

Student Union Plans Await Trustees' Accord

USG Discusses Allocations To All Student Organizations

A discussion of United Student Government's allocations of $18,422.88 to student organizations marked the second meeting of that body held in Comenius 1 at 7:30 p.m. last Tuesday.

Following the opening preliminaries, USG president Peter L. French made several announcements.

He stated that James MacDonald had been appointed as a new member of the Religious Activities Committee.

In discussing the card system of collecting class dues, initiated by last year's senior class, French said that he would confer with present class treasurers about the organization of the system.

French also announced that Miss Jane Ziegenfus had been appointed vice-chairman of the Women's Activities Committee, and Miss Sandra Yaeck a new member of that committee.

Frosh Class Nominations

According to French, the freshmen class will hold nominations for class officers during an orientation meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 13. Elections will take place shortly after the nominations.

Before turning the meeting over to USG treasurer MacDonald for discussion of the budgets, French set forth the criteria that were used in determining allocations. These were (1) whether or not the organization's program fulfilled the aims of student government, and (2) whether or not the activities of the group would benefit the student body as a whole.

The allocations to organizations were as follows: The Benigna, $6,000; Blackfriars, $745; Campus Christian Association, $55; The Comenian, $3,800; The Co-

Book Profits Are Discussed By Comptroller

"Any profits from the Moravian College book store are placed in the college's general fund to aid the students in different areas of school development," stated Charles Kuhn, college comptroller, when interviewed early this week.

Kuhn stated that all books are purchased from the publishers at a 20% discount. However, he said that it is the publisher's ruling that the books must be sold to the students at list price.

The comptroller said it was therefore the publisher, not the book store, that set prices for student books.

Kuhn stated that the college must pay shipping and insurance costs from the 20% difference. He also said that this amount is used to cover the costs of providing space for and moving the books, and selling and keeping records of sales.

According to the comptroller, some publishers will only sell at list price and the college must

Spiritual Gains Major Problem Hauptert States

One of the major problems facing America at the present time is that of establishing the right relationship with our spiritual, as well as physical, environment. Thus asserted Moravian College president Raymond S. Hauptert in yesterday's student convocation held in Johnston Hall.

Hauptert stated that three main causes can be attributed to this problem. The first cause, according to Hauptert, is the unprecedented materialism that pervades our society. Americans do not take the full advantage of all material blessings that are available. He said that the unparalleled prosperity which Americans enjoy tends to hinder rather than help the solution of the problem.

The second cause is the lack of persistence and backbone in Amer-

New Equipment Is Featured In Language Lab

One of the newest innovations on Moravian's campus this year is the modern language laboratory. The laboratory, located in Comenius 303, is under the direction of Mrs. Jean Beecher, Dr. Margaret Gump, and Mr. George Tyler.

The equipment in the laboratory consists of one master console and ten student positions. Three major operations consist of a tape or record program, an intercom system, and a student recording.

Under the tape and record program both tapes and records may be played. The student is required to buy one tape of his own which he will use throughout the entire year.

Architect's Drawings Done; Cost Estimate Is $730,000

A statement on the status of the Student Union projects, released by the Development Office this week, indicates that arrangements for the building are nearly complete. The project plans are awaiting approval of the college Board of Trustees, which will meet Friday, Oct. 16, according to Robert P. Snyder, director of development.

The architect, George K. Trautwein, in consultation with Porter Butts, planning consultant, has prepared the general, preliminary drawings for the building. The student-faculty committee concerned with the program has prepared a budgetary statement outlining prospective allocation of sources of income and expenses.

Application Pending

Final approval is pending on an application for a government loan of $530,000 which has been filed. Student fees and matching money, totaling $105,000, and to be raised by June, 1961, bring the total funds available for the project to $635,000.

The estimated cost applicable to the government loan is $630,000 with additional costs, movable equipment, and site costs bringing the total estimated cost of the project to $730,000.

The front of the building will overlook the present football field, with a covered terrace, or portico, extending the length of the building proper. Entrances will be provided on three sides, so that the building will be easily accessible from either Monocacy Street or West Locust Street.

Features of Main Floor

According to the architect's plans, the main floor of the build-

IFC Reports Fall Rushing Starts Monday

The fall semester rushing period of Moravian College's three social fraternities will begin on Monday, Oct. 12.

On that day a list of rushees will be posted on the North Campus bulletin board in Comenius Hall.

