Advisory Council Requests Polling Of Student Opinion On Selective Service System

by Carolyn Felker

The National Advisory Commission on Selective Service has requested students to complete questionnaires regarding their opinions on various aspects of the military service system.

President Johnson established the commission to study the past, present and prospective functioning of the Selective Service System and also some of the recently proposed concepts of national service.

This is not a statistical poll of student opinion, but rather an attempt to secure a long view—beyond any short-range military requirements of today—to the principles which should govern the selective service of the country's manpower and womanpower to meet the most urgent needs of the nation.

Student Deferments Examined

Questions have been formulated in the areas of student deferment and problems concerning local draft boards. Also under study is the relationship between colleges and universities and the selective service system in terms of ranking, tests, and transcripts.

Non-military Considerations

Another pressing question is in the problem posed by non-military "service to the nation" programs, including VISTA and the Peace Corps. An opportunity is provided for students to comment on future national service programs designed as alternatives to military service so that non-students as well as students could have an equal option.

Other inquiries involve the fairness of the lottery system of selective service and the problems

'Truth' Is Subject For Thursday's Worship Service

by Nick Husak

The Reverend Clark A. Thompson, Chaplain of Salem College, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, will speak on the subject "The Truth that Liberates," at All-College Worship on October 20.

Currently on leave from Salem to complete his doctorate in church history at Brown University, Rev. Thompson had previously served as Minister of Education at the Home Moravian Church in Winston-Salem.

Studied In Scotland

Rev. Thompson received his B.A. from the University of Rochester, a B.D. from Harvard University, and an M.A. from Duke University. He has also done graduate study at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland.

Students are reminded that convocation credit is given for All-College Worship attendance.

Disciplinary Group Decrees Penalty For Unruly Men

During a campus skirmish on the evening of October 5, a group of students surrounded a police car and harrassed the officer who had come to settle the disturbance.

Upon investigation the Discipline Committee did not believe that anything "malicious, destructive, or disrespectful was intended." Such action, however, is "childish, irresponsible, and potentially volatile."

The students involved and identified will make their apology for this affront to the community by carrying out a "work detail" for the benefit of the community in a manner and at a time to be set by Dean George Stanley.

Manuscript Needs New Staff Members

The Manuscript, the Moravian College literary magazine, is looking for an interested freshman student to serve on its staff.

The magazine, which comes out every Spring, attempts to publish the best creative contributions of the faculty and students of the college. Poetry, short stories, sketches, and photography will be accepted anytime from now until March in Dr. Burcaw's office on the third floor of Colonial Hall.

Any freshman wishing to hold this available position on the staff or any student wishing to contribute or to serve as a reader should contact Dr. Burcaw or any member of the Manuscript staff.

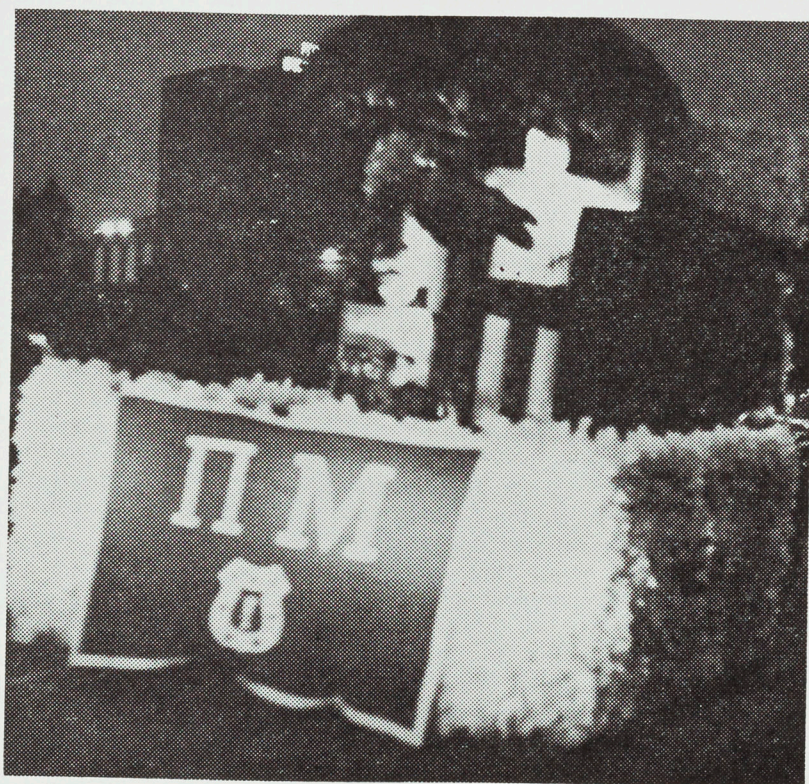

Selective Service Announcement

All male students who are 18 years of age or over are reminded that the only basis for receiving a college deferment is to qualify by his score on the selective service qualification test, or by his class rank.

