

27 Students Accept Duties Of Freshman Orientation

Twenty-seven freshmen have accepted the duties of next year's Freshmen Orientation Committee, Halcyon Sartwell, Dean of Women and head of the orientation program, announced early this week.

Editor To Issue Literary Mag Within A Week

The 1960 edition of the Manuscript, the Moravian College Literary magazine, will probably be distributed some time next week, announced Griffith Dudding, editor of the magazine, early this week.

The 32 page edition, which contains literary work submitted by members of the student body, will be delivered to the mailboxes of the dorm students and will be distributed from a central location to the day students.

Among the works to be found in the Manuscript will be poetry, short stories, an objective writing on Milton, and several essay type sketches.

The cover for this year's edition was designed by Audrey Hair. The faculty advisor for the organization is Robert T. Burcaw, instructor in English.

This is the first year that the Manuscript is operating under a permanent staff. Two members from each class were chosen early this year to be members of the editorial staff of the magazine.

Those chosen to serve on the editorial staff this year were Susan Berger and Ronald DePaolo of the freshman class, Constance Platt and George Mitchell of the sophomore class, and Cynthia Geiman and Robert Muth of the junior class. Dudding along with Nancy Traubitz and Beverly Luzietti represented the senior class on the staff.

Miss Geiman and Muth were recently appointed editor and associate editor respectively for the 1960-61 school year.

Enrollment Of Class Of 1964 Kept At 250

The incoming freshman class of 1964 will show no appreciable increase in number over this year's freshman class.

However, this will mean a second moderate increase in the total student enrollment of Moravian College. By maintaining all new classes at approximately two hundred and fifty students, Moravian College will have expanded to over nine hundred and fifty students by September of 1962.

Although the class of 1964 will not increase numerically, it will contain a higher quality of students because of greater competition for admittance into Moravian College.

These students were chosen by the faculty advisors and notified by mail about their appointments.

Members of the Freshmen Orientation Committee have been requested to attend the United Student Government Training School, which will be held today in Johnston Hall, rooms 9 and 10 at 3 p.m. A portion of the sessions will deal with the problems that can and will confront these students.

An organizational meeting will also be held for the group before the end of the present school term so that the group can formulate ideas for the program in the fall. These plans will be similar to those followed by last year's committee.

The Regulations Committee headed by James Naisby, vice-president of USG, will carry the general over-all responsibility of the orientation program. Members of this committee are the editor of The Comenian, the sophomore class president, a woman representative of the sophomore class, the co-chairmen of the Social Activities Committee and a representative of the Women's Activities Committee.

Members of the Freshmen Orientation Committee are Albert Applegate, Georgene Billiard, Susan Berger, Linda Burnett, Jean

Registration More Feasible With New Scheduling Policy

The procedure for preliminary registration for the fall semester has been changed in favor of a new registration policy which has been claimed by Samuel Kilpatrick, registrar, as, "facilitating a more feasible registration and enabling sounder programming to take place."

Moravian College has been one of a few colleges which have been able to permit students not only to choose their courses but also their sections.

However, with the increase in student enrollment and a corresponding increase in the courses available, it was felt by a faculty and administrative committee that it would be more practical and efficient to allow the administration to plan all student schedules for next semester.

These schedules will be drawn up during the summer and presented to the students during orientation week in the fall.

This procedure will simplify the work for the student and reduce the number of complications and conflicts in scheduling to a

Honor Rating Of First Class To 'Comenian'

The Comenian, for the second straight semester, earned an honor rating of "First Class" in a bi-annual college newspaper critical evaluation program sponsored by the Associated Collegiate Press (ACP).

In scoring a total of 3370 points, The Comenian improved by 370 points its rating over the spring semester of 1959. The 3370 points was just 30 shy of the 3400 necessary to earn an "All American" rating, which is the highest attainable. The minimum requirement for "First Class" is 3000 points.

Among the areas judged by the ACP were news coverage, content of news stories, physical properties of the pages, typography, photography, printing and headlines.

The Comenian earned top scores in the fields of news sources, balance of news stories, sports coverage, inside news page make-up, headline scheduling and printing. ACP also commended the paper in many other departments.

Concerning Registration . . .

