Report Accepted Favoring End To Hazing Program

By a vote of nine to eight, representatives to United Student Government decided Tuesday to accept a report recommending abolishment of nearly all phases of the freshman hazing program.

According to the report by the Freshmen Hazing Revisions Committee, composed of Burke Johnson, chairman, Peter French, Robert Gray, Joel Leeb and William Needs, the Tartarus Committee has been disbanded and any upperclassman who "pursues the hazing of freshmen will be treated as a disciplinary problem by the Dean's Office."

Instead of formal hazing per se, a "Regulation Period" will be followed from the opening class day of the Fall Semester until Homecoming Day.

During this period freshmen will be required to wear dinks and name buttons. An All-Sports Day will be held mid-way between this period on which the freshmen will compete against the sophomores in various sports. The results of these events will determine whether or not the freshmen will continue to wear dinks and buttons.

Freshmen will continue to participate in the Pajama Parade and the program for Homecoming.

Committee Suggested

A "Regulations Committee" will be formed and will consist of the vice-president of USG, chairman of the Social Activities Committee, chairman of the Women's Activities Committee, editor of The Comenian, president of the sophomore class, and a woman officer of the sophomore class or a sophomore girl chosen by WAC.

The purpose of the committee will be "to work in conjunction with the Faculty Committee on Freshman Orientation in the areas of social, recreational and cultural programming."

USG President Joseph Prorok announced that the administration and faculty are presently in the process of revising the entire hazing and orientation program for freshmen so as to stress the total orientation of all aspects of college life at Moravian.

The present program, the administration and faculty feel, considers hazing as it is now carried out as detrimental to this end.

Spirit Antagonized

Harvey T. D. Gillespie, Dean of Men, reflected this view by noting that hazing as presently carried out is not commensurate with the standards of college life and is therefore antagonistic to the spirit of the student body.

Gillespie added that it was necessary to stress the positive aspects of college life not by "knocking them down" by discouraging them but by acquainting the freshmen with what the school has to offer through a substantially improved program of orientation.

Tops Bartolet In 2nd Election As 76% Vote

Peter French was installed as president of the student body for 1959-1960 at the United Student Government meeting Tuesday night on South Campus. French, who succeeds Joe Prorok, was voted into office in the general election this past Monday and Tuesday, March 2 and 3.

Seventy-six per cent of the student body cast their votes in the general election, as compared to sixty per cent in the primaries held last week. Last year's general election showed a voting percentage of 78 per cent. Ten partial votes were also cast in Monday and Tuesday's election.

Also installed Tuesday evening to serve with French were Fred Lipari, who succeeds French as vice-president; Jim MacDonald, who succeeds Ted Lekorenos as treasurer; and Joan Albrecht, who succeeds Mary Lou Clewell as secretary. Miss Albrecht and MacDonald are sophomores, while (Cont. on p. 6, col. 3)

Applications Available To Qualifying Juniors

A program of study for junior students who have "given evidence of good general competence in college studies as a whole and of superior performance in a particular field" may qualify for an honors program to be initiated by Moravian next fall.

After approximately three years of study by the faculty Honors Committee, the program was presented to the faculty of Feb. 19 and received final approval Feb. 26. The committee consists of George Tyler, chairman; Samuel R. Kilpatrick, Miss Ruth Roberts, Michael Elias, Dr. Lloyd Burkhardt, and Dean Marlyn A. Rader, ex-officio.

Students who wish to apply for the program may submit applications to the office of Dean Rader not later than April 15. The committee is expected to return its decision not later than May 1, in time for pre-registration for the fall semester.

A folder giving detailed information about the program will soon be available at the dean's office, Tyler said.

Program Purpose

The purpose of the program, which leads to a bachelor degree "with honors," according to the report is (a) to provide students of unusually high ability and demonstrated competence in study, who aspire to do special rewarding, through difficult work, an opportunity to extend themselves in special studies related to their main interests, under expert direction.

(b) To encourage those students who have real ability to aim for higher achievement from the beginning of their college life, and so to influence for the better the whole academic life of the college.

(c) To recognize by suitable means the achieved aim of doing sound independent work while at the same time maintaining a high level of ordinary general study, distinguishing their names on diploma and commencement programs by proper marks of honor.

Requirements

Requirements for participation in the program are a cumulative grade point average, at the time of application, of 3.00 in all college work and a 3.30 in the field in which the applicant proposes to do honors work. A preliminary investigation showed that about 30 juniors fell into this eligible category.

The field in which the student participates, according to the report, "will usually be the student's major field, but need not necessarily be so, provided that at the time of application he has completed enough work in the field proposed to qualify for senior standing in the department during his senior year in college."

Consultation

A student interested in participation, the report says, should first consult the head of the department in which he proposes to do honors work in regard to the department's willingness to accept him, the general plan of the program to be submitted to the committee, and the faculty member who would undertake the direction of the program.

