Actor Set To Appear As Twain

"Mark Twain Tonight," a one-man show starring Hal Holbrook, sponsored by the Student Concert-Lecture Committee and the Alumnae Home Club, will be presented Monday at 8:30 p.m. in Johnston Hall.

HOLBROOK WILL PORTRAY Mark Twain, a role he created in 1955. Since that time he has appeared in New York before capacity audiences and on various television programs.

Holbrook was born in Cleveland, Ohio and studied at Denison University, before entering summer stock in 1953.

He has toured the American Continent with the one-man show, winning raves from the critics wherever he appeared.

A EUROPEAN TOUR followed where Holbrook was the first American actor to appear in a solo performance at the Edinburgh Festival.

Free unreserved tickets for "Mark Twain Tonight" may be obtained at the ticket office in Johnston Hall.

Students desiring reserved tickets may procure them at a cost of $1.

Student Identification Cards must be presented when securing all tickets.

Values Important, Yaeck Admonishes

The importance of values in life was the subject of an address by Rev. Dr. Milton Yaeck of the Emmaus Moravian Church at convocation yesterday.

He stated that there has been a loss of purpose and meaning in religion and that this loss of meaning throughout all areas of human experience is the reason that the average American merely "tolerates God" rather than worships Him.

"Too many Christians see Christianity as merely one of many valid religions because the religious principles of the early Christians have been allowed to atrophy."

Yaeck asked that "we regain the vitality of Christianity."

New Edition Of Manuscript To Be Distributed Next Week

The 1961 issue of the Manuscript, College literary magazine, will be distributed on or about May 15, Cynthia Geiman, Editor, has announced.

The edition will consist of short stories and poetry written by members of the student body.

THE MANUSCRIPT WILL BE somewhat shorter than last year's issue, due mainly to a lack of material submitted to the editorial board. The absence of a course in creative writing this semester accounted somewhat for the lack of material, Miss Geiman said.

The cover will be the same as last year with the exception of its

Shao To Attend Conference To Discuss U.S. Foreign Policy

Dr. Otis H. Shao, chairman of the political science department, will attend a conference called by Dean Rusk, Secretary of State, on Monday and Tuesday, May 15 and 16 in Washington, D.C.

THE CONFERENCE WHICH will be held in the new State Department Building was called by Rusk to discuss a means by which the governmental and non-governmental organizations can co-operate in communicating our foreign policy issues to the public.

Shao stated that the group would try to find the best way to inform the public of these issues.

A brief analysis of the foreign policy issues of the United States will be given by Rusk on the first day. The second day the group will break up into groups for roundtable discussions. Top aides of the State Department will be in charge at these discussions which will delve more deeply into the foreign affairs problem. These groups will discuss various issues such as Laos and the European situation.

SHAO HAS ALSO BEEN INVITED to a buffet dinner on Monday evening at the home of Temple Wanamaker, Director in the Office of Public Services which is connected with the Department of State. Wanamaker is also in charge of arrangements for the two-day conference.

Crowning Highlight Of Spring Festival

The annual Spring Festival, sponsored by the Women's Activities Committee (WAC), will be held on Sunday, May 14 at 2 p.m. on the lawn in back of Main Hall on South Campus. In case of rain the program will be cancelled.

Fulbright Plan To Give Grants For Research

Fulbright scholarships for graduate study or pre-doctoral research will be made available to over 800 graduate students for the 1962-63 academic year, announced the Institute of International Education last Wednesday.

THERE ARE TWO TYPES OF grants for study abroad under the Fulbright program. Complete grants provide maintenance, travel, tuition and books for one academic year. Fulbright Travel Grants to supplement maintenance and tuition scholarships from other sources are also being made available.

In addition to the Fulbright scholarships, awards for graduate study in Latin America under the Inter-American Cultural Convention and for graduate study in Ireland will also be offered.

All applications for these programs will be available on May 15, and will be accepted until Nov. 1.

GENERAL ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS for all categories of awards are U. S. citizenship at time of application, a bachelor's degree or its equivalent, knowledge of language of host country, and good health.