It was gratifying to learn this week that a long overdue revision in the preliminary registration procedure had been put into operation by the registrar's office. For too many years it had been the case that a student had to spend, or rather waste, countless hours waiting in lines, running all over the campus for signatures and then waiting in lines again. Under the new system, the burden is taken over by the registrar's office.

On the surface, this looks like excellent planning by the administration. But was the convenience of the student and the efficiency of the program the real reason for the revision? Or was this sudden change in policy the result of poor planning and procrastination?

Was this new procedure set up because insufficient time remained to complete registration before exams? Was this procedure set up because it would give the administration the whole summer to "organize" the registration for the fall?

One reason these questions come to mind is that the exam schedule had not yet been announced by Thursday, scarcely more than a week before finals begin. If the registration office were well organized and were planning ahead, why wasn't the exam schedule announced at a considerably earlier date? It is unfair to make the students who wish to adequately prepare for finals, wait until this late date to find out their exam schedules. This seems to be another indication of poor planning and organization.

Granted, applications for admission keep the registrar's office quite busy at this time of year, but this is an annual occurrence and should be taken into consideration early in the year.

In the future the exam schedule should be announced at least two to three weeks before finals begin. This will give the students a fair amount of time to organize and prepare for them.

Concerning the new registration procedure, we hope it doesn't cause more "complications" and "conflicts" instead of eliminating those previously apparent.

A Change Of Pace . . .

The question arises every spring as to what type of music should be procured for the Senior Farewell. The tradition in the past few years had been to obtain a big name band of the Elliot Lawrence or Lester Lanin variety and supplement this music with that of Matt Gillespie. This idea seemed to work out to the enjoyment of most of those attending the past dances.

This year, however, tradition was broken and a big name vocal group highlighted the evening — or maybe highlighted is the wrong word. The HI-LO's, who were scheduled to perform two half hour shows during the evening, presented a total of only 43 minutes of entertainment for their exorbitant fee of $1,500.

It was a good idea to get a vocal group for a change of pace, but this change of pace proved to be an expensive and disappointing one.

Moravian Students Take Trip On Last Steam Engine In East

On Sunday, May 8, four Moravian students with 1000 other companions traveled from Bethlehem to Gettysburg, Pa. behind an operating steam locomotive. "2124," a 110 foot Reading Co. locomotive is the largest ever to operate and the last steam engine in the East.

The students taking the trip were Jacqueline Gall, Faith Hartmen, Norman Hauser, and Charles Anderson. Norman and Charles are active members of the National Railway Historical Society; both have traveled and done quite a bit of research on railroads.

Highlights of the trip were a tour of Gettysburg. Miss Jane Coble, the Apple Blossom Queen, and Charlie, "Cliff Arquette," Weaver, residents of Gettysburg, greeted the group.

A surprise was had by all when the conductor of the 18-car special handed his duties over to Jackie Gall, who gave the engineer signals which sent the train on its 80 M.P.H. way.

Jackie is perhaps the only girl in the U.S. to act as conductor since World War II.

Grunbaum, McConnell To State Views In Discussion On Atheism, Determinism

When Dr. Adolph Grunbaum, assistant professor of philosophy at Lehigh University, delivered his talk at a Feb. 11 convocation on "The Science of Human Behavior," he raised questions that deserved a more thorough coverage than time permitted. Students, aroused both by the idea of predetermined human behavior and by Grunbaum's refutation of the existence of God, asked Grunbaum to return to further discuss these issues.

Thus a discussion between Grunbaum and Dr. Frederick McConnell, instructor of philosophy at Moravian, was arranged. The program sponsored by the Comenian and Phi Sigma Tau and moderated by Bernard Staller, will take place in the Emcee Annex, Wednesday, May 18 at 7:30 p.m.

The views of Grunbaum as a determinist are both provocative and controversial. To the determinist, human nature is non-existent. Man's actions are caused by specific physical and psychologically motivated forces. Grunbaum argues that since human beings are obviously physical objects, similar in composition to a tree or a table, they must consequently obey the same laws of physics. Furthermore, human beings subjected to specific psychological conditions will produce predictable reactions.

Determinism, however, is not to be identified with the primitive and prescientific doctrine of fatalism, which states that regardless of what we do the outcome will be the same. For instance, the fatalist believes that if he is destined to die at a certain hour on a certain day nothing that he does will prevent his death. The determinist asserts that only if the conditions are right will an event occur.