A full, written proposal will then be presented to the Honors Committee. The committee may accept it, reject it, or return it with suggestions for revision.

Successful completion of the honors program entitles the candidate to six hours of academic credit. A single grade is given at the end of the year, and no partial credit is given. Students will not meet in classes but will work individually, preparing reports and taking final written and oral examinations. Activities will be guided by a member of the faculty.

Oral Exams

Oral examinations on the honors project will be conducted by (Cont. on p. 5, col. 4)

Religious Emphasis Week Begins Monday; Convo Tues.

The annual Religious Emphasis week will begin this coming Monday, March 9, and will run through Thursday, March 12. The theme for the week will be "The Christian Responsibility in a Secular World."

Under the Table

by Nan Gingham

The only reason for this long and extended silence is that we got sick and tired of sitting under the table, and decided to get out and live a little, sow some wild oats, and go UNDER THE HYPO for awhile. We're back, bruised but unbeaten, ready and primed for a whole new season of shouting, kicking, and scandalizing.

It appears lately that Moravian has undoubtedly been in the throes of having a new tradition on its hands. Do we think we can handle this problem, gentlemen? Gradually we see St. Luke's Hospital developing as the new "campus away from campus." As someone said recently, you're just not a part of the Moravian family until you've been really SICK.

And what better place to get away from it all, than the hospital? Where else can you have breakfast, in fact, all three meals, served in bed? Does your roommate have goblutes on his ZORCH? How many poverty-stricken students can afford those fluffy white open-air hospital "angel" robes? And it's not many who are able to have mineral oil, penicillin, or plasma on their coffee breaks.

Does your dorm proctor wake you up at three in the morning to give you a sleeping pill? Does the Slater System offer pureed asparagus, tortoise a la King, shredded cow's lung, or swine cerebellum jelly served in the original brain pan? You just haven't lived until you've been a member of the bedpan brigade.

Those from the Mo Ward participating in this medicinal round-up were Charles Bartolet, Joe Nunes, Ruth Lomerson, and Bruce Robertson, and George Jessup and Betsy Blum, who are still county-clubbing. A timely reminder for all hospitalers: don't just lie there, Do PUSH-UPS!

Of course, we're attempting to give it the old college try and oust this new tradition by giving flu shots. If you haven't already gotten them, or one-half of them, you're just out of luck. We'll send you a card. How about one like we got: "What's all this fuss about your having to get cut up a little? Last week I hadda have my soul removed."

The obvious conclusion is that we're all completely BEAT. Do you suppose this condition could be due to the heavy cultural and intellectual atmosphere on campus? Is it significant that the Blackfriars' latest production will be the BAD SEED?

We hope y'all get well very soon, as nobody can afford any more collisions! Thanks to our "Much Ado" friend for holding down the stretcher until we got back. See you in the dispensary.

The End Of Hazing?

At Tuesday night's USG meeting, by a majority of one, a committee report was accepted which abolishes freshman hazing, and in its place, substitutes a more developed orientation program.

In a sense the whole argument over the matter and the end result were unfair. Number one, through the fault of the constitution and its system for representation, 17 people (mostly juniors and seniors) voted for 770 students.

Number two, through the fault of the USG itself, it was not made clear at the meeting that the action taken on the committee report would be the final action. Some people (including ourselves till the time of this writing) still thought the matter would have to come up before the students in a referendum to amend the constitution when everybody would have a chance to vote. Evidently, since no mention is actually made of hazing in the constitution, this is not necessary, and the committee report was sufficient enough to put the new plan into effect.

Number three, through lack of publicity of the issue, the freshman class, who seem to be the most concerned to keep hazing, were not represented as well as they could have been.

These mistakes do, in our opinion, constitute a kind of unfairness in the matter. Those who feel strongly about keeping hazing on campus may thus be justified in trying to get the motion rescinded. However, we would urge these people to carefully consider that they may be taking a narrow minded and negativistic point of view of the orientation program suggestion.

We feel that perhaps the above-mentioned junior and senior representatives voted for an orientation program because they have more insight into its greater possibilities. These students have seen hazing here two or three years more than the freshmen and sophomores and should be a little more qualified to compare possibilities of the systems. Here, at least, are some of the observations that we as an upperclassman have made.

Most people have agreed that an orientation program would probably be a good idea but that it wouldn't work. Making something like this work depends almost entirely on student attitude, mainly the attitude of the upperclassmen. If students take the whole thing as a joke and tell freshmen they don't have to bother attending orientation program events for them, of course the frosh won't cooperate. But if they come in and find from the attitude of upperclassmen that they are expected to attend these functions, and upperclassmen themselves are helpful in carrying out the program, freshmen shouldn't have to rebel against the program. Why would you need enforcement? Or do we have too much faith in upperclassmen?

