

Registration Next Week For Spring, '61 Semester

Registration for the spring semester will begin on Monday, Dec. 5 and will continue until Friday, Dec. 9. The hours for registration will be each day from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., Marlyn A. Rader, dean of instruction, announced earlier this week.

Comenian, Vets To Sponsor Photo Contest

The Comenian, in conjunction with the Moravian College Veterans Association, is sponsoring a photography contest which will be open to the student body as well as the faculty and administration of the college. Announcement was made this week by Neil Eskolin, editor of The Comenian.

Entries for the contest, Eskolin stated, may be submitted in the entry box which will be placed in The Comenian office in South Hall on North Campus. The entries must deal with "campus life in general" he said. The deadline for entering the contest will be 5 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 3, 1961.

Eskolin stated further that the entries must be in black and white and be no larger than five inches by seven inches.

It was decided by the sponsoring organizations that no members of the editorial board or photography staff of The Comenian or members of the executive committee of the Veterans' Association will be eligible to enter the contest.

The contest will be judged by Mrs. Jean Beecher, assistant professor of French, Mrs. Anna T. Riley, associate professor of art, and Chester S. Galle, Comenian Photography Editor. The decision of the judges will be final.

There will be prizes of $10, $5, and $3 for the first, second, and third place winners. The winners will be announced in the Jan. 13, issue of The Comenian. Prizes will be furnished by the Veterans' Association.

All students will be able to obtain a copy of course offerings and a trial roster from each major advisor or freshmen counselor. After conferring with the advisor or counselor, the student may then construct his schedule and enter it on the trial form, Rader stated.

The student will then go to the registration personnel in the basement of Colonial Hall where instructions will be given for the completion of registration, Rader added.

Juniors and sophomores, in general, will be discouraged from registering for pandemic science courses which are a part of the basic requirements, Rader said, and which are primarily intended for freshmen. Since seniors may need these courses to graduate, they will be allowed to take them, he added.

Registration for Music 102 will be restricted to freshmen only.

Triangle To Hold Tapping Ceremony

The Triangle Honor Society will conduct its annual tapping ceremony at a student convocation to be held Thursday, Dec. 8 at 11:30 a.m.

James MacDonald, president of Triangle, will give a brief history of the honor society and will explain and conduct the tapping ceremony.

Members are selected on the basis of three qualifications, from which the society derives its name. They include leadership in campus activities, generally high scholastic standards, and a spirit of service to the college.

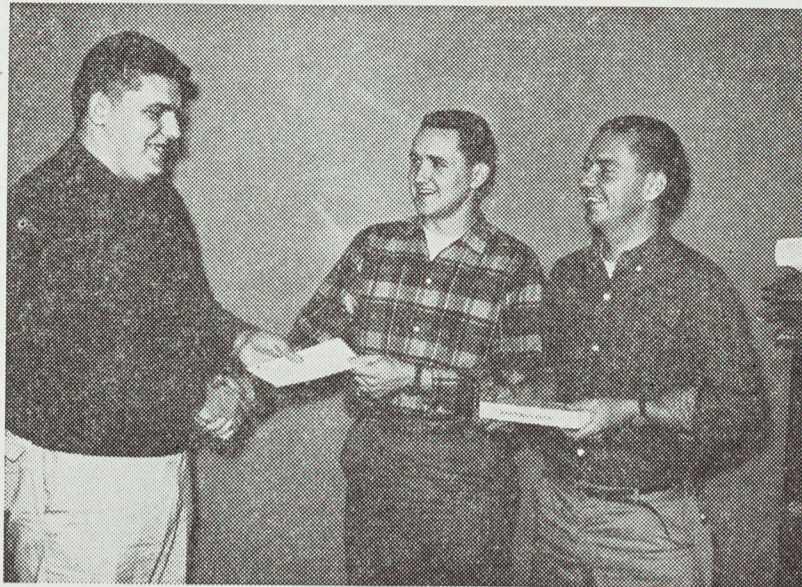

two upper classes favored the system on a trial basis only. A complete report will be presented at the next meeting.

USG delegates approved a questionnaire to be mailed to other colleges inquiring about their experiences with honor systems.