Determinism contends that a criminal cannot help acting as he does since he is the focus of external causes. Therefore punishment should be administered only as a means of preventing the criminal from committing further harm. Venegence is useless and barbarous.

The scientific naturalism of Grunbaum is a necessarily atheistic view. Scientific knowledge, he says, need not be supplanted by extra-scientific modes of thought, nor do ethics require a theistic foundation.

Grunbaum refutes the argument that matter must have been created by some agent or deity by referring to the fact that it is scientifically inconceivable for "something" to be made from

"nothing." Why did it ever require a beginning? An infinite past is as easily conceivable as an infinite future.

Ethics cannot exist as norms if the sources of "alleged" divine commandment can give rise to such "diverse ethical doctrines as divine monarchy, inalienable rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, Negro slavery, Deutchland uber alles, social Darwinism . . . and socialism."

Choir Completes Successful Concert Tour; Rich, Rewarding Experience For Members

by Neil Eskolin

For thirteen days through eleven concerts in six mid-western states, the Moravian College Choir impressed, inspired and pleased all who heard their choral programs.

The 43-voice group singing in churches and high schools in Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, and Michigan were warmly and enthusiastically received where ever they went.

Traveling by bus on their spring tour which covered over 3300 miles in less than two weeks, the choir, now in its fourth year in existence, ventured out on it's greatest undertaking thus far, one which proved to be most successful.

In a April 15 review of one concert, the music critic for the Watertown (Wis.) Daily Times had this to say.

"The singers . . . are on a tour and Watertown music lovers found themselves fortunate to have this city included, because the program turned out to be a most rewarding one.

"The choir proved itself rich in fine voices. They have been thoroughly trained, but it was quickly made clear that there was something basic to begin with, for seldom has a group of young singers appeared in the city with so rich and pleasing a structure of voices.

"It was a beautiful evening of music and owed much to the conductor, Richard Schantz, head of the college music department, who has woven the singers into as fine a vocal unit as ever appeared here in a public concert.

"The entire group made an excellent impression. The young people presented a picture of wholesomeness and youthful promise. They certainly are a credit to the church and the institution they represent."

Six days later, after a concert at the West Side Moravian Church in Green Bay, Wis., Jack Rudolph of the Green Bay Press Gazette said in his column, "A sincere and powerful young choir from Moravian College . . . presented an interesting sacred . . . concert . . . Sunday afternoon.

"The choir is well disciplined, its dynamics are excellent and its diction outstanding."

In addition to these commendations, members of the various (Cont. on p. 3, col. 5)

Student Health Insurance Available During Summer

The Student Health Insurance Plan of Moravian College which covers both accident and sickness, will be available to all students during the summer months with the same coverage as was designed for the regular school term.

Cost of the extension is $5.00 and the time covered will be the four summer months of June, July, August and September. Students presently enrolled in the program are covered only until the end of the term.

Those who desire to extend their coverage must fill out a form which can be acquired at the college business office in Colonial Hall, North Campus. The form along with the $5.00 must be returned to the business office prior to commencement.

The plan calls for reimbursement up to $1000 for each accident and $500 for sickness. Recovery for injury to "sound natural teeth" is limited to $200.

Under the existing coverage, a student may be reimbursed up to $200 for surgical operations and up to $75 for in-patient hospital expenses. Other benefits include out-patient expenses; also up to $250 for hospital room and board, up to $100 for physician's fees and $25 for consultant's fees.

There is a special provision under the plan permitting payment of benefits from other policies, and not to have any bearing on the college plan.

College To Host 1962 Confab For Chaplains

The National Association of College and University Chaplains has selected Moravian College as the site of its 1962 annual conference according to the Rev. Henry Lewis, college chaplain.

Lewis extended the invitation to the group at the organization's 1959 conference held last month at Amherst College.

"The meeting is held each year in April and brings together about 100 of the 350 chaplains serving colleges in the United States and Canada," the chaplain said.

In discussing this year's meeting, Lewis noted that "the association pledged its complete support and help for students and faculty members who might suffer injustices and indignities as a result of the recent inter-racial conflicts in colleges centering around the lunch-counter sit-ins."

Lewis also commented that the conference gave a major portion of its time to a discussion of the role of the chaplain in higher education.

