Burglar Breaks Into Femcee; Takes Cash But Nothing Else

An unidentified thief or thieves broke in and stole $55 in cash from the Femcee snack bar sometime between 12 midnight and 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, announced Lear Neiswender, food service manager, early this week.

Neiswender stated that the back window in the kitchen of the snack bar had been "cut" rather than smashed. A side from the missing money nothing else was disturbed. This evidence lead police detectives to believe that the job was done by a professional, continued Neiswender.

The theft was discovered by Carrie Ehrig, a clerk in the Femcee, when she arrived at work at about 7:30 a.m. on Tuesday. She notified Neiswender who in turn called in the Bethlehem police to investigate the case.

The police as of Tuesday night had no other information to add.

Neiswender in commenting on the theft said, "I believe it was the work of a professional thief as do the police."

NO CLASSES

Marlyn A. Rader, Dean of Instruction, announced this week that there will be no classes held tomorrow, May 7, 1960.

Leadership School Set; USG Sponsors Sessions

A student government leadership training school sponsored by the United Student Government (USG) will be run on Friday, May 13, from 3 to 5 p.m. in rooms 9 and 10 of Johnston Hall.

The afternoon session will be divided into two parts. The first session will be conducted by Peter L. French, who will discuss the reports from the National Student Association (NSA) on leadership and the report on the NSA Penta-Regional Conference which was held in New York City.

The second part will be taken up in discussion dealing with all phases of student leadership with a special emphasis on the type of program that would interest incoming students in the affairs of the campus.

All interested students, especially USG representatives and officers of any campus organizations have been urged to attend. All freshman chosen to be a part of the orientation program for next year's freshmen class have also been requested to attend.

A Statement Of Policy

With this edition of The Comenian, the new editors assume their various positions on the publication. Also with this initial issue, The Comenian wants to announce its policy for the coming year.

The Comenian will primarily strive to present the students with factual reports on (1) all matters of interest and pertinence happening on the campus and on (2) outside issues which effect the student body.

In addition to regular news coverage, The Comenian shall critically analyze and comment upon any actions or lack of actions on the part of the students, faculty, staff or administration of the college which it believes are not in the interests of the overall betterment of the college community. In like manner when action is taken which The Comenian believes is for the overall betterment of the college community, that action will be commended.

Any letters from members of the college community or interested outsiders will be welcomed provided they are signed by the writer and provided they are not more than 500 words in length. The editor, however, shall still reserve the right to refuse to print any letter that is not deemed suitable for publication.

The Comenian shall strive to remain free from faculty or administrative censorship as has been the case in past years.

Further attempt will be made to give equal coverage to all campus organizations. Partiality will not be shown to any group. In cases where two or more campus organizations are mentioned in one story, they shall be listed in alphabetical order.

Through its editorials and features, The Comenian shall continue its policy of reflecting student, faculty and administrative opinion on controversial topics. It shall attempt to deal with these topics from an objective and mature point of view. All editorials unless otherwise signed will be written by the editor who will assume responsibility for them.

The past editors have strived to improve the quality and usefulness of The Comenian as a significant campus organization throughout the years and it is the sincere desire of the new editorial staff that this upward trend continue throughout the coming year so that The Comenian can be a paper worthy of Moravian College.

Calendar Causes Confusion

For the second time this semester a mix-up in schedule planning on the Activities Calendar has caused much confusion and unnecessary trouble.

Earlier in the semester inefficient planning caused the conflict of a sports' play day and a Social Activities Committee (SAC) Dance.

On this week's calendar was a Bethlehem Safety Council Banquet on Wednesday, and the Senior Farewell today. Senior Farewell, the biggest social event of the spring, which requires a full week's preparation in Johnston Hall, has been scheduled for the same time year after year. Since everyone realizes this, why was another event scheduled in Johnston Hall during the same week?

This conflict retarded the progress and completion of the decorations for tonight's dance and even necessitated the removal of some of the decorations which had already been put up.

Further still, SAC was not notified about the banquet and the resulting problem until about two weeks ago. Certainly if no other arrangements could have been made, SAC should have been notified about the situation at an earlier date so that much of the last minute confusion could have been avoided.