Should a student fail to qualify through his test score, he may still receive a deferment due to his class rank. All students are therefore urged to take the examination which will be given on November 18 and 19.

Applications are available at the registrar's office and must be submitted by October 21.

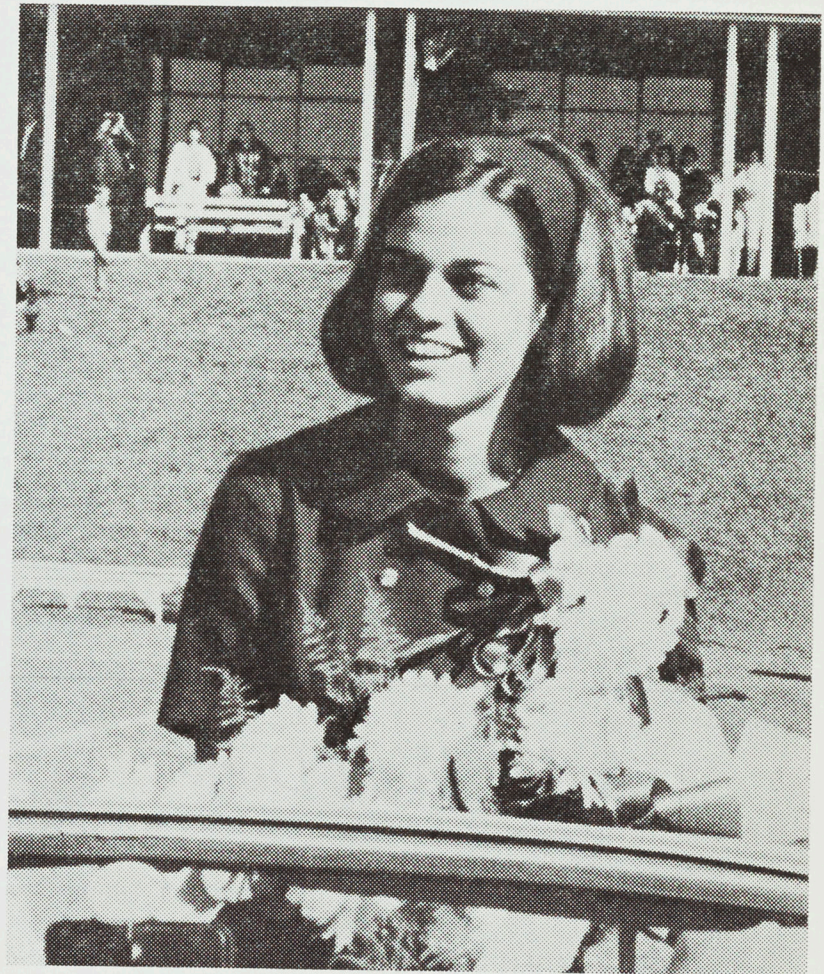

Any male student having a question concerning this procedure or pertaining to his draft status should see Dean Stanley in Colonial Hall.

WINNING FLOAT: Shown above is the top prize winning entry in Friday night's parade. The float, entitled "Adam and Eve," was entered by the brothers of Pi Mu pre-theological fraternity. Second prize went to Alpha Epsilon Pi social sorority for their entry, "Lady and the Tramp." Omicron Gamma Omega's effort, "Popeye," received honorable mention. The theme of the parade was "Great Romances."

Trophies were awarded at the Saturday evening Homecoming dance. Omicron Gamma Omega also received first prize for its "Lil' Abner" house decorations.

The Queen, escorted by junior Ralph Eltringham, reigned with her court at the "Midnight Magic" dance in Johnston Hall on Saturday night.

Members of the Queen's court were Connie Trembath, of Bethlehem; Martha Genua, of Easton; Nancy Miller, of Bethel, Conn.; and Trudi Peters, of Maplewood, N. J.

Choir Concert, Flag Display Head Parents' Day Program

Moravian's Parents' Day will be held on October 22 this year. The Triangle Honor Society sponsors the annual event.

A concert by the Moravian College Choir will highlight the morning session. The performance will follow parents' registration and an orientation program.

Students from seventeen foreign countries will present their countries' flags in an afternoon ceremony in front of the College Union.

All dormitories will hold an Open House from 4:00 to 5:00, following the football game against Lebanon Valley.

