

Fall Registration To Begin; Curriculum Changes Noted

Registration for the fall term will commence Monday. The plan to be followed will not vary from the usual procedure, except that students will be requested to fill in all information cards at this time, thereby completing their registration now instead of upon their return to the campus in September.

Registration for the present junior class will be held from noon until 5 p.m. Monday, and all day Tuesday. The present sophomore class will register from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday and from 8 a.m. until noon Thursday. Freshmen will register Thursday from noon until 5 p.m. and all day Friday. Registration will be concluded Saturday if necessary.

Lax Response Cancels OGO Talent Show

Bob Sottile has announced that "lack of student interest and participation" has forced cancellation of the variety show planned for this evening. Sottile was chairman of the committee which was to produce a talent show sponsored by Omicron Gamma Omega fraternity.

The reason for the cancellation was that some organizations which had entered in the show found it necessary to withdraw due to lack of rehearsal time. This left too few acts remaining for a successful production.

Payment for tickets already sold will be refunded. The tickets had cost 75c.

Among the organizations whose acts had to be cancelled were Phi Mu Epsilon sorority, which was slated to present a skit entitled "This is Your Life."

Linda McHenry was to perform a Latin American dance to the tune of "Jezebel." Pat Robbins and Jane Ziegenfus were to do a skit on the "roaring twenties." Ronnie Vrebel had been scheduled to sing some popular tunes.

Other acts included Pat Diener, who was to do a song and dance routine, and a quartette composed of Howard Siglag, Ralph Shields, Larry Reuben and Bob Sottile. James Kenney, Frank Duckworth, Sal DeLuca, Bill Leicht, Hunter Matthews, Gene Salay and Dick Ruth were among other performers scheduled to entertain.

The show was to have been emceed by Bruce Robertson.

The hope was expressed by members of the planning committee.

Convo To Feature Awards Presentation

Presentation of awards and prizes will highlight the final convocation of the semester Thursday at 11:30 a.m. in Johnston Hall.

Formal installation of recently elected United Student Government officers will take place. The college choir will also perform.

Several curriculum changes are being planned, according to Dr. Alden Sears, chairman of the Faculty Curriculum Committee. A new course, German 309, which will deal with the life and work of Schiller, a German writer, will be offered.

Also, Education 404, Principles of Education, will be discontinued, and Education 321, Methods of Teaching in Secondary Schools, will be introduced.

The new education course will deal with a study of the fundamental objectives of secondary education together with their implications for classroom procedure, direction of the learning process, methods and techniques of teaching, principles of evaluating the results of teaching, professional ethics, and the development of skills, habits, ideals, and attitudes in connection with the various school subjects.

At this time, other changes and additions are contemplated. It is hoped that a major in music will be offered. In addition, certain improvements in the nursing curriculum are being considered. These include reducing the specialized degree requirements so as to substitute basic courses (e.g. in language, history, philosophy, etc.) now required of all other students.

Also proposed are a laboratory course for students of pandemic biology and a course in existentialist philosophy.

All tentative changes will be discussed and acted upon at faculty meetings to be held before the end of the current semester.

Twelve Students To Work In New Honors Program

Twelve juniors have been accepted into the newly established honors program to be begun in the fall. The names of the students and teachers under whom they will study were announced this week by George Tyler, chairman of the faculty Honors Committee.

Selected to study in the English Department were five students. Nancy Baker will work under Dr. Alan F. Herr, Beverly Luzietti will work under Robert T. Burcaw, David Schattschneider will work under Dr. Lloyd Burkhardt, and Dora Thomas and Griff Dudding will study under Mrs. Ella Louise Bassett.

Doing honors work in history will be Charles Bartolet, who will work under Dr. J. Richard Jones, and Peter French, who will study under Dr. Daniel Gilbert.

Patricia Thompson will be doing honors work in sociology under Dr. John V. Machell. Patricia Boyle has been selected to work under Dean Marilyn A. Rader in mathematics.

Women Elect Seven To Form Spring Festival Court Sunday

by Marcia Morgan

Members of the Spring Festival Court were elected early this week. They are Patricia Diener, Nancy Gingher, Jean Hudak, Mary Lesin, and Kathy Werst, all '59, and senior secretaries, Jean Koch and Carol Landrock. They were selected by a preference vote of women students.

The senior girl who received the highest vote will be revealed as Miss Moravian at the Spring Festival Sunday afternoon. The other four seniors and the two senior secretarial students will serve as Miss Moravian's court. A total of nine seniors and four senior secretarial students were nominated by their respective classes.