A student committee, headed by Alan Lippman, will be organized to formulate recommendations for submission to the faculty for improving the efficiency of the present grading system. Upon consulting with the administration and faculty, Lippman reported that the faculty felt the present grading system adequate, but acknowledged that "improvements from within" might be in order.

In other business, the Modern Language Club's budget was approved and the organization was allocated $106 to be divided in the following manner: German Club, $56; French Club, $20 and

by John Schlegel

David Lisbon, a freshman from Wethersfield, Conn., was suspended from classes for one week by the Disciplinary Committee, Joseph Castellano, chairman of the committee, stated earlier this week.

This action was taken after Lisbon was picked up by the Easton police for entering a biology building on the Lafayette College campus during the weekend of Nov. 19. Lisbon had been drinking.

He admitted having smashed nine windows and having damaged some science equipment, police stated. Lisbon agreed to make complete restitution to Lafayette College for the estimated $200 loss.

Following extensive research into the matter, the Disciplinary Committee arrived at a decision concerning Lisbon's punishment, Castellano further stated.

In addition to the suspension, in effect from Monday, Nov. 28 until Monday, Dec. 5, Lisbon will also be placed on disciplinary probation for the remainder of the school year.

If there are any further infractions of the college rules, Lisbon will again be brought before the Disciplinary Committee for stiff disciplinary action.

A letter will be sent to the student's parents describing the matter and explaining the rules of the college.

"This letter will not be a condemnation of Lisbon," Castellano added, "but an instrument for his parents to realize what is expected of a student here at Moravian College."

The committee added that the punishment might have been more severe if a letter had not been received in Lisbon's defence from Dr. Gilbert O. Hourtle, assistant dean of Lafayette College, asking for leniency in dealing with Lisbon.

Hourtle stated that Lisbon was not entirely responsible for his actions because of the condition he was in.

'Moderne Christmas' Planned As Theme For SAC Dance

A semi-formal Christmas Dance, sponsored by the Social Activities Committee, will be held Saturday, Dec. 10, from 9 p.m. to midnight, in Johnston Hall.

The theme for the annual dance will be "A Moderne Christmas" and will feature a large modernistic Christmas tree in the center of the dance floor. The ceiling will be decorated with white streamers, and modernistic murals will cover the walls.

The favors will be miniature Santa Clauses and the centerpiece for each table will be a birch log decorated with reindeer and candles.

Refreshments will consist of egg nog and Christmas cookies.

Music for the occasion will be provided by Matt Gillespie and his orchestra.

Semi-formal attire for the evening will consist of suits for the men and cocktail dresses for the women.

'God Is Omniscient,' McCormick States

The Rev. John N. McCormick, Dean of the Cathedral Church of Nativity, Bethlehem, speaking at yesterday's convocation in Johnston Hall, stated that "God sees all, and so we can never be successful in hiding from him."

McCormick pointed out various cases of judgment in recent years, calling them a revealing of facts.

"Judgment," he said, "is partly good news, showing God cares, and has counted upon everyone to further his cause. God knows and cares whether we have let him down."

He called some college students "Casual Christians," meaning those who use the name Christian as a cover for worldliness. "These people are the worst problem the Christian world faces."

College Gifts Total $305,426 For An Increase Over Last Year

A total of $305,426 in the form of gifts was received by Moravian College during the past fiscal year (July 1, 1959 - June 30, 1960) according to an annual gifts report release of Nov. 28. This amount includes $165,611 contributed to the college through the Annual Giving Program. The total represents a gross increase of $120,530 over last year.

The figures for the giving program are compared with $94,630 for the previous year. Gifts and grants of the program are applied solely to the operating account of the college. Last year's gifts totalled $184,896.

Other contributions for 1959-60 include $137,815 in payment of pledges to the Development Fund and gifts for research.

Stiffer Punishment Needed

For the third time this semester members of the student body have been involved in rowdiness and vandalism. First the annual Homecoming bonfire was sabotaged, then complaints were received from local businessmen concerning rowdy behavior and vandalism during the pajama parade on October 21, and now more recently a member of the freshman class was apprehended by the police for his rowdy behavior on the campus of Lafayette College.

To begin with there is no reason whatsoever for such behavior. It simply reveals a very immature and irresponsible attitude on the part of those who engage in such "extra curricular activities."