Pre-Law Students Urged To Attend Campus Interviews

Representatives of two of the nation's leading law schools will be on campus next week.

Assistant Dean John Graham of Rutgers University School of Law will conduct interviews with prospective candidates for admission in the Valentine Haidt Room on October 17.

The following Friday, Mr. Warren Lehman of the Washington University Law School, St. Louis, Mo. will be on the Moravian campus.

Students who are interested in preparing for a career in law and who wish to have interviews with either Dean Graham or Prof. Lehman should contact Dr. Richard Jones in Comenius 307.

A Job Well Done

The annual Homecoming festivities are over for another year. As we look back on the events of the weekend, Homecoming '66 was probably the most successful that the Moravian campus has yet seen.

The success of this year's Homecoming program was not just a fortunate occurrence, but rather the result of conscientious planning and hard work by many Moravian students, faculty members, and administrators.

To name all who helped make the program a most memorable one would be almost impossible. Those who conducted the contest to choose the Queen, worked on the floats, participated in the parade, decorated the "Ballroom" and arranged for the Isley Brothers — Ben E. King concert should be congratulated.

Gene Clater is to be individually commended. Responsible for the organization of the traditional Friday night parade through downtown Bethlehem, Gene's efforts helped to make this event one of the biggest and most enjoyable of its kind.

Special recognition, however, must be given to Miss Stephanie Matusz. As 1966-67 chairman of the Social Activities Committee, the bulk of the responsibility and work involved in preparing for a weekend such as Homecoming, fell into her hands. She handled the job with capability, imagination, and initiative. The results of her efforts were obvious.

The Comenian wishes to compliment all who helped with the preparations for the Homecoming celebration. It was a job well done.

We look forward to spring semester's Senior Farewell, and anticipate the same amount of success, and as pretty and gracious a Queen for that event as were in evidence this past weekend.

Program Board:

For some time the idea of a "coffee house" at Moravian has been discussed. This type of project has had successful results on other campuses.

It provides a place where students and faculty are on "neutral ground." It's a place for meeting people, for conversation, for entertainment between study sessions.

On the Moravian campus a student body composed of half commuting students there tends to be a formation of many cliques. In such a situation, a "coffee house" provides a place where new acquaintances, friendships and experiences can broaden a student's horizons.

The College Union Program Board and the administration have discussed the assets of this project: a juke box could be installed, hootenannies, card games and other entertainment could be organized. Most of all it would be a place where students could become involved with others.

There are some problems, however, if such a project is to be taken on. For one, the commuting students might not get the benefit of the "coffee house" at night if they have transportation problems. The hours that it would be open, the amount of use that the room would have by students and faculty, the types of food, furnishings and programming are all things that have to be considered.

However no action can be taken unless the student body supports this project. Questionnaires stating whether this project would be supported at Moravian are available at the CUB desk which students and faculty are asked to fill out and return.

Moravian Revisited

by Byron E. Waterman

ED. NOTE: Byron E. Waterman, recently appointed Asst. Chaplain and Administrative Student Personnel Officer this year, graduated from Moravian in 1964 with a B.A. in English. Presently, Mr. Waterman is in the "intern" program at Andover - Newton Seminary, where he is a student studying for the Ministry.

Better known to the men dorm students as Director of Residence, Mr. Waterman is not new to the position he now holds. While a student at Moravian, "Byron" was head of the dorm council committee, 1963-64.

For those who have availed themselves to cordially welcome Mr. Waterman back to the campus, they will find him definitely "pro" student and a trusting confidant. He represents the ever improving services which the Office of Student Personnel offers, as is evidenced in his article presented here. Please comment criticizing or approving of his views and/or opinions.

Mr. Waterman

Coming back to my Alma Mater to work in Student Personnel as assistant to both the Chaplain and Dean of Students is a rewarding, intriguing, interesting, and challenging experience.

Several have asked me the question, "How do you find Moravian now in comparison with before?" First of all I notice many more students. When I first came here in the Fall of 1960, there were approximately 850 students; now there are just under 1,175.

Secondly I notice a Student Personnel Program which is new since I graduated.

Thirdly I notice a kind of "student tension" which prevailed even more so when I was here a few years ago. Now it is good that there are more students with a new student personnel program who have less "tension" (apparently the student personnel program is working, but it seems that this "tension" is still unnecessarily great.

By "student tension," I mean a type of apathy hovers here and there; there is a lack of school spirit; it is difficult to find the nucleus or a nucleus of students who are the leaders of the college. I also mean a type of "undercurrent attitude" among a few here and there which seems to pit the students and administration at odds one with the other. This is frightfully unfortunate. Now that I am on the so-called "other side of the fence" I have found that the "ogres" who are administrators and faculty actually are, in fact, human beings!