The announcement was made following a meeting of the Interfraternity Council (IFC) held at 6:15 p.m. last Tuesday night in the office of its advisor, Harvey T. D. Gillespie, Dean of Men.

The IFC also announced the dates of the fraternity rushing parties. Tau Kappa Epsilon will hold their function on Tuesday, Oct. 13, Sigma Phi Omega on Wednesday, Oct. 14, and Omicron Gamma Omega on Thursday, Oct. 15.

The Quiet Period will be observed from 12 noon on Saturday, Oct. 17 to 4 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 21. During this time there is to be no contact between fraternity members and the rushees. There are also to be no rushees in the fraternity houses.

Third Annual Family Day To Be Held Next Weekend

The third annual Family Day to be held on the Moravian campus since the merger of the college in 1954 will be observed Saturday, Oct. 17. The event this year will be sponsored by the Triangle Honor Society and the Parents Committee of Moravian College.

According to Gene Salay, president of Triangle, letters have been mailed to parents and relatives of Moravian students, inviting them to share a day in college with their son or daughter and outlining the program for the day.

This day will serve to give an opportunity to parents and relatives of Moravian students to visit the campus, to meet the faculty, and to make the acquaintance of other Moravian students, said Salay. The big feature of the day will be a football game between Moravian and Pennsylvania Military College, he stated.

Beginning at 11 a.m. registration for all visitors and faculty will take place in the lobby of Johnston Hall. Identification tags

Pettingill To Present Film At First Audubon Program

Dr. Olin Sewall Pettingill, Jr., of Wayne, Maine, will present a film entitled "Penguin Summer" at the first of five Audubon Screen Tours, in Johnston Hall, at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Season tickets for the entire series may be obtained from Dr. Albert E. H. Gaumer or from the publicity office. Prices of season tickets are: students, one dollar; family (parents and children) six dollars; and adults, three dollars.

Filmed at Falkland Islands

The film, "Penguin Summer," was filmed at the Falkland Islands, off the southern tip of Argentina, during an expedition by Dr. Pettingill for Walt Disney, upon Society.

The next Audubon Screen Tour will be held on Saturday, November 14, by Leonard Hall. The film is entitled, "An Ozark Anthology" and concerns wildlife in the Ozarks.

The tours are sponsored by the Moravian College Conservation Association and the National Audubon Society.

Round Table . . .

Recently there appeared an editorial in the *Muhlenberg Week-*ly which contained this statement, "We have witnessed an event in the last week which has done more to improve and clarify the Administration-Student relationship than anything attempted in recent years . . . the round-table discussion between Student council, the President, and the Deans of Men, Women and Faculty."

This is indeed an excellent idea and the results at our neighboring college were quite good.

This is also an excellent possibility for Moravian College. Very often students are informed of school policy and are expected to obey it. More often than not, the students do not really understand the reasoning behind this policy and often complain loudly over something which basically has a rational explanation.

The most recent example of this is the college Book Store situation. In the midst of all sorts of rumors as to high profits and what not, a relatively simple explanation has served to clear the air and acquaint students with the basic reasons for the store's policy.

Much bad feeling between students and administration could have been avoided through such a round-table discussion. And indeed, there are very many other conditions which could be alleviated by open and frank discussion between those who make the policy and those who must abide by it.

Take for example the present food situation. One really wonders if things are as bad on South Campus as rumor has it, especially with conditions definitely improved in the North Campus dining hall.

Then there is the college development program. Certainly many students would like answers to questions they have about it. More specifically they probably want information concerning the Student Union.

There is also the annual Religious Emphasis Week. This event, despite fair planning, has often had an adverse effect upon the student's spiritual outlook. A constructive discussion would certainly improve the worth of this program for all.

There is the matter of the student centered commencements which are now apparently to become a part of college policy. By a free exchange of ideas from both parties involved, a truly student centered commencement and graduation may be achieved.

Undoubtedly the USG this year has many good plans. However, it is urged that this program of round-table discussions between administration figures and the student government be given top priority. There are many details such as time and frequency and place of such meetings to be worked out, but it is necessary that these minor points do not over-shadow the goal of mutual understanding and cooperation which can be achieved through such a plan.

Third Annual Art Show Features Sixty-three Works

Mrs. Sally Beckler Ryan views her painting, "Midwinter," which received honorable mention at last weekend's Founder's Day art contest.

