Gov. Lawrence To Speak Here On Day Before Kennedy Visit

Addressing students at next Thursday's scheduled convocation program will be David L. Lawrence, governor of Pennsylvania. The text of the governor's speech is entitled "The Day Before." He will arrive at 11:15 a.m. and his address will begin at 11:30 a.m.

Final plans for the arrival of Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential candidate, in Bethlehem on Oct. 28, were announced this week by William Cordray, president of the Political Activities Club.

A rally will be held at 9 a.m. Friday in Johnston Hall. The first half hour of the program will be devoted to the introduction of local candidates who are running for positions in the Pennsylvania state legislature.

At approximately 9:30 a.m. Kennedy will enter the North end of the building to address attendees.

A crowd of over 15,000 is expected to attend.

Present on the speaking platform with Lawrence will be United States Congressman Francis Walters of Easton, Fred C. Rooney, state Senator from Bethlehem and Donald S. Sawyer, Chairman of the Democratic Committee for Northampton County.

Following lunch in the South Campus Dining Room, the governor will travel to Wilkes-Barre, Scranton and Pittsburgh, and will return the following morning for the visit of Kennedy to the campus on Friday.

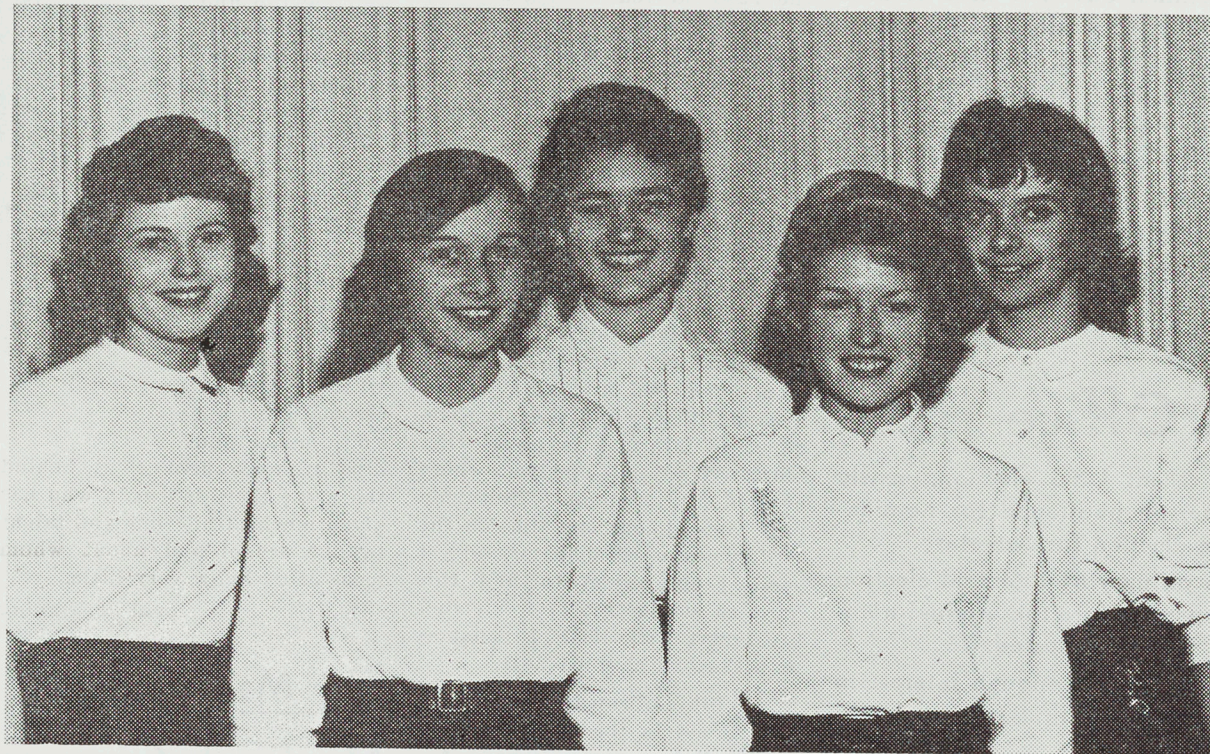

Lunching with the governor Thursday will be college president Dr. Raymond S. Hauptert, Otis H. Shao, associate professor of government, and students William Cordray, Ronald Stupark and Wasil Yurchak.

