

255 Favor Compulsory Class Dues

Fifty-five percent of the student body voted this week to add $1 to the comprehensive college charge, to be used for class dues. The action was decided on the basis of a referendum conducted by United Student Government (USG).

Two hundred fifty-five students voted in favor of the measure and 180 voted against it. Thus a total of 435 students, representing a little over half of the total enrollment of 794, took action in the referendum.

The vote was conducted in the lobby of Comenius Hall Monday and Tuesday.

As a result of the referendum all students will be billed an extra $1 per semester for class dues, beginning in the fall. Students will decide to what use the money will be put.

USG representatives have been considering the problem of collection of class dues for several months. A committee, headed by junior class president Jack Jacob, has been investigating the problem.

There are several local colleges now following the procedure of including class dues in the college's comprehensive fee.

Formerly, it has been the individual class treasurers who attempted to collect dues on a voluntary basis. The system has not succeeded, as only a small percentage of students have at any time been fully paid up.

Third Illustrated Audubon Tour To Feature 'Roanoke Northwest'

The third in a series of audubon screen tours will be presented by the Moravian College Conservation Association in Johnston Hall tomorrow evening at 8 p.m.

G. Harrison Orians, professor of English at the University of Toledo, will give an illustrated lecture on "Roanoke Northwest," consisting of a tour of wildlife in the American midwest.

Orians received the AB degree from North Central College and the MA and Ph.D. from the University of Illinois. He is the author of four books.

He has served as professor at the University of Illinois and the University of Idaho.

The program will be presented in cooperation with the National Audubon Society, and is part of a five-program series presented annually at the college.

The next presentation will take place April 2, when Carl Buchheister will lecture on "Pastures of the Sea."

Prospective APO's Operate Coat-check

Serving as coat-check attendants at last Saturday evening's "Village Party" in Johnston Hall were members of a group attempting to form a chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, on the campus.

Myron Mellicke, the student in charge of the organization, stated this week that, in addition to activities such as this, the service fraternity would work to establish a student blood bank and a used-book store.

Organizational meetings will be announced.

Students interested in joining the organization have been requested to contact Mellicke. Prerequisite for membership is prior affiliation with the Boy Scouts of America.

Faith Yields Right Motive, Hauptert Says

Crime is presently on the increase because "only a handful of people have equated 'doing right' with a belief in God," stated college president Raymond S. Hauptert at convocation.

"A sound reason for doing right is based on a belief in the presence of God," Hauptert said. The speaker enumerated three "athletic" reasons for "doing right."

The "poorest reason for doing right," he said, is fear of punishment. Secondly, he claimed, the atheist does right in fear of the reaction of others and the desire to gain social approval.

The third reason, Hauptert noted, is that a person will "do right because he has cultivated a sense of integrity."

Opposing this, Hauptert stated that "the highest motive for doing right is grounded in faith in God" because "God is interested in the individual life."

Honor System Develops Trust By Teaching Responsibility

This is the first of a two-part discussion of the value of the honor system on the college campus. Next week's article will deal with the advantages of such a system at Moravian.—Editor.

by Jean Friedman

Our present day concept of honor is geared to a justification of the ends and not the means used to secure those ends. As such, it can be termed a "forked-tongue" morality.

As an example, cheating in college is accepted not as substandard behavior but as an outgrowth of competitive pressures. Thus it is often said that the world "puts too high a premium on success."

Such an attitude is based on scholastic insecurity. Grades have degenerated into prestige symbols rather than indicators of the degree of conscientious study.

Therefore the reputation of "honor" depends upon a vacillating grade-point and not upon individual responsibility.

Voting Machines Secured For Use In USG Elections

A voting machine has been secured for both the primary and the general United Student Government (USG) elections, Jack Jacob, junior class president, announced last week. The machine, which will be acquired through the chief clerk of Northampton County, will be set up in the lobby of Comenius Hall.