Interested students should write to the Information and Counseling Division, Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th St., New York 21, N. Y.

MEMBERS OF THE SPRING Festival Court were elected early this week. They are Joan Albrecht, Judy Cavanagh, Judy Clay, Anita Filler, Cynthia Geiman, Sandra Kromer, Rita Roseman and Sandra Yaeck.

Candidates for this honor have been selected for their contribution to the school. The senior girl who receives the highest vote will be named as Miss Moravian, and the other seven senior girls will serve in her court.

"Carnival by Moonlight" will be held Saturday, May 13 from 7 p.m. until midnight in conjunction with the Spring Festival. Dancing will be held from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Various booths and stands sponsored by campus organizations will line the hockey field on South Campus and the money raised will be donated to the College Building Fund.

THE SPRING FESTIVAL, ENTITLED "Carnival Time" will consist of the crowning of Miss Moravian, entertainment for Miss Moravian and her Court, and a Blossom Tea. Joan Knepper, chairman of WAC, and Jeanne Scott, vice-chairman, are in charge of arrangements.

The program will begin with a processional which will be led by the honor attendants, the two girls with the highest academic averages in the freshmen, sophomore and junior classes. These girls are Barbara Finn and Vicki Vroom, freshmen; Susan Burger and Jean Friedman, sophomores; and Stephanie Rights and Barbara Snyder, juniors.

ON HAND TO RECEIVE THE charter were Harvey T. D. Gillespie, Dean of Men, J. Jay Wilcox, Scout Executive; Dr. Samuel Zeller, chairman of the chapter; and Charles S. Canning, President of the chapter.

The recipients each gave a short message to the newly inducted advisors and students of the chapter. Nu Lambda was commended by the speakers on the excellent job it has done for the campus, the community and the nation.

Sports Scholarships

In many colleges, a heavy preponderance of scholarships are awarded to those students who are willing to participate in sports. Though it cannot be denied that many sports participants are highly deserving of scholarships, athletic ability must always be secondary to scholastic ability. Thus with this emphasis in mind, it is not always possible to recruit the best athletic talent available in high schools and produce winning teams season after season.

Moravian College has managed to keep its balance of scholarship aid in favor of pure academic scholarships rather than sports and rightly so. And so the sports department is forced to work with a limited number of scholarships with which to subsidize its talented men.

Realizing its limitations, the athletic department seeks to grant scholarships to key men who participate in several sports. As a result, aid seems to be given primarily to students who play basketball, baseball, and football, whereas those who are active in tennis and wrestling receive little or no aid. Such an inequity we recognize cannot be completely remedied. Yet it seems to us only fair that some portion of the total sports scholarship funds be awarded to men in these sports areas. The success of our teams has never seemed dependent on the number of team members receiving aid. Therefore it should be possible to distribute aid more equitably. —SIR

Troubled Hearing

We are sure that all who attended last week's Senior Farewell dance in Johnston Hall will agree that it was a very well run affair. Much credit should be given to the Social Activities Committee for a job well done.

There was one fault which does not lie with SAC, and that is the lack of adequate sound facilities, making an appearance by a group such as the Four Freshmen unenjoyable.

This shortcoming is also true at such events as the Community Concerts and Audubon Screen Tours, which are also held in Johnston Hall.

The expense entailed in booking outside groups becomes wasted when they can not be heard by everyone.

It is not important where the fault for this failure lies. But we feel that adequate sound equipment for Johnston Hall must be obtained if college and community events are to be considered successful. —DBH

The Mail Box

And Apathy Still Exists . . .

To the Editor:

All in all this has appeared to be an outstanding year on the Moravian campus. Paging back through old Comenian clippings and Benignas, I can find no single year which can compare to the one which is now closing.

NOT ONLY WAS THIS A great political year on campus, but also a great social and organizational year. Many new events were introduced—for instance, the "Ugly Man" contest, Donkey Basketball, the Snow Sculpture Contest, a Variety Show, Art Exhibit and a Spring Festival Carnival.