Such an orientation program could integrate freshmen into a fuller area of college life than could hazing. Hazing can unite the freshman class, but so can provisions for freshman contests and parties, such as the recent one held by this year's freshmen. This approaches the problem of unity positively rather than negatively as in a spirit of rebellion against an outside group.

Hazing does not bring the frosh closer to the sophomores. In most cases, and this is admitted by freshmen, it leaves a feeling of resentment between the classes which is passed on to the next year's freshmen. Why not a more effective Big-Little Sister and Brother program, a better sports day, combined social events?

Hazing does not bring the frosh closer or even in contact with juniors and seniors, faculty and administration. These people are just as much a part of campus life as sophomores. Why couldn't they also offer their help in integrating the newcomers and mix socially with them? What does hazing provide for this?

An orientation program that would be successful would naturally require much effort in developing it and in carrying it out. It's a challenge, but so is life, and not many of us would give up before we start in that.

A Necessary Challenge . . .

With the institution of an honors program next fall, Moravian will take a big (and necessary) step forward in gaining stronger academic status. An opportunity is afforded those who really came to college to gain an education. Now the men can be weeded from the boys.

We will look for YOU to take advantage of the challenge that presents itself. Let us see Moravian in its true light.

"HOW DID THE FACULTY MEETING GO, DEAR?"

The Mail Box

German Prof "Insulting"

To the editor:

It is my opinion, as a student in intermediate German class, that the unwritten right of a college student has been infringed upon. I feel insulted over a recent departmental ruling which says that, henceforth, any student caught writing in his book shall receive a zero for his day's efforts and the books will be checked by the teacher.

To be sure, this idea is a sound one because it suggests the best way for a student to learn his German lesson.

School books, however, are paid for by the students own money and become his property, and when a citizen of the United States is told what he must do with his own property, in this case a book, assuredly an insult has been delivered.

I would be willing to take my chances on learning by writing in my book as long as the right to learn in my own way is not removed with penalty of zero.

Happy to have chosen Moravian College because of its liberal and democratic principles. This incident has really shaken me up and prompted me to express my protest against this high school stuff.

Yours truly,
Richard A. Girard

which time Rev. Forney will answer any questions that students may have.

A lenten service will be held on Wednesday, March 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the North Campus Chapel. Harold Cole, vice-president of the Religious Activities Committee will preside. Rev. Forney will speak on "Calvary's Answer to Twentieth Century Secularism."

Rev. Forney is scheduled to speak to the faculty during fourth period, Thursday, March 12.

Anyone wishing to have a personal interview with Rev. Forney may do so by contacting him and arranging an interview.

The Religious Activities Committee consists of John Woltjen, chairman, Harold Cole, Mary Ann Smodish, Dianne Stoltz, Charles Fishel, Fred Harberg, Mrs. Edwin Wallace, Mr. William B. Miller, and the Rev. Henry Lewis.

Suggestions Urged

To the Student Body:

Tuesday evening the USG passed a measure which would abolish hazing in the form now practiced at Moravian. It was quite apparent that this measure did not have the backing of the entire student body, which the USG is supposed to represent.

Those who were against this measure seem to realize the need for a revision of the hazing practices but felt that matters had been handled rather arbitrarily.

The controversy around this issue is intense. I propose to the students interested to meet in groups, for example dorm areas, discuss what they feel a good revised hazing program would be, and present such a program to the hazing revisions committee.

I would also urge that day students who are interested in this issue find out when a meeting is being held and attend such.

Finally, I would have all bear in mind that whatever program is adopted, it will have to be coordinated with an extended hazing program now under consideration by the administration.

I appreciate such active student interest, and I hope such will prevail in future student issues. I am,

Sincerely yours,

Peter L. French

NSA Veep: USG System Mickey Mouse

Calling Moravian's system of student government a "Mickey Mouse situation," Fred Warner, vice president of the National Student Association, addressed a group of students last Friday afternoon.

Warner said it is unnecessary to have a representative from each organization included in the student government. He said that in this manner there could be no spirit of working for the good of all since each representative will be attempting to achieve the most he can get for his own group.

Student government should be a full-time job, Warner said, with all committees made up of government members. The representatives should be elected at large by the student body rather than having organizations involved, he said.

"You can't expect people who are tied up in campus organizations to do an adequate job with student government," he said.

Warner seemed quite amused upon learning that student government candidates do not have to be members of the government prior to the election.

Officers should be elected either by the representatives, he said, or with requirements for previous service. He found it difficult to understand there were no other requirements for an officer other than a 1.80 cumulative average.

It would not be difficult to have a liaison between the government and the campus organizations, Warner said, so that organizations could have their views aired adequately without giving them too much power.