Sixty-three paintings are exhibited in the third annual Moravian College Founder's Day art exhibition now being conducted in rooms 9 and 10 of Johnston Hall.

The exhibition, with a theme of original pastoral scenes, includes pastels, water colors, oils and casein ranging from traditional to modern cubism, with all four seasons represented.

The paintings will be on exhibition on Saturday, Oct. 10, from 2-5 p.m. and in the evening during the Audubon Tours. The exhibition will be continued on Sunday, Oct. 11, from 2-5 p.m.; Saturday, Oct. 17, and Sunday, Oct. 18, from 2-5 p.m.; and Sunday, Oct. 25, from 2-5 p.m. The final day of the exhibition is Saturday, Oct. 31, in the afternoon and evening.

Prizes Awarded

Wilmer Behler of Bethlehem received first prize for his oil painting entitled "Early Fall" at a preview tea given by the Women's Council last Sunday. Dora Thomas was in charge of the affair and Beverly Luzietti, Jane Zigenfus and Sandra Yaeck assisted.

"The House and the Land," an oil painting by Miss Jerry Quier, also of Bethlehem, received second prize. Both paintings will be added to the permanent art collection of the college.

Three honorable mention awards went to Peter Hoffman of Allentown for his casein entitled "Among the Hills," Clarence Dreisbach, also of Allentown, for his oil painting entitled "Little Bushkill Creek," and Mrs. Sally Beckler Ryan of Bethlehem for her impressionistic oil entitled "Midwinter."

The judges for the contest were Mr. Stewart Bolger, executive director of the Annie S. Kemmerer Museum, Mr. John Grossman, art instructor at Kutztown State Teachers College, and Mrs. Richard Dubbs, art instructor at Fountain Hill High School.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS!!

by Neil Eskolin

Actually, this week this column should be called "Keep Out of the Moat." Now that you're thoroughly confused, I shall endeavor to clear things up in my own disorganized way.

It seems that this week a great transformation has taken place on campus. The workers of this little organization are no longer laboring in the "Comenian office." The name has recently been changed to the "Castle Comenian." You may wonder why—and with good cause. But on with the explanation.

Whenever you think of a castle you usually think of an imposing edifice encircled by a body of water commonly referred to as a moat. Now we of the Castle Comenian are not so fortunate as to have a moat completely encircling our working quarters but we do have a body of water spread out in front of our entrance.

The drain in the bottom of the well at the foot of the door leading to the office (oops, I mean castle) is clogged up and therefore we have a moat.

It is with little reservation that I take the liberty of boast—that the Comenian is the only publication in the Lehigh Valley to have its very own moat.

Of course the Comenian is no half-hearted organization, a fact of which most of you are already aware. So in keeping with the medieval motif, the hierarchy of the Comenian have gone to great lengths to fortify the castle. A draw bridge (that doesn't draw too well) has been erected to facilitate easier accessibility to the castle. Also, as a very benevolent and thoughtful gesture and in an effort to keep the castle safe from enemy attack, a school of man-eating goldfish has been donated and is now keeping guard over the castle.

It was hoped that a fire-breathing dragon could be procured to serve as a guard and of course we have not given up the idea completely, but it is difficult to find such a monster in this modern day and age. However, anyone having any information as to the whereabouts of a dragon (not too large, though, because our moat is small) please contact the "King" (editor) or one of the princes, (associate, news, sports, or feature editor). It is rumored that a large reward will be offered for any information concerning this matter.

Considering the fact that the moat and man-eating goldfish are of such interest, visiting hours have been instituted for the next week. Admission is free but contributions will be accepted for the upkeep and maintenance of this worthwhile institution.

See ya around the moat!

Game With Juniata Expected 'Toughest'

After winning their opening game last Saturday in decisive fashion against Wilkes by a score of 28-6, the Moravian Greyhounds will take on the Juniata College Indians tomorrow afternoon. The game will be played right in the Greyhound's back yard to begin their season at home.

Moravian has found Juniata to be their toughest opposition since the forming of the Middle Atlantic Conference. Out of the fourteen games played, so far, the Indians have come out on top of a 9-4-1 record with seven of those nine victories coming in the last seven games. In that period, Moravian was outscored 141 points against 35 by the Indians.

The last time Moravian had any show against Juniata was in 1948 when they tied the Indians 6-6. Last year Juniata had a 6-0-0 league record for a 1,000 percentage while the Hounds had a 3-3-0 will be issued so that visitors and faculty may become more easily acquainted.