USG Votes To Represent Moravian In NSA Confab

Motions to send delegates to the Twelfth National Student Congress in August and to reconsider the recent expulsion of several organizations were considered at Tuesday's regular United Student Government Meeting.

A motion was carried to allocate $300 to send Peter French, USG president, and David Schattschneider, editor of the Comenian, to the Twelfth National Student Congress to be convened at the University of Illinois from August 24 to September 3.

The conference, sponsored by the United States National Student Association, will be concerned with emphasizing campus and regional programming and training for direct student contribution to problem-solving. Discussion will be carried on by means of a series of workshops. Suggested workshops for Moravian included those dealing with Freshman orientation, honors programs, commuting-college problems and campus fund-raising.

The Veterans' and the Spelunkers' Associations requested reinstatement of representation privileges, but in view of the number of meetings both had missed, such action was denied. The Board of Fine Arts, however, was reinstated by a unanimous vote in view of the fact that they had been illegitimately evicted, not having missed more than three meetings in one semester.

PICTURES

Pictures of candidates for Senior Farewell queen, which were in the possession of the Social Activities Committee, may be obtained from Dean Sartwell's office.

The Spring Festival, which is sponsored by the Women's Activities Committee, will begin at 3 p.m. Sunday. It will be held in back of Main Hall on South Campus. In case of rain it will be postponed one week.

Spring Festival this year will consist of the crowning of Miss Moravian, entertainment for Miss Moravian and her Court, and a Blossom Tea. Karen Roggenkamp, Dora Thomas, chairman of WAC, and Miss Marvel Rettmann, WAC advisor, are in charge of general arrangements.

The program will begin with a processional to the Triumphal March from "Aida." The Honor Attendants will lead the procession. They are the two girls with the highest academic averages in the freshmen, sophomore, and junior classes. Members of Miss Moravian's Court, Miss Moravian of 1958, and Miss Moravian of 1959, with their escorts, will complete the procession. The escorts will be student campus leaders. This is the first year that Miss Moravian and her Court will be escorted.

Group Plans A Referendum On Union Fee

The Student Union Planning Committee, through the jurisdiction of United Student Government, will conduct a student body referendum Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday to determine the plan to be followed for collecting the student union fee. Voting will be conducted in the main lobby of Comenius Hall.

Students will vote for either plan "1" or for plan "2." Plan 1 calls for maintaining the present $20 per school year fee until the time actual construction of the union starts. With the first semester following the start of construction, the fee would be raised an additional $5 per semester.

Plan 2 calls for an increase immediately of the student union fee to $25 per school year. A simple majority will determine which plan will be incorporated.

A report by the committee notes that plan 1 "makes it easier to borrow money and also saves interest costs, and is therefore favored by the Student-Faculty Planning Committee."

Again? . . .

A long time ago, on March 12 to be exact, the first planning meeting for the now ill-fated variety show was held.

A small hint of the trouble to come occurred when certain campus groups refused their support to the venture for reasons which never have been really clear, and which look suspiciously like jealousy or selfishness. It was announced that there would be no variety show due to the traditional lack of student interest.

The fault in this matter does not lie entirely with the group which planned the production, or with those groups and students who did not cooperate. It belongs to both groups.

The sponsoring organization, a social fraternity, was asking for problems when it announced that it would retain part of the proceeds for its own treasury. With the present state of conditions between Moravian social groups, it is impossible to assume that the group was so naive as to assume that everyone would cooperate merely for the fun and enjoyment to be gained from such an affair.

Granted, the group stated that it would give one half of the net income to the William Hauptert Memorial Scholarship Fund, and of the remaining amount, would retain half for its treasury and pay expenses with the other half. But even this plan did not remove that annoying quarter per cent which would enrich the coffers of the group.

Perhaps the best plan would have been for the group to goad the oft times indolent Inter-fraternity Council into supporting the venture, with any profit gained after the contribution and the costs were removed, to be shared equally by its members.

And it may be added that a sense of organization seems to have been noticeably lacking. The plans were under way for nearly two months and it certainly is hard to believe that nothing worth producing could have been drawn up in that time.

Other groups may claim that the date interfered with their plans. This same lengthy time element could here have been turned to good advantage as it would have allowed various time conflicts to be resolved to everyone's satisfaction, and various objectionable financial stipulations to be worked out.