Apathy Problem

Speaking of apathy rampant in college organizations, Warner said the same is true in colleges all over the country. Students begin college as freshmen full of enthusiasm, he said, and the student government should find good and suitable means for properly channeling that enthusiasm.

Also, he said, freshmen should be encouraged to grasp an idea of why they are in college, and they should be impressed with ideas of what they can get out of college in an educational vein.

Faculty, Administration And Families Guests At TKE Open House

Faculty and Administration members and their families will be the guests of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity at an "Open House" to be held on Sunday, March 8, from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the TKE House.

The affair is under the supervision of Jack Casey, chairman of the Fraternity's Social Activities Committee.

According to Casey the purpose of the "Open House" is to allow the faculty members and their families the opportunity of going through the house, seeing what the fraternity has done to it, and to answer any questions pertaining to the house.

Members of the Social Activities Committees include Bob Fatzinger, Ralph DeWalt, Joel Leeb, and Ted Neidengard.

Audubon Screen Tour Topic Is "Wildlife Down Under"

The fourth in the Audubon Screen Tour programs presented by the Moravian College Conservation Association will feature Alfred M. Baily and his film "Wildlife Down Under" tomorrow. The program is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Johnston Hall.

Alfred M. Baily is a favorite and familiar Audubon lecturer to Bethlehem audiences. Director of the Denver Museum of Natural History, he is also the author of "Birds of Arctic Alaska" and "Birds of Colorado" now on press, as well as a contributor to Frontier, "Nature," "National Geographic" and other magazines.

His work has taken him to such places as the Hawaiian Islands, Siberia, Arctic and Southeastern Alaska, Europe, the Egyptian Sudan and, with the famous bird artist, Louis Agassiz Fuertes, to Abyssinia.

He has made a 40,000 mile expedition to Wake and Midway Islands and three expeditions to Canton and the Fiji Islands, New Zealand, and Australia.

The Denver Museum has made four field expeditions to Australia, and Dr. Baily, as its director, accompanied naturalists of the National Museum of Victoria in Melbourne.

The story of the most recent expedition to Outback country for motion pictures of native and wild life of the continent down under starts in beautiful Adelaide, capital city of South Australia, and shows in turn the journey over the great desert and sand dune area of Central Australia; aborigines in their wilderness background; wild buffalo at Marrakai station; pear fishing at Broome on the Indian Ocean; and Perth, capital of Western Australia.

The long journey was made in springtime. Tropical vegetation in profusion was filmed in color, even including bamboo in bloom, a rare sight since it flowers only once every twenty-five years.

The final Audubon Screen Tour for the 1958-59 season is scheduled for April 4 when another Bethlehem favorite, Fran William Hall, will show "Land of the Sky Blue Waters."

It was brought out that hazing tended to impress the freshmen through fear in order to bring about class unity at the expense of instilling proper spirit. To overcome this defect, the Regulations Committee would coordinate to "channel the interests of freshmen" toward constructive attitudes, said Prorok.

Alan Bergstein stated that he felt hazing was essential to bring about freshman class unity. This attitude was reflected by a number of speakers, including a large faction of freshmen who were present at the meeting.

Gillespie closed the discussion with the observation that a good orientation program would "do more good" for the individual freshman and for the school than does hazing.

NSA Membership

A motion was also passed to submit an application for membership in the United States National Student Association, contingent upon approval by the administration, as a result of the recent campus visit of the organization's vice president, Fred Werner.

Peter French, USG vice president, noted that the NSA could serve to help solve many of the problems facing a school such as Moravian by providing information regarding such problems and how they were dealt with at some 450 other member colleges representing over 1,000,000 students.

No Point System

Donald Evans reported that the committee to investigate the possibility of installing a point system for extra-curricular activities at the college had concluded that

The show, still in the initial planning stage, is being sponsored by Omicron Gamma Omega fraternity. It will be the first all-student show since Dave Henkleman produced "Anything Goes" in 1956. Part of the proceeds of the show will be donated to the William Hauptert Scholarship Fund.

French announced that the school had received an invitation to take part in the annual Pocono Laurel Festival to be held from June 6-11. At this time, he said, a woman to be elected from the junior class would represent the college at this festival. A motion was made and passed to refer the invitation to the junior class.

Finally, the Religious Activities Committee and Pi Delta Epsilon were each allocated $50 to cover the expenses of upcoming events.

Officers Installed

At the close of the meeting, the new officers were installed. Prorok commented that his executive committee had, through the past year, tried to keep in mind the object of bettering the school by emphasizing improved academic effort, reduction of disorganization in school affairs, and an increased social program.

In receiving the gavel from the outgoing president, French stated that he is looking forward to a most successful year in which he hopes USG will become the most active institution on campus to better serve the interests of the student body.

To this end, he appealed for a great deal of thought in upcoming class elections, in order that those who "will be best capable of doing a good job," will be chosen.