The Campus has never had so many new organizations in one year before—Alpha Phi Omega, Mu Sigma Sigma, Phi Sigma Tau, and Tau Sigma Lambda.

There seemed to have been an overwhelming participation in parties, dances and events from Homecoming to Senior Farewell. As overwhelming as this appears, there still seems to be the general apathy on campus that was so prevalent in September.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH THE student body? Why is there such a lack of school spirit? When you remove the veneer from this successful year, you can see that in a great many cases the real planning and work was done by only a handful of people. I speak specifically of our school dances.

Why is the student body so apathetic toward decoration? Last week Moravian probably saw one of the most successful dances ever held on this campus, but this success was due primarily to the efforts of relatively few students.

Recently the Social Activities Committee has been expanded to twice the number of members as before. The results, however, seem to have decreased by the same number. I feel there is some "dead-wood" in the new committee which needs to be replaced.

I MIGHT EXPLAIN THAT AT the most seven or eight of the SAC were really out working on the decorations. This is only a fraction of the picture however. Decorating is the responsibility of each and every student. WRMC sent an appeal to the students the last two nights before the dance. Only a handful showed up.

This is a sick student body that lets Mr. Applegate, the chairman of SAC, and one or two of his men stay up several nights in a row until 2:30 a.m. to decorate. This is worse than the turnout at USG meetings. Fortunately there are one or two organizations who do help a little with the preparations or else there would be some poorly decorated dances.

I don't know whether to blame the large day student enrollment, or the poor leadership of the upperclassmen or both, but apathy still seems to exist.

Hal Holbrook Brings Humor Of Twain To Life, Makes It A Career Following Extensive Study

by Anne Barnes

Hal Holbrook's story, up to a point, is similar to that of many actors. His "Mark Twain Tonight," marks his distinction, however, with its overnight success on Broadway in 1959. He has since played nearly one thousand American performances which attest to the continued popularity of the Holbrook's fine imitation of Twain.

HAL HOLBROOK HAS brought to life once again the great wit and cynicism of Mark Twain. This type of humor has made America and the world laugh with mirth for more than one generation.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I wish to present to you a man whose great learning and veneration for truth are only exceeded by his high moral character and majestic presence. I refer in these vague, general terms to myself. I was born modest, but it wore off." The words are those of Mark Twain but they are spoken with a twinkle by Hal Holbrook at the beginning of his show.

"The stage is a faded Daguerreotype, with a high old-fashioned lectern, a desk with a topply mound of books, a cut glass pitcher of water and a McKinley-era chair. Into this setting shuffles the spry, white-maned humorist in the white suit. Involuntary tremors ripple the stiffened fingers, the lower jaw nibbles spasmodically at wisps of tobacco-stained mustache, the shoulders twitch like marionettes in the invisible hands of time. But a pagan glint of eye suggests that this is a life less spent than well spent. Then the voice, cracked but not ruined, spreads the above quote," said Time Magazine in a review of Holbrook's performance.

HAL HOLBROOK SPENT years studying the legendary humorist's mannerisms, his odd walk, and slow drawl, his mastery of the pause in delivering a joke, his habit of constantly moving on the platform. Twain was hailed as a superb entertainer in his day and was eagerly sought after for lecture engagements. And so Holbrook has studied old newspaper reports of his appearances, as well as Twain's own commentary on his platform method.

In his quest for authenticity Holbrook interviewed many people who knew the author personally or were with him on the platform. He owns a copy of the rare Edison film of Mark Twain and a recording of his voice.

When Holbrook tours in "Mark Twain Tonight," he carries with him a forty-pound wooden box containing the white suit, padding, the shoes, the cigars, the make-up—everything needed to convert a thirty-five year old actor in the seventy year old humorist he impersonates. The box even contains the mirror, lights and shelf which he sets up as his make-up table when he arrives at the theatre of his appearance. Once, when a customs inspector asked him to describe his box and its contents he was thoroughly befuddled and answered, "Mark Twain is in there."