Senators Call For Elimination Of Loyalty Oath

by University Press Service

The elimination of the disclaimer affidavit provision of the National Defense Education Act of 1958 seemed possible last week when the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare approved a bill calling for the repeal of the affidavit.

The bill (S.2929) was introduced Jan. 29 by Senators Kennedy, Clark, and Javits. The bill would eliminate Section 1001 (f-1), the disclaimer affidavit of disbelief, leaving unchanged Section 1001 (f-2), the oath of allegiance.

No date has been set for report of S. 2929 to the Senate floor.

The loyalty provision (Section 1001 (f) of the National Defense Education Act has been under fire for some time. During the last session of Congress a bill by Senator Kennedy to eliminate the provisions was returned to committee. Colleges and universities throughout the nation have expressed grave concern over the provisions.

Here at Moravian, there are about 25 students participating in the program. Recent administration policy indicated opposition to the disclaimer provision, but according to college president Raymond S. Hauptert, "we don't feel so strongly that we would withdraw."

The administration's objections are based on the presumption that the oath is discriminatory, and interferes with "independent higher education."

"The machine will acquaint the students with formal voting techniques as well as being an aid in the tabulation of votes," Jacob stated.

A sample board will be placed outside the booth to familiarize the students with voting procedures before entering to vote, Jacob said.

The voting booth will be set up and taken down by the office of the chief clerk at no cost to USG or the college.

Jacob reminded all students that tampering with the voting machine is a federal offense and any such action would be treated accordingly by the clerk's office.

Presidential Candidates

Jacob and James MacDonald are candidates for the office of president.

The candidates for the office of vice-president are Joel Leeb, Donald Morrow and James Naisby.

Thomas Christianson and Robert Fatzinger will oppose each other for the office of treasurer.

Ruth Welch will run for the office of secretary.

As of early this week, Nancy Warren and Susan Wilbraham were campaigning as write-in candidates for the office of secretary.

RAU Presents Lecture Series In Late March

Dr. Albert E. H. Gaumer, professor of biology and chairman of the biology department, announced recently that Dr. Samuel M. Reynolds, professor of anatomy at the University of Illinois Medical College, will be this year's annual guest speaker.

He will be on the campus from March 22-26.

Dr. Reynolds' appearance, to be sponsored by the Rau Science Society, will include special addresses to the student body and guests and to smaller groups of science majors.

Annual Event

Each year the science society sponsors the appearance of a national science figure. Last year's guest was Dr. Leslie F. Nims of the Brookhaven National Laboratory.

Dr. Reynolds received the A.B. degree from Swarthmore College and the M.A. and Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania.

Three Fraternities Announce Total Of 59 Spring Pledges

The three campus social fraternities have chosen a total of 59 men as their pledges for the spring semester.

Sigma Phi Omega's pledgemaster, Russell Conover, stated that the following 16 men will become pledges of the fraternity: Dick Andrews, Dennis Bleam, Peter Gill, Manuel Gonsalves, William Hino, Roy Kelchner, Mike Kissel, Gilbert Knupp, Dave Linaberry, Al Macknis, Duane Mortomaki, Charles Napravnik, Fred Stocker, Ron Smith, Joe Trodahl, and John Yelovich.

Free Skating Party Planned By USG

Plans for a free skating party, to be held Sunday Feb. 28 from 7 p.m. to midnight at the Bethlehem Municipal Rink, were announced this week. The announcement was made by James MacDonald, United Student Government (USG) treasurer.

MacDonald stated that all students will be admitted to the rink on presentation of their identification cards.

Facilities will be available for the rental of ice skates.

The project, according to MacDonald, is being financed by USG at a cost of approximately $100.

Think! . . .

Within the next two weeks the United Student Government will hold its primary and general elections.

There are several items which should be used as standards of judgement by the voter in considering his choice.

A prime requisite for any USG officer is a deep sense of responsibility. This is evinced by the candidate's previous participation in USG activities, by his service to campus organizations and by the candidate's academic integrity.