Vets Will Nominate At Next Meeting; Members Sought

Nominations for the officers of the Moravian College Veterans Club will take place on Tuesday, March 10, at the regular club meeting during the fourth period. Men interested in joining the club are also invited to this meeting.

The election of new officers will be conducted at the Comenius Hall lobby polling places on Thursday, March 19, and Friday, March 20.

The first installment of the semester's dues will be collected at the Tuesday meeting.

Jack Casey, publicity correspondent of the club, has announced that any men interested in becoming members of the club should attend this meeting.

Those eligible for membership include men who have served in any branch of the U. S. Armed Forces for any length of time, whether on active or reserve duty, he said.

Casey pointed out that in addition to having an established program during the year, the club is aware of current veterans' problems and can aid its members in solving them.

Matmen Take 7th Place In MAC; Rampone Runner-Up

Moravian's impressively strong wrestling team ran up against a host of powerful competition when they journeyed to Hofstra for the M.A.C. Championships last weekend.

When the dust had cleared after two days of competition, M.C.'s matmen had finished in seventh place in the tourney. The Hounds had come out on top over their Lehigh Valley opponents, however, as Muhlenberg finished in eighth place and Lafayette in a weak eleventh.

Moravian, though unable to score one first place, placed a man in the runner-up slot of the 177 pound class; senior Gus Rampone.

Wilkes Wins

Wilkes College, showing the same physical skills and mental know-how they had exhibited in handing the Hounds their first defeat in dual meet competition last month, gained the M.A.C. crown with a total of 63 points. Lycoming, winning decisions in the 137 and 147 pound classes finished second with 49 points.

Other finishers in order were: West Chester 54, Bucknell 30, Hofstra 29, Gettysburg 25, Moravian 24, Muhlenberg 17, Drexel 11, Albright 9, Lafayette 6, Lebanon Valley 5, P.M.C. 3, Elizabethtown 2, Delaware 2, Ursinus 1, Dickinson 1, Swarthmore 0.

Decisions that involved the Hounds in the hard-fought semi-finals were: 123 lbs.-Allan Hazard of Lycoming ran up a big early lead to decision Bill Rinker (Moravian's good little man) 9-2; 147 lbs.-Dan Turner lost a squeaker to George Kelly of Drexel 3-2; Bob Silvetz, Moravian's senior captain, dropped a 6-2 decision to Dave Murdock of Bucknell.

Rampone Places

Gus Rampone pulled out the Hounds only semi-final victory as he decisioned Bill Brown of Lafayette 7-4. Rampone was then defeated in the finals by West Chester's ace 177 pounder Charles Dawson by a 6-1 count.

Bill Rinker gained some important points for the Hounds when he decisioned Aubison Burtzell of Gettysburg 5-1 in a consolation round.

Houndettes Drop Two In Recent Court Action

The Houndettes were off their stride last week as they dropped a game to Misericordia on Saturday, 73-34 and one to Marywood on Monday night, 60-55.

In the game against Misericordia, which was played on the opponents court, the Moravian forwards couldn't seem to find the range and scored only 6 points in the first quarter.

Misericordia, on the other hand, performed their best in this quarter sinking 23 points. In the next period, the Houndettes did somewhat better as captain Vicki Kokolus scored 5 points while Judy Clay followed with four, and Faith Mong with two for a total of 11 points. Misericordia, however, scoring 16 points, kept well in the lead.

In the second half, Moravian repeated their previous performance dropping six points in the third quarter and 11 in the fourth. The Misericordia girls were still playing well and sank 19 points in the third quarter and 15 in the last. The final score was Misericordia 73, Moravian 34.

In the game against Marywood, played at Johnston Hall, Moravian performed better than in their previous outing. Both teams scored 14 points in the first quarter. In the next period, Marywood pulled ahead sinking 16 points to the Houndettes' 11. The score at the half was 30-25.

The Marywood team kept the same pace in the third quarter with another 16 points. Moravian pulled up somewhat scoring 13 points. In the last quarter, the Houndettes managed to come up to within one point of the lead but Marywood pulled ahead in the last minutes of the game to end it with a score of 60-55.

The girls who played in the game were Vicki Kokolus, Faith Mong, Judy Clay, Vicki Tinnes, Delores Lang, Sandy Yaeck, Dora Thomas, Sandy Getter, and Barbara Snyder.

The Benchwarmer

by Neil Eskolin

The weather is warming up, spring is on its way, and Gillespie's and Garscar's charges are on their way too—to the baseball diamond that is. Muddy grounds have temporarily detoured the would-be diamond men to the floor of Archie's gym. More than forty men reported to the first practice session last Monday afternoon, after which Gil said that the time indoors will be spent getting in shape so that they'll be just about ready for a scrimmage game when the weather permits. He also stated that he and Coach Garscar hope to get in several intra-squad games before they cut the team down to size. Gil said further that he is pleased with the interest shown and the great number of men desiring to play.