In the future a committee should be set up to work with the director of the Activities Calendar so that conflicts like the two this semester will not occur again.

Heard On Tiptoe

by Sylvia Perkins

Wipe those tears of disbelief away!

Just as the new Comenian staff is bidding all hello, the rest of the school is getting ready to bid the seniors a fond farewell. Actually each class can hardly wait to move up a notch and be a year closer to "getting out." Some may ask why the desire to leave these hallowed walls.

To all the graduating ladies of South Campus it is indication that anyone who wants to advance financially will purchase all available stock in bermuda manufacturing. Since it has been stated that true ladies only smoke in their showers, this type of wear is a foreshadowing of the smoke screen which will descend on various parts of the United States in a short time.

The absence of the ever-present aroma of lunch being cooked at breakfast will cause many to pine away. But a general warning has been issued to guard against becoming gluttons when exposed to the food of the "outside world."

No longer will there be poems posted for the edification of all. (I hear that this selection was discovered in the circular file of the Manuscript office.)

Spring is sprung
The grass is riz
Flowers blooming
Hands off pliz!

All Seniors will miss the various additions to the statue. Up to this date it has qualified as a connoisseur of a stronger beverage than gingerale. I guess someone slipped up and did not get the ornamentation off early enough as had been the custom.

A plea is now rising not only from those who will be leaving but also from those staying that the person in charge of granting permission for signing out will turn out her patent for the only vanishing cape in captivity.

An interesting fact heard of a worthwhile nature was that Bobbi Nagy of the freshman class discovered the fire in the Washington Hotel last Sunday. This Hotel has older guests staying there and it is a definite blessing that someone saw the fire in time to allow the evacuation of the residents. Who in Allentown and The Morning Call gave credit to Bobbi?

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"DIDNTCHA SEE TH' SIGN, BUDDIE?"

Atmosphere At College Decides Educational Haven Or Vacuum

by Stephanie Rights

The benefits of college life to the intellectual development of the person must reach beyond the scope of the textbook. A college should provide not only courses, but an intellectual atmosphere all its own, an atmosphere that stimulates thought and controversy.

Naively and unrealistically, a great many college students expect such an atmosphere to be included in the price of tuition. They arrive at the college of their choice, find a definite lack in the intellectual life on campus, and decisively place their seals of condemnation on the college as a whole.

The stimulus for creating an environment that is completely conducive to the growth of the mind must come primarily from our students.

Facts and theories acquired in scheduled classes establish the first rung of the intellectual ladder. Yet to a great degree, true assimilation of this knowledge must come in a less formal manner through debates and discussions with classmates.

However, the intellectual opportunities of the student at Moravian are, at the present time, extended far beyond the level of a dormitory conclave or an Emcee debate between class periods. On-campus clubs, fraternities, and sororities are established specifically to help the student acquire an added interest and knowledge in fields, such as literature, philosophy, economics, and science.

Membership in some, of course, is closed to those who have not fulfilled certain course requirements, but some is not all. The student who is interested in becoming well-educated should indeed investigate the opportunities available to him in this area.

Even the closed fraternities and clubs have much to offer the Moravian students who is not qualified for membership. Many present lectures opened to the entire student body, lectures that are general enough to be interesting and informative for those outside the field.

Lectures of every sort, followed by opened discussion, can be one of the best sources of intellectual entertainment on a campus. The establishment of a lecture program would be a good start towards making the atmosphere at Moravian somewhat more intellectual. Funds for such a program might be provided by the United Student Government. Individual clubs could also take on the additional responsibility of sponsoring several speakers during the year.

However, student initiative is essential to begin any lecture series. First must come the desire, and then the action. Our campus can be almost anything we want to make it, an educational vacuum or an educational haven. The potential on our campus lies in our students.

Sophistication, Wit Are Lost In 'Spirit'

by Jean Friedman and Stephanie Rights

"Blithe Spirit," as originally written by Noel Coward, epitomizes high society with its ultra-sophistication, urbane wit, and proud bearing. However, as produced by the Blackfriars last weekend, the play had lost much of its sophistication and wit.