In the second place, and probably more important, it casts a very unfavorable reflection upon the college and helps to foster a somewhat less than desirable reputation for the school. This may seem unimportant, but people do not quickly forget such incidents and therefore the entire student body may gain an unfavorable reputation due to the actions of a few.

How can this type of incident be curtailed? First there must be cooperation on the part of the student body, who we would strongly urge to stop and think before they act. If this cooperation is lacking, as it appears to be here on campus, then the disciplinary committee should take action as they have on these occasions.

In considering the disciplinary committee and their actions this year, however, we feel that they have been far too lenient in their punishments. A year's probation for the bonfire episode is mild but since it was the first incident of the year it is understandable. However, in the most recent case, a week's suspension, financial restitution (which would be expected under any circumstances) and a year's probation is certainly an inadequate punishment for such behavior. (See story on page 1.)

We would suggest that in the future the disciplinary committee should recommend a minimum punishment of suspension for one semester, for anyone taking part in activities similar to the aforementioned three incidents this semester. If a student realizes that a really stiff punishment will result from such action, he may think twice. There is too much at stake to allow any reoccurrences of these incidents.

The Mail Box

Frosh 'Playful, Immature'

To the Editor:

It appears to me that we have quite a playful, immature group of freshmen on campus this year. Although their initial semester is only a bit more than one-half finished, several of these big, brave boys have already succeeded on two occasions to get their antics into the news columns of our local city newspaper.

Naturally, I understand that only a small minority is guilty, but as the saying goes, "it takes only one rotten apple to spoil the whole barrel." And that, I believe, is just what is happening.

It also appears to me that Moravian College has gained much favorable recognition in the past several years. Is this achievement going to be chopped down by a few ignorant and inconsiderate freshmen?

I fail to see any enjoyment or pleasure in vandalizing movie theaters or smashing windows. And if you want to display your manliness (if that's what you call it) by getting drunk, lock yourself in a closet and get drunk to your heart's content.

The next time you have an opportunity to display some more of your flattering rowdiness, how about taking a second to stop and think not only of yourself, but also of everyone else around you?

Give it a try, frosh, you won't regret it!

Pete Lehr '63

Sincere Thanks

To the Campus Community:

I wish to express sincere thanks on behalf of the Veteran's Association to all persons responsible for having chosen Ronald Stupak the winner of the Ugly Man Contest.

Since 1960 is the birthdate of the Alpha Phi Omega Service Fraternity on the Moravian campus, it is my sincerest hope that in future years, the student body will help this most worthy fraternity grow in their accomplishments by leaps and bounds in their voluntary service to our community.

We as a college community can have a warm feeling of satisfaction in knowing that we have contributed to the welfare of our fellow human beings as well as having brought honor and recognition to our Alma Mater.

Let us now not rest on the laurels we have attained but constantly strive for continual success of APO.

USG's Efforts Over Six-year Period Reviewed; Potential Formerly Limited By Inherent Problems

This is the third in a series of articles on student government at Moravian. Next week's concluding article will deal with USG's present problems and plans for the future.

by Stephanie Rights

Hundreds of articles could be written about student government in general. Two such articles have already been presented to you as background for understanding the potential scope of such an organization. But what is really important to us at Moravian is understanding our own United Student Government, what it is and what it can be.

To see most clearly the role of USG, let's look at what it has done since its inception in 1954 at the merger of the Moravian College for Men and Moravian College for Women.

In the 1954 - 55 school year, USG was confronted by the problems of solidifying its powers and of working out its own organizational defects. A committee was appointed to investigate constitutional powers.

Plagued by a continued inability to get a quorum at meetings, it revised the constitution so that organizations were permitted only three absences a semester. During the year, it investigated the possibilities for greater recreational facilities, established afternoon juke-box dances for students in the Arts Building, and ran a fund drive for charity.

The following year, too, brought constitutional problems. The nominating procedure for USG officers was revised and changes were made in the allocation of monies to organizations. A committee was formed to discuss problems in the marking system, but it made no recommendations during the year.

USG sponsored a Playday for the students during the spring and another fund drive for charity. Attempts to alleviate student parking problems (the South Campus parking lot was not then in existence) were tabled since it was decided that this was an administrative problem.