Choir Holds Intensive Practice In Weekend Rehearsal Retreat

The Moravian College choir journeyed to neighboring New Jersey this past weekend for a concentrated rehearsal session, beginning an intensive practice series to culminate in the group's annual Christmas Candlelight Service.

The choir's retreat was held from Friday until Sunday at the Moravian Church Camp in Hope, N. J., with 55 members present. Choir director Richard R. Schantz, associate professor of music, conducted the rehearsal program.

Center of activity was a new lodge, complete with kitchen facilities suitable for small meals for small gatherings. The lodge also included a large room with a piano, choir benches and dining tables.

The five 1960 Homecoming queen finalists pose following their election Tuesday. One will be announced as the queen during halftime ceremonies at tomorrow's football game and the remaining four will compose her court. L. or r., they are Sandy Elliott, Jan Stever, Genie Billiard, Joan Albrecht, and Greta Ziegler.

Queen's Court Will Highlight Saturday Dance Band To Play

Joan Albrecht, Georgene Billiard, Sandra Rupert Elliott, Janice Stever and Greta Ziegler were selected as the five finalists for Homecoming Queen by the student body in an election held on Monday and Tuesday.

The finalists will ride in open sports cars in tonight's traditional parade at 7:30, beginning Moravian's 1960 Homecoming weekend.

The college band will head the parade, which will also include floats representing various organizations on campus, the pajama-clad frosh and decorated cars.

Four of the girls will comprise the court of the Homecoming queen, whose name will be announced along with the winners of the float and house decorations during the half-time activities at tomorrow afternoon's football game with Lebanon Valley. The finalists, floats and frosh will appear on the football field at this time.

A coffee hour will be held in rooms 9 and 10 of Johnston Hall following the football game for all alumni and friends. An alumni committee will serve coffee and sugar cake. Miss Jean Hudak is in charge.

A committee of alumni headed by Miss Hudak and Alfred T. Williams will be in charge of serving the refreshments at the dance.

Music will be provided by Matt Gillespie's orchestra.

The Social Activities Committee, headed by Alan Bornstein and David Coe, co-chairmen, is in charge of the weekend.

Miss Albrecht, from Cheltenham, Pa., is a senior Spanish major. She is a member of Alpha Epsilon Pi (AEP) sorority and was secretary of United Student Government last year.

Staak Urges Man To Be Responsible

Reverend Dr. Hagen Staak, chairman of the department of religion at Muhlenberg College, challenged man "to be ready to accept responsibility," at yesterday's convocation in Johnston Hall.

Staak recounted an episode of Noah from the Book of Genesis, which he called "the real theological book," calling the core of that story "the honoring of thy father and mother."

Continuing, Staak said, "man as member of huge conglomerate of living things, is located between reverence and responsibility."

Absentee Vote Cordray, Wilde Clash Tuesday Needs Return In Final Debate On Campaign Of Application

Moravian College students are reminded that there is only one week left in which to obtain an application for an absentee ballot and to return the application to their County Board of Elections in order to vote in this election.

Applications for an absentee ballot in Pennsylvania must be filed by Nov. 1. Pennsylvania residents should write to the Chief Clerk of the County Board of Elections in their home county. Each request must be personally signed. The student then receives an application which must be returned to the board by Nov. 1.

Out-of-state residents can also vote by absentee ballot by corresponding with their home county clerks.