Audrey Hair, in the part of Elvira, Charles Condomine's first wife, gave a sparkling performance that helped carry the play from beginning to end. At complete ease in her role of the mischievous ghost, she managed to retain the true spirit of the Coward farce by her perfect timing and utter naturalness.

Bernard Staller's interpretation of Charles Condomine, the harassed and hen-pecked novelist, was out of keeping with the feeling of the play. The humor of Condomine's predicament could have been far more effective, had the part been underplayed rather than overplayed.

As Ruth, Condomine's dominating second wife, Cynthia Geiman gave a good but inconsistent performance. Especially in the last several scenes in her give-and-take with Elvira, she was often delightful. However, the deadly seriousness with which she at times played the hysterical, frustrated wife would have been better suited to a tragedy than a comedy.

Out of character as the scatter-brained medium, Madam Arcatti, Susan Berger gave a competent, but unvaried performance.

The main weakness of the entire play seemed to lie in an incomplete knowledge of British humor. With the exception of Miss Hair, the members of the cast never completely understood the characters that Coward had created.

The Hound baseballers will continue their tight schedule of games by playing Muhlenberg, Pennsylvania Military College, and Wagner on May 7, 8, and 11 respectively.

Coaches Harvey T. Gillespie and Gus Garscar supporting a five win, two loss record prior to Wednesday's game, will direct the play against Muhlenberg on the home field.

Earlier this year Barry Shollenberger whipped the 'Bergmen 8-4 fanning 17 and allowing only five hits. The game was Shollenberger's first college start.

The team then travels to Chester, Pa. for a game with PMC. Last year the Greyhounds smashed out 13 hits against the Cadets to win 11-4.

Returning home the Hounds face a strong Wagner team which in last year's contest gave a tough battle but was defeated 3-2. The Seahawks have been improving steadily for the past few years.

Unbeaten Golfers Top Hofstra, Royals For Seven In A Row

Undefeated in intercollegiate match competition, the Moravian College linksmen claimed victims six and seven in the past week as they downed Hofstra 13-5 and the University of Scranton 10-8.

Ducky Potter's brilliant even par 71 against Hofstra and Gene Salay's and Frank Sofka's 79 against Scranton led the team in the two outings. Sofka scored a 2-1 victory in a sudden-death playoff with Ed Manley in the Scranton match.

The 'Hound golfers met Muhlenberg yesterday on the Lehigh Country Club Course.

Hofstra Results

Ducky Potter (M) defeated Jon Kroeber, 3-0; Dick Capasso (H) defeated Gene Salay, 3-0; Ron Colby (H) defeated Bob Volko, 2-1; Frank Sofka (M) defeated Bob Bernstein, 3-0; Jim Kovacs (M) defeated Frank Maly, 3-0; Bob Pastir (M) defeated Al Zylan, 3-0.

University of Scranton Results

Jim Brown (S) defeated Bob Volko, 3-0; Jack Barrett (S) defeated Ducky Potter, 3-0; Frank Sofka (M) defeated Ed Manley, 2-1; Gene Salay (M) defeated Tom Speicher, 2 1/2-1 1/2; Jim Kovacs (M) defeated Ray Davis, 3-0; Bob Pastir (M) defeated Joe O'Brien, 2 1/2-1 1/2.

Hounds Lose In 8th Inning For Season's Second Loss

A late-inning barrage of runs brought Upsala from behind last week to defeat Moravian's baseball team 10-7.

The Vikings, who were trailing 6-2 going into the eighth inning, scored eight runs off the relief pitching of Barry Shollenberger. Shollenberger had been rushed in after Jan Fritz, who had given up two runs the inning before, allowed an opening single by Bob Parker.

"Sholly" loaded the bases with two outs and then was touched for a sudden splurge of hits featured by the two-run singles of Bob Comisky and Tom Cacuzza.

Moravian had opened their early lead in the third with a two run double by Shollenberger followed by a solo homer by John Bowman in the fourth. Hal Rice contributed a three run double to the Hounds' total in the top of the eighth.

