Syllabus
Art History 229: Modern Through Post-Modern Art
Spring 2007 Tuesday 6:30 pm
Professor Kearns P (215) 533-9404 MarthaKearns@Msn.com

Availability: Best time for a conference is immediately before or after class. If this is inconvenient, a phone conference can be arranged.

Course Goals
Students will gain an aesthetic, historical and critical understanding of painting and sculpture in Europe and the United States, 1870-1970s. A fundamental understanding of Modern Architecture will also be included, with less emphasis. In written aesthetic analyses, reviews, and oral peer discussions, students will apply the vocabulary of the fine arts interpreted through critical, historical and original perspectives.

Required Texts for purchase

Course Requirements

1. Students must attend all classes and bring the required texts to each class.

2. Students must write a total of 25 pages, per the requirements of each Analysis and Review.

3. Students must attend the New York City Field Trip as assigned.

4. Students must complete peer group sessions as assigned.

Evaluation

Grading: 70% of your grade is determined by the three Analyses and one Review, 20% by the value of participation in peer group sessions, and 10% by attendance.

Class summary
Aesthetic Elements of Painting

1. Line, visible or invisible, is used to create directionality, compositional focus, and/or dimension. It may be regular, i.e., dotted, vertical, spiral, or lines in relation to one another, i.e., parallel, or irregular, i.e., an uneven wave.

2. Shape is regular two dimensional geometric, i.e., an oval or trapezoid, or irregular or biomorphic two dimensional, i.e. organic. Shape may be open or closed, and used to represent known objects, express emotions or ideas.

3. Color is light at differing wave lengths. Hue is full or diffused light and most often refers to a change in a primary color, red, yellow, and blue, or the seven principal colors on the visible spectrum—red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo (or blue-violet) and violet.

4. Light Value is the comparative lightness or darkness of an object, i.e., the amount of light reflected on its surface. Light Value is used in achromatic works, consisting of black, white, or grey, and chromatic ones, those having color. Light Source, showing a source of light and shading, may also influence Light Value.

5. Space is primarily divided into foreground, middle ground, and background.

6. Plane is a flat surface having a direction in space.

7. Subject matter is the actual thing, figure, or scene represented.

8. Media is stone, wood, canvas or any material to which oil paint, dye, pigment can be applied and layered. Included in media is the texture of the surface.

9. Balance or Composition is the overall arrangement of the above formal elements. Balance is symmetrical, where an axis or line divides an exact correspondence of parts on either side, or asymmetrical, where an equilibrium exists between each side, or has radial symmetry, equidistant parts of a circle emerging from a center point.

10. Emotional Intensity or Passion is the emotion, mood or tone the viewer feels and receives directly before the work. The feeling may be joy, sorrow, wonder, etc.

11. Iconology is the implied and universal meaning. In the modern period, it addresses these questions: “What does this work communicate about modern society?” “What does this work communicate about being a human being in modern society?”

12. Value is the importance of work to society. It can be historic i.e., the first of its kind, critical, or primary importance to critics and other artists, or religious or spiritual, psychological, social, or political.

13. Style is the use of key elements, and the omission of others, to form a unique and recognizable composition revealing the perception of the artist.

14. Artistic Unity is the harmonizing of the above elements into a work of visual beauty.