In the third and final debate between student Republicans and Democrats, William Cordray and Ted Wilde discussed the domestic policies of their respective parties on Tuesday on the quadrangle.

Speaking for the Democrats, Wilde called the party's platform "a vigorous program stressing economic growth." He pointed out the strength of our country's economy under former President Harry S. Truman, and how it has "dropped" with eight years of Republican leadership.

In respect to the civil rights issue, Wilde cited the need for "dynamic leadership" and called the Democrats the party to provide it.

In rebuttal, Cordray, a Republican, stated, "the United States is the best defended nation in the world," noting its possession of atomic submarines and missiles, and its Strategic Air Command.

"Economically," Cordray went on, "the United States' Gross National Product has increased 44 per cent, or 347 billion dollars, since 1952." He said "the job opportunities are high, with an upward trend in farm income."

Cordray closed by saying, "the people should work with the government, bearing responsibility," adding that the Republican Party has had a fine past record, and has "keen foresight."

The winner will be announced at halftime of the Wagner football game Nov. 12 and will be presented with a trophy.

Young Republicans To Greet Nixon

Forty members of the campus Young Republicans Club will meet Vice-president Richard M. Nixon at the Allentown Airport upon his arrival for a speaking engagement at Muhlenberg College tomorrow evening. Nixon will appear in a Republican rally there.

Entry Forms Due Tomorrow For 'Ugly Man'

Applications for Alpha Phi Omega's (APO) "Ugly Man" contest are due by noon tomorrow in the office of Dr. Samuel Zeller, professor of religion (Comenius 206). Cartoons of candidates must be submitted no later than 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 24.

Publicity for candidates is left to the judgment of the sponsoring organizations. Campaigning will end Nov. 4.

Voting for the campus' "ugliest man" will be held from 10 a.m. Oct. 31 until 3 p.m. Nov. 4 in the main lobby of Comenius Hall. APO will be in charge of the voting polls.

Students will vote by depositing coins in appropriately marked containers, as their contribution to the United Fund Drive.

USG AGENDA

Tuesday, Oct. 25, 1960

1. Further discussion of plans for a campus radio station.
2. Discussion of distribution of honor system questionnaires.
3. Approval of new chairman and committee members for the Social Activities Committee.

Pictures Of Candidates

In addition to deciding who will reign as Homecoming queen this year, this past week's election proved to be a lot more popular with the student body than was the recent election for USG Secretary. This seems to be evidenced by a comparison of the numbers of voters at each election. In the USG election only 40% of the student body bothered to vote. However, this week nearly 60% cast their ballot.

We feel that the presence of pictures of the queen candidates at the election table this week had a lot to do with the success of the election in regard to the number of voters.

In the USG election only 32 freshmen out of a class of 250 voted. Most of those who didn't cast their ballot felt that they shouldn't vote because they didn't know who the candidates were.

At this week's election nearly one fourth of the votes were cast by freshmen. This seems to show that the presence of pictures at the election table to an extent familiarized the voters with the candidates for whom they were voting.

Therefore we would suggest that in all future elections, pictures of the candidates be placed near the voting table so that the voters will be able to recognize candidates with whom they are unfamiliar.

Appointment To Office

In further connection with the recent USG election, nearly everyone realized after only one person petitioned for nomination that that person would win the election for Secretary.

However, all the formalities of a primary and general election were carried out and two weeks elapsed before the original nominee, who everyone realized would win, was elected.

We feel that when only one person shows enough interest in filling a vacant student government position, that person should be appointed to the position by the USG.

In this way, the trouble of an election and the time which necessarily elapses can be dispensed with and the person who would inevitably win could take over the vacant position immediately.

A Fine Production

Last week a much anticipated and well worth waiting for feature of Moravian College made its appearance on campus. We are, of course, speaking of the 1960 edition of the Benigna.

First of all, except for a minor shipping delay, the Benigna arrived when expected. This in itself merits comment for in past years the yearbook has been notoriously tardy.