At 11:30 a.m. college president Raymond S. Hauptert will introduce a movie depicting the history of the Moravian Church and Moravian College. This event will take place in Johnston Hall.

At noon a buffet luncheon will be served.

The football game will begin at 2 p.m. Guests who may be unable to attend the luncheon may pick up football tickets at the Registration Desk after 1:15 p.m. After the game a "Meet-the-Faculty Coffee Hour" will be held in Johnston Hall.

College buildings will be open for parents' inspection. Women's dormitories will be open from 1-5 p.m. Other organizations on campus will also sponsor open house.

The Triangle committee planning the program consists of Sa-league record for a .500 percentage. Juniata outscored their opposition 211 points against 25 while the Hounds come out on top of a 93-82 record.

Although the Indians have not lost a game in 22 starts and they won their first two games, 7-6 over Westminster and 42-0 over Alfred University, coach Calvo feels that the Hounds have a good chance of winning.

Calvo will probably use the same starting lineup as he did last week in Wilkes with the exception of quarterback. He will start John "Jabbo" Williams to lead the offensive attack.

FALL FOCUS

Jim Worman—Cross Country

The man in sports focus this week is junior cross-country runner Jim Worman from Allentown.

Jim is one of nine lettermen returning to this year's Harrier squad.

He declares his greatest thrill in athletics was the opportunity to run in the Philadelphia Inquirer Indoor Track Meet last year.

Jim is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and the Spe-nsion's Club.

His favorite pastimes are bowling and playing basketball.

Our athlete is a chemistry major. After graduation he plans to go on to graduate school for his doctorate in chemistry.

When questioned about this year's Harrier squad, Jim said, "The team has the spirit to win. In the time trials the team has looked great. If the squad isn't hampered by injuries, we should have a most successful year."

The Sports Story

by George Fiegel

The cross-country team has started this year's schedule by running against Elizabethtown. They have the identical schedule as they had last year. If they are to better their season of the previous year a few questions have to be answered. Some of these questions are: Will Hank Sunyak let the team down as he did last year, when he really has the ability to be a great runner? Will Ray Herman be able to run his usual race before the end of the season? Will the freshmen be able to help the team as much as last year?—Some good-looking frosh have gained positions on the team. Will certain upperclassmen give-up their running careers because others seem to be outshining them at the present?

The gridders of Moravian played a good game last Saturday. It took them a little time to start ticking, but after that they had no trouble. Orbiting John Olson, their lone-some end, is making a name for himself. John Williams, our freshman passing sensation, is also showing his abilities as a great ballplayer. Tomorrow Moravian has a job on their hands as they face Juniata. Last year both cross-country and football teams were defeated at the homecoming weekend at Juniata. Now, the Indians come here with an impressive 22 game winning streak after beating their first two opponents, Alfred U. and Westminster. The Greyhounds have to play a hard, rough and tough game and make their passing offense good. The Harriers running on their own course might have a chance to defeat the Indian's runners. Hard running is on the schedule.

The Lehigh Engineers are playing the Gettysburg Bullets this week-end. Although they tied last year I think Gettysburg will take it in a close game, maybe by one touchdown. Muhlenberg goes to Temple to play. This game will probably go something like 14-6 in favor of the Owls. University of Delaware comes to Lafayette to face a defeat in my estimation. Might be a close one though. Moravian is hosting Juniata this week-end and perhaps will suffer their first defeat of the season. The game should be a good one with plenty of thrills but I predict Mo-Mo will lose a close one, 20-16. In the high school loop Bethlehem will be smothered by Milton Hershey High and Allentown will give way to Memorial High of New Jersey.

I am glad to hear about the attendance at the Mo-Mo games. I understand the freshmen are helping to support our teams. Let's everybody get out there and cheer.

That's the sports story for this week.

Irish, OGO's Pick Up Wins In I-M Action

The fall intra-mural football program got underway this week as the Irish defeated the TKE'S 26-18 in the opener on Monday and the Vets forfeited to the OGO's on Tuesday.

There are nine teams represented in the league this year and the season will run through November 12 after which a single elimination will be played between the two top teams for the league championship.

According to league regulations, each team must have seven eligible players in order to start a game.