In 1956-57, USG extended the limits of its projects. USG early in the fall took over the responsibility of supervising and coordinating freshman hazing. A committee was formed to coordinate the calendar of activities to prevent as much as possible conflicts in organization meetings, and work was begun on forming an honor system for student approval.

A calendar of activities was submitted by the spring, but it was not accepted by the administration. Recommendations and plans for an honor system were approved by USG and turned over to a faculty committee for further study. Although further constitutional changes were proposed, none were acted upon.

Work on the honor system continued into the next year. Suggest-tions made by the faculty were submitted to a student-faculty committee for further revisions, and in April, 1958 the program was submitted to the student body, which rejected it.

As a result of committee work, two changes were made in the constitution, one which established a permanent elections committee and another which lowered grade-point requirements for holding organization offices. A student union center was approved by USG and student assessment fee decided upon.

The following year, USG succeeded in getting hazing abolished, formed a "peace pact" with Muhlenberg, discussed and vetoed a possible extracurricular point system, and held a skating party for the student body.

Last year saw several programs initiated by USG. The idea of a student evaluation of curriculum and faculty was considered, but because the administration felt it of no value to them, it was dropped.

A committee to investigate our present academic proctor system in contrast to an honor system and one to study the discrepancies in our grading system were formed in the spring and they are continuing their activities now. A program for training student leaders, too, was initiated. But perhaps most important to the functioning of USG last year was

by Alan Lippman

Six Harvard students and a Yale recently published a small pamphlet entitled "Ivy League Guide to New York" in which they described the various and sundry modes of entertainment available for the average fun-seeking college student.

Their recommendations, based on a "hectic" week spent in casing nightclubs and coffee houses, are climaxed by tentative programs of Saturday evening entertainment entitled "The $452.98 Snow Job" for the suave collegian out to impress his date, and "The $1.98 Mother Said - I - Had - To - Look - Her - Up Special" for the frugally-minded miser on a blind date.

The Snow Job includes such activities as dinner for two, a visit to the opera, nightclub hopping, and a ride around Central Park in a hansom. Transportation elsewhere is provided by a rented chauffeur-driven Rolls Royce for $9 an hour, so you get the idea.

The latter features orange soda for two at a Nedick's stand ($.24), a ride on the longest subway line in the world ($.30 for 22.6 exciting miles), and a brisk walk around the Empire State Building (free, and it's the largest building in the world).

The Special seems just specially ordered for many of our economy-minded students here, and we heartily recommend it. But if you can't get to New York this weekend, perhaps we can shift the scene slightly.

We may not be Ivy Leaguers here, but it's certain that we can summon up parallel experiences for our date-conscious brethren in Bethlehem.

For instance, our $1.98 Special would start off with coffee for two in the Emsee ($.14) followed by a "rapid" ride across town on Bethlehem's famed Main St. bus line ($.46 for the longest bus ride in Bethlehem).

Dinner may be eaten in any of several exclusive establishments catering to college culinary connoisseurs. (This should run no more than $1.15 for two, at, for instance, certain hot dog shops on the south side).

The greater part of the evening may be spent in a quiet moonlight stroll back to the other side of town across Bethlehem's world-renowned Hill-to-Hill Bridge with its magnificent Christmas display. On the way, the colorful displays of the Bethlehem Steel Works may be observed and appreciated and, for diversion, one can guess the temperature on the huge thermometer at the middle of the bridge.

The evening's program is climaxed by a walk around the famed statue of John Amos Comenius on the Moravian campus. Although not quite so high as

Lettermen Return To Lead Wrestlers In New Season

Led by six returning lettermen, the Moravian College wrestling squad will come up against some stiff competition this year.

Wilkes, Lafayette, Dickinson, and Muhlenberg will be the biggest matches of the season. The squad opens its season at Reading on Dec. 10 against Albright.

Runners Place 16th In MAC Cross Country

The Fifth Annual Cross-Country Championships of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conferences were held Friday, Nov. 18, on St. Joseph's College's home course, Cobbs Creek Golf Course, with over 20 teams competing.

The Harriers representing Moravian College brought home a sixteenth place over the 5-mile perimeter of the golf course.