Praise cannot stop here, however. This year's edition clearly shows the untiring effort that went into its production. Its new larger size, greater number of pages, improved quality of paper, superior photographic and art work, impressive color work and increased and improved coverage of every phase of the past college year can only heap rich plaudits upon the editor and her devoted staff.

Heard On Tiptoe

by Sylvia Perkins

If you think that you were tired Monday, just wait until this week of activity is over. Not only will there be tests and papers due, but also there will be the dorm, house, dance, and float decorating to be done. Needless to say the rush started in earnest Tuesday, and by the time you read this you'll probably be at your wit's end.

I hope that the results of this decorating and loss of sleep will not be enjoyed only by those who are dating steadily, pinned, engaged or married. The general consensus of opinion is that no one (especially North Campus inhabitants) is willing to spend the money required to take a girl to a game, dinner and a dance. The dance is informal in hopes that more will attend, and yet, where are all the students? Moravian only goes all out one time in the Fall semester with floats, and yet some people seem to find this hard to support. Let's remember to support SAC; if not this dance, then the one planned next.

While still on the soapbox, the food in the South Campus dining room served at noontime is cold. Ravioli is delicious but not in a lukewarm state. Chili is edible but not when it tastes like warm salad. Why aren't there provisions for keeping the food warm???

As most everybody knows the choir went to New Jersey this past weekend. We practiced, by actual count, twenty-four hours of the time that we were there. The dust was so thick in the building in which we held rehearsals that, when cleaning (as we had to do, since no other camp staff member came to clean the whole time), we almost sent up tornado warnings.

We were determined to leave the buildings and cabins in better condition than they were when turned over to our choir. To leave them in the same state we would not have had to do anything. It seems odd that a Moravian Church sponsored camp would give such a cool and even obstinate response to a Moravian College Organization.

We did have moments that were enjoyable — everyone learned to play soccer, and we found it was especially fun up a hill. It was also learned that the Schantz team could play the meanest square dance music ever heard — although the only dance to which the dancers knew the steps was the Virginia Reel.

We also saluted in song all the areas represented in the choir and took a brush up course in singing camp songs.

LEHIGH HOUSEPARTY

Preston Parr, associate dean of students at Lehigh University, has announced that, during Houseparty Weekend (Oct. 21-23), the Lehigh campus "is not open to non-Lehigh students unless they have been specifically invited to come with dates by one of our living groups."

Gillespie 'Almost A Tradition' In Moravian's Social Program

by Anne Barnes

Integral to the life on every college campus are the big social events, events which are anticipated and planned for weeks in advance. Moravian College is no exception, for every year, Homecoming, the Christmas dance and Senior Farewell enwrap and involve almost every student on campus, at least temporarily.

Closely linked for the past thirteen years with Moravian's big dances is a well-known name, that of Matt Gillespie. It is a familiar name with the familiar associations of soft music and dim-lit dance floors, but behind the name there is a man who has given much of his time and talent to our school and about whom most of us know very little.

Matt's professional beginning came when he was only fourteen, playing with the Gordon Kibbler Orchestra which worked out of the Hotel St. George in New York. The list of famous names with which his early career is connected is long.

As a member of the London Criterion Orchestra, he played for Lillian Roth, Sophie Tucker, Lou Holtz, Fannie Brice, Martha Raye, Milton Berle, Ed Sullivan and others. And of course, like many well-known bandleaders today, he worked under many men like Charlie Barnett and Paul Tremaine whose musical reputations live on into the sixties.

But tired of touring with bands, in 1940 Matt came back to the Lehigh Valley where he played (Cont. on p. 4, col. 4)

Budget Committee 'Open'

To the Editor:

In your last edition of October 14th, there was a news story referring to the procedure taken in the formation of United Student Government allocations. I must take exception to a point made in this story.