The teams and their captains include: the TKE's, George Sites; The Irish, Ben Melusky; the OGO's, Walt Kruszewski; the Vets, Dick Casey; Pi Mu, Ted Wilde; South Hall Tom Ulrich; Sigma Phi, Russ Conover; the Freshmen, Dwight Mowrey; and the Seminary, Dick Steiner.

Harriers Bow To Elizabethtown In First Meet

The Greyhound Harriers started off their season on Tuesday with a 21-34 loss to Elizabethtown in an away meet at 4 p.m. Top man for Moravian was Jim Worman, who ran the course in 27:04; to bring him into third place.

The rest of the runners tallied up at: Bruckhart, (E), 25:05; Bond, (E), 25:58; Fiegel, (M), 27:16; Hossler, (E), 27:34; Gibble, (E), 28:09; Bair, (E), 27:10; Grammes, (M), 28:10.

Other Moravian Harriers were, Durn, 28:23; Rinker, 28:39; Sunyak, 29:20; Wetmore, 29:28; Borost, 30:00; and Gross, 30:29.

Hounds Swamp Colonels; Williams Is Outstanding

The Moravian Greyhound football team opened its season on a winning note by swamping Wilkes last Saturday, 28-6.

The Colonels, admittedly outclassed, were hit hard by the Hounds' new "secret weapon," freshman quarterback John "Jabbo" Williams. Williams completed five of seven passes for 121 yards and capped this yardage with two touchdown passes. His punting average for five tries was a highly respectable 41 yards.

Fred Lipari, senior center from Easton, began the Moravian scoring spree when he recovered a Wilkes fumble in the second period. Six plays later Dave Coe, sophomore fullback, climaxed a 51 yard drive by diving over from one yard out.

Williams uncorked his aerial bombardment in the third quarter with a 66 yard touchdown pass to "Bucky" Yelovitch. Yelovitch, who had out-run the deep man in the Wilkes defense, gathered in the pass on the Colonels' 36 yard line and galloped over without opposition.

Again Moravian's defensive alertness paid off as Jim Kritis burst through the Wilkes line to block a punt from Wilkes' own 30 yard marker. Williams then fired a strike to John Olson on a twenty-two yard touchdown combination.

After Wilkes had scored on a pass play from Yanchus to Gordon, the Hounds Bill Hershey returned a Wilkes punt 23 yards to the Colonels 7 yard line. Jeff Gannon's power running ate up the 17 yards to the goal line on three straight plays for the final tally.

Blackfriars Choose Cast; Geiman Stars

Cynthia Geiman has been selected to play the lead of Medea in the Blackfriars' first presentation of the season, Medea, to be held in the South Campus Chapel on November 20 and 21.

The remainder of the cast includes: Nurse, Audrey Hair; First Woman of Corinth, Jean Friedman; Second Woman of Corinth, Susan Berger; Third Woman of Corinth, Wilma Bennewis; Creon, Bob Gohdes; Jason, Griff Dudding; Aeguis, Bill Pfeiffer; Tutor, Beverly Luzietti; and Slave, Nancy Traubitz.

Director of the production is Robert T. Burcaw, instructor in English.

The play, which starred Judith Anderson in the original Broadway production, was adapted by Robinson Jeffers.

All members of the cast will be measured for costumes on Monday, Oct. 12, at 7:15 p.m.

College Choir Begins Season; 23 Are New

Mr. Richard Schantz, assistant professor of music and director of the college choir, has announced that the group now has fifty-three members.

Schantz said that thirty members of the choir have returned from last year and that there are twenty-three new additions to the organization this year.

Officers of the choir are Burke Johnson, president; Ralph Shields, vice-president; Dora Thomas, secretary; Dolores Lang, treasurer; and Beverly Luzietti, business manager.

Presently, Schantz stated, the choir is rehearsing for the College Christmas Vesper service.

As to the solution to this problem, Haupt stressed that we should strengthen our faith in God, and that such a faith is more than an adequate answer for any problem in life.

Finally, he stated that we need more self-confidence and confidence in our fellow man.

Student Union . . .

ing features a large cafeteria, snack bar, and dining room, with ample food storage and preparation facilities. Also planned for the main floor is a large lounge facing the football field, at the front of the building.

The snack bar will accommodate 145 people, and will be used for all regular meals. It is separated from the 175-seat cafeteria by a folding door, thus enabling both rooms to be used to accommodate larger groups.

A private dining room is located adjacent to the snack bar.

The lounge will be furnished comfortably, and will serve as an area for relaxation. A room with television facilities is provided adjacent to the lounge.