Truthfully, I have found MUCH genuine feeling on behalf of the students in all areas of the faculty and administration. This college is truly FOR the students — individually and as a whole.

Rules, regulations, and policies are in effect for the benefit of the students. If students question these, the administration is more than willing to listen and even to change in favor of student.

In the dormitories and in other areas of campus life we are trying our best to help the students become responsible in governing themselves. The residence counselors are students who have been selected to be responsible for being a liaison between the students and college officials.

We need student leadership — student leaders who are respected by fellow students, faculty, and administration. We have a few; we need many, and the potential on this campus is great.

What am I trying to say in all this? I am attempting to tell the students that there is no need to FEAR the administration. Fear leads to animosity and to the point of rebellion; it breeds resentment with no honest cause.

It's about time we ALL work together and begin to TRUST one another.

Isley -- King Concert

by Neil Stocker

The Isley Brothers and Ben E. King performed in Johnston Hall last Friday night, but everything seemed to be ill-timed.

Due to the fact that King arrived a trifle late, "The Royal Kingsmen," his back-up group had to extend their nite-club routine somewhat longer than originally planned before they introduced King.

But Ben E. King made up for his tardiness with a show well-balanced between his "golden oldies" and contemporary soulful hits.

Ben E. and his traveling songstress, Peggy Scott, moved until 9:20. With a 15-minute intermission and a 2-hour-only contract, the Isleys presented a somewhat shortened extravaganza.

Gaudily attired in pekee-colored suits, they made their appearance.

The greatest audience reaction on their stylings came after Little Anthony's "Going Out of My Head," "This Old Heart of Mine," and impersonations of soul brothers. The expectation of a well-polished show (at least by this writer) did not come off.

The last event saw Frank Capriotti and Allan Berger and numerous blokes show the Isleys how to move and groove - Frank considered the best groover on campus. This last act was a psychological move by the Brothers so that the audience would remember the last act and would say that they had been great.

All in all, this writer's opinion is that Ben E. King was real good and that people were really impressed by the Isley Brothers.

FULLBRIGHT FELLOWSHIP application forms for graduate study in foreign countries may be obtained from Dean Heller's office. Application must be made before October 15. For further information, interested and qualified students should see Dean Heller.

LBJ's Gettysburg Address

by ROBERT EWEGEN
The Collegiate Press Service

ED. NOTE: The following is a reprint from the bi-monthly bulletin of the Collegiate Press Service.

(As presented by Little Boy Johnson, president of the United States and grandson of a former President whom we all know and love. The address was delivered at the dedication of the American military cemetery "Gettysburg East," outside of Saigon in the year 2052.)

Mah fellow Americans:

Foah score and seven yeahs ago, my grandfather brought forth upon this continent of Asia a new political concept, conceived in expediency and dedicated to the proposition that we are better dead than red.

Now we are engaged in a Great Society (oops, I mean a Great Civil War), and for that matter have been engaged in that Great Civil War for four score and seven years now, testing whether that concept of a permanent American military presence in Asia or any concept so ill-conceived and so ineptly executed, can long endure.

We are met on a great battlefield of that war, a battlefield where General Ky was overthrown by General Hee, where General Hee was overthrown by General Me, where General Me was overthrown by General Wee, where General Wee was overthrown by General Gee, and so forth through the 56 different coups that finally culminated last spring in General Flea's government, which we are now convinced is in a position to bring to this nation the political stability that is so necessary if we are to begin to effectively roll back the aggression from the north.

Excuse me folks, I just received an urgent note. Hrrumph. What I meant was the 57 coups which finally culminated in General She's coup three minutes ago which we are finally convinced is in a position to at last offer this nation the political stability that is . . .

Be that as it may. We have come to dedicate this battlefield as a fitting memorial to the light to moderate losses that our forces have sustained over the past 87 years so that my grandfather and his successors could test the theory that the way to bring Hanoi to the peace table was to escalate further.

It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this, and anyone who thinks otherwise is a nervous nellie and probably a traitor besides and simply helping to prolong the war.

The world will long note and long remember what we did here, probably because we will still be long doing it, but the world will probably never understand WHY we did it.