The statement was made that allocations were decided at a "closed" meeting of the Budget Committee. This meeting was the first of its kind to be opened to appointed delegates from all affected student organizations.

These delegates were allowed to give detailed reasons for each item of their budgets which might be contested. This is a far cry from past Budget Committee meetings, where decisions had to be made in a more arbitrary manner.

I feel that all organizations felt that they had a fair hearing on their problems. This opinion was also seconded at the time by a Comenian representative who took notes on the entire proceedings, another facet of gaining student opinion which had not been attempted in the past.

The Chairman also failed to mention that more than eight hours were consumed by the Budget Committee in an attempt to deal fairly with the varied monetary requests of widely differing groups.

I personally would like to offer my thanks to the other members of this committee. These were: Tom Christianson, chairman, Marta Roberts, Paul Graf, Robert Fatzinger, and Dean H. T. D. Gillespie. Their devotion to the intricacies of budgetary planning was outstanding.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"NONSENSE, WE'RE ALL A LITTLE NERVOUS TH' FIRST TIME WE GET OUT THERE TO PLAY."

Cadets Down Hounds, 20-12; Fumbles Again Prove Costly

The Cadets of Pennsylvania Military College handed Moravian its second defeat of the season by a score of 20-12 last Saturday. The game was played at the Cadets home field at Chester, Pa.

Again, as in the game with Juniata, fumbles proved to be very costly. Moravian's two fumbles led to Cadet scores. The third tally made by the Cadets was set up after one of the Hounds' passes was intercepted.

P.M.C.'s touchdowns came in the first, third, and fourth quarters. The Moravian team reached the end zone in the third and fourth quarters.

The first Cadet score came when Bucky Yelovich fumbled on his nine yard line. P.M.C. recovered the ball. On the next play, Walt Crate went around his end to reach paydirt. Mahoney kicked the extra point and the score was seven to nothing.

In the third period, Yelovich fumbled again, and Gary Piff of P.M.C. pounced on the ball at the Hounds 20 yard line. The Cadets then scored on another end run. Mahoney kicked again to make the score P.M.C. 14, Moravian 0.

In that same third quarter the Hounds marched 56 yards for their first touchdown. The key play of the series was a 38 yard touchdown pass from Dick Ritter to Jim Frank. The run for the extra point failed and the Hounds were then losing 14-6.

In the fourth quarter the Cadets picked up six more points after a Hound pass was intercepted. The interception set up a play where the P.M.C. scored on a pass play, Melelboy to Piff, from the one yard line. McElroy missed the extra point and they were leading 20-6.

The Gridders last six points came in the last quarter after a 80 yard march from their own 20. Larry Lewis crossed the goal line for the Hounds for their final score of the game. A pass-for-point-play failed and the final score wound up 20-12.

BASKETBALL

Head basketball coach Rocco Calvo announced early this week that there will be a meeting of all candidates for the basketball team on Oct. 24 at 3:30 p.m. in Johnston Hall. Calvo stated that the meeting was open to all interested students.

Runners Meet Leopard Squad at Homecoming

For a Homecoming attraction during the football game tomorrow, the Moravian College Harriers, with a 0-3 record, face a tough Lafayette team on the home 4.5 mile course.

In the meet last year on the opposers course the Hounds came out on the short end of a 16-44 score with the first four places going to Leopard runners.

George Fiegel took fifth place in that race with Jim Worman and Tom Grammes taking eighth and ninth places respectively.

Lafayette has lost its top runner of last year, Dick Haines, but has retained its next three positions Jim Oehlert, Dave Sheppard, and Joel Nyce.

Coach Paul Kuklantz will depend on Grammes, Worman, Fiegel, Byron Borst, and Ray Herman to lead the cross-country team to its first victory.

Frosh, OGO Lead I-M Soccer Play; TKE, SPO Second

The opening matches of the intramural soccer league were held on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of the week of Oct. 10. One match was held each afternoon.