Moravian Tennismen Face Three Matches In The Coming Week

Coach Sam Kilpatrick and his netmen will host Albright College and P.M.C. tomorrow and next Tuesday respectively. The team travels to South Orange N. J. on Thursday to face Upsala's netmen. The Hounds have dropped their first seven matches.

Albright trimmed the Hounds 6-3 last year on their own court. Winners for Moravian were Dan Simon and Hal Cole in the singles while Les Lazarowitz and Simon won in the doubles.

Moravian also dropped a 6 1/2-2 1/2 decision to P.M.C. last year. Cole and Simon earned singles victories for two points, and the half point was picked up when the last doubles match was called because of darkness.

The Hounds were on the winning end of a 4-2 match with Upsala before rains fell. The contest was never rescheduled. This year Upsala has an 0-2-1 record, losing to Brown and Springfield and tying Newark College.

Duffers To Compete In Golf Tournament; Face Best In MAC

The Moravian golf team will travel to Delaware next Friday and Saturday, May 13 and 14, where they will compete with thirty-five other teams in the Middle Atlantic Conference championships.

Potter, Volko To Start

The Moravian team will consist of only four men instead of the regular six that are used in seasonal play. "Ducky" Potter and Bob Volko will be certain starters and the other two positions will be decided by a playoff match among Gene Salay, Frank Sofka, Jim Kovacs, and Bob Pastir. The two having the lowest scores will go along with Potter and Volko.

Last year, Moravian placed seventh out of thirty-six in the championships. The winner of the championships last year was Bucknell which also poses the biggest threat this year. Lehigh University placed third last year.

Benet Society has as charter members Dr. Lloyd L. Burkhardt, Dr. J. Richard Jones, and Dr. Paul E. Mueller of the faculty; Miss Mary Snively, librarian; and former students Robert Engelbrecht, David Henkelman, William Hutchinson, and Carl Helmich.

Mrs. Stephen Vincent Benet, the poet's widow, will unveil the marker to climax the ceremonies to be held tomorrow at 11:30. Beaupre will introduce the program in which students from Bethlehem and Fountain Hill schools will participate. Mr. Robert P. L. Frick, of the Division of Historic Sites and Properties, will be the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania representative for the occasion.

The purpose of the Benet Society is "to foster appreciation of the works of Stephen Vincent Benet and to further understanding of his unique position as a foremost American man of letters."

The society since its foundation has identified the birthplace of Benet which previously had not been known.

It has also submitted information to the Pennsylvania Historical Society ferreting out what recorded evidence exists of the Benet family in Bethlehem.

Of the Benet family, Stephen Vincent was to become the most famous of the family although his older sister, Laura and older brother, William Rose both made their mark in literature. William held the editorship of the Saturday Review of Literature.

"John Brown's Body," Stephen Vincent Benet's most famous work, was the first long narrative poem in "the American tradition."

The wording of the historic marker is commemorative: "This talented author was born here July 22, 1898; died in New York March 13, 1943. 'John Brown's Body' and his other poems and stories give vivid expression to the best in American spirit and tradition."

TKE's Initiate Matt Gillespie With Pledges

Matt Gillespie, orchestra leader and director of a piano and organ studio in Bethlehem, along with fourteen undergraduate students, was initiated into the Epsilon Gamma chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon [TKE], social fraternity, last Saturday evening at a formal initiation held in the TKE house.

Those upperclassmen initiated into the fraternity were George Fiegel, Robert Muth, vice president of the pledge class, and Rocco Zulli.

The remaining twelve initiates were freshmen Phillip Warnke, president of the pledge class, Walter Aydelotte, Timothy Burke, Thomas Grammes, secretary-treasurer, Larry Lewis, John McCarthy Joel Nadler, Bart Palenchar, Jay Scholl, John Shigo, and John Viglione.

Following the initiation, a buffet supper was held in the North Campus refectory in honor of the new initiates. The "outstanding pledge" award was presented to Viglione at the supper. Warnke presented the pledge class paddle to the fraternity pledge trainer, Thomas Fisher.

Each year TKE singles out a community leader or a faculty member to be initiated as an associate member. Gillespie was this year's choice.

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill-in and mail this coupon.