AS FRANK ASTON OF THE New York World Telegram and Sun once said of Holbrook, he is "an artist and a hugely enjoyable one."

Student Union

by Jean Friedman

As United Student Government Secretary, I have been extremely concerned with keeping the student body informed on USG matters. And since the opportunity has now presented itself, I would like to call attention to a problem which is of greatest importance to every student at Moravian—that of the new Student Union (SU).

USG has concentrated much of its time on formulating a workable governing system for the Student Union. The original plan called for virtual independence of SU so that it was in essence a self-governing body. A second plan was proposed by those who thought complete freedom of SU would weaken USG and intended that USG have complete control over the building. As a result, a compromise was reached and USG became the nominal head of Student Union.

As Ron dePaolo, USG President, views the problem regarding the locus of authority, it is a question of specifics and generalities. The Union will operate as a separate entity with the students controlling the maintenance of the SU building, but USG will continue to govern the entire student body including those participating in the SU.

Structurally, it can be represented by concentric circles, the inner circle or nucleus being the SU and the outer circle USG. The compromise seemed to Ron to be a good one and one that he realizes remains to prove itself.

To my mind, a certain vagueness exists in the word "nominal." The exact position and extensiveness of control must be stated before USG can even assume its position at the top. Under what circumstances can USG interfere with the workings of SU?

USG can legislate. The one thing it cannot legislate is culture. The function of the SU is to provide an atmosphere for its development.

The organizations are separated in this respect by statements of their purpose. However to coordinate or balance the two organizations more than a direct statement of purpose is necessary. A direct statement of jurisdiction or powers must be ordained.

No direct stand as yet has been taken by USG as to proper jurisdiction leaving a wide area open to misinterpretation, possible meddling by USG in the affairs of SU, or SU over-extending its powers.

As of now, the compromise is necessary or, shall I say, expedient, but in the future, almost certainly, USG will withdraw its nominal leadership over SU, because the two ideally have separate functions on campus, and USG's paternalism will not be required.

Hounds Belt Berg, Dickinson; Cadets Take Squeaker, 3-2

by Bob Fatzinger

Coach Harvey Gillespie's baseball squad picked up its ninth and tenth victories of the season at the expense of Dickinson, 16-0, and Muhlenberg, 5-1. Loss number six was suffered at the hands of PMC, 3-2. All three games were played on the Hound's home diamond.

Shortstop Don Vogel led the attack in the Dickinson rout. Simon Blahut chipped in with two hits including a two run homer.

IN THE BERG CONTEST, pitcher Brian Hill allowed four hits, struck out seven and walked two.

Spotting Muhlenberg one run in the first inning, the Hounds countered with three in their half of the second frame.

The Hounds pushed across two more tallies in the third frame to complete the days scoring.

THE PMC CONTEST WAS strictly a pitcher's duel. Gano limited the Cadets to four hits, while the Hounds managed only five safeties. Moravian errors proved to be the deciding factor in the game.

In the third inning, Cadet Mike Sapovits was safe on an error. Sapovits scored on John Bowman's error, but another runner was cut down at the plate on the same play. Another single brought home the second run, and two walks forced in the winning tally.

I-M Softball In Full Swing; OGO In Lead

The dust appears to be clearing somewhat in the action packed intramural softball league as the field of possible champions has narrowed down to five teams.

THE GENERAL FEELING IS that the teams in this year's league have provided more well-balanced competition than has been the case in previous years.

There is a chance that several play-offs will have to be scheduled instead of only one final playoff due to the many teams crowded around the top two positions.

First place is presently held down by the OGO's (3-0) and Sigma Phi (2-0).

THESE TWO TEAMS ARE BEING hard-pressed by the Harriers (3-1), the Vets (3-1), and the Rejects (3-1). Any one of these three teams plus the top two could end up in the play-offs at the end of the regular season.

Two games were played earlier this week. On Monday the Harriers extended the Seminary's losing streak to five in a row by handing them an 18-10 defeat. Following this game the Vets remained in contention as they beat the Tigers 8-4.