The Rau Frosh team scored an impressive victory as they defeated the Day Students, 6-0.

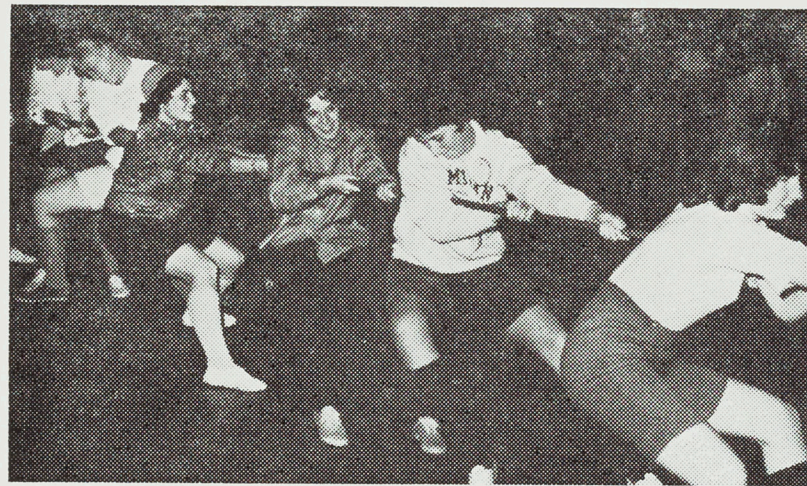

The TKE booters came from behind in the late stages of their game to tie the Sigma Phi's 2-2.

In a hard fought contest the OGO's won out over the Vets by a 3-0 score.

After one week of competition, Rau Frosh and OGO were tied for first place, TKE and Sigma Phi were tied for second, and the Day Students and the Vets were fighting for last place.

Four games are scheduled next week. On Monday, TKE meets the Vets. Tuesday the Frosh meet OGO and on Wednesday, Sigma Phi and the Vets will clash. The Day Students meet OGO on Friday to close out the week's play.

Homecoming Features Dutchmen Team; Moravian Eleven Plagued By Injuries

Frosh coeds strain in the tug o'war event during Tuesday evening's Olympics a la Mo in Johnston Hall. The result was a tie, which will be resolved during the halftime activity of tomorrow's football game.

Many Starters Pose Question Due To Injuries

A 2 p.m. kickoff tomorrow afternoon will initiate the feature attraction in the annual Homecoming Day activities. The Flying Dutchmen from Lebanon Valley will provide stiff competition for an injury-plagued Moravian eleven. This will be the 21st meeting of the clubs with Lebanon Valley holding a 14-5-1 edge.

Coached by Ellis McCracken, the Dutchmen have compiled a 3-1 record for the young football season. Wilkes, Drexel, and Upsala were victimized by 14-8, 42-12, and 6-0 scores respectively.

A tremendously improved Muhlenberg squad, last Saturday, romped to a 27-12 victory, thus removing Lebanon Valley from the ranks of the unbeaten.

Led by Les Holstein and Vern Magnuson, Lebanon Valley operates from a "T" or a slot "T" formation. As of last week, Holstein and Magnuson were first and second in the rushing department for the entire conference.

Many injuries were sustained in the Hounds' opening three contests. Among the many question marks for tomorrow's game include Dave Coe, Ed Weinhoffer, Ron Gori, Andy Semmel, Jim Kelyman, Jabby Williams, John Olson, and Jim Frank.

Receiving a head injury in the PMC game, Kelyman appears to be the most doubtful player to participate. Coe and Williams are expected to see action while Frank, nursing a pulled muscle, is expected to see limited action.

Because of a shoulder injury, Olson has not yet seen action this season but may be available for spot duty. With five stitches above his left eye, Semmel is yet another doubtful player. Fullback Bill Hino appears to be lost for the season.

Girls' Hockey Team Loses 2nd Game To Muhlenberg Squad

The Moravian girls' hockey team met with Muhlenberg last Tuesday for the first home game. Muhlenberg came out on top with a final score of 3-1.