In perfect running weather St. Joseph's, LaSalle, and West Chester captured first, second, and third respectively with the leader taking an overwhelming placing of the 1, 3, 6, 8, and 12 spots in the race.

Out of the field of over 150 runners George Fiegel took a 58th with the time of 27:32 with Byron Borst, Tom Grammes, Terry Harlacher, and Don Eichenhofer in the 66, 89, 95, and 99 places respectively.

The team scored a total of 407 points in this race.

In the freshman race held before the varsity, Jim Wrytzen and Fred Cartier took places in a 2.5 mile run on the same golf course.

Gridmen Close '60 Campaign; Calvo's Second Losing Season

by Warren Brill

Now that the Greyhounds have closed the door on the 1960 football season, a look can be taken at the record achieved by the Hound football squad.

The year ended with a 1-6-1 record, but the team did much better than the record shows. The Hounds lost the ball due to fumbles 18 times; their opponents lost the ball 19 times.

Moravian intercepted ten passes and ran them back for 169 yards, while their opponents intercepted 12 passes and ran them back for 157 yards.

The Gridders ran back 22 punts for 156 yards, their opposition ran back 12 punts for 46 yards. In punting, the Greyhounds kicked 42 times for an average of 36.2 yards per kick. Their adversaries kicked 38 punts for an average of 33.1 yards per kick.

Individual standouts on the team were Jabby Williams, Jim Kelyman, Andy Semmel, Tony Gawronski, Dave Coe, and Jim Kritis. The high scorer for Mo-Mo was Kelyman with 20 points.

Williams did an outstanding job, punting 37 times for an average of 36.2 yards per kick. Kelyman intercepted three passes and ran them back for a total of 76 yards.

Kritis caught 18 passes for a total of 136 yards. Gawronski made the All-East line squad once during the season and received honorable mention several times.

Coe carried the pigskin 50 times for a total of 192 yards. Freshman quarterback, Semmel took top honors in the passing department. He tossed 85 aerials, Coach Kuklantz's squad is beginning to shape up as practice sessions continue. There are some sure shots in some weight classes, while others are open battles.

In the 123 lb. weight class, Jerry Simons, a freshman from Bethlehem has a definite edge on all contenders in that class.

In the 130 lb. division, Bill Rinker who has lost only twice in dual meet competition in two years has met little opposition.

Gene Medei, who was undefeated at 137 is having a real fight on his hands with another freshman from Bethlehem, Roger Grubbs, While in high school, Grubbs was a district title winner.

Dan Turner has returned to go at 147 where he was undefeated last year, while Dick Bedics is back to fill the 157 lb. slot.

The strongest spot in the Moravian lineup will be at 167 lbs. where Dick Schaeffer, Middle Atlantic Conference title holder returns to do battle. Schaeffer was the outstanding grappler on Kuklantz's 1959-60 squad.

Dave Linaberry is the only returning heavyweight since Steve Edraney dropped out of school because of illness.

In the past two years the Hounds have lost only two dual meets, both to the Wilkes Colonels. Therefore, this year's match with the Wilkes squad will be one of the most important for the Hound matmen.

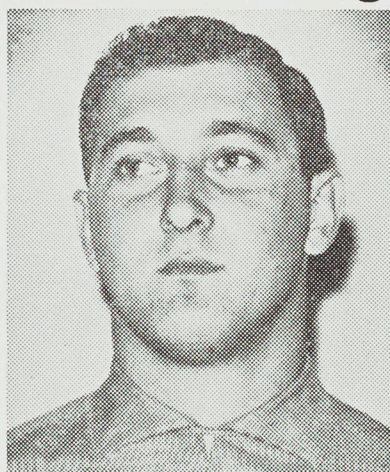

and connected with 32. He threw two T.D.'s and completed five for two point conversions.

Only five seniors will be lost this year, and the squad looks forward to a much improved Moravian team next season.

ICE HOCKEY

There will be a meeting of the Moravian College Ice Hockey Club Friday, Dec. 2 at 3:40 p.m. in room 4 of Comenius Hall. Interested students are invited to attend.

Outstanding Fall Athletes

Comenian Picks Gawronski As Football MVP

The outstanding line play of Tony Gawronski led The Comenian to pick him as its Moravian football player of the year.