A responsible USG officer must be one who will not be afraid to defend the best course in the face of criticism.

It must be remembered that the USG officers represent all the students of the school in many relationships with other schools and outside groups. Therefore it is essential that the general attitudes of these officers reflect the most desirable traits of college students.

There are certain factors which are to be strictly avoided in making one's choice of a candidate.

This is not a personality contest. The selection of an individual solely because he has a lot of friends or is a "good guy" is an extremely immature action.

Likewise, the choice of a candidate whose only asset is that he is being pushed by a campus social group is a poor one.

Lastly, all thinking voters will realize that the candidate who caters to everyone and tries to please all, will end up standing for nothing and accomplishing nothing if elected.

When the voters carefully evaluate the various candidates in the light of these and similar criteria they will be fulfilling the high degree of responsibility which being a member of the college community demands of them.

Congratulations . . .

Congratulations are in order for the fifty-five percent of the Moravian College student body who found time to take twenty-two seconds or less (by actual count) out of their busy schedule on Monday or Tuesday to vote on how to spend some of their money.

We extend our regrets to the other forty-five percent of the student body who were unable to find this time. However, we understand that crying towels will not be issued at registration when this new fee will be collected.

The referendum issue has now been decided. However, there are two more elections coming up within the next two weeks. The results of these events will be the selection of the student leaders for the coming year.

In some respects this is considerably more important than what you are going to do with two dollars.

So we expect that the faithful fifty-five percent will come out to the polls and we urge the remaining forty-five percent to plan their schedules now so that they may find time to fulfill their obligation, responsibility and privilege.

All letters to the editor must be placed in Box 86, North Campus, by 3 p.m. Tuesday, if they are to appear in the issue of the following Friday. If possible they should be typed, double-spaced. Due to space limitations it is requested that they be short and concise.

Technologies, Birth Increase, Arouse Church

This is the second of a series of reports from four students who attended the Ecumenical Student Conference in Athens, Ohio during the Christmas vacation.—Editor.

by Robert Kohler

"One of the great revolutions of our time is the fantastic development and extension of the machine and the consequent growth of cities and vast organizations where men are treated as less than human. The Gospel which knows man as a child of God must be spoken powerfully in new ways on behalf of man." Thus Dr. Darrell Randall of the National Council of Churches opened the forum on technological upheaval at the National Ecumenical Conference.

Technological advancements in industry have led to the problem of a dawning age of automation, of unemployment, of necessary education and training for a new class of skilled workers.

Advancements along the lines of science and health have led to an exploding world population which presents problems of hunger, poverty, and an unbalanced class structure in world society.

As we can see, the problems caused by technological upheaval have left their imprints on a great range of human experience, and consequently every individual and every organization is directly or indirectly affected. Because the church is an organization in the world community, it will have a great many problems due to the advancement of technology.

The stress on rationalism, which has made scientific progress possible, leads to skepticism of church doctrine and the Bible.

The church is faced with the problems of offering a restless and insecure population spiritual security. However, at the present it must cope with problems far more obvious and tangible. Our world is filled with underdeveloped areas exploding with population.

by Nancy Traubitz

Good morning coffee-drinkers, time-wasters, and people the professor has to tell to put away their Comenian so that class can begin. Been weeks since we've had a run down on Mo-Mo social life and so I'm going to take time out right here to congratulate the new members of the pinned set.

Congratulations to Jane Keogh and Fred Harberg, Ruth Lomerson and Frank Jones, Eleanor Rellinghaus and George Sites. Also, best wishes to the newlyweds, Bruce Robertson and Ruth Mauch.

In case you haven't noticed, this is the month of fraternity and sorority rushing and pledging. Now that things have calmed down a bit perhaps we can ask ourselves some honest questions to educate, but to inculcate values. The college must provide the grounds for building in the student a strong sense of responsibility.

Southern University's System Puts Responsibility On Student

Honorable, responsible attitudes can be nurtured in the college student by placing emphasis on the individual as a person and not as a cog in one grand mechanized mass devoid of character and substance.