All of this reverts back to a basic problem here at Moravian—student apathy or whatever you want to call it. Some groups and individuals may have felt that they did not like the financial arrangements, or the time scheduled, or that such a show was not the proper means of adding to a memorial scholarship fund or they may have had dozens of other reasons for non-cooperation and forgetfulness.

However, the show was planned, we presume, by quite reasonable people, who would have been more than willing to listen to constructive suggestions concerning the success of the event. But, as in so many other cases, only a few people took the time and effort to turn out for meetings and to think up acts for the show. The result? The show has flopped.

Each person or organization can blame this on a host of reasons to rationalize his own action or lack of action, and the problem of student indifference to opportunities which would greatly enhance their college experience will continue to remain.

All that can be hoped is that this experience will serve a constructive purpose. We've seen now what might have been and some reasons why it wasn't. In the future, perhaps we can plan more wisely and act more like adults to make a go of a good thing.

Coffee Klatsch

by Nancy Baker

And a happy Friday morning to you, too. Now that we've all recovered from that post-weekend shock, we can settle down with our cup of coffee and our Comenian and find out what's new around the camp. Come out! you Under the Tablers, we've been deserted and there's nothing left to do but have a coffee klatsch.

Speaking of weekend, our hats off to a great bunch of kids for a big job well done. The parties were great, the dance was great, and I hear the finals schedule goes up next week. Seriously, thank you Pete and Marcia, and the whole SAC, from all of us.

Congratulations to Faith Hartman and Mary Ann Gingles on their prize winning pictures. Both of the girls received honorable mention for their work. There now, I always knew we had talent around here!

Welcome again to the term paper season. Are you feeling run down, knocked out, and walked over? Good!! You're right in step. Now put that paper that's due next Thursday off for a few more days and you'll be all set for the semi-annual typing marathon.

Methinks I hear big plots for Spring Festival flying around South Campus. Dinosaurs no less! I mean I know the school is old, but after all! They probably dug them up with all the excavating on back campus. The show looks like it will be lots of fun tho', and get this—real honest to goodness food afterwards—free! This is enough to get me out on a Sunday afternoon.

As my illustrious columnist pointed out last week all this painful effort on both our parts can be avoided if you'll write a letter to the editor. Of course if you're sick of writing (term papers, reports, etc.) you can always pick up the April Motive and read Chisholm's Laws. They're just what the end of the semester ordered.

Back to the serious bit. Congratulations and best wishes to Pat Ambler and Bob Gray. They've set the date. And how about the DeWalts? Best wishes to our newly-weds!

One short note on the Benigna progress before we carry our cups back to the counter and take off for class. Smile pretty for the photographer, watch the bulletin board and keep your fingers crossed.

Naisby's Design Is Chosen For New Freshman Blazer

The winning design for freshmen class blazers has been drawn by James Naisby from Franklin, New Jersey. The emblem has a white background with gold lettering and red trimming. The blazer color will be a deep pit green.

Fourteen other entries were submitted in the contest. The cost of the women's blazers will be $29 with the men's costing $29 to $35. They are being purchased from the Robert Rollins Co. in New York City.

They will be delivered to the students' homes by mail sometime during the latter part of June.

The class feels that it would like to see freshman in future years also purchase class blazers. However, the class feels strongly against establishing a traditional color and emblem design.

Moravian Has 11 Students In Bach Festival

Eleven Moravian students are participating in the annual Bach festival being held this weekend and next at the Packard Chapel on the Lehigh University campus.

Under the direction of Dr. Ifor Jones, the program features a 160-voice choir comprised of singers from the entire Lehigh Valley community. Also included in the program is a portion of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Representing the college in the festival are Anita Burkhardt, Sandra Iobst, Jerome Livengood, Robert Rierson, and Bill Strohl. Members of the seminary taking part in the program are Kenley Burkhardt, William Hartstein, Peter Hauptert, Norman Prochnau, Marlyn Schaffstal, and Gordon Sommers.

The time schedule for the presentations are as follows: today, 4 and 8:30 p.m.; tomorrow, 2:30 and 4 p.m. At 10:30 tomorrow the portion of the Philadelphia Orchestra participating in the program will perform at the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem. The entire program will be repeated at the same times next week.

Hershey Leads Hounds To 5th Straight; At Home Tomorrow

Bill Hershey led the Hounds at bat and on the mound last Wednesday, at home, as they made short work of Dickinson by an 8-2 score.