And frankly, I'm fed up with that kind of idiotic questioning emanating from the capitals of the world over the last nine decades! I DON'T CARE WHY WE ARE HERE! THE POINT IS WE ARE HERE AND ITS TOO LATE TO PULL OUT NOW! WE ARE GOING TO STAY HERE! WE ARE GOING TO ESCALATE! THIS UNPATRIOTIC PRACTICE OF DEFERRING GRANDFATHERS HAS TO STOP SO THAT WE CAN BUILD UP OUR TROOP COMMITMENT TO 68,000,000 MEN. ONLY THEN WE WILL HAVE AN ADEQUATE STRENGTH RATIO OF 84 to 1 NECESSARY TO PUT DOWN THIS INSURRECTION.

And as long as I am president, mah fellow Americans, I promise you this: we shall not withdraw, I promise that this nation, under me, shall have a new birth of conformity and that government of consensus, by manipulation for the sake of saving face shall not perish from the earth, although admittedly the population might.

Moravian Campus Personality In—

by Carol Brescher
Focus photographer — Ken Bratspies

One of the easiest people to please on campus is Glen Bliwise. A good bridge game, a stimulating book, or any athletic event will reap positive reaction from this sophomore History major. "Nothing destroys me. I rationalize my way out of it. Every student has to, otherwise he would never leave the books."

Treasurer of the class of 1969, Glen is a brother in Omicron Gamma Omega Social Fraternity.

"We need more fraternities in a college this size. The two existing fraternities are too competitive. Too many good people are passed by.

"The spirit on campus is terrible. Athletics are grossly unsupported. Apathy hurts a lot. It's tough for teams to put out with only half the stands full. They need backing. I think fraternities would help the spirit. It would give the students something to rally around."

Football, basketball, baseball and soccer in high school testify to Glen's former life in sports.

"I've grown up with sports. I used to play baseball so much I never learned how to ride a bicycle. Now I can make watching ball games a 24 hour job; I especially like the University of Alabama. They're lean and mean."

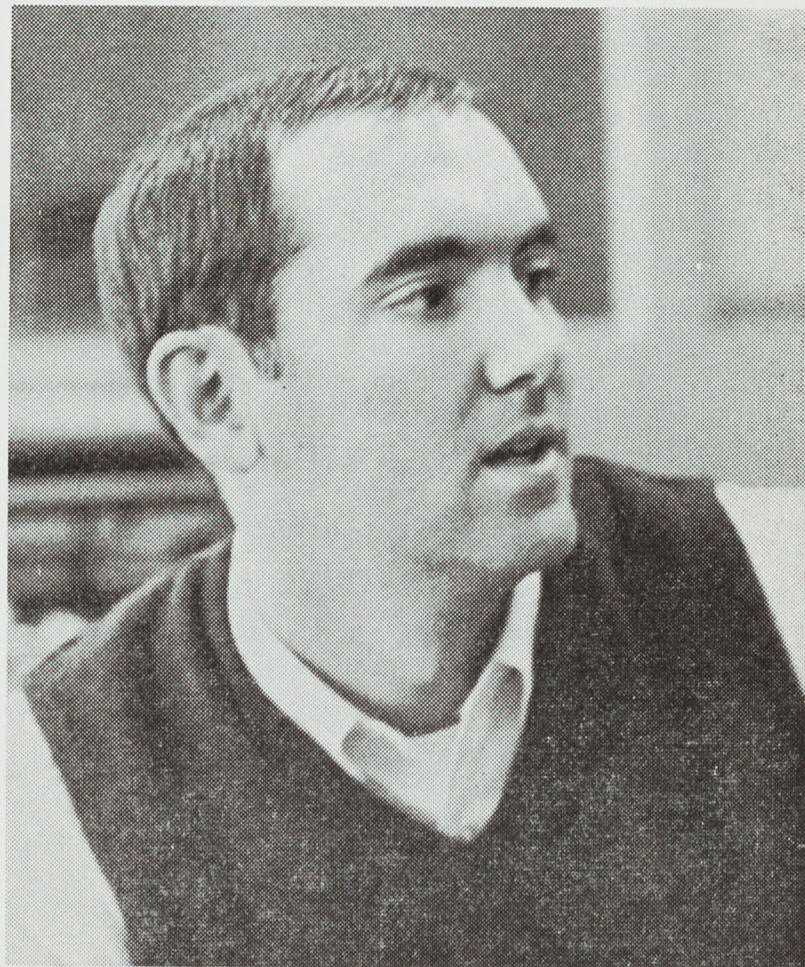

Although "easy going," arguments with Glenn are not uncommon.

"I'm a loudmouth. I have an opinion on anything - Civil Rights, the war on poverty, non-conformists, and Vietnam.

"I feel we should escalate in Vietnam. It's the only realistic thing to do. Break North Vietnam. Russia and China will have to back down. If they don't, then face it. That's life.