This is Gawronski's second year on the squad. After an impressive freshman year, Tony picked up that little something extra that made him into the pile-driving lineman that he is.

Gawronski's hard charging style of line play led to many ground losses for Hound opponents. Tony was picked for the All-East squad once during the season, and placed on the honorable mention list several times.

Gawronski's play in many of this year's contests proved to be a major factor in the closeness of the tougher games. He was placed on the All-East squad for his sensational play against the highly favored Albright Lions.

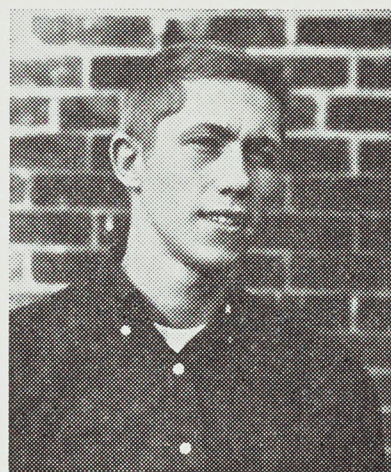

Gawronski placed pressure upon the entire Lion running and passing game limiting their total yardage greatly. He also proved a bulwark on defense against a very strong Wagner team.

A six foot 225 pounder, Gawronski came to Moravian by way of St. Joseph's High School in Camden, New Jersey. While at St. Joseph's, Tony won letters in football and baseball. In his senior year he was captain of the baseball team.

Intramural Basketball

All teams interested in entering the Intramural Basketball League must submit names and rosters to Rocco Calvo before Dec. 5. First league games will be played on Dec. 7, at 4 p.m.

Each team will be required to pay a $10 fee to enter competition.

Grammes Is Cross Country MVP Choice

The Comenian's choice for outstanding Player on the cross country team is sophomore Tom Grammes.

During the past season, Grammes has shown the most consistency in finishing in the upper ten in every race. He has finished in the first five in six out of nine meets.

Against Albright, Grammes placed first leading the Hounds to their first victory after four straight losses.

Grammes placed third in a triangular meet against Temple and Haverford to lead the Hounds to two more victories.

When he is not running, Grammes is a soft spoken easy going guy. When he gets on the track, he is all business and can always be counted on to put his most into any effort.

When Grammes came to Moravian two years ago, he had had no cross country experience, but was a trackman in high school.

According to head cross country coach Paul Kuklantz, Grammes has shown great improvement over the last year, coming from a number three position on the squad to taking over the leadership of the squad.

Calvo Names 5 Lettermen For Opener

by Tom Fromhartz

"Our biggest problem will be getting someone to do the job Ducky Potter did last year," stated Rocco Calvo, head basketball coach.

In an interview earlier this week Calvo said that in order to have a winning season someone will have to emerge as the "take charge" guy of the Moravian squad to fill Potter's king-size sneakers.

Faced with this problem, the Hounds open the 1960-61 season at home tonight facing the Garnet of Swarthmore.

Since NCAA rules prohibit any college team from playing before Dec. 1, this will be the first contest for both squads.

Last year the Hounds topped the Garnet by a 63-54 score.

Starting for the Hounds at the forward slots will be Dick Kosman, who was second to Potter in scoring last year and Leo Stinner, a senior, who led the team in rebounds.

Jumping center will be Rocco Zulli who scored 73 points last year while pulling down 47 rebounds.

In the backcourt at guards, Calvo will start junior lettermen Jim Gano and Hal Rice who scored 122 and 208 points respectively.

Calvo's five starters are all returning lettermen.

Len Zavacky, Jan Fritz, and Bernie Medei will be in reserve and will see plenty of action.

Two or three freshmen will dress with the varsity squad, according to Calvo, and will see action as the season proceeds.

Last year the Hounds finished with a 15-8 record. This year they play a 21 game schedule including Rutgers, Hofstra, and Wagner who always have outstanding squads.

Muhlenberg Tops Greyhounds In The Season's Finale, 33-16

An overflow crowd of 3,500 people saw the Moravian College football team lose its final game of the season to the Mules of Muhlenberg College by a score of 33-16.