A Christian college accepts a student as being basically "good" on the presumption that, as a Christian, he is working for self-betterment in the image of Christian values. Virtue is a positive force in his life, and mutual trust is a goal.

In order to accomplish this the relationship between the student and the college must be itself personal and individual in nature. A freedom from mistrust must be expressed between the two.

An honor system is the ideal means of acquiring and maintaining this trust.

At the University of Virginia, for example, the system is seen to have numerous advantages.

Upon entering the institution, students sign an honor card stating that they understand the system and will abide by it. From this point on the word of the student is regarded as truth. Local businessmen will readily cash the check of a "man of honor."

In the school itself exams are conducted wholly on the basis of honor — if the student feels he needs a short break in the middle of the examination, he takes one, and there is no proctor to see that he does not "cheat."

Also, personal belongings are never stolen. Curfew hours are respected and maintained.

The burden of moral responsibility, then, is placed entirely upon the student. Mistreatment of the system in any way results in "blacklisting" of the offending individual. And "blacklisting" is rare indeed. It has been found that students at the University of Virginia respect the system fully.

Evidence of personal growth and maturity is found here, as well as in other colleges where the system is followed. The main requirement is the instilling of personal responsibility based on mutual trust. The honor of the individual is stressed, and thus it is the means, and not the end, which is all-important.

The desire in these countries to modernize, to bring their standard of living up to that of their more prosperous neighbors, is completely natural and good. Yet modernization is not an easy one-step process. It is a long and difficult one, hindered by the poverty, hunger and disease of an over-abundance of people.

Underdeveloped countries cannot help but seek easy solutions. And communism ideologically is an appealing answer. Take from the rich and give to the poor; level humanity off so that everyone has equal privileges and equal gains.

Yet communism, completely materialistic in nature, forgets the spirit, trying to stamp out religion, which it regards as a source of weakness instead of a type of strength. And what is even more important, communistic states need not depend on just the strength of an ideal. They can back their ideal, so-to-speak, with money.

The church, as an opposing force to communism, offers the spiritual answer, but it must offer a material one as well. It must deal realistically with the population increase, the great gaps in standards of living, and the prevalent lack of even the barest necessities of life.

Religion must attempt to alleviate the burdens of these people without compromising its spiritual values.

Coffee Klatsch

and get some honest answers. The men have already made their decisions and the women will make theirs very soon.

Every year some are rushed—of these some pledge and some do not. And after all the noise and fun and fuss is over, after everyone is speaking to everyone else again, what then? Was it worth it all? Are we proud we pledged or glad we didn't pledge or relieved we simply didn't have to make a decision?

If fraternities and sororities serve no function except to divert severely needed campus creativity into such anemic activities as building floats and giving parties and IF they place a straight-jacket on our developing intellectual and social life, then surely we want no part of them. They are not only a detriment but a real danger to the ideals we believe in.

IF, on the other hand, fraternities and sororities strengthen a bond of friendship which holds long after classes break up at graduation, IF they encourage a spirit of individualism which serves the group and yet sees beyond the group, IF they can fill up the social vacuum and be of real service to the school in their activities, IF their so-called "anemic activities" are a manifestation of a vigorous pride in Moravian College, then we should support them and be proud to be a part of them.

Common sense will tell us that the sorority or fraternity system of social organization is not for everyone, not for all the elite any more than for all the clods. Any social organization which claims all the "brains" or all the "athletes" or "party-goers" or "campus leaders" or what have you, is fooling itself and defeating the principle of brotherhood or sisterhood.

That's enough philosophizing—but if we are to have social sororities and fraternities, we must think about what they stand for and be able to justify their existence.

Greyhounds Upset Lions As Potter, Rice Sink 20

by George Fiegel

An alert Greyhound hoop squad upset the cagers of Albright College 81-74 last Tuesday on the Greyhound home court.