"I'd go over; it's my duty. But I wouldn't be happy about fighting a war I feel we're fighting wrong. We spent years to create weapons that we can't use.

"I'm ruthless, especially concerning the saving of American lives. If you're going to fight a war, fight a war, damn it. We've been fighting now for a few years, and Ky said it could last more than ten more years. Are we that weak? Suppose we come into conflict with a country the size of Brazil. How long would that take?"

Glen Bliwise "... you've got to take a stand."

"You have to take a stand on what you believe. If you're proved wrong, admit it. But put up a helluva fight before you go.

A person of diverse interests, and many talents, Glenn is quick to laugh, and quick to argue. Yet he is very serious about his future.

"If I can make any basic contribution in relation to people—either coaching, or teaching, or giving myself to the public as in politics—my life would be a success."

Watch for another Moravian Campus personality to be brought into FOCUS next week!

Physics Department Gets NFS Grant

The Physics Department of Moravian College has received $7,800 in instructional scientific equipment under a matching grant from the National Science Foundation.

NFS provided $3,900 for purchase of a multichannel pulse height analyzer and a research quality oscilloscope. The college has matched the sum.

Dr. Jack Ridge, chairman of the Physics Department, said equipment will be used for "more sophisticated experiments" in the physics laboratory, including work on the gamma ray spectra of nuclei, neutron activation analysis and related experiments.

He added that allocations have helped to upgrade and modernize the curriculum, efficiency of instruction and improved research.

Moravian 11 Denied First Win; Must Settle For Scoreless Tie

by Martin Horowitz

If one of Moravian's loyal fans, totally unaware of the outcome of last week's Wagner tilt, were to glimpse at the statistics, he would probably guess that the 'Hounds won by three touchdowns.

But despite the fact that the Greyhound eleven completely dominated play before a Homecoming Day crowd of 2500, they were again denied their first season victory and forced to settle for a scoreless tie.

The Moravian gridders moved the ball for a total of 244 yards and picked up 14 first downs along the way as compared to 68 Seahawk yards gained and only 6 first and tens for the Wagner Squad.

The 'Hounds carried the pigskin deep into Wagner territory three times in the game but each of the rallies fell short and the offense gave up the ball on downs.

"You have to be able to come up with the key third down play if you're going to win ballgames," said head coach Rocco Calvo who went on to add, that Moravian's offense couldn't quite find that key last Saturday.

"When you have a small squad where one injury can hurt the entire team potential, you just can't afford to take as many chances as you'd like," said Calvo. The offense can't be as sharp as possible because of this.

The defense did a fine job as they limited the Seahawks to 68 yards rushing and threw them back nine yards in their aerial attack. Wagner couldn't penetrate through the stout Mo Mo line and didn't get past the 'Hounds 27 yard stripe.

Ends Pressure Wagner

Defensive ends, George Metz and Frank Sterett, kept the pressure on Wagner signal caller, Rich Salinardi, and the junior quarterback completed only two tosses for the afternoon. Big Bob Griffith teamed up with Frank Kunkle, Ron Berta, and Bob Silcox to block the holes made for the Seahawk running attack. The strong line held star back, Paul Storry, to only 12 yards on the ground.

Moravian's first scoring opportunity came when Frank Kunkle recovered a Seahawk fumble on the Wagner 30 early in the first quarter. Sophomore quarterback, Greg Seifert, quickly hit Dick Przybylowski up the middle for a first down. Bill Dry and Brian Parry ground out another 19 yards between them, but were stopped by a strong Seahawk wall on the one.

The 'Hounds again failed to capitalize when Jim Dietz fumbled the punt return on the Wagner 47. Moravian dug in and forced Wagner to give up the ball via another 4th down boot. The tough Wagner defense held on and Dietz had to punt again with seconds

Greyhounds Dominate

The frosh booter barely got it off this time and it went out of bounds three yards past the line of scrimmage. Wagner quickly set up in field goal position with 9 seconds remaining but the Seahawk's only scoring threat was thwarted as the ball drifted off to the left.

The Greyhounds dominated second half play with Dietz instilling life into the offensive unit.

The frosh quarterback connected to Ralph Eltringham and Roger Knisely for good gains and Hank Nehilla and Brian Parry brought the ball another 28 yards to the Moravian 21 where the rally died.

Moravian Threatens

Moravian again threatened in the final minutes when Nehilla, wearing No. 20 instead of his familiar 40, made his way upfield for a forty yard gain. With a fourth down and three on their own 23 yard line the Hounds decided to try for the first down instead of attempting a would be 40 yard field goal attempt. This final threat ended on the Seahawk 19 in the closing seconds.