The Mules scored their points in the first, second and third periods. In the first period Muhlenberg halfback Merle Wolfe went around his own end in a 24-yard run to the goal line. The kick for point was good and the Mules were in the lead.

In the second period, quarterback Rollie Houseknecht passed the ball to halfback Charlie Kuntzelman for six points. Houseknecht tried to run the ball for two points, but was stopped short of the goal line.

The next time the Mules got the ball they brought it down to the nine. Then Yost crossed the goal for six more points.

Yost attempted a run for two points, but the alert Moravian defense brought him down short of the goal line.

In the third period, a pass from Andy Semmel was intercepted by Marty Renshaw who ran it back to the Moravian three-yard line. From the two-yard line Yost went around his left guard for the tally.

The try for point was successful with a pass from Houseknecht to Cliff Roth for two points.

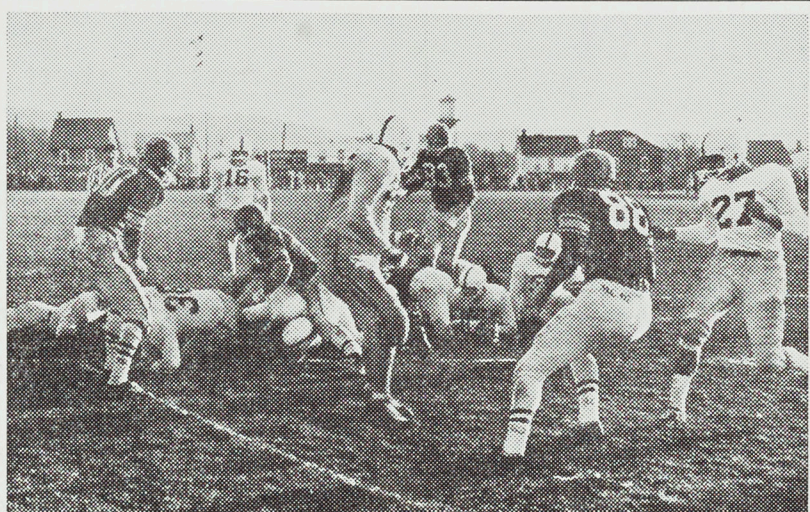

The final Muhlenberg score came when Houseknecht crossed the line from one foot out. His pass for two points was incomplete.

The first Moravian tally was set up when Semmel recovered a Muhlenberg fumble on the Muhlenberg 15. The Hounds marched down to their own 35 yard line.

Then Semmel connected with a 35 yard touchdown pass to Jim Insinga. On the try for point, Semmel hit Jim Kritis in the end zone for another two points.

The Greyhounds' final eight points was set up when Jim Kelyman ran the Mule's kick-off to the 37-yard line. Then the ball was slowly moved down to the two where Dave Coe went around his own right guard for the score.

The two extra points were added to the tally sheet after Dick Ritter threw the ball to Kelyman in the end zone.

Dave Coe scores the second Moravian touchdown in the 33-16 loss to the Mules two weeks ago. Coe was the Hound's leading ground gainer in that losing effort. Photo by Stoddard

Susan Kovacs Chosen Queen At I-F Dance

Susan Kovacs, a freshman from Bethlehem, was crowned queen of the Inter-fraternity dance, held in Johnston Hall on Saturday evening, Nov. 19.

The ceremony took place during the intermission. After introducing the queen and her court, James Kritis, president of the I-F Council, announced the winners of trophies presented by the council.

Sigma Phi Omega won the annual award for the highest scholastic average and was presented with the weekend's house decoration trophy. Omicron Gamma Omega was awarded the prize for the best record in intra-mural sports as well as individual trophies for baseball and basketball. The individual trophy for football was presented to Tau Kappa Epsilon.

USG's Efforts . . .

the diligent attempt to work within the confines of the present constitution.

Not to be overlooked is a survey of activities such as this, of course, is the work of the standing committees. Yet the growth of USG must be measured more on the grounds of what it has accomplished above and beyond this. Now, what it has accomplished in the past is relevant only in that it points the way for future progress.

The role of USG has up until this time been limited by problems inherent in the organization itself. But USG has proved within the last year that its constitution is functional. With student initiative and administrative cooperation, the role of student government can be expanded considerably within the next several years.