The picture may clear up more following a future clash between the OGO's and Rau Frosh, the Rejects and the Bandits, the Harriers and Sigma Phi.

Stickmen Visit Elizabethtown Host To Fords

The Moravian College baseball team will face the stickmen of Haverford and Elizabethtown Colleges on May 13 and May 15, respectively.

LAST YEAR JIM GANO pitched a two-hit ball game to beat the Fords of Haverford, 13-0, and the Hounds edged out the Blue Jays, 5-4.

Coach Harvey Gillespie said that "the Elizabethtown team is the one to beat."

Speaking about the Moravian baseballers, Gillespie said, "the hitting of the team has improved, but the pitching hasn't been consistent enough."

GILLESPIE HAS NOT ANNOUNCED who the starting players for the two games will be, but the lineup should be basically the same as it is now. Simon Blahut, hitting at a .400 clip, along with Don Vogel, Charley Gilbert, Hal Rice, Barry Shollenberger, and Jim Gano are probable starters.

Elizabethtown headed by Coach Ivar Herr will probably start off with Bob Geiger, Ray Diener, or John Sabbi on the mound.

The Haverford game will be played on Moravian Field, while the Elizabethtown game is to be played at the Blue Jays home stadium. The Haverford game is the last Greyhound home game of the season.

Gillespie Comments On Ideals Of Sports Scholarship Grants

Players Picked To Participate In Many Sports

by Jay Scholl

Athletic Director Harvey Gillespie stated in an interview Tuesday that the purpose of the athletic scholarship program "is to get people interested in the whole institution, not only in sports. Academic work is the main object of any school program," he said.

THE ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT is granted 32 full scholarships by the college administration. These grants are distributed to members of all four classes. Gillespie said, "the turnover in scholarships is about eight per year."

"This turnover and the limited number of athletic scholarships given," commented Gillespie, "is the reason why every sport doesn't get an equal number of grants."

To combat this situation of limited grants, Gillespie stated that, "we try to get men who will help in more than one sport; however, we have eight sports and eight scholarships, and we can't give scholarships to everyone."

THE REASON FOR THE shortage of scholarships is, stated Gillespie, "that originally, when Moravian had four sports, the administration granted the athletic department 32 scholarships."

He stated further, "when the male enrollment reached 500, NCAA rules make it mandatory for us either to form freshmen teams or enlarge our sports program. We enlarged our program to give more people a chance to participate."

Another point made by Gillespie was that Moravian's scholarship program is well below the NCAA rules governing such programs. Moravian gives an athlete full or half tuition for his college career, and a partial food allowance during the season in (Cont. on p. 4, col. 3)

Dickinson Tops Tennismen Record Now Stands At 4-3

by George Fiegel

Merr Trumbore and Bob Lipkin shared in the only wins of the day in a defeat of the Moravian tennis team, 2-7, at the hands of Dickinson College on the home courts last Thursday afternoon. Trumbore was the only member of the team to win in singles and then shared doubles honors with Lipkin who lost 6-4, 6-2 to Sackett Cook. Bill Grosh was defeated by John Harper 6-0, 8-6 and Walt Smyth of Dickinson defeated Ken Walsh 6-1, 6-1.

Dick Spaugh, playing fifth position, was defeated by Jeff Gorham 6-1, 6-3 and Terry Graham beat Grove Stoddard 6-2, 6-1.

In doubles the Trumbore-Lipkin combination beat the Dickinson first two men 9-7, 6-4. Grosh and Walsh were beaten 6-1, 7-5. In third doubles Spaugh and Grove Stoddard were defeated 6-3, 6-4 by Chris Lowell and Dick Lin of Dickinson.

The loss for Moravian makes their record 4-3 and boosts Dickinson's record of 7-0.

MC Courtmen Host St. Joe's; Visit Colonels

The Moravian College tennis team, coached by Sam Kilpatrick, plays St. Joseph's this Saturday on the North Campus clay courts. Game time is 2 p.m.

ON MONDAY, MAY 15, THE team heads to Wilkes-Barre for a match with the Wilkes Colonels.