Lucia's Laments Alabama at Tennessee

Coach Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide of Alabama looks too strong for the Volunteers of Tennessee who suffered a heart-breaking loss to Georgia Tech last week, 6-3. In a close Southeastern Conference game being played at Tennessee-Alabama.

Arkansas at Texas

In a Southwestern Conference game, rated a toss-up, we go with the home team—the Longhorns in a thriller.

Army at Rutgers

Although Army lost 35-0 to Notre Dame last week, we don't feel Rutgers could have done much better. Should be a victory for Army.

Georgia Tech at Auburn

Georgia Tech's morale is still high after last week's 6-3 victory over Tennessee. We see another victory for Georgia Tech.

Duke at Clemson

The Blue Devil's aren't about to lose another game after being upset 21-19 by Maryland; and Clemson is still licking its wounds after a 26-0 setback by Alabama. It's an upset for Duke.

Michigan State at Ohio State

The Spartans of Michigan State will prove too powerful for the Ohio State eleven. Five in a row for Michigan State.

Purdue at Michigan

Although Michigan proved to be a worthy opponent in last week's contest against Michigan State, we'll take our chances with the Boiler Makers of Purdue.

Mo Mo Girls Defeat Wilkes

by Patricia Zwald

Last Thursday, the Moravian Houndettes gained their second victory of the season by posting a 4-2 win over the host team, Wilkes.

Veteran left inner, Vivienne Aldersly, was unable to play due to an injury. Debbie Beck, a freshman, was substituted and scored the first Mo Mo goal of the game.

Nancy Glassmoyer, playing right inner, scored the second goal before the end of the first half. At half-time the score was 2-0, in favor of Moravian.

Judy Funke scored the final two goals early in the second half of the game.

The Houndettes dominated the game until the final seven minutes of the second half when Wilkes was able to make their first deep penetration into Moravian territory. It was at this point that Wilkes was able to score their two goals.

The next home game will be with Lebanon Valley on Thursday, October 20, at 4:00.

Hot Defensive Unit Holds Foes To Five In Four

by Don Powell

Moravian's fourth win of the season, without a loss, against Stevens Institute of Technology at Hoboken, New Jersey, (4-0), was highlighted, as has been true of all the team victories, by a strong defense. Coach Jackson's alternating from four to three fullbacks throughout the game results in throwing the opposing offense off balance.

The fullbacks, Stahlnecker, Pfendler, Apple, and Sinclair, along with the halfbacks, Powell and Salasky, have held the opposing teams to five goals in four games. An injured Dick Jacobs should add even more when he returns to full strength.

Complementing the defense has been a sputtering offense which is finally coming into its own as they work more with each other. The forward line is led by George Luzzi and Jon Peters with four goals apiece. With additional help from captain Bruce Jackson, Dick Young, Dexter Silimperi, Bob Lawrence and Mike Patton, the offense is showing needed depth.

Moravian, with victories in its last two games of '65, has extended its winning skein to six. This year an over time victory against Wagner (2-1), one goal margins against Wilkes (3-2) and Lycoming (3-2), along with the Stevens victory (4-0) have all shown that Moravian is definitely tough in the clutch.

All four games, even though three were close in the score, were dominated by Moravian outshooting its opponents by more than two to one. The coordination of the line in taking more effective shots is coming along well, as can be seen by the Stevens victory.

In the team's victories has been the invaluable hustle by the whole team in practices prior to the games. Phil Landes, John Housman, Jim Lynch, Kim Frounfelker, Rich Anderson, Tom Davis, Bill Bowman and Carl Wezmar have displayed hustle and team spirit, without which the team could not be called a team.

Last, but not least, there are the two goalies, Rich Geiser and John Haklik. The goalies in soccer, like the quarterbacks in football, direct the play on the field. Due to his position behind the play, the goalie can see what plays will work.

Moravian's goalies have shown definite improvement in their abilities as well as the development of their own defensive skills. Moravian is beginning to look like a real threat in not only the MAC's, but Eastern soccer as well.

'Hound Booters Whitewash Steven; Nip Lycoming On Last Period Kick

by MaryAnn Cerciello

Moravian's soccer players upheld a precedent when they played a victorious 4-0 match last Saturday at Stevens. The 'Hound booters, who stand unbeaten in four outings, have clouted the Jersey squad for three years running.

Bob Salasky, a freshman at center forward, tallied the lone goal in the first period after a frenzied scramble.

Luzzi Leads

Mo Mo, which dominated play throughout the afternoon, got a fine job from George Luzzi, who assisted on Dick Youngs score in the second quarter. Soon after Luzzi snagged the ball and ran all the way to bag his own tally. Last season the star inside right led the team in assists (8) and total points (13).