The Sporting News this week announced the 1959 All-American basketball choices. Big Oscar Robertson (no great surprise) headed the dream quintet and was also named Player of the Year for the outstanding job he's done this year for Cincinnati. Incidentally, this is the second year he's made All-American and he'll have a chance next year as he's only a junior.

Another junior, Jerry West of West Virginia was also named to the all star team. The other three nominees were Bailey Howell of Mississippi State, Bob Boozer of Kansas State, and for the second year, Don Hennon of Pitt. Let's get up an intra-mural team and plan a game with them! Who'll be first to sign up?

In case, while on your afternoon constitutional, you should wander into Johnston Hall and see "Stretch" Burkhardt, "Bullet" Bob Synder, or others of our illustrious faculty and administration running around or throwing basketballs at each other, don't call for the men in the white suits, because they're simply tuning up for the "really big" faculty versus girls basketball game next Friday night.

Last year's game ended in a tie, but both teams have vowed that this will not be a re-occurrence. So be sure to drop in and cheer for the faculty, if you want to pass, or for the girls, if you want a date!

Mr. Gallup of Gallup Poll fame came up with a new one recently. Did you know that baseball is the sport attended by the most fans. In a national survey of sports attendance in the U.S. encompassing 12 different sports, the poll found that baseball attracted more adult fans than did either basketball or football.

Whether they were watching the Yankees versus the Braves or Padunk U. versus Can't Play College, 38,000,000 adults attended one or more ball games in the last year.

Football games of all types: bowl, pro, college, high school, etc., drew about 23,000,000 while basketball came in third with an approximate attendance of 18,000,000.

The grapplers climaxed an extra-ordinary fine season by finishing in seventh place in the MAC Tournament last weekend. Our matmen ended the preliminaries and were tied for fourth place going into the semi-finals on Saturday, but the really stiff competition found in the tourney forced the Hounds to back down to seventh place, exactly where they placed last year. Congratulations have to go to our fine wrestling squad. They really did a great job this year.

See ya on the bench.

Potter Leads Hoopsters In Calvo's 2nd Winning Season

The Moravian College basketball team, coached by Rocco Calvo, closed out its 1958-59 season with an impressive 13 wins against seven setbacks. In Middle Atlantic Conference play the cagers had 11 wins and 4 losses and were in the thick of the battle for the Conference championship until near the end of the season. It was Calvo's second winning season in his two years at the helm.

Highlights of the 1958-59 season centered mainly around Ducky Potter's sensational shooting and fine team leadership and the cagers seven game winning streak midway through the season.

Potter

Potter, only a junior, had a seasonal total of 422 points for an average of 21.1 per game. He came into his own about half way through the season and near the end of the campaign he suddenly became a fixture on the Eastern College Athletic Conference weekly small college all-star team, being named for three straight weeks.

The Hounds after the first five games stood at 2 wins and 3 losses. All of a sudden they began to feel as a team, saw the light, and rattled off seven straight wins; knocking off Haverford, Albright, Scranton, Elizabethtown, Lebanon Valley, Wilkes and Dickinson before being stopped in overtime by Wagner.

Break Scranton Streak

The cagers' two biggest and most impressive wins of the campaign both came against strong Scranton University. Moravian had the privilege of breaking Scranton's 16 straight homecourt victory streak by a two point victory at Scranton and had an impressive win over them at home. The closest game of the season was their loss to Wagner in overtime which snapped the seven game winning streak.

Moravian's four seniors Joe Keglovits, Russ Causley, Bill Davis, and Lorenzo Martin will be sorely missed next year mainly due to their terrific rebounding ability.

Freshman sharpshooter Hal Rice, junior Dick Chergey who played his best game of the year against Scranton at home, and sophomore Leo Stinner besides Potter will return next year and comprise the cagers best potential.

J.V.'s

The Greyhound junior varsity closed out its season with eight straight wins. Paul Marcincin's pupils dropped five out of their first seven games but wound up with a 10-5 record.

Cagers, OGOs Win In First Playoff Games

The first round of the intramural basketball playoffs got under way on Tuesday night as the Cagers downed Sigma Phi Omega in the first game 47-42, and the OGO's topped the TKE's 62-60 in the overtime nightcap.

League "A" ended in a three way tie for first place. The Cagers Sigma Phi, and the Hoopsters, all ended with a 3-1 record, while in League "B," the OGO's and TKE's ended in a deadlock for first place with identical 4-0 slates.

The opening game, in which the Sig's lost to the Cagers, was one of the most highly spirited games of the season. The Cagers were led by Dick Morrison who accounted for 17 points, while Karl Freudenberger scored 13. Art Chap was the high point man for the Sig's with 12.