Also included in the main floor plan are meeting rooms to accommodate thirty and fifty people, committee meeting rooms, and a music listening room.

Basement Plan

The basement floor plan includes offices for student organization groups, and facilities for table tennis and billiards. An area is reserved for the future installation of four bowling alleys.

A supply store, mailboxes, storage rooms, and cloakroom facilities also constitute major areas of student interest.

Future Plans

Proposed future plans for the union building include the addition of a small auditorium to seat 300 persons. This will be used for large campus lectures, movies, and dramatic presentations. Also to be included in this section of the addition are a browsing library and exhibition lobby.

Further future additions include a party room, to be used for small campus social functions, and an extension to the cafeteria.

Snyder stated that the future plans will not be executed until such time as the union building is completed, and already functioning.

The outside walls of the building will be stucco, with a roof constructed of slate.

It is anticipated that groundbreaking will be held in the spring, following completion of final detailed plans and acceptance of a contractor's bid.

'Harvest' To Be Theme Of Homecoming Fete

"Harvest" will be the theme of the College's annual Homecoming Weekend, Oct. 30-31. Featured during the weekend will be a dance, a football game with Albright, a pep rally, and two parades.

Al Bornstein and Joan Albrecht, co-chairmen of the Social Activities Committee, have announced that a Homecoming Queen will be chosen from twelve contestants. Her court will be composed of the other semi-finalists.

The Homecoming Queen will reign at a dance to be held Saturday night, Oct. 31. Matt Gillespie's orchestra will provide the music for the dance.

The Queen will also reign over the two parades, one to be held on Friday night at 7:30 p.m. and the second to be held Saturday afternoon before the game. Before the parade on Friday night there will be a pep rally. Immediately after the parade there will be a bonfire.

There will be a contest held for the best floats for the parade and the best dormitory decorations. Prizes will be $15, $10, and $5 respectively in both contests for first, second and third prizes. All ideas for floats must be handed in to Mrs. Solt by Friday, October 16.

pay the costs involved out of any overall profit from the store.

$5,210 Last Year

To illustrate the college's position, Kuhn quoted the gross profit of last year's operation as $32,400. He then deducted the prices and shipping expenses which came to $27,230. This left $5,210 as a net profit.

The comptroller stated that out of that amount, all costs had to be paid and that the remainder went into the general college fund to alleviate expenses in other sections of college operations, such as maintenance and tuition.

Language Lab . . .

The intercom system can be operated between teacher and student, student and teacher, or between students. The third operation consists of being able to listen in and record the student's progress without his knowledge of this procedure.

French and Latin students are the only groups participating in the program this year. These students must spend a half hour, once a week, in the laboratory. Twenty-five minutes of this time is spent listening and repeating what is heard on the tapes or on record.

The last five minutes is an evaluation period in which the student reads selected words or phrases, in order for the instructor to evaluate the student's progress.

Expansion of the laboratory and the program next year will allow Spanish, German, Russian and Classical language students to utilize the facilities.

The object of the program is to enable the student to gain more fluency in the particular language being studied, said Mrs. Beecher recently. Students are definitely able to concentrate better in the new language laboratory, and seem more enthusiastic, she added.

Laboratory assistants are Barbara Sennecca, Harris Sibener and Louis Czechowski. Any students interested in becoming laboratory assistants are requested to contact Mrs. Beecher.

U S G committee allocations were: Religious Activities Committee, $210; Social Activities Committee $4,613.10; Student Concert - Film Series Committee, $1,146; and Women's Activities Committee, $175.

The Board of Publications, which did not submit a budget, was allocated its balance of $16.26 from last year. An allocation of $700 was also made for the printing of The Student Handbook.

Following discussion of the budgets, French announced that OGO II, official college mascot, was in "good health" and would appear on Family Day and at Homecoming.

Miss Halcyon Sartwell, Dean of Women, distributed mimeographed sheets containing the instructions to be followed by organizations wishing to place their meetings on the official calendar.

MacDonald announced that voucher forms used last year were no longer to be employed. He stated that new vouchers were available from Mrs. Robert Gehman in Colonial Hall. MacDonald said that these forms were to be used by groups and returned to Mrs. German.

The USG treasurer also reminded representatives that all campus organizations receiving USG allocations are required to submit monthly budget reports to the treasurer. The first report is due Oct. 31.