This was the second meeting of the two teams. The first game was played on the Muhlenberg field with Muhlenberg winning 3-0. The Houndettes showed a marked improvement over the first game.

The starting lineup included: Jan Davis, Betty Dickman, Judy Clay, Marta Roberts, Patti Lang, Sue Sussman, Barbara Snyder, Joan Raidline, Judy Studwell, Andrea Aufder Hyde, Phyllis Peters, and Carol Horscroft.

Also playing for the Moravian team were Anita Filler, Sally Deysher, Bonnie Smith, and Sandy Kuehner.

Betty Dickman scored the only goal for Moravian in the game. Bo Snyder, Andrea Aufder Hyde and Judy Clay were standouts for the Houndettes.

Tomorrow at 10 a.m. the girls will face Lebanon Valley on the Moravian field on South Campus.

Harriers Drop Third Straight; Grammes, Worman Lead Hounds

Moravian's cross country team suffered its third straight defeat of the season at the hands of Pennsylvania Military College last Saturday. The best Moravian could do against P.M.C. was a disappointing showing of 20-36.

Crossing the finish line for Moravian in fourth place was Tom Grammes, followed by Jim Worman. George Fiegel and Byron Borst also managed to finish in the top ten.

According to an experienced Harrier the three losses can be attributed to two main factors: the first being due to a much stronger league, for example, against Elizabethtown, four freshmen placed ahead of our returning lettermen.

The second factor is that a great number of science majors are on the team. The science majors are so much involved with curricular activities that their greatly needed practices for a winning season are lacking.

Moravian meets Lafayette at home tomorrow.

Sports Unillustrated

by Tom & Jay

Fumbleitis hit the Hounds again last weekend and they lost their second straight game due to some unfortunate mistakes. The Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley are the Hound's opponent this weekend. The Dutchmen are 3-1 on the season having lost to Muhlenberg last weekend.

T. Fromhartz

We think the Dutchmen will be too much for the Hounds, especially since the Hounds have so many injuries from last week's P.M.C. game. We look for the Dutchmen to take the Hounds by two touchdowns.

Lehigh lost to Tufts last weekend, much to our dismay, and face another tough opponent this week in undefeated Rutgers 4-0. Last week Rutgers beat Bucknell 23-19. We say Rutgers by a touchdown.

Muhlenberg finally pulled one out last week when they upset Lebanon Valley. The Mules face Gettysburg this weekend and we don't think they are going to be lucky enough to win two in a row. The Bullets have a tough squad and will probably take the Mules by two or three touchdowns.

We think Lafayette will be too much for our Harriers tomorrow. The Hounds will lose their fourth in a row, probably by a good margin. The Leopards have quite a few experienced runners, too many for the Hounds.

Casey Stengel hit the dust early this week. The Yankees fired him on the grounds that he was too old. Seems to us that was a raw deal for a man who has done as much for baseball as Ole Case has. The same day he was fired there were rumors floating around that San Francisco was interested in hiring Casey. Don't count the old boy out yet.

Chorus Group To Highlight Music Series

Four musical presentations will highlight this year's Community Concert series, which will begin with the Branko Krsmanovich Chorus on Wednesday, Nov. 16.

The Branko Krsmanovich Chorus is a mixed 80-voice group from Yugoslavia.

Other features for the present season will include Gasper Casand and Chieko Hara, cellist and pianist, on Saturday, Jan. 14.

On Feb. 25, the featured performer will be William Warfield, baritone.

On March 11, the Community Concert Association will present the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, considered to be one of the top orchestras in the country.

Membership in the Bethlehem Community Concert Association entitles members to attend the Easton series also. Featured in this series this year will be the Icelandic Singers, Nov. 17; Myra Kinch Dance Group, Jan. 18; Dudie Sinfonietta, Feb. 11; and Richard Cass, pianist, March 23.