Ducky Potter and Hal Rice were high for the Hounds with 20 points each while Kenneth Van Dine and Terry Piersol were top scorers for the visitors with 28 points each.

The whole Moravian team moved forward at the start to make the score 10-4.

However, by the middle of the second quarter the teams were tied 28-28 and at halftime the Hounds were on the short end of a 46-43 score.

In the first eight minutes of the second half Albright scored only three points.

The score soon went to 67-57 with Moravian ahead by their greatest lead of the game. The visitors moved forward but not enough to down the Hounds who won 81-74.

YOURS?

This is the B-52. Advanced as it may be, this airplane has one thing in common with the first war-galleys of ancient Egypt...and with the air and space vehicles of the future. Someone must chart its course. Someone must navigate it.

For certain young men this presents a career of real executive opportunity. Here, perhaps you will have the chance to master a profession full of meaning, excitement and rewards...as a Navigator in the U. S. Air Force.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet you must be an American citizen between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. A high school diploma is required, but some college is highly desirable. Successful completion of the training program leads to a commission as a Second Lieutenant...and your Navigator wings.

If you think you have what it takes to measure up to the Aviation Cadet Program for Navigator training, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Or clip and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

Colonels Victimize Grapplers In Fight For Unbeaten Seasons

Three Hounds Keep Streaks Of No Losses

by Bob Sallash

The powerful Wilkes Colonels victimized the Greyhound wrestlers by the score of 20-10 last Saturday to maintain their undefeated season and also to knock Moravian from the ranks of the undefeated for the second straight year.

Wilkes earned two quick pins in the first two bouts for a 10-0 lead and then never relinquished it as the Greyhounds fought hard to overtake them.

The match was fought on an even basis following the first two bouts as each team won two decisions and two draws.

The opening bout found once beaten Brooks Yeager of Wilkes pinning Moravian's Dick Gross in 1:05 with a split scissors.

At 130 lb. Wilkes' Dick Stauffer used a guillotine in 4:29 to pin Bill Rinker for Rinker's first loss of the year.

This marked Rinker's second loss in two years of dual meet competition, both losses coming at the hands of Stauffer. The Wilkes wrestler had a 4-2 lead when the referee called the fall.

Gene Medei remained unbeaten as he convincingly decided Wilkes' Girard Seneck 6-2 at 137 lb. This victory cut the lead to seven points which was the closest Moravian came to overtaking the MAC champs.

Moravian's Dan Turner also remained undefeated as he was tied by Wilkes' captain Joe Morgan at 4-4. Turner had a 4-3 lead until Morgan escaped in the final minute to tie the match.

At 157 lb. MAC champ Ted Toluba handed Moravian's Dick Bedics his first defeat as he decided Bedics 12-4.

Dave Bryant of Moravian and Glenn Rittenhouse of Wilkes battled to a 10-10 draw at 167 lb. The lead changed hands several times until Rittenhouse finally escaped with 15 seconds remaining in the final period to tie Bryant.

At 177 lb. Wilkes' MAC champ Marv Antines won a decision over Moravian's Steve Edraney 4-0. Antines worked for a pin throughout the match but Edraney would not give up. This was Edraney's first loss.

In the heavyweight bout Moravian's Dick Schaeffer remained unbeaten as he outclassed his larger Wilkes opponent, Bob Sislain, by the score 2-0. Schaeffer scored on an escape and time advantage.

Others to make contributions for the home team were: Dick Kosman with 14 points, Leo Stinner, Dick Chergey, and Rocco Zulli.

The Greyhound Jayvees won their game over the Albright Jayvees 59-52.

Matmen Face Elizabethtown In Final Meet

The Greyhound matmen will oppose the Elizabethtown Blue Jays in the season finale for both teams next Tuesday on the home mat.

Last year, the Hounds bested the Blue Jays 31-5. Moravian's record now stands at eight wins and one loss.

Coach Paul Kuklantz will start with Dick Gross at 123.