The second game saw the OGO's edge out a 62-60 thriller over the TKE's in the first overtime game of the season. The undermanned TKE team struggle throughout the first three quarters to keep close to the spirited OGO's.

They trailed through most of the game but suddenly came alive in the last quarter to tie and then pile up a comfortable seven point cushion at one point in the action. The OGO's refused to give up though and put on a tremendous surge to catch the TKE's and send the game into overtime.

With three seconds remaining in the regulation time. Tony Matz dropped a free throw through the cords to knot the score at 54-54. In the extra period the OGO's outscored the TKE's 8-6 making the final score 62-60.

Jim Kritis was the high scorer for the OGO's with 21 points while Walt Salaski paced the TKE's with 17.

Freshmen Help Grapplers Finish Impressive Season

Coach Paul Kuklantz's grapplers ended their 2nd year of competition with a fine 8-1 slate. Led by Freshman Bill Rinker and Senior captain Bob Silvetz, with identical 8-1 records, the Hounds lone defeat came at the hands of the MAC Champs, Wilkes College.

The Hounds completely outclassed the Lions from Albright in the opener, 27-5. Falls by Rinker, Silvetz, and Bartolet paved the way for the rout. Freshmen in the line-up included Rinker, Cornelius, and Turner.

December 11 saw Swarthmore being defeated by a 24-10 count. Again it was falls by Rinker, Silvetz, and Bartolet which helped provide the margin of victory. Other winners included Turner, Myers, and Rampone.

A 20-6 drubbing over PMC did not bring much cheer or consolation to the winning Hounds. The services of Charlie Bartolet were lost to all Moravian teams as he suffered a slight heart attack. Henceforth freshman Lew Rozelle was to wrestle in the heavyweight slot.

Top Win

Undoubtedly the big win of the campaign came at the hands of rival Muhlenberg. Rinker and Cornelius started fast with falls and Rampone clinched the meet at 177 on a 3-2 decision. Lew Rozelle gave the crowd a treat as he upended former MAC champ Jerry Rehrig. Rehrig later disposed of Big Lew.

After disposing of Dickinson, the Hounds made it eight straight, six during the current season, by defeating Lebanon Valley, 19-9. Falls by Rinker and Turner plus wins by Silvetz, Cornelius, and Rampone sewed up the victory. Haverford was the next victim.

The Colonels from Wilkes College proved to be out of Moravian's class as they completely dominated the Hounds by a 30-4 score. Only draws by Turner and Rozelle saved the shutout. Both Rinker and Silvetz saw their unblemished records come to a halt.

Take Last Meet

In the last meet of the year the Hounds completely overwhelmed Elizabethtown, 31-5, on the losers mats as Bob Sallash at 137 lbs. was the only Hound to be defeated.

The Matmen are already looking forward to next season, one

Geology Dep't Exhibits Rocks From Easton

The March mineral exhibit in the cabinet outside the geology office on South campus comes from the William's Quarry north of Easton, on U.S. 611. Most of these minerals and rocks were collected by Dr. Richard Myers, head of the geology department.

The quarry, known to local residents as "The Soapstone Quarry," was worked by the C. K. Williams people. They used the pulverized rocks as a filler in the manufacturing of paint. The rock is actually serpentine. It is one of the oldest rocks in the Lehigh Valley.

The many minerals found there have made this quarry a Mecca for mineral collectors for several generations. Included among the rarer finds are a number of uranium and thorium compounds, all readily detected with a Geiger counter. Most of these are on exhibit.

The quarry has also produced vast quantities of a variety of asbestos known as tremolite. It is well-known for an unusual variety of talc which is pink in color. Much of its serpentine is gem quality and polishes beautifully. At one time it was sold under the trade name Verdolite, and used in making bases for pen and pencil desk sets, lamp stands. Included in the exhibit is a small sculptured greyhound, made of serpentine.

This exhibit will be on display for the entire month of March, and in April it will be replaced by another display of Pennsylvania minerals.

Hauptert Stresses Need For Qualified College Teachers

A pressing need for more qualified teachers on the college level will be brought about by increasing college enrollments, which will probably double by 1970, Dr. Raymond S. Hauptert said February 23.

Moravian's president made the statement during a talk at a content program at the Tau Kappa Epsilon house last Monday.

At the second content meeting held on March 2 Dr. Otis Shao, a member of the fraternity, said "a dialogue among men" is a basic concept in the institutions of "democracy, higher education, and fraternities."

Hauptert referred to his remarks as "the first gun" of a campaign which will soon begin on the college campus to interest students in this field.

Salaries have always been a major problem in this profession, he admitted, but he stated that recent tuition increases have gone towards improving faculty salaries and that the college hopes to make more progress in this field in the future.