Robert P. Snyder, director of development, announced that tickets will be made available to Moravian College students during the week of Nov. 7. They will be issued in the college bookstore in the basement of Comenius Hall.

Gonsalves Elected Fraternity Prexy

Manuel Gonsalves was elected president of the Beta Beta chapter of the Kappa Phi Kappa, national professional education fraternity, at an election held on Saturday, Oct. 8.

Others elected to serve with Gonsalves were Peter Santa Maria, vice president; Donald Ryan, secretary; Jim Basara, treasurer; Ed Schultz, historian; Leo Stinner, United Student Government representative; and Ken Lutz, steward.

Dr. Joseph L. Hackenburg, professor of education, is the group's advisor.

Kulp To Discuss Research Project

Dr. Stuart S. Kulp, professor of chemistry and chairman of the chemistry department, will be the speaker at the first lecture meeting of the Rau Science Society on Wednesday, Oct. 26 at 7:30 p.m. in Johnston Hall rooms 9 and 10.

"The Synthesis and Chemistry of 2-Cyanocycloalkanes" will be the topic of Kulp's talk, and will be concerned with the research he is doing under a grant from the Smith, Kline and French Foundation.

The entire student body has been invited to attend.

with local orchestras and established his own music studio for organ and piano.

In the summer of 1945, he formed his own dance band, one which has become renowned for its fine music. But every success requires time and opportunity. And Moravian has played at least a small part in that success, for in 1947 when the band was still young, the college offered that necessary opportunity and Matt Gillespie came to Moravian.

By now, fifteen years after its inception, the band has acquired the trademark of "Young America's Favorite" and indeed it seems to be accurate. The band serves not only local high schools and colleges, but schools like the University of Pennsylvania, Gettysburg, and Temple.

As leader of a popular band, Matt plays the kind of music his audience likes to hear, mostly the "dreamy stuff" like "Stardust" and "I'm in the Mood for Love."

But as to his own musical preferences, he says, "I like to play the sophisticated music of the big band and enjoy listening to good jazz." His comment on the twist? "Well, we do have an arrangement for it."

Matt Gillespie, almost a Moravian tradition, has for over a decade been a stand-by at our dances. Recently because of his services to us, Tau Kappa Epsilon made him an associate member.

And perhaps in a way Moravian served him too, back in 1947, by helping to open the door of opportunity. This thought is expressed most appropriately in his own words. "My gratitude is boundless for what Moravian has done for me."

IFC Presents 'Indian' Theme For Weekend

"Indian" will be the theme for the third annual Inter-fraternity weekend which will be highlighted by an informal dance on Saturday, Nov. 19, James Kritis, president of the Inter-fraternity Council (IFC) announced early this week.

A queen for the dance will be chosen from pictures of dates which are to be submitted to IFC members before Friday, Nov. 11.

The IFC will narrow the number of the candidates to four. Saturday night at a dinner before the dance the finalists will meet with Eddie Holmes, band leader of the Preludes, who will choose the queen.

Another event planned for the evening will be the presentations of three trophies to the fraternities. One will be for athletic achievement, another for scholastic achievement and a third for the best house decorations for the Inter-fraternity weekend. Smaller trophies will also be given out for the winners of I-F sports—football, baseball, and basketball.

The IFC is in charge of all dance arrangements.

Law Opportunities

Mr. Harold Ruschlein, Dean of the Villanova University School of Law, will discuss with interested students study opportunities in the legal profession on Wednesday, Oct. 26 at 2 p.m. in Comenius Hall, room 8.

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Dear Diary...

As I take my pen in hand, I take my bottle of Coke in the other hand! Yes, dear diary, where would I be without Coca-Cola? Just a social outcast. Why, everybody drinks Coke! John and Bill and Barry and Charley. Horace too. Confidentially, I think I'll have another bottle of Coke.