At 137, Gene Medei will face Elizabethtown's Co - Captain Al Kendig, who has the best individual record on the Blue Jay squad with six wins, one loss, and one tie.

Dick Bedics will face the Blue Jays' second Co - Captain, Jim Weaver, at 147.

Undefeated Dan Turner faces another fast improving wrestler at 157. Freshman Larry Brown has won two of his last three bouts.

At 167, Dave Bryant meets another freshman, Gary Ellinger.

Dick Schaeffer's opponent at 177 will be Galen Lehman, who has registered two falls in recent matches.

This final match will serve as a tuneup for both squads as they prepare for the Middle Atlantic Championships at Lebanon Valley on March 4 and 5.

Cagers Edge Royals 94-93; Rice Leads Hounds With 26

Moravian College's hoopsters edged Scranton, 94-93 in last Thursday's overtime thriller.

Moravian had led over the Royals 49-34 at the half, but Scranton fought back to tie it at 82 all just before the sound of the final buzzer.

During the five minute overtime, the Greyhounds stayed in the lead after Ducky Potter's two field goals made it 86-82. However, Scranton stayed in the battle down to the wire.

Hal Rice and Potter led the Greyhound scorers with 26 and 24 points respectively. Leo Stinner and Dick Kosman had 16 and 13 points. Dick Chergey chipped in with 9 points and some valuable rebounding.

Top scorers for the Royals were Aballa with 19 and Francis with 18.

Moravian's junior varsity lost to the Scranton yearlings, 95-77.

The lineups:

OGO Bowlers Still On Top With One Left

Omicron Gamma Omega's Black team, with but one remaining bowling match to be played this season, made the I-F Championship all but official last Tuesday, as they shut out Tau Kappa Epsilon's Grey squad, 4-0.

Recording the day's high single of 235, as well as leading his OGO team with 547 was Gene Salay. Tom Martin took scoring honors for the TKE's with 509.

Henry Toller's 465 led the White team of Sigma Phi Omega to a 4-0 win over TKE's Red club. Jack Jacob's 328 was high for the losers.

OGO's Red team bowed to SPO's Green squad, 3-1, in the other match of the day. Led by Jim Harkel's sizzling 585, SPO ran into little difficulty. High for the losers was Steve Kalamar with 520.

Honor Membership Extended By OGO

Ernest Stiegler, Jr., Lehigh Valley sports announcer for radio station WAEB in Allentown, was initiated into Omicron Gamma Omega Social fraternity last Sunday evening at his home in Center Valley.

Gene Salay, president of OGO, presided at the ceremony for the honorary membership.

Stiegler, a former student at Moravian College, was graduated from the University of Florida. He was a pledge of OGO prior to transferring to the southern university.

During the recent Christmas season, OGO and Stiegler on his morning radio show, "Toast and Coffee Time," combined efforts to come to the aid of a needy family.

Seminary Middler Receives Internship

Moravian Theological Seminary middler Willard Harstine, Dover, Ohio, has been selected by the Danforth Foundation for a Danforth Seminary Internship for 1960-61.

Harstine is one of only 21 students in the nation to receive such a fellowship which was established by the Danforth Foundation to promote religious education on U. S. college and university campuses.

He is the first Moravian Seminary student to have received the honor.

The Danforth Seminary Internship provides that Harstine will spend the forthcoming academic year as an assistant to the director of religious activities on a college campus.

TKE Sponsors Party For Orphan Children

The members of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and members of the Order of Diana, a women's national organization affiliated with TKE, entertained 26 children from the Sacred Heart Children's Home in Coopersburg last Sunday afternoon, in the TKE fraternity house.

Lou Amici, chairman of the TKE social activities committee, and Tom Fisher were in charge of all arrangements for the informal party. A special committee of TKE members also assisted.

The TKE Quartet, consisting of Jake Elliot, Bob Fatzinger, Dave Fehnel, and Dave Donchez, entertained the children with a selection of songs.