Hauptert said there are always openings on college faculties for job candidates in any field. He commented, however, that at the present time the greatest number of candidates were in the fields of history and political science. Physics, he said, has the least number of qualified men due to attractive government offers.

As for graduate school, Hauptert said it was essential that men inquire about fellowships available in their major fields. Once in graduate school, he said, men would be well advised to establish a reputation for their work, first of all, and that then "the doors will open to you."

Hauptert stressed gaining an understanding of the world and its inhabitants while relating personal and family experiences in travel throughout western United States, Europe and the Middle East.

In his opening remarks on the topic of "Democracy, Higher Education, Fraternity," Shao referred to a speech, "Is Democracy Possible?" given by Robert Hutchins, the President of the Fund for the Republic, in which democracy is defined as the "faith of man in man."

This definition involves a "dialogue among men" Shao stated and is applicable at the fraternity level, the college level and the national level.

'Unsettle Solid Citizen'

Shao's comments concerning "Higher Education" centered around the theme that higher education is not specifically to give technological training which will enable the individual to amass material security and become a "solid citizen" of the community. Rather, he said, higher education must "educate the mind to its fullest capacity" and sometimes "unsettle" the individual, as it encourages him to think about the "basic issues of life."

The speaker continued his talk with a discussion of the role of the fraternity in this whole endeavor.

Drawing from his personal experiences at Brown University, Shao told of instances where fraternity criticisms were correct and then told how those faults could be corrected by positive programs.

In conclusion the speaker said that when these ideas are fulfilled, "then the fraternity man is a better man because he is better educated, intellectually and socially."

The meetings, held in the TKE house, were under the direction of Ed Borger, chapter historian. Others on the committee were Charles Bartolet and Bob Boyler.

Mailman Puts Revolts Drama Russian, Leopards On List

New semesters on busy college campuses across the nation have brought a wealth of new ideas, events and schemes, all of which help to make life that much more exciting. For example, take a glance at some of the things we wouldn't know if we didn't bother to open our mail.

Russian is going over big down at George Washington University in Washington, D. C. A beginning course is being televised over a local station from 6:30 to 7 a.m. each Monday, Wednesday and Friday. A total of 2,725 have signed up to take the course without credit.

When the rules governing the proper attire for eating in the Muhlenberg College Commons were changed again, three "reactionaries" staged a mild rebellion by wearing tuxedos to the next evening meal.

Lafayette's high-leaping basketballers clipped Lehigh last week for their 33rd straight victory over the Engineers. Lehigh hasn't come out on top since 1943.

Registration procedures for the new semester appeared quite a bit different from Moravian's. Temple students called their procedure exasperating and time-consuming (standing in line three hours). Lehigh's differed slightly with the use of IBM machines. Total time: two minutes.

EASTER SEALS

Six-year-old Philip Little of York, Pa., is the national 1959 Easter Seal Child of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Crippled from birth, Philip, who receives rehabilitation treatment at the York Easter Seal Center, is able to walk with crutches and braces. He is symbolic of a quarter million crippled children and adults who have benefitted in the past year from direct services financed by Easter Seal contributions. The 1959 Easter Seal campaign opened Feb. 27 and continues to Easter Sunday, March 29.

Muhlenberg College is planning an addition to the girls' dormitory capable of housing 84 girls.

Students at Wilkes College held their second annual student government-sponsored Winter Carnival between the semesters. Action at the Pocono Mountain Inn during the all-day festivities included all winter sports, indoor games and contests, supper, and dancing.

Dramatic rehearsals are underway at Cedar Crest for Aeschylus' play, The Eumenides, and at Muhlenberg for Jean-Paul Sartre's No Exit.

Steve Allen And Steverino In Name Bout

A frantic campaign got underway in New York this week to save the name of Steverino, two-year-old greyhound which received an "Associate in Animal Letters" from Moravian College last fall.

The Greyhound Bus Corp. recently dropped the Steve Allen Show, on which Steverino appeared each week, and made plans to sponsor another program, reportedly the Jack Benny Show, later this month.

Steve Allen, however, has denied permission for the Greyhound Corp. to continue calling the dog Steverino, claiming that the name belongs to him. The dog goes, he said but the name stays.

Immediately many defenders came to the rescue of the dog while Allen was suggesting taking his complaint to court.

Roy Lee, of Clay Center, Kansas, Steverino's birthplace, flew to New York with papers proving she had been born there and that her name was duly registered with the National Coursing Assn.

A veterinarian, Abraham Barton, stated that the dog is conditioned to respond to her name. "It is impossible to forecast just how severe a traumatic experience would result from any change," he said.

Sororities Pledge Twenty-Three For Spring Semester

Alpha Epsilon Pi and Phi Mu Epsilon pledged a total of 23 girls at pledge parties Monday night, following a week of rushing. The pledges will be initiated at formal ceremonies within the next three weeks.