Hershey pitched a neat four hitter allowing only two walks while striking out seven. He also had a single, double and grand slam homer to put in a good day of work.

The Hounds started the ball rolling in the bottom of the second inning. Dick Chergey opened the inning by singling to left and Fred Donatelli was safe on an error.

When Charlie Gilbert tried a sacrifice, the ball was thrown past the first basemen letting in Chergey with the first run of the ball game. Donatelli also tried to score on the play but was thrown out at the plate.

Dickinson Leads

Dickinson scored two runs in the top of the fourth inning to gain a short-lived 2-1 lead.

In the bottom of the fourth with the bases loaded after Gilbert singled, Gene Medei reached base on an error and Hal Rice reached first on a fielder's choice play, Hershey unloaded a tremendous shot down the left field line which cleared the bleachers for his second grand slam homer of the season.

Hounds Add Runs

The Hounds added single tallies in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings to up the score to 8-1. Hershey doubled, moved to third on an error and scored on a wild pitch in the sixth. Gilbert walked, Gene Jani doubled, Russ DeVore walked and Gilbert scored on an infield out in the seventh. In the eighth, after singling, Hershey scored on pinch hitter Willie Wholbach's double.

George Hollendersky contributed two hits to the Hounds' cause to continue his terrific hitting streak.

The Hounds meet PMC tomorrow at home, as they try for their sixth straight victory.

SPORTS MEETING

A very important short meeting of the football and basketball squads will be held next Tuesday May 12, 4th period in Johnston Hall. Graduating seniors are requested to attend.

SPRING SPOTLIGHT

Gene Salay—Golf

Gene Salay is the subject at hand for this week's Spring Spotlight. Gene, a native of Bethlehem, is 27 years old, 6 ft. 1/2 in. tall and weighs 187 lbs. He is in his junior year and is majoring in sociology.

Gene has been happily married for four and a half years and is the father of a two and a half year old girl, Lisa Gene. Gene worked for Uncle Sam for two years before coming to Mo-Mo and saw service in Korea. He received his secondary education at Moravian Prep.

Although he isn't positive about his plans after college, Gene is considering either a teaching career in the field of sociology or some sort of social work.

Besides wielding a mean golf club, Gene finds time to be in many activities. He is a member of Triangle honor society, Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, Varsity "M" club and the Moravian Vets club.

He is also a member of Omicron Gamma Omega fraternity and was recently elected to serve as president. He has been on the Comenian staff and the Benigna staff and is also serving as chairman of the Elections Committee.

As if this wasn't enough to keep him busy, he also takes part in Intramural football and bowling. In his spare time (when?) Gene also likes to do a little painting.

When asked for a comment on the golf squad, Gene said, "After dropping three close matches but gaining that necessary experience under pressure, I believe that we are seasoned enough now to go all the way without another defeat."

The Inside Scoop

by Russ Simonetta

Who said pitchers can't hit? Making a statement like that near Coach Gillespie might result in having the scorebook thrown at you. If you then would pick up the scorebook and figure out a few averages you would be startled to find the pitchers batting average standing at a whopping .459 for the Hounds' first ten games. Helping this average out quite a bit are two veteran pitchers, junior Dick Chergey, and sophomore, Mike Lansenderfer who haven't pitched in the first ten games this season but who together have 11 hits in 17 attempts. Lansenderfer, the southpaw of last year's squad, has been used as a reserve outfielder and a capable pinch hitter this year. Chergey, who has been a very pleasant surprise to Coach Gillespie, is filling one of the opening question marks of the young baseball season at first base. He has been supplying power in key spots in the past few games to contribute heavily to the Hound victories. Outstanding in batting among the pitchers who have seen mound duty are freshman righthander, Jim Gano, dependable (what would they do without him) Bill Hershey, and freshman portersiders Lou Klucharich and Brian Hill.

It certainly wouldn't be an understatement to say the Hound netmen aren't doing too well this year. The netmen are 0-10 so far this year and they don't figure to fatten up their win record to any extreme degree. Why must this be? Certainly tennis is a sport which is both healthful and enjoyable, and most important, it is a sport which can be played for exercise and relaxation in later life. Yet the Hound netmen are continually hard pressed to field a full squad.

Looking at the other squads' records this year, you can certainly see how important a roll the freshmen have played in gaining victories. In varsity football freshmen started; in cross country freshmen were outstanding; in varsity basketball freshmen started; in wrestling the freshmen were terrific and so far this season in baseball, the freshmen are playing a large part in gaining the victories.

