas St; Leo Byrd, Marshall; Tom Hawkins, Notre Dame; All American Don Hennon of Pitt; Mike Moran, Marquette; and Alan Seiden, St. Johns. These boys should add quite a punch to the NBA next season and of course don't forget, "Wilt the Stilt" will be on hand for the Warriors.

Things will be pretty quiet on the Moravian sports scene for the next few weeks with basketball and wrestling out of the way. If you have nothing to do though, stop over to Johnston Hall next week and watch the diamondmen get into shape. Also it won't be long before the tennis men and golfers will be getting started. It's a little too early to start making any predictions for the spring so for right now I'll . . .

See ya on the bench.

THE INDOOR SCENE

Jim Gano — Basketball

Our subject for the Indoor Scene today is Jim Gano, hustling back-court man from Easton, Pa.

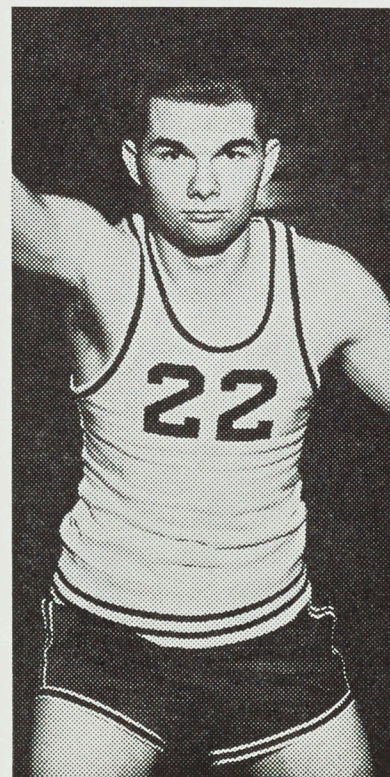

Jim, in his first year at Moravian, has seen duty on both the jayvee and varsity basketball squads. He is an even six feet tall and tips the scales at 175 pounds.

Gano is a graduate of Easton High School where he starred in three major sports. He played varsity basketball for three years, pitched for the Easton baseball team three years and then to top his career, played football in his senior year.

All Star Team

Jim's biggest thrill in high school sports was his selection to the first team All-Stars of the East Penn Basketball League. He'll be keeping his pitching arm loose for Moravian's baseball season also.

Jim, a math major, hopes to coach sports and teach either math or biology in high school when he graduates.

Hot-Cold Hoopsters Split Two With Royals, Lions

by Russ Simonetta

Moravian's basketball squad ran red hot and ice cold last weekend as on Thursday night they played host to a fine Scranton University ball club (14-4) and won 83-73 and on Saturday they traveled to Lincoln University (6-15) and were upset to the tune of 78-63.

Against Scranton, the Hounds moved into a big 47-34 lead and maintained it in the second half. Ducky Potter, shooting sensationally, had a 17 point first half while Dick Chergey garnered 14. Hal Rice scored a dozen points in the second half and Chergey the game's leading scorer, added 11 more to help maintain the lead.

Potter suffered a shoulder injury with 13:42 remaining and left the game but came back four minutes later to direct the cagers floor efforts.

The Hounds, bottling up big, high scoring center, Ed Kazakovich, and outrunning the Royals, led 64-49 with 11 minutes remaining. Scranton put on a whirlwind rally and cut Moravian's advantage to 68-65 with 4:25 left. At this point, however, the cagers ran off nine straight points behind the fine efforts of Chergey and Rice to stave off Scranton.

The usually hot shooting Greyhounds suffered a complete collapse Saturday at Lincoln University. The local quintet who have connected on close to 50% of their shots were colder than the winter weather as they made only 26 of 84 floor shots for a poor 29.9%.

Coach Rocco Calvo's starting five, good for better than 60 points among them in previous games, were limited to a mere 24 by the roaring Lions. High scoring Ducky Potter, still troubled with a shoulder injury received in the Scranton clash, managed to score only three field goals as he played about 12 minutes.

Leo Stinner led the Hounds with 14 points while Lorenzo Martin scored 10. Russ Causley and Hal Rice were held to 2 and 5 points respectively. Causley failed to hit from the floor.

Moravian jumped into a 2-0 lead on a field goal by Potter and, after John McKelvin tied it, went ahead for the last time on another goal by Potter. From there on, the Lions scored in spurts of six and eight points to build their margin to 10-4, 17-9, and 25-13 at the 10 minute mark. The Lions led 44-27 at the half.

The second half proved to be no better for the Hounds as they managed to shave only two points off the lead in the first five minutes, 51-36, and 90 seconds later fell behind 59-38 as Lincoln wrapped eight points around a field goal by Stinner. The Lions enjoyed their biggest lead of the game at 61-39 with 12 minutes to play.

While the varsity was splitting their decisions, the Junior Hounds extended their winning streak to seven. In a free wheeling game against Scranton's Jayvees, they came out on top 107-100. At Lincoln on Saturday they racked up a 54-42 win.

Girls Sweep 3 Straight To Win Albright Playday

The Houndettes ran over Albright, Kutztown, and Cedar Crest last Saturday to become the only team at the Albright Playday to take three out of three games. The girls played three consecutive games of 16 minutes each with 10 minutes between games.

In the opening game against Albright, the Houndettes surged ahead in the first half scoring 18 points, and stayed well ahead in the second half by sinking 12 more. The Houndettes' guards kept the Albright forwards from scoring at all in the first half and allowed them only 9 points in the second half, three of which were made on foul shots. The final score was Moravian 30, Albright 9.

Although Moravian found the competition stiffer in the game against Kutztown, the Houndettes pulled into the lead early in the game. Despite a concentrated push on the part of Kutztown in the second half, the Houndettes held the lead to win the second game 12-11.

In the Cedar Crest game, the Houndette forwards, receiving the ball repeatedly from their guards, dropped 18 points in the first half while Cedar Crest slipped through the Moravian defense only once. In the second half the scoring was equal with each team making two field goals and a foul shot for a total of five points. The game ended with Moravian having 23 points to Cedar Crest's 7.

The girls who took part in the playday games were Barbara Snyder, Judy Clay, Vicky Tinges, Vicki Kokolus, Delores Lang, Beverly Luziatti, Sandy Yaeck, Dora Thomas, and Sandy Yetter. The timer was Mary Lesin and the scorer Sophie Nicholas.