"Timed to coincide with this year's conference," Lewis remarked, "was a boycott of required chapel at Amherst, which was about fifty percent effective." However, he said that the Amherst administration anticipated no change in policy and that "due penalties would be imposed upon offenders."

Sigma Phi Inducts Thirteen Members

Thirteen pledges were initiated by Sigma Phi Omega, social fraternity, on Tuesday, April 26, during the fourth period at the fraternity house.

Those initiated were David Linaberry, president of the pledge class; Richard Andrews, vice-president; and Manuel Gonsalves, secretary-treasurer.

Also initiated were Dennis Bleam, Peter Gill, Gilbert Knupp, Michael Kissel, Albert Macknis, Duane Murtomaki, Charles Napravnik, Ronald Smith, Frederick Stocker and Joseph Trodahl.

audiences were filled with praise for the fine work which the choir did.

The repertoire of the group included 16th and 17th century canons and anthems; sacred works by Tchaikovsky, Anton Bruckner, Hugo Wolf and Johann Bechler; German and English carols; folk songs by Johannes Brahms and Bela Bartok and the spiritual "Rock'a Ma Soul," with which the choir concluded each concert.

The trip was a combination of long, tiring bus rides, exhausting rehearsals, tedious concerts and lots of fun. In spite of the hard work, it was a rich and rewarding experience, one which choir members will remember for years to come.

Court, Miss Moravian of 1959 and Miss Moravian of 1960, with their escorts, will complete the procession. The escorts will be student campus leaders.

Members of the freshmen class will form a Daisy Chain for the procession. Immediately following the procession Mrs. Nancy Gingham Zeller, Miss Moravian of 1959, will crown the new Miss Moravian with a crown of carnations.

The entertainment for Miss Moravian and her court will be provided by the Moravian College Choir which will render four selections. There will also be modern interpretive dancing and a ballet performed by Roseann LaVan. This will be followed by the recessional. Miss Ziegenfus will be Mistress of Ceremonies.

At the conclusion of the program, Miss Moravian, her court and their escorts will form a receiving line so that the audience may meet them. After this all guests are invited to the Blossom Tea which will be held on the upper lawn of the South Campus. Punch and tea cookies will be served. Joan Knepper and Anita Filler are co-chairmen for the tea.

Baseballers At Home Twice Next Week; Duffers To End Year Meet Haverford Away Tomorrow With F&M, St. Joe's

Moravian's baseball team will travel to Haverford College and then entertain Elizabethtown and Ursinus at home on May 14, 16, and 19 respectively.

The Greyhounds won a 9-5 decision over Haverford last year and will attempt to repeat again this year. Haverford dropped a 10-0 decision earlier this year to St. Joseph's College, a team which Moravian defeated 3-2.

Moravian and Elizabethtown did not meet last year.

A strong Ursinus team will attempt to defeat the Hounds for the third straight year. In games played during the last two years Ursinus romped over Moravian by scores of 5-1 and 11-4. The visitors already own victories over Haverford and Lehigh.

After these games the Hound diamondmen have only one more scheduled event. This will be a double header to be played at Reading against the Albright Lions. The games will be seven innings in length instead of the regulation nine.

Zulli To Lead Varsity Club; Edraney Veep

Rocco Zulli was elected president of the Varsity "M" club for the 1960-1961 school year in a meeting held last week.

Elected to serve with Zulli are Stephen Edraney, vice-president; Richard Kosman, secretary; Michael Lansenderfer, treasurer; and John Jacob, United Student Government representative.

Zulli is a junior business administration student from Bethlehem. He is a member of Epsilon Beta Alpha business fraternity and Tau Kappa Epsilon [TKE].

Edraney, a general studies major from Bethlehem, is a member of the sophomore class and TKE.

Kosman is a freshman general studies major from Bethlehem and a member of the basketball team.

Lansenderfer, a business administration major from Coplay, Pa., is a member of the junior class and the Omicron Gamma Omega fraternity.

Golf Team Tenth In MAC Match; Salay Low Hound

The Hound linksmen, represented by Ducky Potter, Bob Volko, Gene Salay and Jim Kovacs, placed tenth in the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference last Monday.

The 36 hole championship classic, which was limited to 18 holes because of drenching rains, was played on the Dupont Country Club course in Newark, Delaware.