Now let's take a look at the tennis squad. Two whole freshmen reported for the squad; yet a day doesn't go by when you don't fail to see the freshmen playing tennis for exercise on Moravian's courts. Why are they unwilling to represent Moravian in intercollegiate tennis? It certainly is an honor few get and one that would give much personal pleasure. You aren't expected to be an all-star to try out for the squad. Nearly half of the present squad didn't participate in high school tennis. However, with the will to improve and constant practice your tennis fortunes would increase and so would Moravian College's. Here's a challenge to a terrific freshmen athletic class to become even better.

The same can be said of Moravian's golf team. However, the golfers have an array of veterans this year and aren't hard pressed for newcomers. In the future the golf team may be as drastically hit as the present tennis team, if interest isn't kept up among the sports-minded underclassman to get out on the links. Golf, like tennis may be beneficial in later life so why not give it a try.

Lets support our athletes!

Hounds Rack Up Victories Over Upsala, Mulenberg

Led by Bill Hershey and Dick "Pops" Chergey, the Greyhound diamondmen whipped Upsala 7-2 last Thursday in a home away from home game! They blasted three Muhlenberg hurlers on Saturday, for an 11-2 victory in an alumni contest on the Moravian College field.

The Upsala contest was played at Taylor Stadium on the Lehigh University campus as rain delayed work on the Moravian infield. Hershey pitched fine baseball to go the rout and Chergey, at first base, added the hitting power with a single and two doubles.

Upsala drew first blood when second baseman, Vince Minelli opened the game with a circuit clout. The Hounds came back in the bottom of the same frame with two runs to take the lead.

The Hounds added single tallies in the second, third and fifth innings and closed out their scoring in the top of the sixth with a two run outburst. The visitors gained their final run on another round tripper in the seventh.

Saturday's decision was the second victory over the 'Bergmen this season. Lou Klucharich, Coplay freshman, scattered eight hits as he won his second game against one loss. Bill Higgins, 'Berg righthander, was charged with his third straight defeat.

Again it was the bat of "Pops" Chergey which helped the Hound cause. He went two for three with three RBI's. Klucharich helped his own cause with three RBI's also. Both Chergey and Klucharich had a single and a double. George Hollendersky continued his fine hitting as he collected three singles in four at bats.

With the score knotted at 2-2 in the fourth, Charlie Gilbert walked and advanced to second on a sacrifice by Hal Rice. John Bowman skied out for the second out and then the roof fell in on Higgins and Muhlenberg.

Klucharich, Jeff Gannon, Matz, Hershey, Hollendersky, and Chergey followed with singles to force Higgins to the showers. Don Robins came on to wild pitch the sixth run of the inning across before retiring the side.

Doubles by Rice and Klucharich accounted for Moravian's final three runs in the seventh. Muhlenberg scored one in the first frame on three singles and a hit batsman, and scored their final run in the second on a single, an infield out and another single.

Golfers Lose To Hofstra Beat Scranton, Alumni

The Moravian linksmen outscored the Alumni, 6-2 in their annual match Saturday at the Bethlehem Municipal Course. Bob Volko and Gene Salay each took medalist honors in the nine hole match with a pair of 39's.

Last Thursday, Buddy Soloff and Tom Volko scored the only points against a strong Hofstra team as the Moravian golfers lost by a 15-3 score. The match was played at the Bethpage Country Club, Long Island, New York.

The Moravian golf team outlasted a strong Scranton club Tuesday, to win 13-6 at Fox Hill Country Club, Scranton. Tom Volko and Gene Salay took medalist honors with a pair of 79's.

Summaries:
Tom Volko (M) defeated Ed Manley, 3-0; Bob Volko (M) defeated Jim Brown, 2 1/2-1 1/2; Bill O'Malley (S) defeated Ducky Potter, 2 1/2-1 1/2; Gene Salay (M) defeated Joe Stulgis, 3-0; John McDermont (S) defeated Buddy Soloff, 3-0; Frank Solfka (M) defeated Vince Gulati, 3-0.

Netmen Drop Three More For 0-8 Slate

The Moravian College tennis team met up with Muhlenberg, Lafayette, and F. & M. last week and lost all three matches.

The Muhlenberg match was won by the 'bergmen with a score of 7-2 last Thursday. Single matches were won by Bob Lipkin number one man and George Fiegal, number five man. The wins were each man's first of the year.