Having had a bad time last year against these two teams, the squad is looking forward to improving its commendable won and lost record for this year.

The Hounds lost to both teams last year en route to their winless season, but should prove to be better able to handle these opponents with their increased strength.

Golf Team Meets St. Joe's Hawks

Coach Harold Bilheimer's golf team will host the duffers of St. Joseph's College on May 18. This match marks the first match on the Bethlehem Municipal Golf Course for the Hounds since May 8, as well as their final match of the season.

COACH BILHEIMER WILL probably go along with his regulars Jim Repasch, Bob Pastir, Bob Miller, Tom McHale, Dick Tewell, and Dick Wilsey.

The Rev. Joseph Geib, St. Joseph's golf coach, has lost only two men, Dick Stefanowicz and Ed Barbour, through graduation. St. Joe's will probably start Tom Falcone, Glen Gerdleman, and Ed Fritz.

Sports Unillustrated

by Ted Meixell

In a recent edition of the Bethlehem Globe-Times, Joe Writenour, Sports Editor, included in his column a piece concerning a Lehigh-Moravian series in baseball. He suggested a two-out-of-three series.

He stated as his reasons the fact that both teams sport winning records and the idea that such a series would be a "shot in the arm" as far as local collegiate baseball is concerned.

We agree with him on both points. A series involving both Bethlehem institutions would indeed help to revive some interest in college ball. One look at the sparse scattering of fans at Moravian games is enough to convince us that a lift is needed. At a majority of the games, only the loyal student followers are present.

Only at games involving such highly rated schools as Lafayette and Temple can a goodly number of fans be counted. We feel that the Lehigh attraction would top these as "gate" attractions.

Fully aware that Lehigh must tend to shy away from such an arrangement, we feel that every effort should be made to come up with something. The Engineers, of course, stand to lose prestige should they lose to such a small college and to gain little by winning.

However, we would like to think that Moravian has a very good reputation in baseball in spite of its size, and over the years, Lehigh has been none too impressive. This, we feel, should invalidate the previous argument.

All in all, we think that most of the students, and the players, from both schools would like to see a new rivalry come about. If the two-out-of-three arrangement is asking for too much, we would like to see a home and home series arrangement.

Golfers Place Low In MAC Tourney; Bisons Win Third

Moravian's duffers placed 14th in the 18-team field at the Irem Temple Country Club course Monday, in Wilkes-Barre.

Low man for Moravian was Jim Repasch who shot an 85-84-169 on the par 72 course. Moravian's second man, Pete Lehr, shot a 93-93-186.

Other area golfers did well at the Wilkes-Barre course. Lehigh finished as runner-up to Bucknell in the Middle Atlantic Conference tournament.

Bucknell won its third consecutive MAC title as its four-man team posted a 36 hole total of 647 to defeat Lehigh by four strokes.

The medalist was Mike Turnbull of Delaware with a 77-75-152. Runner-up was Bob Goodman of Albright with a 79-75-154 and placing third was Mike Reynolds of Franklin and Marshall with a 75-80-155.

Other team scores were: Lehigh 651, Delaware 652, F. & M. 678, Drexel 679, and Lafayette 680.

Senior Picnic To Be Held Next Thursday

The annual Senior Class Picnic honoring the graduating class will be held on Thursday, May 18 from noon to dusk at Danners Grove.

The picnic, which is sponsored by the junior class, will be open to the entire student body and their dates.

Refreshments will be served throughout the afternoon. Volleyball, swimming and other sports will be part of the recreational program that will continue into the evening.

College Seals Chosen As Senior Class Gift

Three sculptured college seals will be given to the college by the senior class, Barry Gaal, class president, has announced.

THE BRONZE SEALS MEASURING two feet in diameter, will be placed over the fireplace in the Rau-Hassler Dormitory, and above the entrances of two other campus buildings to be named at a later date.

It was announced also by Robert P. Snyder, Vice-president for finances and development, that it will be possible for the college to purchase more of the same type of seals in the future.