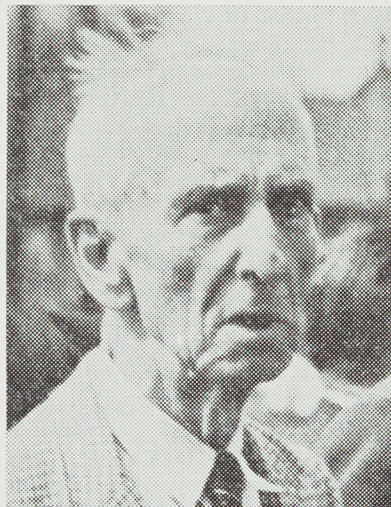

Gene Salay was low medalist for Moravian.

Last year's champion, Bucknell, proved to be the mudders of the day as they braved chilly winds and heavy showers to again repeat their '59 performance.

1906 Grad To Be Honored; Varsity "M" Award To Shafer

One of Moravian College's oldest graduates, Robert Shafer, will be honored at the next week's All-Sports Banquet. Shafer will receive the Varsity "M" Greyhound Award as an outstanding alumnus.

Shafer was born on July 16, 1880 in Easton, and attended school in that city. He graduated from Moravian with a B.A. degree in 1906. Since that time he has not missed an athletic event here at Moravian.

Robert Shafer

After Graduation

After his graduation he was married and had a daughter Milliecent, who also married a Moravian graduate, Curtis Keim. For some time after this, he served as a reporter for various newspapers in Philadelphia and New York.

His journalism career continued as he served as City Editor for the Bethlehem Globe, later to become the Globe Times. Shafer held this position until 1934.

In 1908, after returning from Harvard Summer School Shafer wrote "The United States Hymn." Since that time he has strived to have his work adopted as the national anthem in place of the "Star-Spangled Banner."

Started In 1947

The Varsity "M" Greyhound Award was started in 1947. The first recipient was Phil Phillippi, current athletic director at Bethlehem High School.

The award is given each year by the Varsity "M" Club to some Moravian graduate, who has done something outstanding for the school and the community.

In past years the award has been given to Clayton Burnhart (1950), president of the First National Bank of Bethlehem, Dr. Raymond Hauptert (1951), and in 1958 to Robert Snyder.

Last year the award went to H. T. D. Gillespie, Dean of Men, Athletic Director, and head baseball coach.

Coach Harold Bilheimer's golf team will travel to Franklin and Marshall next Monday and to St. Joseph's on Thursday to finish out their 1960 golf schedule.

On Monday the Duffers will face Franklin and Marshall whom they defeated by a score of 10 1/2 to 7 1/2 last year. Rev. Wilbur Tressler, coach of the F and M squad is depending mainly on his captain, Kenneth Mott, who is a junior, and two seniors, Karl Mantz and Robert Wallace.

Wind Up Season

On Thursday, the team will travel to St. Joseph's, whom they defeated by a score of 10 to 8 last year, to wind up the season. Rev. Joseph Geib, the coach of St. Joseph's, has only one returning letterman, Ed Barbour, the captain. Barbour, a senior, will be backed up by Dick Stefanowicz, another senior, Tom Falcone and John Egan, juniors, and Glen Gerdleman and Ed Fritz, sophomores.

Coach Bilheimer will probably go along with his regulars Ducky Potter, Gene Salay, Bob Volko, Frank Sofka, Bob Pastir, and Jim Kovacs.

The linksmen are going into these two final matches with a perfect record of nine wins without a single defeat. In addition to these matches they recently defeated the Alumni squad.

Netmen At Home To Close Season; Three Games Left

Unsuccessful in winning a match this year, the netmen of Moravian College face three opponents in the coming week. On the agenda are St. Joseph's College, May 14; Wilkes College, May 16; and Ursinus College, May 19.

The last two matches will close Moravian's season, and will be played at home.

The match with St. Joe's will be played tomorrow on St. Joseph's courts. This year, St. Joe's beat Muhlenberg by a score of 5-4, putting them close in standing with the Hounds.

Last year's Wilkes' match was canceled because the Wilkes team became disorganized. This year the match will be played.

Ursinus beat Moravian last year and will provide strong competition for the Hound netmen in the season finale.