Always-powerful Lafayette shut out the Hounds by a 9-0 score on Friday. Lipkin, playing strong tennis, was the only man to force his opponent to three sets. He lost to Skip Feller 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

The Hounds barely avoided another shutout by losing to F & M on Saturday, 8-1. The most interesting set of the afternoon saw Lipkin and Cole lose to Charles Friedman and Dan Spangler. The visitors won the first set handily by a 6-3 score after which the second set was forced to go 32 games before Freidman and Spangler eeked out a 17-15 win after over an hour of play.

The Hound netmen gained their only point as Simon defeated Barry Thomas, 6-1, 6-1.

Eight Are Pledged By Pi Delt; Initiation Is Next Thursday

Tapping of eight pledges for Pi Delta Epsilon, national collegiate journalism fraternity, took place Wednesday in the North Campus Chapel at 10 a.m. Initiation will be held next Thursday in the George Washington Room, South Campus, at 5 p.m. The initiation ceremonies will be followed by a dinner at Walp's Restaurant in Allentown.

The pledges, Griffith Dudding, Neil Eskolin, Nan Gingham, Elmer Harke, Alan Lippman, Anthony Morelli, Ernie Pappajohn, and Rita Rosemar, were presented with the colors of the fraternity at the chapel program.

Following Thursday's dinner, a short business meeting will be held to elect officers for next year.

There are three requirements for membership in the fraternity. First, a candidate must be in good academic standing; second, he must have served at least two years on a campus publication; and third, he must have held a position of major responsibility on that publication for one year.

Pi Delta Epsilon, the only national honorary collegiate journalism fraternity in existence, has had a chapter at the college since 1938.

Schattschneider submitted a request that the USG treasury allocate $470 to cover expenses for publishing the Comenian during the balance of the school year. The request was denied, and a motion by Pat Diener was carried to allocate $250 instead, the reason being that other organizations had also requested additional funds and that it was felt the Comenian would be able to meet costs without too great a strain.

The Women's Activities Committee was voted an additional $40 to cover expenses for the Spring Festival to be held Sunday. The Manuscript was also voted $40 in order that the magazine could complete publication and award prizes for winning literary entries.

International Authority

In other business, French was appointed to complete arrangements for the campus visit of a representative of the World University Service, an authority on international students who would be available here for consultation Monday on matters pertaining to education abroad.

Fred Lipari requested that suggestions for freshman orientation be addressed to the Freshman Regulations Committee in care of Box 67 in the Business office. He stressed the "importance of a well-balanced program."

French reiterated that the Student Union Committee was planning to conduct a student body referendum Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday on the question of the revision of student union fees. He noted that a simple majority of votes cast would decide the plan to be put into effect. (See separate story elsewhere in this issue.)

Pi Mu Plans Spring Retreat This Weekend

"The Pastoral Ministry of the Undergraduate Student" will be discussed at the bi-annual Pi Mu retreat this Saturday and Sunday at Camp Hope, Hope, N. J.

Dr. Edwin Sawyer, pastor of the Nazareth Moravian Church will be the speaker for the Saturday sessions. Dr. Sawyer was formerly chaplain of Salem College, Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Pi Mu will leave for Camp Hope 7:30 tonight. Vespers will be held at the camp by Al Taylor.

Tomorrow morning Dr. Sawyer will lecture on, "How can a student minister to the needs of the college, community and local congregation." Following the lecture a discussion period will be held.

Installation of new officers will take place during the Saturday evening program.

The retreat will close on Sunday morning with a Communion service conducted by Chaplain Henry Lewis.

Junior Education Majors Hold Tea To Honor Seniors

Members of the junior class of elementary education majors held a tea Tuesday in honor of the senior class members of the department. The hostess was Mrs. Rosalind Croman, assistant professor of elementary education.

Members of the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Hauptert, Dean and Mrs. Marlyn Rader, Dean Halcyon Sartwell, and Mrs. Howard Dager, former director of elementary education. Twenty-two seniors and other members of the education department teaching staff were guests at the affair.

The tea was held in the George Washington Room on South Campus.

tee that more interest would be shown in such a project next year.

Half of the net income for the show was to have gone to the William Hauptert Memorial Scholarship Fund. Half of the remaining amount would be retained to pay for the purchase of the award, the door prize and to cover other incidental expenses. The balance, amounting to one-quarter of the total net income would have constituted a profit for the sponsoring fraternity.