The game wasn't always as lopsided as the score indicated, especially after the halftime break. Both teams were held scoreless in the third quarter.

But the 'Hounds bounced back in the fourth when another freshman, Bob Lawrence, kicked an insurance goal from the foul line.

Edge Lycoming

In another contest at home last week, Luzzi walloped a goal at the close of the fourth quarter to earn the 'Hounds a 3-2 win over visiting Lycoming. The score came after an assist from Salasky to break a 2-2 tie set up by a pair of second period goals by Jon Peters.

Dick Young assisted on a head-in for the first goal. Peter's second mark, a 15-yard boot, was supported by Luzzi. Lycoming tallied on Dick Sherwood's 10-yard kick and Monty Witney during a pre-goal scramble.

Moravian outshot the Warriors, 33-14.

USG News

The meeting of USG on Monday, Oct. 10, reported that a letter of apology has been sent to the Bethlehem chief of police regarding the action of certain pupils during the "pantie raid" of Oct. 6. Disciplinary action was taken against the twelve students participating in the car rocking incident. The work duty assigned them will be strictly enforced.

The new WAC constitution was tabled at the same meeting. Allocations will not be given to the following: German Club, Manuscript and Mu Sigma Sigma, and no funds will be granted to any organization not submitting a Black Record Book. Alpha Phi Omega, Mu Sigma Sigma and the Board of Fine Arts have been dropped from USG rolls for lack of attendance at meetings.

The march of Lehigh freshman to Moravian's South Campus to serenade will be allowed to continue.

Dormitory elections of representatives to USG meetings will be held soon. It is hoped that this will improve communication between these groups.

Freshmen and sophomores have requested record dances, but in the past these have been questionably successful.

The card playing in the CUB cafeteria during lunch hour was not considered to be a problem warranting a decision at this time.

A fine of $5.00 will be imposed on USG representatives not attending meetings.

AUSTIN, Tex. (CPS) — If you have complaints about your education, take them to class.

That is what a group of University of Texas students will be doing this term when they enroll in a newly instituted course on the educational process.

The course, a non-credit seminar led by assistant professor of psychology Dr. Thomas Friedman, will allow students to examine systematically the education they are receiving. The course will have no set content and students can initiate discussion on any aspect of education—from the value of grades to teacher training.

"We have no sacred cow," Dr. Friedman said. "As I see the seminar, it will be an opportunity for some of us to back off and take a look at what we are going through, what the problems are, and what some of the long term trends and solutions may be."

The interdisciplinary course will have no exams or grades, but students will complete a research project.

COMENIAN Comment:

Panty Pride . . . or Bust!

Last week some Moravian students, overly zealous in their quest for women's undergarments, found that the horny business of "panty raiding" can become rather thorny. Besides the usual array of bras (A to D) and panties (S, M, and L) the boys went after, a General Motors product also became fair game; "rocking it" on the spur of the moment approach, we offer a journalistic apology. But pass them we must.

Alas, the comical charge of young men to the bastion of women sanctuary resulted in sensational reporting by the local paper, hurt feelings on the part of the town police, and justice "swift and sure" by the Disciplinary Committee. The impact of it all could be felt the following night when another "riot" ensued: a small band of stouthearted fellows would up throwing their "cotton" at the non-plus pretties. An encore it was not.

For those intellectuals that feel editorial writing should be confined to a more scholarly hardly in a position not to do something to patch up relations with the community.

The reason being that not in many a day (would you believe night?) has such a shouting student conglomerate exhibited more animalistic heart in raising school spirit. And we think the major point of it all is quite commendable.

In a more serious voice, this paper must condemn our professional colleagues across the way for their factually false account of the incident. Car thumping can not be condoned. However, after the news of the night before hit the streets the college administration was hardly in a position not to do something to patch up relations with the community.

The editorial staff of this paper fails to see how (or ever) "panty raiding" could rank with Viet Nam. But this should prove once again the inferiority of the community press and its chance to promote its own self-interest. In the light of this, the administration was fair in reprimanding the few caught and making them perform community service.

Now the situation has settled, we hope to see more organized fun, in the form of "flying silk," issuing from the dorm complex. —WF of deferments and exemptions under that system.

Draft Women?

Student participation in the Reserve Programs as a possible exemption from the draft is questioned. Comment is also invited on the role of women in the selective service system and student opinion on the definition and scope of the term "conscientious objection."

A complete list of questions is available at the CUB desk. Replies should be made prior to October 21 to allow sufficient time for complete consideration by the commission.