The Sports Story

by George Fiegel

Prior to the home game with Wagner the baseball team has a record of 7-3. There goes my prediction of two losses for the season. The tennis team has to work to fulfill my prediction of three wins for the team.

The team lacks initiative. They haven't won in such a long time, winning is strange to them.

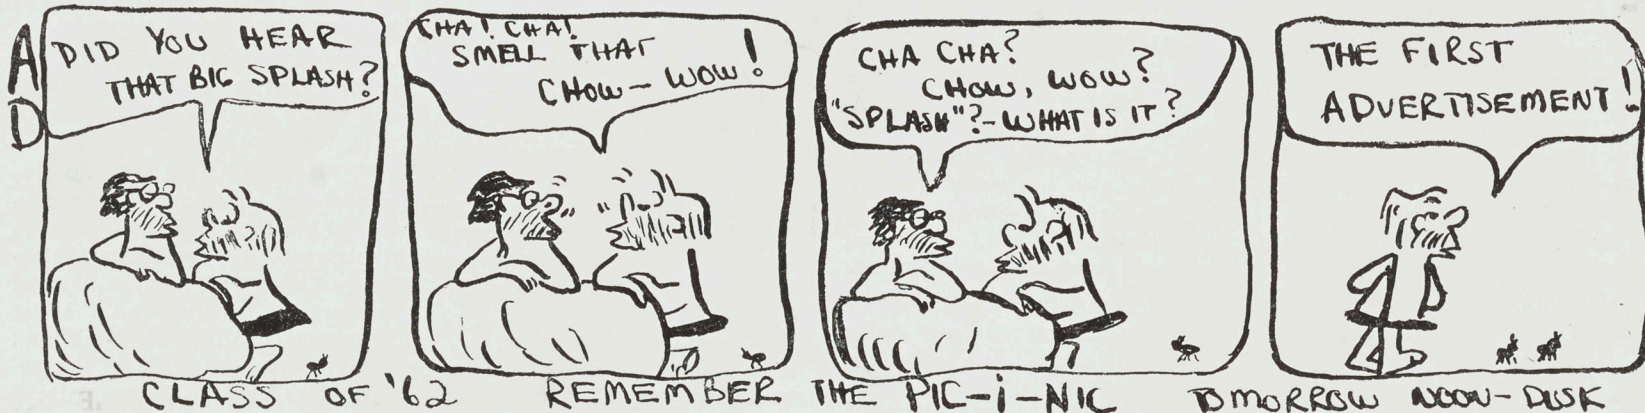

The undefeated golf team came in tenth in the Middle Atlantic Conference this past weekend. Bucknell acquired a first for the second year in a row. Juniata took a second. Our "across the river" friends were disqualified because of a point discrepancy.

The cut-off day for the baseball Middle Atlantic Conference is May 15. That is, any game after this date will not count toward the championship. Moravian and Scranton are presently on top of the heap, each having lost only two league games. Should the Hounds win tomorrow that will just about sew up the Northern Division Championship since they have won more games than Scranton.

The tennis team has been hampered by many injuries this year. First the number four man became indisposed because of illness. Then another sprained his wrist and has never been right since. Another injured his head while playing feverishly for the good of the team. The team hasn't had any luck.

That's the sports story for this week.

Racquetmen Lose Three; Shutout In All Matches

Running into some powerful opposition in the past week the Moravian College tennis team lost three matches by scores of 9-0, 9-0, and 6-0. The losses came at the hands of Dickinson, Albright, and P.M.C.

In the Dickinson match no game went beyond two sets. In the singles action only Dick Spaugh was able to give his opponent any opposition, but it was not enough as Spaugh lost to Ron Waxman 6-4, 6-2. The doubles action was the same with no Moravian Duo being able to present to a Dickinson team.

The Albright match was another 9-0 loss for the Greyhounds. Only in the singles action was there any excitement when George Fiegel extended Jack Rienhart but lost, 7-5 in the first set.

The P.M.C. score was only 6-0 because the doubles matches were rained out. In the singles of this meet Fiegel forced his match to three sets before losing to Pat Leno 7-5, 6-8, and 6-0. Spaugh and Carl Siegfried each had extended sets which they lost 7-5.

The three losses extended the netmen's losing streak to 10 straight without a single win.

Duffers Defeat 'Berg, Alumni; Volko Elected Season's Captain

The Moravian College golfers, undefeated this season in nine encounters, needs only three more to complete a perfect dual meet season.

Muhlenberg became the eighth victim, last week, as the linksmen mauled the Mules 12½-5½ on the Lehigh Valley Country Club course. Bob Volko took medalist honors with 78.

The ninth victim was the Alumni of Moravian College on Alumni Day at the Bethlehem Municipal Course. Led by Ducky Potter's 39 and 40's which were posted by Gene Salay, Jim Kovacs and Frank Sofka, the Varsity Hounds cranked out a 7-6 squeaker. Bob Potter and Fritz Toner fired one over par 37's for the Alumni.

All Sports Banquet To Honor Athletes, Announce MVP's

An All Sports Banquet will be held in the South Campus Dining Hall on May 17 at 7:00 p.m. The banquet is for students participating in athletics at Moravian.

In addition to the athletes, the band, cheerleaders, and the managers will be attending.

All members of the varsity sports are invited.

Women's sports that have been invited are: women's hockey, basketball, and tennis teams.

Highlight of the banquet will be the Most Valuable Player Awards in all the major sports. The Varsity "M" Club will award its outstanding alumnus award.

Hounds Capture Two Of Three; Gano, Klucharich Post Wins

The Hound baseballers recorded wins six and seven last Wednesday and Saturday respectively by downing Dickinson, 9-1, and Muhlenberg, 6-0. Sandwiched between the victories was a humiliating 16-5 setback at the hands of Lafayette. Only the 'Berg game was played at home. Jim Gano picked up win number two in conference competition as he scattered six hits in the Dickinson game.

With the home team leading by one run the Hounds tied the game in the third inning. Gene Jani tripled to open the frame. Gano walked and, while he was run down between first and second, Jani scored. Moravian salted the game away in the fifth inning with four unearned runs. Bob McNutt was the losing hurler.

Lafayette's five extra base hits and four Moravian errors spelled the difference at Easton. In addition to the errors Moravian moundsmen issued a combined total of eleven free passes. Barry Schollenberger was the losing pitcher, evening his record at 2-2.

Bob Kessler belted three consecutive doubles accounting for two runs, while Pete Pavia connected for a triple and a home run for three more runs.

Schollenberger gave up eight runs, four unearned, in three innings, while Jan Fritz allowed four hits and eight runs. Lou Klucharich pitched the final two and a third innings allowing no Lafayette player to reach base safely.

Klucharich pitched a nine hitter two days later in defeating 'Berg, 6-0. He retired eleven men in a row between the third and seventh innings. This was Muhlenberg's tenth straight loss without a win.

Klucharich ran into trouble in the first as he loaded the bases with just one out. He settled down, struck out the next two and finished the game unmolested.

Offices Of Administrators Relocated In Colonial Hall

The second floor of Colonial Hall is presently being converted into offices to house the executive branches of the college administration, according to the Development Office.

The new offices of the President, Dean of Instruction, Dean of the Seminary, Dean of Women and Dean of Men are expected to be completed and occupied by the end of the summer.

The Development Office will also be located on the second floor of Colonial Hall.

In addition to office space for secretaries, a conference room is also planned.

Further plans call for the replacement of the present coal furnace with an oil burner and the extension of office machine space presently located in the basement.

The basement area will also be used for registration purposes and another exit will be added.

The men's residence area on the third floor of Colonial Hall will remain for at least another year.

The present area in Comenius Hall now occupied by the office of the President and the Dean of the Seminary and Dean of Instruction will be converted to a classroom.

minimum. Any adjustments which must be made may be taken care of in the fall.

This new registration system will also allow for better programming in the college curriculum. Apparently there have been a great many problems related to the scheduling of lecture and recitation classes which should be eliminated in the future.

Programing in the past has forced students to adapt to the courses and sections available.

It will now be possible for the administration to adjust the number of sections and the number of instructors in a given course to the demand for a particular course by the students.

In special cases where it is completely necessary that a student hold a job which may interfere with the schedule arranged by the administration, special adjustments can be made during final registration in the fall. This will provide the student with the best schedule possible.

This system or ones similar to it are being used in many colleges today, but it is still on an experimental basis at Moravian.

If this procedure proves to be efficient for the administrative staff during the summer, it may be used again between the fall and spring semesters next year.
